

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
THIRD PAGE. William Wilson
Central Telephone Company. W. T. Whitehead

LOCAL NEWS.

EXAMINATION.—The examination of candidates in connection with the Methodist conference, will be held in this city on the 13th inst.

WITHDRAWN.—The case of Ellis vs. The Queen has been withdrawn from this term from the docket of the supreme court of Canada.

TAKEN TO THE ASYLUM.—Frederick Hall of Dumfries, a former inmate of the lunatic asylum, was taken to that institution on Thursday.

A LOSS OF SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS.—The "Beeches" hotel at Richibucto has been sold at auction for $2,500. This is $7,000 less than its cost.

KING'S WARD ELECTIONS.—The election for alderman in King's ward, to fill the place of a. d. McKay, appointed road master, will be held on Monday, May 19th.

A NEW HALL FOR McADAM.—The lodge of Independent Order of Foresters at McAdam are about to build a hall for their own convenience as well as that of the public.

WHERE WILL THEY STOP?—One of the Raymond excursion parties will visit Fredericton in July. It is understood that they have ordered tents to carry with them.

POLICE COURT.—James Ryan and Fred Lettiner were fined $4 each in the police court Friday morning for creating a disturbance on the highway bridge last Thursday night.

HIS TURN NOW.—Walton, the Texas bank defaulter, is in Montreal, where he has been summoned to give evidence against several parties who helped him to spend his ill-gotten money.

A THING OF THE PAST.—Sir Leonard Tilley has had all his furniture and effects removed from government house to his residence in St. John, and that building is the official residence no longer.

FOR A THIRD OFFENCE.—Wellington White of Gibson, appeared in the police court on Friday to answer to a third offence against the Canada Temperance Act. The case was adjourned until next week.

WANTS THE SCOTTS ACT REPEALED.—Rev. Mr. Little, rector of Sussex, lately of England, has written a letter to the press in which he calls upon the temperance people to unite in repealing the Scotts Act.

MR. PARKIN IN LONDON.—George R. Parkin addressed a meeting of the People's Palace, London, on Imperial Federation on Tuesday evening. Lord Rosebery described Mr. Parkin's address as an eloquent one.

ECUMENICAL ORATORS.—Rev. John De Soyres of St. John has accepted the request to deliver the alumni oration at the university ecumenia. The address for the faculty will be delivered by the president, Dr. Harrison.

A COLD BATH.—Joseph Hector of Kingsclear, was upset on his boat while attending to his gaspareux nets on Wednesday. In falling out he dislocated his shoulder. Dr. Couillard reduced the fracture.

SKIPPED THEIR BAIL.—Lizzie Stewart and her sister, important witnesses in the Weeks poisoning case at Charlottetown, jumped their bail and are now in the United States. They were bailed to appear and testify at the June term of the court.

YOUTHFUL TRIVETS.—Two young lads named Herbert Leves and Hiram Chase broke into Gardner's store, Gibson, Tuesday afternoon, while Mr. Gardner was out, and carried away some change, besides tobacco and canned goods. They then skipped.

A NEW SOAP FACTORY.—Ex-councillor John H. Murch of Queensbury, who has been in the soap business in the United States for the past year, intends starting a soap factory in Fredericton shortly. He has petitioned the city council for exemption from taxes and water rates.

ROLLING THE LAWN.—During the week the Royal School of Infantry have been busy getting the square in shape for the summer season tennis campaign, and a long line of redoubts have been doing their country woman service by dragging a very heavy roller up and down the green.

DOMINION ESTIMATES.—In the supplementary estimates submitted to parliament on Tuesday, there appears $2,200 for new heating apparatus for the Fredericton post office, $500 for repairs to the shear dam at Ormoco shoals and $1,500 for improvement to the St. John river from Fredericton to Woodstock.

UNIVERSITY PRIZES.—The prizes for the university sports to be held on the 15th inst. are on display in J. D. Fowler's window. The prizes meet a much handsomer display than those offered for competition last year, and should be a sufficient incentive to bring this year's sports up to the old time standard.

PADDLING HIS OWN CANOE.—James Christie, for many years well-known to the travelling public as the popular coachman of the Queen hotel, has branched out for himself and can be heard at the wharf and depot carrying "hack" back. There is no doubt that "Jim" will get a fair share of the public patronage.

UNIFORM TIME FOR THE DOMINION.—A bill has been introduced in the Dominion parliament providing for a uniform system of time for the Dominion, to be regulated by the Greenwich meridian. In this will do away with the necessity of carrying a watch with three hands, and two rows of figures, it should pass and become law.

