W. H. Katt returned home on Monday from a successful engineering course at Cornell.

FOR CAMP MOON.—The Royal school of Infantry will go into camp Monday on Monday.

TO WORK AT THE SHOALS.—The government dredge is to work at Oromocto shoals this season.

THE OPERATION DRIVE.—The advance guard of the operation drive has reached Prince William.

NATURALIZED.—John T. Jennings became a British subject in due course of law at the York sittings on Tuesday.

SUNBURY COUNTY COUNCIL.—The semi-annual meeting of the Sunbury county council was held at Brant on Tuesday.

FOR THE CRICKETS.—Two games of base ball have been arranged with the Monctons, to be played in this city July 1st.

AT WOODSTOCK.—The summer session of the provincial farmers' association will be held at Woodstock on July 3rd and 4th.

METHODS CHURCH.—Rev. J. W. Brewer will preach in the Methodist church in this city to-morrow (Sunday) morning and evening.

ON THE ROUTE AGAIN.—The heavy rains of the week have caused the river to rise sufficiently for Florenceville to resume her trips to Woodstock.

DESERVED.—Private Hale, the infantry school deserter, escaped from the school after serving in the camp several days, for desertion, and was safely across the boundary on Friday.

SCOTT ACT INSPECTOR APPOINTED.—King's county council by a vote of 15 to 12 at their semi-annual session on Tuesday resolved to appoint a Scott act inspector. C. W. Weyman was appointed.

JUDGE STEADMAN VS. THE SUN.—The case of Judge Steadman against the Sun publishing company for libel will be tried at the York sittings in this city on the 1st Tuesday in August by chief justice Allen.

A LONG SERVICE.—Major Staples of the 71st hat, has sent in his resignation on account of his being over age. Major Staples has been connected with the 71st since its organization, and was a capable and popular officer.

SCOTT ACT AT THE JUNCTION.—Thomas Sheehan, the hotel keeper at Fredericton Junction, was before Judge Alexander during the week for violation of the Scott act. J. W. McCaskey appeared for the prosecution, and Wesley Vanwart for the defence. Judgment was reserved.

CHARGED WITH INFANTRY.—A correspondent at Gloucester writes that the 10th Infantry was arrested for infanticide. Miss Peters, who teaches school up there, was delivered of the child sometime between Monday and Tuesday, and the daughter of the man with whom she boarded found the body in a valise.

A SUDDEN DEATH.—Miss Bridget Coffey, daughter of Thomas Coffey, died at the Algonia hotel Tuesday morning after a very brief illness. She was out on Sunday evening last. Deceased was a compositor in the Glouster office. Miss Coffey was a general favorite with all who knew her, and had numerous friends here of her sudden death with very sincere regret.

ILLNESS OF CHIEF COMMISSIONER RYAN.—Hon. P. Ryan, chief commissioner, who arrived in this city on Wednesday to attend a session of the government, was taken suddenly ill shortly after arriving at the departmental buildings. He was carried into the council chamber and Dr. Coburn summoned. The chief soon revived, and the next day was able to be at the office.

MASONIC CELEBRATION AT ST. JOHN.—On Tuesday evening the Freemasons of St. John, with delegations from Sussex and St. Stephen, attended divine service at St. Paul's (Valley) church, under the banner of grand lodge. The turn out was a large one. Rev. Canon DeVeber conducted the service. Rev. O. S. Newnam of St. Stephen, grand chaplain, preached the sermon on the occasion.

THE HORSE DIET.—D. Holmes, of the merchant's bank, started on Sunday to drive to Woodstock to receive Mr. Trainer, who was summoned away by domestic affliction. He had Mr. Edwards' pair of chestnuts and driver McCormick. Shortly after their arrival in Woodstock word was received in this city that one of the horses was dead. The other arrived home on Tuesday.

REVEREND BAPTIST ALLIANCE.—The reformed Baptist alliance met on Wednesday afternoon at St. John. The election of officers resulted in Rev. W. B. Wiggins, of Moncton, being elected president; Rev. G. W. McDonald, of Woodstock, vice-president; and A. S. Bulbar, of Marysville, recording secretary. There was a large number of delegates present from all parts of the province.

