MOIR'S

The particular hostess naturally selects Moir's Chocolates for a stylish social affair.

When arranged in a bonbon dish, with each chocolate in its neat, fancy paper cup, they look the very essence of daintiness and refined good taste.

My! how delicious they are, too! Such delicately flavored centers, containing creamy confections, nuts, fruits and jellies, concealed under the finest, smoothest coating of the very richest chocolate.

The number of different varieties in each box will delightfully surprise you.

are as effectually imprisoned as the larger ones, for we make "Maritime" Wire Fence with spaces too small for the little, wee piggies to squeeze through.

The absolute regularity of the weaving, the stiffness and springiness of the English high-carbon, hard-drawn steel wire, the remarkable gripping-strength of our lock, make "Maritime" Wire Fence a decidedly stronger fence—one that you ought to know more about.

How To Save Work In The Home

Most of the dust in the modern home comes from the floor. It needn't, if you would use Floorglaze right. And dust isn't merely a bother for the housewife and the maids. It's a danger.

Dust spells d-i-s-e-a-s-e. The germs of all infections dwell, mainly, in floor-dust. Floorglaze reduces floor-dust to a minimum.

When you coat a floor with any of the ten shades of Floorglaze you have a floor that is creviceless (can't harbor germs), washable (use an antiseptic in the mop-water), and nearly dust proof.

You will get weary watching for it to wear off that floor. Floorglaze stands foot wear, even—verandas, porch floors, etc. And a gallon covers 500 square feet. Cheap!

Your dealer has it. You would find our Home Book interesting reading. May we send you a copy? Ask on a postcard. Imperial Varnish & Color Co., Limited, of Toronto.

Here's a tip to race track followers: In picking winners: be sure you don't pick them before they are ripe.

It takes more muscle than some men can acquire at golf in a month to chase a lawn mower for an hour.

In England they do not know what a "college widow" is. Nor ice cream soda. Many pleasant surprises are in store for the tight little island.

London waitresses have struck against their weekly wage of $1.50. Perhaps their employers think that is the terrible effect of overpaying people.

That discerning man who said the world was never better spoke a true word. It is going to keep on breaking its own record in this particular way.

The scientist who says a man gets a new set of brains every sixty days has again been heard from, but it appears that his new set isn't a bit better than the last one.

It is shocking to find American marines shooting up restaurants at ports where they call, but the man who charges a sailor three dollars for a light lunch deserves something out of the ordinary.

The best word from the Doukhobors for many a day is the despatch which says that the stay-at-home, hard-working ones at Yorkton, will have nothing to do with those who organize procession in the altogether.

"THE STOCK RUNS OUT."

Mr Upton Sinclair an impractical gentleman writer of Socialistic leanings, who lives in a caravan and thinks all the world should follow his example, forgetful of the fact that all the work of the world cannot be carried on by tramps who have no settled habitation, has been telling the people of Great Britain things about the lives of New York millionaires. Mr. Sinclair says some day the streets of the American metropolis will "run rivers of blood," the fluid of the fit and the unfit mingling together as it flows into the majestic Hudson. The New York Post points out, however, that the revolutionary author makes a serious mistake in his generalizations. It contends that after all the viciously-inclined young millionaire is but a very small and insignificant speck upon the surface of the great sea of American society. He follows his naturally idle bent because he has nothing useful to do and to save himself from the pitfall laid for his feet. "And," says the Post, "envy of their aimless, irresponsible existence becomes their intellectual destitution. If we may judge of them as they appear on public parade, they are naturally no wickeder than the rest of us. They are simpler stupider, and they are bored to death with themselves, their friends, and their so-called pleasures. A very rich youth is only a human being who obeys the primal instinct of doing the best he can for himself under the circumstances. Our millionaires who have brains behave like other people with brains. One whom we might mention devotes himself to the study of Spanish literature, history and art; another is a practising lawyer who gives much of his attention to charities and to tenement-house reform; and we could make a long list of those who contribute their share to the conduct of banks, railways, and industrial and commercial enterprises. They lead useful and happy lives. The very persons whom Mr. Sinclair holds up as horrible examples would no doubt do as well, if they only knew how. Take the young inheritor of vast wealth who has recently been figuring in a divorce suit. He used to drive a stage to Ardsley, and now is going to kill time by driving coach from London to Brighton. Does any one suppose that he has deliberately chosen between stage-driving and some intellectual pursuit? By no means. He does not study literature and art; he is not interested in philanthropy or politics, he is not practising a profession, he is not active in business, for the sufficient reason that he has discovered his own capacity. Apparently, he is fit to be nothing better than a stage-driver. Had he been born poor, he might, by the mere exertion of earning his own living, have developed more intelligence and character than he now displays; but probably he would have settled down as motorman on a street car or, at most chauffeur of a Fifth Avenue 'us.

