Condolence—The vestry of St. Ann's Church have passed resolutions of condolence to Dr. T. Clowes Brown, on the death of his wife.

A Verdict—The case of Kelly and Brown tried at the adjourned sittings of the Sunbury County Court, resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff for $225.

Another Unfortunate—James Troop, of St. John, has gone to Dorchester to serve a term of three years for attacking John Harding with a crowbar.

Meeting—A public meeting will be held by the Church of England Temperance Society, on Monday at 8 p. m., at the Church Hall. There will be good speakers and good music, and all are cordially invited.

Contract Awarded—Mr. Archibald Jewett of this city has been awarded the contract for supplying wood for the Alma House. The Municipality of York has awarded contracts as follows, Jesse Keen, dry hardwood, Wm. Sanson dry tamarack, and green hardwood.

A Dishonest Farmer—An up-town grocer bought a fine firkin of butter last week, which turned out very well until near the bottom when a large stone was discovered. The farmer who feeds his cows on gravel and churns rocks is not worthy of encouragement.

Don't Get There—The editor of the Intelligencer wrote "The Capital will be merged on Saturday into a new paper." The intelligent compositor went a better and made it read: "The Capital will be merged on Saturday into a newspaper." The last comp. may always be trusted to get there.

Parading—Late fall of snow has put roads in good condition and the city is beginning to assume its usual lively appearance at this time of the year. The people from the surrounding districts are coming into town with their country produce, and the market was fairly well stocked this morning. Prices are up to the average.

Trains—For the Christmas and New Year's holidays the New Brunswick Railway will issue excursion tickets at all ticket stations to local points on N. B. system, also to Boston and return, and to Montreal and the Maritime Exhibition and to Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, and points in Ontario. Full particulars can be obtained of N. B. Ticket Agents.

Steam For The West Indies—Mr. G. F. Baird has chartered the Steamer Fortia for the service between St. John and the West Indies and she will sail on her first voyage in about a month. The Fortia is described as a first class vessel, of 1200 tons with good passenger accommodation. Mr. George Robertson, of St. John is going to be in charge of the view of interesting business men in the new line.

Scott Act—The result of Scott Act election has had the effect of at least temporarily closing the bars in the city, and excluding the general public. This is the main advantage gained by the temperance people, and no doubt it would be better for all concerned if the present state of affairs continues to exist. Perhaps this is all that the most sanguine admirers and supporters of the Act could reasonably hope for, under the present circumstances.

Departmental Offices—The provincial secretary's department have vacated the building formerly occupied by them and have taken up their quarters on an increased scale in the new departmental buildings. The Board of Works Department, Auditor General and Secretary for Agriculture, have also moved into the new building. The Education office has been moved into the apartments formerly occupied by the Provincial Secretary.

Electron Offices—At the meeting of Fredericton Lodge No. 6, K. of P., held on Tuesday evening the following officers were elected for the ensuing term—Alonso Staples, C. C.; Samuel Mackey, V. C.; A. D. McPherson, K. of R. & S.; J. D. Fowler, Prelate; W. Storey Hooper, M. E.; John H. Tabor, M. F.; D. J. Stockford, M. A.; A. Vanwart, I. G.; C. H. Thomas, P. C. G. G.; Geo. A. Hughes, J. P. C. This lodge which is one of the youngest secret societies in the city having been formed about eighteen months, is making remarkably rapid progress. The membership has increased nearly one hundred per cent since its organization, and members are initiated every night.

Remembered by His Friends—There was a large and representative gathering of the friends of Rev. Dr. McLeod, in the vestry of the Free Baptist Church Thursday evening. A choir led by M. Tennant, and assisted by Ald. H. G. Estey entertained the audience with music. Rev. Mr. Crowley and Rev. Dr. McLeod read interesting selections. After further music from the choir, refreshments were served by the young ladies. Dr. McLeod was then requested to come to the platform, where the chairman, E. C. Freeze, on behalf of the donors presented him with a purse of $140. Dr. McLeod was deeply affected by this tangible expression of goodwill and made a feeling and grateful reply.

