Blamed Tobacco

A Serbian farmer, convicted of suffocating his wife, pleaded that she irritated him by her excessive love of tobacco. If all men were so easily irritated there would have been plenty of Scotch house wives murdered in the 18th century. One of the compilers of the "Statistical Account of Scotland," published in 1791, remarks that "the chief luxuries in the rural districts are snuff, tobacco and whiskey. Tea and sugar are little used, but the use of whiskey has become very great. The use of tobacco may also be said to be excessive, especially among the female sex. There is scarce a young woman by the time she has been taught to spin but has learned to smoke. Smoking seems to have been introduced as an antidote to rheumatism and ague. The favorable alteration with respect to these diseases has produced only a greater avidity for tobacco."

TABOOES HOBBLE SKIRT

Something as to the Prevailing Modes for Women.

This is what women will wear the coming season, as disclosed by the style congress held in Chicago by the Ladies' Tailors and Dressmakers' Association of America:

No hobble skirts. Dresses must be two and a half yards wide, three-fourths of a yard wider than the hobble.

They must be short, three inches from the ground. Blue and white are the colors, and the materials whipcords.

Jackets are to be 36 to 38 inches long, and close-fitting. Empire effects must be forgotten. If any waist line is effected, it must be "at the waist or lower."

Revers and sailor collars will be tabooed, but collars will be different colored from the coat. No changes are ordered in plain tailored gowns or suits.

CREAM SERGE SUIT

Cream serge is to be largely worn during the coming season. The black satin collar and cuffs add a smart touch.

Water as Food.

In the light of certain statistics given by W. J. McGee in the World's Work the old sentence of "bread and water" does not at all events, sound like starvation rations. For man and other animals water is the leading food. The average human ration is some six pounds daily, four and one-half liquid and one and one-half nominally solid. A pound of grain is the equivalent of two tons of water used by the growing wheat and a pound of beef the equivalent of fifteen to thirty tons of water consumed by the bees chiefly in the form of feed, and the adult who eats 200 each of bread and beef in a year consumes something like a ton of water in drink and the equivalent of 400 tons in bread and 4,000 tons in meat, or 4,401 tons in all.