GIBSON'S BLACKVILLE MILL.—Gibson's saw-mill at Blackville during the past week has been cutting birch logs and a large force has been employed. Mr. Gibson, having purchased the logs put into Bartholomew river last winter by Messrs. John McLaughlin and Jas. Robinson, will have a total of over five millions to manufacture at this mill which will probably occupy the whole season.—Globe.

NEWS AS NEWS.—The last issue of the Fredericton Reporter contains the following good news: "Our base ball cranks are now pretty well discouraged for the Fredericton team has not yet won a game." The Reporter evidently receives its information about the state of mind of the base ball cranks from the same source from which it learned that the Fredericton team had not won a game yet. Some one has been stuffing the editor again.

THE INCANDESCENT FOR FEDERICTON.—The directors of the Fredericton Gas Light company have decided to lay new gas mains from their works to the corner of Queen and St. John streets, and also to introduce the incandescent electric light system into the city as early a date as all arrangements can be made. The present directors of the company are Hon. A. P. Randolph, Hon. A. B. Blair, Hon. P. Thompson, John A. Edwards and Marshal Richey.

YORK SITTINGS.—The York circuit court opened Tuesday morning at the county court house, Judge Pratt presiding. There was no criminal business and the judge discharged the grand jury. In the absence of James F. McManus, James T. Sharkey acted as clerk. There were four cases on the civil docket besides one remanet.

Henry R. Emmons vs. Galus S. Turner on a promissory note. This was an assessment case, damages being assessed at $2,253.34. Alex. Gibson vs. W. Harvey Lawrence. Verdict for plaintiff for $335.

Lottie Clendenning vs. James Clendenning. J. A. & W. Vanwart filed record. James Steadman vs. the Sun publishing company. An action for libel in which the judge sees the Sun for $10,000. The remanet is a trespass case of Samuel H. Eddy vs. Wm. Boker.

The Late Dr. Howe.

The death is announced of Dr. Joseph W. Howe, a prominent physician of New York, and a native of Chatham, N. B. Dr. Howe was on his way to Malvern Hills, England, and took passage in the steamer Umbria, and on Sunday June 8th he died after but a few hours sickness of an attack of apoplexy. He was accompanied by his only child, Miss Bessie M. Howe, and her travelling companion. His body was landed at Queenstown and his youngest and only surviving brother Dr. John T. Howe, has left for Queenstown to bring the body back to New York. Dr. Howe was the son of Dr. P. H. Howe of Chatham, his wife being a Miss Tweedie of Williamstown, the doctor being the eldest son. He was born in Chatham September 30th, 1813, and attended the grammar school in that town until he was 14 years of age, when he entered the office of his father who at that time had started the Colonial Times, and after he had to issue that sheet with but little help from his father, after mastering the mechanical part of the business he for one or two seasons reported the proceedings of the N. B. legislature for his father's journal. Always in apparently delicate health, he had a severe attack of consumption from his mother, about the time of her death he turned his attention to the study of medicine, and for several years studied with indomitable energy with Dr. Lewis of Chatham, and about 1833 he went to New York and was graduated from the medical department of the university of New York in 1836. After graduation he entered Bellevue hospital as junior assistant and afterward as assistant as house physician and house surgeon. In 1839 he was appointed attending physician to the outdoor department of the hospital and the same year clinical professor of surgery in the medical department of the university of New York, both of which positions he held at the time of his death. He was also visiting surgeon to St. Francis hospital and president of the medical board. He was a member of New York county medical society and of the Medical Journal. In 1875 he married Miss Lizzie Nicholson, who died three years ago. Dr. Howe has been actively engaged in general practice, writing and lecturing.

The above is taken from the Newcastle Advertiser. Dr. Howe was at one time very well known in Fredericton.

A Canterbury Tale.