Band Concert—The Fredericton Brass Band gave a very enjoyable and well patronized concert in the City Hall Thursday evening. The local support was excellent. The following ladies took part: Mrs. John Black, Miss Emma Shenton and Miss Stanger vocalists and Miss Bailey violinist. Miss Shenton was accompanist for her sister, Miss Blanche Tibbitts for Miss Bailey and Mr. Bristow for Mrs. Black. An attractive feature of the entertainment was the whist of Robert Ross, who was accompanied in his sister upon the piano. There is a like clearness to Ross' notes, an unsequence of one from the highest to the lowest register and a smoothness of a that is very remarkable. With all the hands of a competent instructor to take the very foremost rank.

In The Woods—The cold weather and the first appearance of snow have caused the lumbermen to get together their crews and start for the woods. These extensive operations which are the business of our province during the winter, are now well advanced. The present prospects are good, and while the price of lumber is not so high as it was last year, it will probably be up to the average of the past few years. In the upper part of the province, where the snow has commenced to fall, there are about four millions of cords of wood, and about five million cords of lumber. The lumbermen put their annual crop of lumber into the water, and will haul millions into the city. The lumbermen will keep the logs in the water, and will haul them into the city. The lumbermen will keep the logs in the water, and will haul them into the city.

Lieutenant O'Grady, son-in-law of Lieutenant Mansell, succeeds Adjut. Rodgers as captain of the 43rd bat., Ottawa Cavalry. O'Grady lately passed an examination in the Royal Infantry School here.

Eldon Mullin, Principal of the Normal School will treat of manual training in an early issue of the Century. The current number of the N. E. Educational Journal contains an article from his pen on the New Brunswick school system.

Rev. Dr. Angiers, of Boston whose popular sermons from St. Paul's pulpit and lectures on Eschatology have made his name and face familiar to Frederictonians, left for home Wednesday morning. The Rev. Dr. will be Sunday of a good audience whenever he visits Fredericton.

Recent Deaths—The late Mr. Thomas Morris was buried from the residence of his son Harry, Tuesday afternoon, a large number of citizens followed his remains to the Methodist Cemetery.

Mrs. Stephen Peabody an aged, and highly respected resident of St. Mary's, died at the home of her son Isaac at an early hour Sunday morning. The name of Mrs. Peabody is well known in the locality in which she lived and to a very large circle of friends throughout the province. Among the earliest residents of the place, the mother of a large family, most of whom have passed away before her, her life was so closely identified with the history of the place as to form a connecting link between two or three generations. When one or two of her advanced years have passed away the chain that connects the past and present will be severed and the record of earlier days will become a matter of history. The large number who assembled to pay their last respects to the memory of the deceased, from the locality in which she lived and died as well as from the city, showed the respect in which she was held. She leaves a son Isaac and one daughter the wife of Mr. Stephen Dunn of this city.

The public were surprised and pained to hear of the death at an early hour Tuesday morning of Mr. John Babbitt. While Mr. Babbitt had been in failing health for some time his friends were hopeful that he was in that most desirable condition ever seen in which the loved and died as well as from the city, showed the respect in which she was held. She leaves a son Isaac and one daughter the wife of Mr. Stephen Dunn of this city.

Some New Evidence Introduced—After a considerable amount of difficulty the following jury was impanelled to try William J. McDonald for the murder of Mrs. McCrae—

Samuel L. Gorbell, James W. Gorbell, Enoch W. Paul, Samuel K. Hatfield, Charles K. Cameron, James W. Belyea, Benjamin Dowling, A. G. Blakeley, Byron G. Robertson, Thomas Damesy, Thomas W. Robinson, Thomas Littlejohn.

About noon on Tuesday last, Solicitor General Pugsley who is conducting the case for the crown, commenced to address the jury. His address occupied over an hour. It consisted chiefly of a review of the circumstances attending the death of Mrs. McCrae, the finding of boxes similar to those containing the poisoned candy in the store of Messrs. Barker, the actions of the prisoner while in the Lunatic Asylum, his former religious tenets, and the anti-party he had formed against clergymen in general, his drawing of money from the bank, and being found with a loaded revolver, his possession and about starting for Fredericton when arrested. Dr. Pugsley also referred to some new evidence which had come to light since the preliminary examination. This consisted in the finding of some small fine comb in the attic by one of the girls in Barker's store. These combs when examined were found to be identical with those kept in the boxes in which the poisoned candy was sent. These combs, Dr. Pugsley argued, could have only been placed there for concealment, and seemed to him to complete the chain of circumstantial evidence against the prisoner. The examination of witnesses on behalf of the crown was then commenced. The evidence so far does not differ materially from that given at the coroner's inquest and the preliminary examination.

