

The more carefully you study the subject of Ready Roofings the more you will be convinced of the great superiority of AMATITE.

The average buyer sends to a few advertisers for samples, picks out one that looks tough, and sends in his order to the nearest dealer.

If the dealer doesn't keep the kind selected some other kind which he has is generally bought instead.

That is a good way to get a leaky roof.

The careful buyer is more particular. He knows that any roofing will last for a little while without attention, but he wants to postpone the time and cost of renewals as long as possible.

He is figuring next year's cost as well as this year's cost. He thinks of the money he will have to spend after a few years for a new roof if this one won't last any longer. If he can get a better roofing at equal cost that will last longer, he is so much the gainer.

That kind of calculation is called thrift. The thrifty buyer sees important differences between AMATITE and the other roofings.

The other roofings either require a coating with a special liquid every year or two, or periodical painting. Right there is a future expense to be counted by the thrifty buyer.

His judgment swings toward AMATITE, because it needs no painting either at the time it is laid or afterward. Once it is on you have no further bother or expense.

Then again, AMATITE has wonderful durability.

First, because it has a mineral surface. Doesn't it seem reasonable to believe that a top covering of crushed stone will resist the wear of storms better than a roofing with a smooth or unprotected surface?

Second, it contains solid layers of Coal Tar Pitch—the material which is used by the best engineers for waterproofing deep cellars, tunnels, etc. Doesn't it seem reasonable to suppose that this offers better protection against water than materials which are never used for such severe service?

One more argument. Weight for weight, AMATITE is the lowest in price of any mineral surfaced Ready Roofing.

These, then, are some of the reasons why thrifty people buy AMATITE—it costs nothing to maintain; it has remarkable durability, and its first cost is very low.

Sample Free.

There are more arguments for AMATITE than these. Our Booklet tells them. Sent with Free Sample for postal to nearest office.

CAMPBELLTON, NEW BRUNSWICK THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1908.

Incidents have been preserved for sixty years. Therefore, Hon. Geo. E. Foster is no sort of an oddity.

A company has been formed to manufacture safety eyeglasses. Needless to say the product will not wear shakily.

John Alexander Davis was a successor, but, unfortunately, the bankruptcy court will not recognize his divine commission.

Four severe earthquake shocks have been felt in the Crimea. As Yalta is the Czar's summer residence, the shocks were probably caused by the monarch's great heart beating for his oppressed suffering people.

The Wright Brothers are trying to sell their flying machine for $100,000. The best they can get is that in case of accident it hurts the occupants further and injures them far more seriously than an automobile.

That is a good suggestion which Mr. Mackenzie King makes that all orientals in British Columbia should be disarmed. It is better to pay for the revolvers and guns than to pay damages after the guns have been used.

Brown hats, brown gloves, brown cravats, brown gloves, brown shoes, brown hair, brown eyes. Indeed, brown is so fashionable this year that many people are turning brown. One has to be able to go to his brown studies with the best.

Canada is to have another metro-order city. This time it is Port Churchill on the shores of Hudson of four half-breed families, a mounted policeman and one settler. Who can say what it will be ten years hence?

There are thirty-one convicts in the Kingston penitentiary who are serving life sentences. Twenty-three years is the longest time any of them has served so far. One of the lifers is a man who is over ninety years of age. There are twelve women under the care of the warden, several of whom are under life sentences.

Mr. Hunter, a young Kingstonian, hurried out of a Division street residence, and met a young woman wearing an extra large Merry Widow hat. When just abreast of the young man the young lady gave her head a quick turn and inflicted a gash in the man's nose sufficiently deep to leave a scar. A doctor had to be called.

Have you noticed that people as a rule are not afraid of lightning, but they are very much afraid of thunder? This must make the elements grin; for lightning is so swift that it strikes where thunder is only a big noise. If an electric storm passed over the country noiselessly, few people would be alarmed, and this is proved by the fact that on hot, close summer evenings, the vivid heat lightning startles no one.

BLACK CAPE
(Special News Service.)
BLACK CAPE, Monday.—The many friends of Mrs. Nathaniel one of our oldest citizens, will be sorry to hear that she is confined to her home by illness. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Harry Thorburn of Athol, Mass. is visiting his grandfather, Mr. Thomas Johnston, here.

Mr. Murray McLean arrived from Parry Sound last week. His many friends are glad to see him back again.

Mr. Geo. Christie who is in the employ of the A. Q. & W. Railway, came up on Saturday to spend Sunday.

Mrs. D. L. Campbell has returned from Paspheg.

The W. F. M. S. held their monthly meeting in the Black Cape church on Thursday afternoon.

Capt. Howatson left on Friday for Campbellton on his third trip of the season. Mr. Howatson is doing a thriving business with his little schooner. The salmon fishing up to the present time has been poor.

Mr. Belanger of the Campbellton Hotel, is spending a few days here.

Do you think a woman is ever justified in asking a man to kiss her? queried the spinster.

A starved woman is replied the widower that is if she wants her husband to kiss her at all.

CHINESE CLAIMS
VANCOUVER, Monday.—Mackenzie King's Chinese claims commission after its sittings this afternoon after a session of ten days, during which 130 claimants were examined. The original claims totalled $25,000, but additions brought it up to between $25,000 and $27,000. The award will not be made for a few days.

"In the whole gamut of cuisine," said the New York girl, there is nothing so delicious as terrapin stew.

"Evidently," rejoined the Philadelphia girl, could you have never tried our famous scrapple.

Long—I hear the government is going to make silver dollars heavier.

Short—I hope it isn't true.

Long—Why?

Short—Because it's all I can do to raise one now.

A DIFFICULTY

One of the difficulties met with by many industrial companies today is that of securing apprentices. Rather, perhaps, the difficulty is not so much in securing apprentices as in retaining their services for a sufficient length of time to enable them to become of real service to their employers. It is quite true that many young people are seeking employment today, but it is also unfortunately true that in many cases they are unwilling to take with the employment the measure of hard work and the small wages which are a certainty in the case of almost every beginner. They lose sight, apparently, of the fact that for weeks, perhaps for months, they will be of comparatively little value to their employers. Despite this fact they expect good wages and rapid advancement, forgetting that these come only with experience and the display of interest in the work as opposed to mere interest in the amount in the wage envelope. Not long ago the head of one of New Brunswick's largest mercantile establishments spoke in strong terms of the unwillingness of the boys of today to master his work before expecting increase of pay or promotion in position. Here manufacturing concerns have found it a matter of difficulty to retain sufficient hands, simply because the young people hired were unwilling to work for what they were worth in June weddings.

Dealers in lawn mowers see no reason to be disappointed.

The average woman carries fifty miles of hair on her head. The average woman, by the way, puts at least thirty miles of it on the chiffonier on occasions, or pins it on the lace curtains.

It is not generally known that King Edward and Queen Alexandra of England, though far from being the oldest reigning couple, have been married more years than any other pair of crowned heads in Europe.

A firm of Pittsburgh brokers has failed for over $1,800,000, with only a few hundred thousand as assets. That is something like it, and should at once admit the brokers into the circles of the elect of Pittsburgh if they are not there already.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, gone!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.