IN AID OF THE A. A. A.—A concert in aid of the Fredericton amateur athletic club will be held in the city hall on Thursday evening 15th inst. The Fredericton brass band and leading local vocalists have kindly promised to give their assistance. A most excellent programme will be presented, and nothing short of a full house should be present.

ILLNESS OF A NORMAL SCHOOL STUDENT.—Miss Creighton of Silver Falls, St. John, a normal school student, who has been ill for some time, resumed attendance at school Tuesday, but was taken suddenly ill while in her class on Thursday, and had to be taken home in a coach. Dr. Couillard has recommended that she return to her home for this term.

NORMAL SCHOOL REGULATIONS.—The board of education has ordered that all applicants for admission to the normal school should furnish to the principal a certificate of general good health, in the following form, signed by a registered physician:

1. Name of applicant?
2. Present state of applicant's health?
3. Condition of the different organs?
4. Constitution?
5. The effect which attendance at normal school or employment in the teaching profession would be likely to have on the applicant's health?

A Hint to the Road Committee.

The disgraceful condition of Queen street this spring ought to be a conclusive argument to the city fathers that there is something wrong with the system of street repairing hitherto in vogue. There was sufficient money spent on Queen street, between Regent and York last year to reclaim it from its bog like condition; but the greater part of the expenditure has proved to have been worse than useless. The road committee should see to it that the experience of previous years is not repeated.

The Freshet.

During the week there has been considerable rain and the river has gradually risen until it has attained to more than an average freshet height. The heavy rains have extended to the far north of the province and enabled the lumbermen in every section to carry on their logging operations very successfully; and it is estimated that all the winter's cut will be got out. In this respect the swelling of the streams has been very opportune, as it was feared the gradual melting of the snow, without any warm weather or rain, would result disastrously to driving operations.

The high freshet in the river has had the effect of delaying rafting operations at the booms and has caused some of the lumber mills to suspend operations. It has covered the lowlands and islands, but no damage to life or property has resulted. The officials of the boom company say there is not the slightest danger of any of the booms giving away, and if they did the run of lumber would not endanger the Fredericton bridge, as the lumber would be pretty well spread out over the river before it reached the city, and the long distance which separates the piers would enable the logs to pass through without trouble.

The people in Maugeville and Sheffield have as yet suffered nothing more than the inconvenience that attend an ordinary spring freshet, and no destruction to property is now anticipated, such as devastated that country a few years ago.

Considerable lumber has gone past the city, all of which has been caught in the Mitchell and Glazier booms. The St. John boats are compelled to land below the railroad bridge. Reports from up river say that there is an unlimited quantity of snow on the woods yet, and the same is true of the head waters of the Tay and Nashwaak. A few days warm sun would bring the water up considerably high her yet. It would have to rise about four feet to be up to the high water mark of 1887.

Fredericton's Fire Department.

At Tuesday night's meeting of the city council the rolls of the hose companies were adopted, and the department constituted for this year is as follows:

Andrew Lipsett, Chief Engineer.
Geo. Hart, Jr., Asst. Chief Engineer.

HOOKE AND LADDER AND PROTECTION CO.
J. B. Hawthorn, captain, Geo. M. Bookout 2nd captain, H. C. Mackey, secretary, Alex. Fleming, John Donohoe, John Edney, Wilson Burden, Dennis Shea, Jas. Ward, Wilbur Bennett, Henry Archie Burden, J. O. Hurley, Jas. Smith, Thos. Walman, J. H. Turley, Harry Phair, A. F. Vanwart, W. E. Miller, Allie Machum.

NO 1 HOSE CO.
J. McLaughlan, captain, H. Pollock, secretary, Thos. Smith, E. Seeger, J. Burden, Jas. Edney, E. McLaughlan.

NO 2 HOSE CO.
Geo. Ross, captain, Geo. Edney, Fred J. Todd, Geo. Haviland, Howard True, James Wilson, Harry McGill, Richard Darlington, Albert Schleyer, William Sutherland, Robert Donovan, Fred. Siewers.

NO 3 HOSE CO.
H. C. Rutter, captain, T. W. Gregory, 2nd captain, A. D. Macpherson, James Roberts, Harry Lee, Harry White, Alex. Anderson, Wm. Clark.

NO 4 HOSE CO.
Geo. Clark, captain, John Cartin, 2nd captain, T. Wandless, secretary, John Kennedy, Wm. Beaudou, Harry McDonald, George White, Wm. Wall.

Mr. Wilmut and the University.

E. H. Wilmut, late registrar of the university, has written a letter to the press touching his present relations toward the students in the matter of the sports. After stating that his gold badge, intended for the university sports, will not be offered this year, the letter concludes as follows:

"Following upon the unavoidable destruction of my sports ground by the railway track, and consequent closing of the field, I have been subjected to outrage and damage by students; hooting and insult, destruction of growing trees, and a personal assault on me with a club, on my own ground, by pupils of the public schools—prospective students truly, a glorious ending to my labors of love and expenditure of money, towards providing a free field for athletic sports."