FOR PERJURY—The preliminary examination of Michael Dahan for perjury and personation at the recent Scott Act election was resumed before Police Magistrate Marshall Wednesday. Mr. Jas. W. McCready for the prisoner and Mr. Daniel Rainsford for the prosecution. Mr. Chas. E. Duffy, Deputy Returning Officer, gave evidence in regard to the voting of the prisoner and the administering of the usual oath. Dow Vandine proved the arrest. At the conclusion of the case the Police Magistrate took till Wednesday next to consider the case before giving judgment. The defence has had no perjury been committed, as by sec. 34 sub sec. 2 Canada Temperance Act, the oath of qualification to be taken by a voter should be the one given on the Const. of New Brunswick, chap. 48, and not the oath laid down under the Dominion Elections Act. The case is the first one of its kind tried in Fredericton and is exciting considerable interest.

THE SHORT LINE SURVEY—Mr. Vernon Smith, Chief Engineer in charge of the Short Line survey has returned to the city after a few days absence in Ottawa. While Mr. Smith is reticent in regard to the probable action of the government in respect to the matter, yet he does not speak by any means discouragingly of the prospects of the building of the road by the line lately surveyed. The whole survey with exception of a short distance in Mr. Walsh's division, is completed and draughted, and the result of the work is most satisfactory. A comparatively easy and direct line has been located, the engineering difficulties are reported at the minimum, and a total saving of thirty-two miles has been effected. By the proposed route the distance from Harvey to the twenty-six miles, and from the eighty-three to the distance from Harvey to the twenty-six miles, and from the eighty-three to the distance from Harvey to the twenty-six miles.

DELIGHTFUL DANCES—The kisses that are never missed, and the opportunities we are never allowed to lose, are the most precious of our life. Must ever seem the sweetest. This is true, whatever may be the rest of Fate's bright chances, and we must not let them slip out of our hands.

SPORTING NEWS

The Ringers Have To Go—Mr. John McCoy of St. Mary's, the well-known breeder of trotting stock, appears to be paying pretty dearly, in reputation at least, for an alleged infringement of the rules of the turf. During the races in connection with the late Carnival at St. John, Mr. McCoy drove a raskish looking horse called Stanley in two of the races and won first place. After the races were over it began to be whispered that Stanley was an old stage known as Earle 2201. The St. John agricultural society, owing the Moospath Park, suspended Mr. McCoy until the money should be refunded and fined him fifty dollars. Despatching from New York now indicate that the National Trotting Association of America on appeal has further extended the punishment by expelling Mr. McCoy from all National Association tracks in America. The trotting Association had no alternative than to follow this matter to the bitter end. It cannot be denied that, in the interest of healthy and legitimate sport every attempt at dishonesty should be promptly discontinued. As a manager of himself and one who has a deep interest in all that tends to the popularizing of the track, Mr. McCoy made a great mistake if he knowingly entered a ringer. But ringers have trotted on the New Brunswick track before and the matter treated very lightly—too lightly—no doubt. But in view of this fact, and the claim made by Mr. McCoy that he has never been proved that he knew the horse was a ringer when he trotted him, and the further fact that Mr. McCoy has been a fair patron of the turf in past days, and contributed liberally to the expenses of track meetings in the province, it would seem that in place of placing the full sentence of the law, a little leniency might have been extended and an amicable settlement of the matter effected.

