ONLY ONE BODY RECOVERED

THE DEAD

- Barney Maltais Fred Clark Simon Tennier Jos. Rousi

It is not often that Campbellton is stirred to its depths by a sad calamity, but today this town mourns the loss of four of its citizens; four men who at the dinner hour left wives and children never to return to their friends alive, and the town mourns with them.

The Particulars. A number of men are at present engaged in making the necessary repairs to the shives Lumber Co.'s shingle mill here. After dinner it was decided to replace the haul-up chain on its pulley. This pulley or sprocket wheel is under water and extends out into the river a few feet. It was necessary to rig gear to haul the heavy chain out to place it in position. For this purpose a heavy anchor, (which in this case was a heavy bottom of the boat, tearing off about four feet of the planking, through which water poured, and before the men knew what had happened all were struggling in the water. They were heavily clothed and had on top boots. Savidant, a strong swimmer, was the only man to reach the shore. He was in a dazed condition and hardly knew what had happened or what had become of the others.

The stern of the boat, weighed down by the anchor, sank to the bottom, but as the water is not very deep, the bow floated well out of the water. The tide was falling and a very swift current was running which carried the men away from the boat, and as they were weighed down by boots and clothing, they had a poor chance. Immediately boats put out and grapples were procured, but it was not until six o'clock that a body that of Jos. Bousell, was found. The search was continued until dark and will be continued today.

(Special to the Morning Graphic) FREDERICTON, Wednesday. —The Accounts Committee had another session this morning and spent the greater part of the time discussing the Agricultural department payments which were all finally passed as satisfactory. Ex-Premier Robinson and ex-Attorney General McKeown appeared before the committee and explained the guarantee of the bonds of the International Railway. Mr. Robinson stated that the company had applied to the government for a guarantee of bonds to the extent of $200,000. An engineer had been sent to verify the statement made by the company and he had reported that work to the value of over a million dollars has been completed. Forty miles of railway were completed from Campbellton and there has been considerable progress made on the St. John end of the line. There were other large expenditures by the company which justified the government which had authority to take these, as well as release into consideration in guaranteeing bonds to the extent of $400,000, which the executive council re-
