

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's vegetable Compound cures

Mrs. M. R. Morin, 535 Ontario St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I was in very poor health and doctored for months, receiving very little benefit. I had lost all appetite, was nervous, and subject to dizzy spells and painful periods each month."

A friend suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as the proper medicine for me. I procured a box of this remedy and began taking it before it was finished. I felt so much better that I continued its use and gave it a thorough test with the result I am today well and a much healthier girl than I was three years ago. There are no more painful periods, dizziness or nervous troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THREE Trying Times in A WOMAN'S LIFE

WHEN MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

are almost an absolute necessity towards her future health.

The first when she is just budding from girlhood into the full bloom of womanhood.

The second period of constipation, a special drain on the system is during pregnancy.

The third and the one most liable to have heart and nerve troubles during "change of life."

In all three periods Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills will prove of wonderful value to tide over the time. Mrs. James King, Cornwall, Ont., writes: "I was troubled very much with heart trouble—the cause being to a great extent due to 'change of life.' I have been taking your Heart and Nerve Pills for some time, and mean to continue doing so. I can truly say they are the best remedy I have ever used for building up the system. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of other sufferers."

END THE OBSTRUCTION

The session of Parliament has now reached that stage where it is the duty of ministers to take notice of the deliberate determination of the Opposition to block the granting of supplies with the idea of making party capital out of the manufacture of so-called departmental scandals, and to decide how best the business of the country can be advanced without giving the Opposition more leeway than is necessary, says the Galt Reformer. Already there are three notices of amendments to the motion to go into supply, and the "Eazy E's" are actively engaged in manufacturing others. Why should not the Government make an endeavor to push its legislative measures through just as soon as they can be discussed with due regard to their importance. The bills to increase the membership of the Railway Commission, to increase the powers of that body by placing telephones of the country, to provide for a system of old age pensions, and to amend the election law are understood to be in an advanced stage of preparation. In our opinion, it would be good policy to press them for the consideration of the House, and leave the granting of supply to a later stage. It may be said that the needs of the country will require the passage of a supply bill by March 31, but that could be easily overcome by the securing of an interim vote, and the bulk of the discussion upon the estimates could be left over until the legislative business of the session was well in hand. If the Opposition chose to obstruct, the country would know where to place the responsibility.

The St. John Telegraph in reporting a recent speech of Robt. Maxwell's says:—"In discussing the International Railway Mr. Maxwell pointed out that when Mr. Pugsley as attorney-general made the statement that Engineer Schrieber had said the road would cost $27,000 a mile, the engineer's estimate referred to only the first thirty miles. He contended that the guarantee of $8,000 a mile on the whole road, which included eighty miles not even surveyed, was obtained from the legislature by fraud."

Mr. Maxwell apparently doesn't understand what he is talking about. A few days ago he declared that the international was costing only $4000 a mile. As a matter of fact the rails and ties alone cost $4500 a mile. Now he asserts that Mr. Schrieber reported that the road would cost $27,000 a mile for the first thirty miles. Mr. Maxwell is telling a deliberate falsehood. The engineer's estimate was not only for the first thirty miles but for the whole road, 110 miles in length. If Mr. Maxwell had desired to tell the truth he could have obtained it at Ottawa where the plans of the whole 110 miles of the road are on file.

Maxwell also declares that the whole line has not been surveyed. This is another untruth. As a matter of fact Mr. Malcolm has had no less than three surveys made from Campbellton to St. Leonard's.

Mr. Malcolm is at a loss to understand why Mr. Maxwell should so persistently prevaricate about the International and attempt to belittle the project in the eyes of the public and invite that gentleman to take a trip over the road so that he may see for himself and be in a position to talk intelligently and truthfully about it.

Considerable other business of a routine nature was also transacted. The annual contribution made by the Department to the funds of the association should be increased, was taken up and it was reported that no action had yet been taken by the department in regard to the matter.

ANOTHER LIE NAILED.

Baker and Cyr of Green River Strong Supporters of the Gov't.

OTTAWA, Friday.—The Ottawa Daily News special from Saint Ste. Marie, Mich., says: "President Roosevelt has expressed a favorable attitude in regard to an invitation to hunt moose and bear in the Canadian woods north of here after the expiration of his term of office. The invitation was made to the President by W. P. Knox and George P. McCallum, of this city, and the President is reported as saying that he would endeavor to arrange for the trip."

LONDON, Friday.—Living in the slums of Cardiff is an accomplished young woman of good birth who prefers to live with associates of the lowest social order, rather than touch a penny of the money.

The girl was once regarded as beautiful and accomplished, and moved in society at Bath. She speaks French, and is an excellent pianist. She is the daughter of a retired government official and her story dates back to some months after her mother's death, had become governess in a doctor's house in the west of England. She alleges that while there she suffered some bitter wrongs and fled to Cardiff. For some months she was a patient at the Cardiff infirmary and workhouse infirmary.

Her relatives sought her in almost every part of the country, and it was a mere chance that they came to know she was leading an irregular life in Cardiff. This discovery determined them to spare no effort to induce her to return to her former sphere.

The girl was recently informed that her mother had left her $50,000. The will is drawn up that she must fulfill certain conditions before she can enjoy any of the benefits. These conditions the girl's guardians insist upon, but the girl resolutely refuses to fall in with the wishes of her guardians or friends. She seems to be actuated by a desire to take revenge for wrongs which she alleges were done to her years ago.