It is V. Dalling of Woodstock, and Herbert and Henry Carr, of Canterbury Station, and it is believed, there is an amazing story of "varmint" in Skiff lake upon the north-west corner of York county. It is ten or twelve feet long and eighteen inches across the head with a body "large in proportion." Just what is the standard of proportion in such uncanny cattle the Woodstock Press, from which these alleged facts are taken, does not say; so the reader has full privilege to give his imagination rein. The creature, we are likewise informed, is large enough "to answer the bill of an inland sea monster." Here we have the same delightful indefiniteness, but there is a suggestion in the account that the creature is a description, of familiarity with monstrosities that makes one's blood "crackle," as a certain Frederictonian would remark. The gentlemen, whose names are mentioned above, say that the creature in question was seen alongside their boat, even coming so near as to get under one of the oars. They forbore to attack it and it showed the same consideration for them. This is not the first story of this kind that has come from the wilds of Canterbury, and it will probably not be the last. It is clearly the duty of all persons who fish in Skiff lake to go armed with dynamite, and to be ready in case of justice of the peace, so that they may be able to bring home with them either the carcass of the monster or a statutory declaration of his existence.

Her Character Vindicated.

The case of Lottie Clendenning against her father-in-law James Clendenning, formerly of Marysville, was disposed of at the York sittings just ended. The plaintiff sued the defendant for $4,000 for alleged slanderous statements affecting her fair name as a wife. The evidence the lady gave the court and jury, left no doubt about the slanderous statement being freely used, and so strongly impressed the jury that she had been injured in character by her father-in-law, damaging epithets, that after hearing her evidence, and listening to the appeal of her counsel, Jas. A. Vanwart, they assessed the damages at the full amount claimed, viz: $4,000. The young lady denied most emphatically the stories freely circulated about her, and she was vindicated in the trial of the defendant sold out his property at Marysville and moved away to the United States, so that it will not be as easy for the young lady to get her money as it was to get her name cleared. Her husband is willing, however, to let the money go as a secondary consideration, as it is understood that the result of the trial will bring domestic felicity once more to her home. Her husband, who was her father-in-law, is in anger, having said that if she won her case, and vindicated her character in the courts of law, he would go back to his first love and begin life over again, and of course Mr. Vanwart will willingly forgive his costs to see this happy consummation.

S. A. Army Drum in Trouble.

A short time ago the authorities in Amherst ordered the Salvation Army drum, claiming that it made too much noise on the street, since which time, reflecting on the absurdity of such a proceeding decided to return the drum, but the army officers for unknown reasons decline to receive it. The Press of that town has this touching reference: "Such is the fate of evil doers! The drum, having disgraced itself by breaking the law and getting into the hands of a lawbreaker, is restored to its former position, and life. Many a man on being let out of jail, has found himself in the same position, and cut by his conduct, has never recovered to sit and crime and become an outcast."

Cricket Looking Up.

Cricket is coming into favor again in Fredericton, and it looks as if the old game for which Fredericton was celebrated in the days of yore, would be in the ascendant next season. A largely attended meeting of those interested in the game was held Tuesday evening at the Barker house, and a club organized with the following officers: President, A. S. Murray; vice-presidents, W. C. Gellibrand, R. Inglis; secretary, A. W. K. Mackenzie; Captain, R. S. Barker; committee of management, W. T. H. Finley, E. S. Barker, G. T. Graham, with the president and vice-presidents. The club will join hands with the Fredericton A. A. Association and prepare a cricket team.

Crude Criticism.

A correspondent of the Moncton Times speaking of the music in the Methodist church in this city on Sunday last, says "True, sometimes you see a singer putting on airs, but the singing was good for all that. The organ recitals were well played, and the choice of a strong organ tune for divine worship did not seem appropriate." By "putting on airs" the critic probably means singing with expression. There are some people who charge a singer of making his putting on airs or affectation if they do not hang down their heads and mouth their words. The "street organ tune" referred to was a selection from Trottatore. There is no law to prevent street organs from marketing good music any more than there is to prevent an ignorant man from setting up as a critic.

Killed by Lightning.

Killed by lightning.—William Hughes, of Kingston, Kent county, was instantly killed by lightning during the storm on Wednesday, 18th. The unfortunate man was struck on the back of the head while lying on a bed near the chimney. The lightning struck his escape from the room without damaging the house.