Sketch of the Career of the Dead Australian Champion—Henry E. Searle was born July 14, 1863, at Gratton, Clarence River, New South Wales. He rowed his first race, which he also won, at Chatsworth on Nov. 1884. The year following he won the light skiff race over a three mile course at Harwood in May, 1885. In January, 1886, he beat Wallace in a skiff race over the three mile course at Harwood, but on the same day the order was reversed in a race over the mile course, Wallace beating Searle. Rowing with outriggers was first essayed by Searle at the Clarence River carnival in January, 1887, when he beat G. Neilson and Hearn, the champion of New Zealand. After beating Wolf, Searle rowed his great race against Standers, July 13, 1888, beating all previous records by the Parramatta river course (3 miles 330 yards) near Sydney, N. S. W., his time being 10:58. On Sept 14 of the same year he defeated Christian Neilson over the same course in 21m. 34s. Peter Kemp having twice defeated Edward Standers in matches for the world's championship, on May 5 and Sept 28, was challenged by Searle, and the race was rowed over the Parramatta course, Oct. 3, the result being a victory for the subject of this sketch, finishing winner in 21m. 15s. On Dec. 10 Searle won the final heat in the international scullers regatta at Brisbane, Aus. He next went to England to meet William Tomor of Toronto, who had challenged his title as world's champion sculler. They rowed over the Thames championship course, from Putney to Mortlake (about 4 miles), and Searle defeated Tomor with ease. Searle was 5 feet 10 inches in height, his chest measurement was 41 inches, and his rowing weight 150 pounds. Dressed in civilian clothes he appeared exceedingly spry in build, and did not appear as a sculler. Where Searle got his wonderful rowing strength was a mystery. He would never discuss it, and when asked about it last fall he remarked laughingly: "Oh, I've got a new movement that I take home with me to yet." Whatever it was, he was a wonderful sculler, and if he had a secret it died with him.

WHERE TO PURCHASE—The Places Where you Will Get the Value of Your Money and the Right Change Bank.

Fredericton perhaps is celebrated for nothing more than for the enterprise of her business men and their tasty and commodious shops, filled with goods of all kinds, unsurpassed in quality in any of the Province. During the Xmas season, when everybody who comes to town, as well as those who live in the city, are looking out for the best place to make their holiday purchases, the enterprising and judicious Fredericton merchants should be to advantage. A glance at their store windows is enough in itself to show that they are not lacking in any of the qualities of success and a perusal of their advertisements will show that they will prove that their enterprise is tempered with good judgment.

Perhaps there is no city of its size in Canada where a better and larger assortment of every commodity is kept than at Fredericton. The party in search of the family groceries and who naturally wants a little something extra about Christmas and New Year will be sure to drop into Stewart Morrison's store on the corner of York and Queen streets. The tempting array of first-class family groceries, fruits, canned goods, and his extra fine teas and coffees will satisfy the most fastidious.

The man in search of a suit of cloths or a winter overcoat, or any of the furnishing goods usually found in a first-class custom tailoring establishment, either for himself or for a friend, will do well to get the inside of the handsome store of Mr. Thomas W. Smith. If he comes away without purchasing it will be because he cannot suit him and not because Mr. Smith cannot suit him.

Coming down town if he needs anything in the dry goods line, no matter how costly or how cheap, from satin down to calico and from broadcloth to homespun, he can find it all in well selected stock at the store of Mr. John J. Weddall, at the Albion House. Once within he will probably not come out until he has purchased a suit for himself, his wife or daughter, or some of the many nice-made goods, such as the Scotch and English, if the store is full of ladies particularly in the afternoon, for the ladies all go to Edgewood. Mr. Edgewood will have a clerk ready to wait on him just the same.

What's in a Name—A few months ago Alexander Close, engineer of the North End Electric Light Station, St. John, received a letter addressed "Alexander Close, St. John, Canada." On opening the letter Mr. Close found a sight that surprised him. It was a check for $1,800, drawn by the Park National Bank of New York for $1,800 Mr. Close at first felt inclined to doubt the genuineness of the check, but when he saw the name of the bank and the name of the cashier, he felt very happy. He had no idea who could have sent him the money. But that did not make it the less acceptable.

Wednesday evening Mr. Alexander Close received a caller. His caller's name was Alexander Close also, he lived in St. John's, P. Q. and not in St. John's, N. B. The Mr. Close from the Province of Quebec was worth $1,800, which Mr. Close of St. John had drawn a few months before. The $1,800 formed part of the purchase money of a mine in Aspen, in which Mr. Close of Quebec had an interest. By mistake the draft came to St. John, New Brunswick, in place of St. John's, Quebec. It was a little disappointing. Mr. Close of St. John handed over to Mr. Close of St. John's $120.00 all he had left of the $1,800.00. He says he gave the remainder to a man named McConnell who has gone to Ireland with it, and he spent $175.00 himself. A law suit will probably be the result.

A New Firm—A new name among Fredericton business houses is "J. Clark & Son," composed of J. and W. G. Clark lately of Johnston & Co. and who succeeded to the Firm Machinery and Carriage business of the latter recently dissolved firm, in the southern part of the province, with office and warehouses at the old stand, St. John, New Brunswick, exclusive selling agents for the celebrated Ganogue Carriage Co.'s Carriages and Sleighs and for several manufacturers in the line of Farm Implements.