She has been waited upon in the hotels she is known to frequent, and money and clothes have been sent to her to enable her to live in society. Her answer has always been the same: "I have been driven to this by those whom I regarded as friends. If they suffer because I live as I do, that affords me some satisfaction."

"But in punishing your friends," pleaded a gentleman who recently sought to influence the girl to return home, "you are punishing yourself still more." "Am I?" she laughed; "perhaps. But I am used to it, and besides I am having my revenge. I don't want their money or their clothes."

An Mr. Joseph Pope, Canada's Under-Secretary, was in Ottawa on Monday in his office this morning there was nothing to indicate that there was any probability of strained diplomatic relations ensuing between the Dominion and the United States as a result of his being held up for the head tax across the line.

Mr. Pope indignantly told the Free Press the circumstances of the curious incident of the hold-up of which himself, his secretary, and Madame Lemieux were at one time the unwilling victims. When Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux returned from his mission to Japan, he came through by the C. P. R. route, being anxious to arrive in Ottawa as early as possible. Mr. Pope, his secretary and Madame Lemieux, however, took the southern route via San Francisco, and were informed by the United States officials in Yokohama that they would not be allowed to land in America without paying the head tax of $10.00 each. Mr. Pope at first objected, pointing out the illegality of the demand, but rather than wait and fight the matter, he acquiesced in the exorbitant amount to the extent of $12.15. He does not believe the United States officials thoroughly understood the situation, but the fact remains that they did not, or would not, realize that their laws expressly exempt persons travelling to Canada via the United States from the tax.

There is a humorous aspect to the situation. Mr. Pope with Hon. Mr. Lemieux, had been to Japan on a diplomatic mission with a view to restricting immigration to Canada, and then on his return the Under-Secretary finds a restriction placed upon himself, Mr. Pope and the other members of his party were, to all intents and purposes, bonded through to Canada, so that the restriction did not apply. They were, strictly and legally speaking, "aliens in transit," whom the United States laws also exempt from the head tax, and then again they were "resident Canadians," who enjoy a similar immunity.

"Will the Canadian Government make any representations to Washington on the matter?" Mr. Pope was asked. "I do not think so," rejoined the Under-Secretary, with a laugh.

Fort and their staffs, an official train of eight cars, marking the formal opening of the $60,000,000 tunnel and submarine system linking New York and New Jersey, rolled out of the Manhattan terminal at twenty minutes to four o'clock this afternoon, and two minutes after President Roosevelt at the White House had flashed the starting signal. About ten thousand persons witnessed the start. As the train passed under the red, white and blue lighted signal marking the dividing line between New York and New Jersey the two governors arose and clasped hands, while the railway officials, who, with State Executives, occupied the first car, shouted mutual congratulations. On the crowded train was but one woman, Miss Grace Bigelow, who accompanied her father, John Bigelow, the publisher and former Ambassador to Great Britain. In spite of his 89th year, Mr. Bigelow appeared to hugly enjoy the occasion. He had a seat, as did Miss Bigelow, but many others were less fortunate. Men of millions, and traction promoters themselves, swung from straps as the train dived down at the centre of the river. Among the number was E. H. Harriman, who clung to a strap, and Cornelius Vanderbilt, who kept a firm grip on a door jamb.

SHIPPING GRAIN WEST.

WINNIPEG, Sunday.—Train is now commencing to move again, and for the first time in the history of Canada the Northwest is receiving grain from the east. Yesterday 10,000 of No. 2 white oats and a large shipment of seed wheat was sent west by the Canadian Northern Railway. This grain will be used for seed purposes in the west. It is stated that a large amount of grain will be shipped west from here.

FREDERICTON, Friday.—A wild riot took place at the rink here tonight caused by the arrest of one of the Moncton hockey team players on account of his action in a previous game. The riot was so wild that the game was not played at all, the referee deciding in favor of the Fredericton team. The people became greatly excited and demanded that the rink be broken up and the property of the rink destroyed. Amateur hockey received its death blow. There has always been great bitterness between the two teams and the climax came tonight.

Catarth Cannot Be Cured

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease, catarth is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarth Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarth Cure is not a quick medicine. It is prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such results in curing catarth. Send for testimonials free.

Miss Nellie Ellerton, Starlight. Miss Marion Hinton, Evangeline. John Pittre, a two faced man. Arthur McKendry, Fireman. P. Doucet, a sport.

ANDREW McLean entertained a number of young people at what and dancing last evening. Miss Ida Gallant captured the ladies' prize, while the gentlemen went to Frank Fitzgerald. A grand ball was given at the hotel. The new hotel office which is one of the finest on the North Shore resounded to the merry music while the whirling couples glided over the well waxed hard wood floor. Frank Power furnished the music. About twenty couples were present and spent a very enjoyable evening which ended about two o'clock.

A weak stomach means weak stomach nerves always. And this is also true of the heart and kidneys. It is a pity that sick ones continue to drug the stomach or stimulate the heart and kidneys. The weak nerves, not the organs themselves, need this help. This explains why Dr. Shoop's Restorative has, and is proud of, his record. It goes direct to the cause of these diseases. Test this vital truth and see.—Sold by A. McG. McDonald.