This is certainly a very serious charge for a gentleman of Mr. Wilmut's standing and former connections with the university to make against the students of this institution, and it is not improbable that he has come to a hasty conclusion in the matter. The many years of generous treatment accorded the students by Mr. Wilmut should certainly entitle him to generous and considerate treatment at their hands. It is a matter of deep regret that any misunderstanding should have arisen between Mr. Wilmut and the students, and it is to be hoped, for the sake of the latter, against whom a most serious charge has been made, that the unpleasantness will be removed, and explanations given that will ingratiate the students of charges of the basest ingratitude and ungentlemanly conduct.

A Hopeful Sign.

The Gleaner man shows evidence of having exhaustively read last week's HERALD. This is a sign of good taste which the Gleaner man does not often allow to creep into his alleged newspaper, and if he continues to apply himself closely and diligently to THE HERALD, there is hope that he may some day be able to close a newspaper himself. Indeed, one of his recent publications contains an article, paraphrased from THE HERALD, which is not a bad effort for a beginner and shows that the Gleaner man is not too dull to grasp an idea when it is clearly and forcibly presented. THE HERALD has no use for the Gleaner man's pamphlet, but would gladly let him have a copy of THE HERALD each week gratis; this would save him the trouble of going out to borrow it, and at the same time give THE HERALD an opportunity of doing an act of charity.

New Brunswick Boys in the West.

There is quite a colony of Fredericton boys in Montana, and all are doing well. Tyler Worden, who was here the other day spoke of Geo. T. Scully, Fred. Sterling, the Menstrus, and several others who are located in the West. J. S. Vanwart, James Tibbitt's son-in-law, is located at Missoula, and with the assistance of Archie Tibbitt, his wife's brother, is doing a slashing real estate business. At Butte, Bruce Winslow, son of T. B. Winslow, has an excellent situation as civil engineer in the corporation employ, and in the same city, D. J. Hennessy, now a state senator, is doing a splendid mercantile business. Mr. Scully is now in senator Hennessy's employ. At Helena, Thomas Martin has won success, and a number of others are doing well in the cities mentioned.

He will Know Better Next Time.

As a raft loaded with hemlock bark, and steered by a native of the Nackawick, was shooting under the Fredericton bridge a day or two ago, the pilot laid himself flat upon the top of the bark, to escape contact with the under works of the bridge. A moment later a suppressed yell announced that the voyager was in trouble, and for a brief second it looked as if man and bark would be engulfed in the swirling eddy between the piers. When the raft shot out below the bridge, the raftman's coat was hauled up over his head and his braces were slack. Next time he will lie down on the raft in place of on the bark.

Very Like Murder.

A Fort Kent correspondent of the Aroostook Times reports that a crew of men recently while going to drive for Mr. Morrison, and while on the train between Grand Falls and Edmundston, N. B., commenced to fight, kicking one man down and breaking his leg, while only five hours.

Another fight was witnessed by a blow with an axe, which opened by a blow with an axe, which opened by a blow with an axe. Seven of the crew were injured.

STONE WALLS

Do Not a Prison Make.

THE SCOTT ACT VIOLATORS IN THEIR SUMMER QUARTERS.

A Reception at Hawthorn's Hotel.

During the week the sentence of the court has been carried out, and all of the Scott Act offenders in the city have commenced to serve out their two months terms in the jail. Those who, to-morrow, will pass their first Sunday "behind the bars" are Messrs. Alonzo Smiler, James C. Edwards, Tukey Manzer and John A. Houston, looking for a suit which he is interested, and also a material witness; but he has written to a friend in the city that as soon as he can get away, he will come and lay out his sentence with the rest of the boys. Fred E. Coleman is rusticated at the American House, Calais, and says he is not going to Calais this summer.

The last to join the brotherhood was mine host Edwards, who, after drinking in the fresh air and the gentle spring sunshine, and taking a last survey of Queen street, flowing with mud and mire, the hills donning their spring suits of green, and the river running at freshet height, went round to join his companions in misfortune, without a kick or a struggle, and was mistaken for "squealing." The frank and manly attitude of the offenders has gained for them many friends, and will, no doubt, entitle them to the greater liberties that if they had acted in a more prudent and less hasty manner. Since the first offender commenced to serve out his sentence, there has been an almost unceasing line of callers at the jail. So numerous have been the alarms at the jail door that deputy Heron has been seriously thinking of securing the services of a porter. It is said, however, that one of the Queen hotel bell boys will attend the door. On Friday night, the evening of Mr. Edwards' arrival.