"So it is with all these idle, voluptuous gentry. They merely illustrate the eternal truth that money is no substitute for muscle or mind. If they indulge the tastes of a Bowery loafer, it is because they have the tastes of the loafer; and both millionaire and loafer are less to be envied than pitied. Shall we, then, organize a revolution in order to lay violent hands on the money of these silly men and women? Shall we even spend our breath denouncing them. Either course would be a waste of energy. We can safely leave them to the slow but sure vengeance of nature. The hand of God is heavy on this fainéant aristocracy. They cannot defy with impunity the laws of health and heredity. Drunkenness and debauchery ravage the families of the rich as certainly as of the poor. Already we see that in high life, as in low, a marriage between the dullard and the profligate has for its offspring the imbecile. The stock runs out."

Relief From Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Rolland Curry, a patrolman of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by all druggists.

ST. JOHN, Tuesday. — The man who jumped over the D. A. R. wharf today was Percy Gibson, not as reported at first. He came originally from Kingston, St. Vincent, B. W. I. and landed at Halifax before coming here. He had not been drinking but was discouraged at his inability to get on to the ways of work here.

Good Words For Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

People everywhere take pleasure in testifying to the good qualities of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Mrs. Edward Phillips of Barclay, Md. writes: "I wish to tell you that I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My little girl Catherine who is two years old, ha sbeen taking this remedy whenever she has had a cold since she was two months old. About a month ago I contracted a dreadful cold myself, but I took Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and was soon as well as ever." This remedy is for sale by all druggists.

1000 FEET LINERS.

Two White Star Vessels Bigger Than the Lusitania.

LONDON, Monday. — On excellent authority it is announced that the White Star Line are about to construct two vessels each one thousand feet long.

This will, of course be record dimensions, for the great Cunarders, Lusitania and Mauretania are but 790 feet and 785 feet long respectively.

The new White Star monsters will be put on the New York Southampton service, and will be launched within six months of each other. A combination of turbine and reciprocating engines will be used.

The traditional policy of the White Star Line in not seeking extreme speed will be adhered to, and it is probable that twenty knots will be the limit which the new vessels will be expected to attain.

LONDON, Tuesday. — Burns has declined the National Sporting Club's offer of $12,000 to the winner and $2,500 to the loser for a fight with Johnson. He is holding out for $30,000.

We Trust Doctors

If you are suffering from impure blood, thin blood, debility, nervousness, exhaustion, you should begin at once with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the Sarsaparilla you have known all your life. Your doctor knows it, too. Ask him about it.

Unless there is daily action of the bowels, poisonous products are absorbed, causing headache, billousness, nausea, dyspepsia, and thus preventing the Sarsaparilla from doing its best work. Ayer's Pills are liver pills. Act gently, all vegetable.

WISDOM FOR WOMEN

Puree of Kidney Beans.

Soak over night one pint of kidney beans, next morning put them on to boil in 1 quart of water, adding more as it boils away until tender, then remove from the stove, press through puree strainer and put back in kettle and add a quarter teaspoonful of thyme, summer savory, parsley and little cayenne pepper, and salt to taste. Have ready 4 hard boiled eggs chopped fine. Add this to the puree with a sliced lemon.

Baked Codfish and Egg.

Make some rich creamed codfish, using about three quarters of a pound of fish. Have four eggs boiled hard and chopped fine. Put in a baking dish alternate layers of creamed fish and egg, having fish for bottom and top layers. Sprinkle grated cheese thickly over the top and bake half an hour.

Jellied Chicken.

Clean and cut up your chickens; stew in enough water to cover them, when nearly done season with salt and pepper; stew until water is nearly gone and the meat drops easily from the bones; remove the bones and skin and chop the meat; put layer of chicken in mould, then a layer of cold boiled eggs, until the dish is filled; heat the water left from chicken and pour over all and let jelly.

Cream Pie.

Cake Part.—Two eggs, three-quarters of a cup of sugar, one-quarter cup of water, one cup pastry flour (after sifting), one heaping teaspoonful baking powder, pinch salt. Beat the yolks and whites of eggs separately and to the yolks add sugar and beat to a cream; add the water and stir. Next mix in flour which has been sifted several times with the salt and baking powder. Last, fold in the stiffly beaten whites; beat all thoroughly, but lightly, and put into round pie tins well greased.

Cream Part.—One and one-half cups sweet milk, one egg, three tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon flour, pinch of salt. Into a double boiler put the milk and let come to a boil; beat the egg thoroughly; mix the flour and sugar and salt and add to the egg making a smooth paste; pour some of the boiling milk into the egg, sugar and flour and stir so it won't lump, then take it and stir into the rest of milk in boiler and stir until it thickens, then let cook for 10 minutes and flavor with vanilla. When cake is cool spread cream on both parts and wait until cream partly cools, then lay one-half gently on the other half and shake powdered sugar thickly on top. The pie will be fully three inches tall and like a feather if made right, and all that ever tasted it pronounce it delicious.

Peaches with Whipped Cream.

Peel and cut in halves (removing stones) six large fair peaches; sprinkle lightly with powdered sugar and set on ice for 15 minutes; pound eight macaroons to crumbs, moisten with a little sherry and cream with a dash of nutmeg, and put a spoonful of the mixture into the cavity of each halved peach. Serve with whipped cream.
