THE GRANITE TOWN GREETINGS

Take Father Morrissey's "No. 10" (Lung Tonic) And Be Sure that it will cure your cough, cold or lung troubles. It is the very same medicine which the priest-physician himself prescribed so often and so successfully during his lifetime, and thousands are the cases it has cured.

Take it—or give it to the children—with confidence, because it is absolutely free from opium, morphine or any other harmful drug. Many cough medicines are loaded with these dangerous ingredients, but Father Morrissey would not use anything that was not perfectly safe even for a baby.

"No. 10" contains nothing but Nature's own remedies—Herbs, Roots and Balsams—combined as only Father Morrissey knew how to combine them. Keep a bottle in the house as a safeguard against all troubles of throat and lungs.

Trial size 25c. per bottle. Regular size 50c.

LAYING BY FOR AN OBJECT.

After this, for the next three weeks, not many days passed that either old Cyrus or Cindy could not have been found busy about our small house or yard.

I gathered that it had been an unusually dirty winter, from the amount of cleaning that was necessary. Everything, from garden to cellar, was no sooner clean than the operation had to be begun all over again. By May my mind was in a hazy, uncertain state as to whether it was the little woman who was saving for an "object" or her dusky helpers.

The affair reached a climax when she refused an Easter bonnet, saying that the old one trimmed would do. I realized then that it had become serious. I was afraid that she was going to be sick, and I tried to remember all the unkind things I had said in the last year.

"William—I'm so glad—they have almost enough," she announced one evening. "Cyrus told me so this morning. I'm not sure that its for a home she added. It may be for a missionary, or something like that. They are so devoted to their church, William. But it is something noble and uplifting, I know. They want us both to walk down there tomorrow evening, and they act so very mysteriously that I believe they are going to tell us then, William."

Being a man, I have never had any curiosity; but something nearly approaching that quality possessed me the next evening as we drew near the tiny, dilapidated cabin which was the abode of Cyrus and Cynthia. The evening was warm and sultry. From inside the small two-roomed house issued the most appalling sounds. It was the voice of a hoarse graphophone, wailing out with persistent energy.

Shall we gather at the river? Where bright angels' feet have trod? In front of the table sat Cyrus, his wizened black face beaming with an ecstasy which was beyond words. Beside him was seated Cynthia, and twined about her neck, adding a finished touch to her costume was a fur boa. Perspiration stood in beads on her brow, but she was quite unconscious of it.

After the greetings were over, Cyrus explained: "Yes, we all done git de objec' dis here mornin', Hit did come by da express cyar. Dat papah say fur sehen dollahs an' thirty cents you could git his yere talkin' machine an' dis your fur collah. Cindy always has needed a fur collah, an' hit 'pear like dat dis was her chance. Hit's got six tails enter it, boss. Hit suah is a fine one!"

Cindy flirted the tails with coy unconcern. "Seems like we all got a heap ter be thankful fur. But Cindy an' me wuz jes' tellin' dese chillun dat dey hasn't got no 'casion fur ter git puff up 'bouten hit and teck oon airs, because us all been so prospered."

"I isn't gwine fur ter let dis meck no diff'rence in her mannah ob my behavior, boss—dat is, ef I kin help it, I isn't."—New Orleans Times Democrat.

Now I am getting so I can recognize this "off-and-away-on-gauzy-wing style and it does not upset me as it used to at first.

"You got that at the 'Take-a-Hand club, I said, and then I kissed her. When she gets into one of these flights I have found this my only safeguard. It seems to break the spell, and lift me, a mere worm of the earth, a little closer to her.

Don't Cough! It's Dangerous!

"Father Morrissey's No. 10" will stop the Cough and Cure the Cold

Are you one of those who say, "O, it's only a little cold," and let the cough hang on, doing nothing for it?

If you are, just think a minute. It is true that most colds, if left to themselves, will leave you after a while—but they leave you with the delicate lining of throat and lungs weakened—an easy prey to the next cold. Every cold you neglect makes it easier to catch the next one, and harder to get rid of it, and it doesn't take many such colds to give you Catarrh or some serious lung trouble.

"Father Morrissey's No. 10"—Cough Cure and Lung Tonic—is a preparation of roots, herbs and Balsams that will prevent all this. It promptly clears away the mucus, removes the irritation and inflammation that causes the coughing, and heals and strengthens the delicate membranes. Besides, it tones up the whole system and gives you strength to resist the next attack.

Trial bottle, 25c. Regular size, 50c. At your druggist's, or from Father Morrissey Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Some Great Attractions

(Times)

The New Brunswick Conservatives will have a parade after the House rises. The order of procession, in part, will be as follows:

1. Premier Hazen, bearing an illuminated motto with the words: I read the affidavit and I appointed the commission. I done my d—st; angels couldn't do no more!"

2. Copy of The Affidavit, on a wagon, drawn by the winners of the Mayes' Prizes for Department.

3. Illuminated portrait of The Author of the aforesaid affidavit.

4. O. S. Crockett, M. P., holding aloft, or thereabouts, a copy of his 24 hour speech, and crying, at short intervals, "Hear, hear!"

5. Dr. J. W. Daniel bearing twin mottoes: "Damn Courtenay Bay, and, I am not the father of the affidavit and I make no insinuation."

6. Report of the Central Railway Commission, nailed to uprights to show the shot holes.

7. Group of Commissioners, reserve force of affidavit makers, and other Proud Conservatives.

8. "Cershum."

Care of Lamps

A young girl errs once and the doors of human kindness are closed against her. But we reach the betrayer our hands and bid them welcome to our homes; we court and flatter him, and sacrifice our darling daughters to his greed, for it is not a sacrifice of love, purity and everything worthy to wed such a one? Does God ever smile upon such a union? If either be shunned, why not the betrayer of youth and innocence, rather than the one who has been wronged so grievously? We know that lips will curl with scorn, and society will sneer if we reach our hands to the outcast, but God and the angels will be glad, and if a soul be thus saved, what matters it?

What Matters It?

The care of lamps is an extremely important detail in the mechanism of household. Unless it fulfills its duty of burning clearly and brightly, a lamp is of no use whatever. And it cannot fulfill this duty unless all of its parts are kept free from dust and superfluous oil. If a lamp burns with a disagreeable oily odor, and there is no leak or other obvious defect, its parts need boiling. Take the lamp apart as much as possible, put the pieces in a kettle, cover them with cold water to which a handful of washing soda is added, and bring to a boil. Remove the parts, and after drying thoroughly, adjust them. Very often this treatment is all that a "smelly" lamp requires. All lamps should be boiled in this way but once a month. —Far mand Fireside.

Proved Beyond Doubt

The disappointed victims of poor Catarrh remedies should read the statement of J. R. Smith, of Lake Stream, N. B. In Catarrhazone he found an absolute cure and says: "Last winter my little girl of eight caught cold which lodged in her ears in the form of Catarrh. She became sick and deaf and nothing helped. By inhaling Catarrhazone she got relief and gradually the discharge went away. She was cured perfectly of Catarrh. Personally I can recommend Catarrhazone for coughs and throat irritation; it's a wonderful medicine. Sold everywhere, 25c. and $1.00."
