New Fish Dock at Boston Soon to be Completed.

State-owned Pier Will be the Greatest Mart of its Kind in the Country.

(Boston Advertiser.)

The new $1,000,000 fish dock in South Boston, which will be the greatest shipping point for the fish in the country, is rapidly being completed, and it is expected that it will be finished well under the contract limit, Jan. 1, 1913.

The dock is 1,200 feet long, 300 feet wide, has a stone wall on all sides and is to be filled in with earth with a surface of gravel. It is being built by the state and will be used by the Boston Fish Market corporation, which has taken out a 15-year lease beginning Oct. 1, 1913. The superstructure and buildings will be erected by this corporation.

The buildings themselves will probably not be completed and ready for use until a year from next October, practically all the fishing craft of Boston harbor, approximately 300, will unload at the new dock, which will be known as pier 6. This arrangement will bring the long-needed relief from the present cramped quarters at T wharf.

In order to make the approach easy one of the South Boston streets in the vicinity, probably D street, will be extended to connect with the dock.

Americans to Explore St. Augustine River.

St. Augustine, Labrador, July 13—Henry G. Bryant, President of the Philadelphia Geographical Society, left today on an expedition for the exploration and mapping of the St. Augustine River, entering the Gulf of St Lawrence at this place and traversing a country never yet penetrated by white man.

Mr. Bryant intends to make a thorough reconnaissance of the river and its adjacent country on either side, from its mouth to its source, crossing the divide of high land and descending a tributary of the Grand River, and thence to Hamilton Inlet and the Hudson Bay stations on its sphere, a task which is likely to occupy the greater part of the summer.

At a meeting of commercial travellers the other day it was decided to hold a Commercial Travellers' day at the St. John Exhibition. This is a welcome announcement to those who have attended past fairs on Travellers' Day. The Knights of the Grip are universally popular, and possess a happy faculty for inducing levity on almost every occasion. The two features of the day this year will be a parade in the morning and a ball game in the afternoon, both of which attraction should prove highly entertaining to the men themselves and those who witness their celebration.

Oversboes are now being made of mixture of rubber and asbestos.

Several hundred men, women and children are homeless in Denver, Col., a number of deaths are rumored, and a million and a half dollars worth of property is in ruins here today (July 15.) as the result of a cloudburst which resulted in the overflow of the shallow bed of Cherry Creek, through this city from ten o'clock until midnight last night. The big city auditorium today is a refuge camp. At dawn 500 of the homeless were gathered there and being fed by the city. Twenty five children from six months to six years old whose parents may have been lost, are in care of a police matron.

The Chamber of Commerce opened a relief subscription this morning. The flood is without parrallel in the history of the city.