MARRIAGES—At the home of the bride's father, on the 26th November, by the Rev. W. W. MacBessie, A. Calhoun to Norrad Munn, both of Parker Ridge, York Co.

DEATHS—In this city on the 10th inst., John Babbitt, aged 44 years.

At St. John, on the 7th inst., Thomas Morris, a native of London, England, and a resident of Fredericton for the past 35 years.

At Douglas, York Co., on the 8th inst., Elizabeth Ann, widow of the late Stephen Peabody, aged 82 years.

At Fredericton Junction, on the 2nd inst., of palsy, Margaret E., wife of Elisha Hatch, at Maguadavie, York Co., on the 20th inst., Maguadavie, York Co., on the 20th inst., Hamilton, aged 1 year, 3 months and 7 days.

On the 2nd inst., Mrs. Thos. Hughes of Sunbury county, aged 24 years, leaving a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a loving wife and affectionate mother.

The handsome dress store of Geo. H. Davis makes him remember that he has to get his new drawing made for his new dress. The next thing Mr. Davis is putting up is of those handsome plush dressing cases for ladies, and is trying to sell him some toilet soap, combs and brushes. Buying a box of soap instead he starts up again.

He remembers that there is some place he missed, and suddenly recalls that his wife told him not to come home until he had gone into Tennant, Davies & Co.'s dry goods store and bought her home a silk dress, together with a supply of blotting cloth for the boys clothes, and dresses for the family. The multiplicity of goods which he bought in the store, and the fact that he paralyzes him, but with the help of the clerk he makes a good selection and also gets some underwear for himself and the boys.

But he must also call in and examine the fresh goods in Ladies' and Gents' Dressing Cases, Odor Cases, Jewel Cases, Work Boxes, Manicure Sets, Gents' Shaving Sets, etc.

MYSTERY ATTENDING A HORSE AND SLEIGH

On Thursday a young man named Bevan Hughes, belonging to Lower St. Mary's, left a horse and sleigh, which he had hired from Lee's Livery Stable, standing in front of Bailey's store, Gibson, while he went into the shop. When he came out the team was gone. Search was made during the night but no trace of the horse and sleigh could be found, and it was supposed that some one had driven away with the rig. Friday John Webster of Newcastle, Little River, came in with the horse and reported that he found him that morning lying in the ditch nearly dead. The sleigh was broken, and the robes scattered all over the road. It looked like a runaway. But run of twenty miles on the Little Road is drawing a good deal on the imagination. And it is more than probable that some party or parties had driven the horse through and turned it loose. An inquiry is to be made.

ROYAL TEMPLARS IN SESSION—Public Meeting at Gibson.

The district Council of the Royal Templars of Temperance convened in Garden's Hall, Gibson, on Wednesday afternoon. Three delegates were reported as organized and two dormant ones reactivated during the quarter. The order was reported to be in a prosperous condition in the county, comprising seventeen councils. The finance committee reported all bills paid and a balance on hand.

A resolution was passed congratulating the temperance people in Fredericton in their recent victory in the Scott Act contest. It was resolved to hold the next convention at Fredericton. In the evening a public meeting was held at Gibson at which Grand Councilor Reid presided. Several happy and encouraging speeches were made, conspicuous among them was that of Mr. Dr. Keith of Canterbury Station. Those had the pleasure of hearing the lady say she is one of the finest lady speakers in the province.

The handsome dress store of Geo. H. Davis makes him remember that he has to get his new drawing made for his new dress. The next thing Mr. Davis is putting up is of those handsome plush dressing cases for ladies, and is trying to sell him some toilet soap, combs and brushes. Buying a box of soap instead he starts up again.

He remembers that there is some place he missed, and suddenly recalls that his wife told him not to come home until he had gone into Tennant, Davies & Co.'s dry goods store and bought her home a silk dress, together with a supply of blotting cloth for the boys clothes, and dresses for the family. The multiplicity of goods which he bought in the store, and the fact that he paralyzes him, but with the help of the clerk he makes a good selection and also gets some underwear for himself and the boys.

But he must also call in and examine the fresh goods in Ladies' and Gents' Dressing Cases, Odor Cases, Jewel Cases, Work Boxes, Manicure Sets, Gents' Shaving Sets, etc.