As was to be expected, the sea serpent has put in an appearance off Block Island, and Capt. Tully, of the schooner Annie Harper, had a good view of him at 150 yards, says the Bangor Commercial. He is 100 feet long (estimated) and "at one time raised his tail 30 feet and lashed the water into a foam," at the same time swimming along steadily at the rate of 10 miles an hour. He must have nearly reached Bar Harbor by this time.

The ice trust of New York sent its agents to Maine with carte blanche to buy up every available pound of ice, and then along came a vessel from Norway with a thousand tons on board as ballast. A profitable trade could easily spring up between Norway and the States in the matter of ice, as in the former country labor is cheap. But once let ice become an article of import and millions of tons of it could be secured on the Labrador coast.

Upon returning to her hotel, after having performed at Her Majesty's theatre last evening, Sara Bernhardt suffered from an attack of insomnia. Finding herself unable to go to sleep, she took what proved to be an overdose of chloral. When the attendants discovered her, the actress appeared to be in a dying condition, and a physician was hurriedly summoned. After a persistent effort, lasting four hours, and the application of powerful remedies, Madame Bernhardt began slowly to recover.

For Better Train Service. The citizens are beginning to wake up to the fact that the cars side tracked, as far as train service is concerned.

The following memorial is being circulated and largely signed in the city: The memorial of the members of the council of the city of Fredericton and the citizens of the said city respectfully sheweth:

That the train service under the management of your company over the Fredericton and Fredericton Junction as heretofore conducted during summer seasons has been found fairly satisfactory to your petitioners and the travelling public.

That notice has been given of a complete change in such train service, to take effect first July next, whereby there will be only two trains per day over said road, the first not arriving until after one o'clock p. m., standard time, and departing at such an hour as will prevent return mail correspondence.

Further, that by said changed train service no through service will be run to Fredericton either from St. John or points west, but all passengers for Fredericton will be compelled to wait at the Junction for hours before being able to run into this city.

That the tendency of such train service is to drive travel from this city and force western travel past to other points, and also prevent travel from St. John to Fredericton.

In that view of this city having contributed by donation some fifty thousand dollars of the people's money towards the erection of a railway to the city, and the management of which has been assumed by your company, and having already heretofore expended your railway property in this city from taxation, your petitioners consider that they, in equity and justice, are entitled to some consideration at your hands, and believe that on full review of their petition you will be induced to reconsider the proposed train service and re-establish one more commensurate with their wants and the public requirements.

Your memorialists therefore pray, that the matter of the foregoing memorial may receive your most immediate consideration, and a train service adapted more adapted to the public requirements and mercantile importance of this city.

Dated your memorialists in as duty bound will every day.

Literary Notes.

Among the noteworthy articles in Harper's Bazar to be published June 27th will be a sketch by Mrs. Helen H. Backus, President of the Yassar Alumnae, entitled "Yassar at Twenty-five." Emma Moffett Tyng will contribute to the series of papers on Exercise of Women, an article on "Walking," to appear in the same number.

"How an Ocean Steamer is Managed" is the subject of an article by W. J. Henderson which will form the illustrated Supplement to Harper's Young People for June 24th. To most persons contemplating an ocean voyage, as well as to all young readers, this article will convey valuable information upon a subject not generally well understood.

An article on the "Training School for Recruits at Davis Island," by Henry L. Nelson, numerous illustrations, and by E. W. Kemble, will be one of the leading features in the forthcoming number of Harper's Weekly.

The opening and closing scenes of Mr. Besant's new novel, Armorial of Lyonesse, are laid among the Scilly Islands. Tradition relates that these islands, now many miles from the main-land, were once united to Cornwall by a region of extreme fertility. This was the ancient county of Lyonesse. It was inhabited by a people remarkable for their industry and piety. No less than one hundred and forty churches stood over that region which is now a waste of waters; and the rocks called the Seven Stones are said to be the place where a large city of the old English chronicle, Lyonesse, was overwhelmed by an inundation of the sea on the 11th of November, 1620.