A Reception

was held in one of the cells. Between fifty and a hundred people, among them the ladies predominated, were present; a very pleasant and sociable time was spent, everyone present doing their best to present in the most favorable manner the various and unusual stories. On the whole, while the position of these prominent and respected citizens is by no means an enviable one, yet there is no reason to apprehend that they will suffer any of those privations and hardships from hanging heavily over the prisoners heads, without trespassing too much on the good nature of Mr. Hawthorn, who, it is needless to say, was not actuated by any desire to induce the Scott Act violators to unusual severity. On the whole, while the position of these prominent and respected citizens is by no means an enviable one, yet there is no reason to apprehend that they will suffer any of those privations and hardships from hanging heavily over the prisoners heads, without trespassing too much on the good nature of Mr. Hawthorn, who, it is needless to say, was not actuated by any desire to induce the Scott Act violators to unusual severity.

Bread and Water Diet.

or, confined in uncomfortable cells, or in any way deprived of the comforts which their friends are in a position to give them. A telephone has been added to the jail, and the constant jangle of the bell has wakened the operator awake, and the messages which go over the wires are many and often very funny.

It is a subject of much speculation and discussion as to whether or not the prisoners will be compelled to serve out their full terms, or be allowed to regain their liberty when it is considered that the ends of justice have been satisfied. There is no doubt a strong feeling among the people that the Scott Act violators should be treated as prisoners for good conduct. Again, there are others who are opposed to showing any favors, but prefer that the law should take its natural course, and that the different expressions of opinion heard on every side, it is difficult to say at present whether any, or how much of the sentences may be abated. In the meantime the jail has gone forth the same as of old.

Two Leading Hotels will be Closed for at least two months. This is a serious step and cannot fail to do the city a very considerable injury. To just what extent the city will be affected by the closing of the Queen hotel and the Barker House, cannot be easily estimated, as it depends almost altogether upon the amount of summer travel which will be turned away from the city, and the way in which the matter is viewed from outside standpoints. There is no doubt that Fredericton has lately been coming into prominence as an objective point for summer travel, and strong hopes have been entertained that the number of tourists to visit this city would be far exceeded that of any previous season. There is no doubt that the closing of the hotels will considerably affect this class of visitors, and this in itself, is a matter of deep regret. Every one who is interested in the welfare and progress of the city, and should view with disfavor anything that would act as a bar to its prosperity. This feeling has no doubt influenced many citizens to condemn the action of Messrs. Edwards and Coleman, for there is no concealing the fact that these gentlemen are severely criticised for closing their hotels. It should be remembered however that these are

Two Sides to the Question.

and the hotel proprietors should not be considered, until their story is heard. These gentlemen claim that their action in closing their hotels is not the result either of a spirit of retaliation, or a desire to coerce "the powers that be" into granting them their liberty, or agreeing to a compromise, but that they are influenced solely by business considerations. They say that the expenses of running their hotels is very considerable, and particularly so in the spring of the year, and it is to be hoped that a few weeks will show that the city has weathered the storm unharmed.

There have been some rumors that with the closing of the hotels the

Steamboat and Train Accommodation

with which the city is at present favored will be curtailed. There is doubtless no grounds for making such statements, and it is to be hoped that a few weeks will show that the city has weathered the storm unharmed.

G. Clowes Vanwart, of Fredericton, brother of Messrs. Jas. A. & W. Vanwart after successfully finishing his third year at the medical department of the university of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, obtained in a competitive examination on Friday in the city of Montreal, where there were eleven candidates, the position of house surgeon in St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia.

NOT AN ENOCH ARDEN CASE.

But a Subject for a Romance.

Correspondent in the Woodstock Sentinel.

Last Monday just before the departure of the 8:30 a. m. train, a well dressed, middle aged, individual stepped up to the ticket office of the N. B. R. Station at St. Mary's and purchased a ticket for Millville, York Co., paying for the same from a pocket book which he drew out of his coat. The ticket was filled. This occurrence is itself of a very trivial nature but the incident and particulars explanatory of the action and presence of the man, would justify a good substantial foundation for a highly interesting and thrilling romance. Twenty-four years ago a farmer named J. C. living in the vicinity of Millville or Caverhill York Co., suddenly departed for parts unknown leaving a wife and several small children to fight alone the battles of life, but he added, to his credit, leaving a property sufficient to insure, with economy the sustenance of the family. It was said at the time that suspicions as to the identity of the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known.

It was eventually brought to light that the man who had been driven by silent jealousy which culminated in the sudden disappearance of the husband. Whether or not these grounds were justifiable was not known. It was eventually brought to light that