LOCAL NEWS.

NEW P. O.—A post office has been opened at Burton, Sunbury county. William Scott is the postmaster.

CHANGED HANDS. — The Dunphy hotel, formerly the Lounsbury, has again changed hands. Thos. Whitten is now proprietor.

LOW PRICE.—Potatoes are bringing $1.05 per barrel in Houlton, Me. Rather a low rate for that place. At Caribou they are fetching only 80 cents per barrel.

PROMOTION.—71st York batt., of infantry No. 2 company, McKeen's Corner, to be 2nd lieutenant, provisionally, corpl. George Alexander Murray, vice Justin S. Burtt, promoted.

RESIGNED.—Miss Ingraham has resigned the position as matron of the Victoria hospital. Miss Alice Tibbitts, a lady well fitted for the position, will, in all probability, receive the appointment.

SURGICAL OPERATION.—On Tuesday morning Dr. Coulthard successfully removed a tumor from the eyelid of Alice Clark, three year old daughter of Frank H. Clark, of the Exchange hotel. The little one is improving as nicely as possible.

AT HOME.—R. A. Estey's tug Eva Johnson was placed in winters quarters at the court house landing this week. A suitable staging was made and the tug raised and safely placed thereon, and now Eva can calmly repose till the robbins nest again.

ACCIDENT.—The Vancouver, B. C., World says: Arthur Brydone-Jack, formerly of Fredericton, now of Victoria, had a narrow escape on Monday from a serious accident on Government street, when he was pitched out of his dog-cart, the horse in which ran away.

NEW FENCE.—Moses White has completed the fence on the Park barrack property and the place is much improved in consequence. This spot has long been an eyesore to the city, and now that it is finished and moved into line with the street, old sores will heal.

FINISHING UP.—Robert Connors new hotel at St. Francis is nearing completion. Many of our mechanics have been employed on the building for months past, and on Tuesday morning R. A. Macredie left for the hotel to put in the heating apparatus, the electric bells and plumbing work.

TO THE SUNNY SOUTH.—At about ten o'clock Thursday evening several flocks of wild geese passed over this city, on their flight to the sunny south. They could be plainly heard, and judging from length of time in passing, the flocks were numerous. We may undoubtedly expect cold weather now.

TO RETIRE.—It is rumored that judge Wetmore, through his failing health, is about to retire from the supreme court bench. The Chatham World says the North Shore will make a big fight for the vacancy, and states Messrs. Adams, Lawlor, Burns, McAllister, and hon. Mr. Tweedie will be in the run for the judgship.

RETURNED.—After an absence of some years, George F. Atherton and family have removed from Woodstock to this city. He occupies the house on George street vacated by Thos. W. Smith. On the eve of their departure from Woodstock the F. C. Baptist church tendered Mr. Atherton and family a farewell social in that church.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The ladies of the hospital aid society intend holding an entertainment in the city hall on Thursday evening, December 3rd. Mrs. Jarley's wax work figures, the fan drill, with some new features in marching, will be introduced. Mrs. John Black and other well known vocalists will assist in a musical program.

ARBITRATION.—John Edgecombe, the late head of the firm of John Edgecombe & Sons, not having completed his will before death, the heirs have agreed to refer the matter of the distribution of the estate to arbitration. Messrs. A. F. Randolph, his worship mayor Allen, and sheriff Sterling have been appointed arbitrators with the consent of all.

OUR FUTURE LEGISLATORS.—The debate before the young men's literary and debating society on Woman Suffrage, will be concluded Monday evening next. The subject for debate for Monday evening, December 8th, is: "Resolved that England should evacuate Egypt." A. G. Blair, jr., leader of affirmative, H. F. McLeod, negative, F. Yorston, chairman.

SURPRISE PARTY.—On Monday evening a party of young folks intend walking into a jovial Scotchman's house, not very far from Fredericton, and take possession for a few hours. THE HERALD can vouch that the party will be most hospitably received and will be entertained in a manner such as he and his amiable, gude wife are capable of doing. Music and dancing, of course, will be the feature of the evening.

STILL THEY GO.—The household effects of Thos. W. Smith were sold at public auction on Tuesday, preparatory to his departure for California. Mrs. Smith and daughter left for New York, where they will remain until Mr. Smith disposes of his stock of goods, when he will join his family and proceed to their future home in San Francisco. Fredericton can ill afford to lose such an estimable family.

SHIPMENTS.—There has been no falling off in the shipment of sheep from this and the adjoining counties during the season. The price is the same as last year and all that were fit for market were bought. William Bell of Lakeville has shipped about ten carloads to Houlton and there were other buyers also in the field. The shipment of potatoes, west, has stopped altogether. The same may be said of all kinds of farm produce with the exception of lambs. Farmers are wondering if this winter's legislation at Washington will crush out this traffic also.

MINING FEVER.—A mining epidemic seems to have seized upon the people of that part of the province extending from Sunbury to Bay Chaleur. On the Tobique a silver mine has lately been found, the particulars of which are yet kept from the public. Woodstock is becoming interested in silver and iron mining. Stanley appears to have gold and large quantities of iron. Manners Sutton and the adjoining part of Sunbury is rich in coal. Southern Carleton county has manganese in quantity and large pockets of yellow ochre. Prospecting is going on quietly in many places and New Brunswick may yet be entirely independent of her lumber industry.

The Strike.

On Saturday night when paying their hands off, Edgecombe & Sons notified their employes that the factory would commence on Monday morning and run only nine hours a day with nine hours pay. On Monday morning with the exception of four or five, among whom some were piece hands, the entire force struck and refused to go to work. A committee of the employes were appointed to confer with Messrs. Edgecombes' and on Tuesday morning an understanding was arrived at by which the men agreed to resume work. Their hours are now from eight to seven, with ten hours pay. Since the arrangement went into effect, the men do not appear to be satisfied, having to work over their regular six o'clock hour, and it is altogether probable that the new arrangement will not be carried out any length of time—at least by quite a number of the employes.

SENATOR O'DELL'S WILL.

Probated on Saturday Last—Estate Valued at $50,000.

The will of the late senator Wm. H. O'Dell was admitted to probate on Saturday, and letters of administration cumtestamento annexed granted to Mrs. O'Dell and capt. Wm. H. O'Dell. Messrs. Black, Jordan & Bliss are proctors. The estate is entered at $20,000 real, and $30,000 personal. The senator bequeaths to his son William Henry O'Dell, eight shares of the bank of New Brunswick in the city of St. John, being the balance of stock remaining in his name; also one share of the bank of Montreal in the city of Montreal, together with ten additional shares of the said bank of Montreal held by him in his name for his said son; he also bequeaths to his son the homestead, and a portion of the real estate surrounding it, together with all the houses, buildings, furniture and implements belonging thereto.

To his three daughters, Ella Worthington O'Dell, Fanny Elizabeth O'Dell and Mary Kearney O'Dell, he bequeaths, to be divided equally, nine shares of the bank of Montreal in Montreal; six shares of the bank of Nova Scotia in Halifax; six shares of the city of St. John gas light company; six bonds of the province of New Brunswick, $500 each, 6 per cent, issue of 1875. In addition to this he bequeaths to his said three daughters eighteen shares of $50 each of the Canadian bank of Commerce of Toronto, together with a city of St. John market bond of $1,000, six per cent.

He dictates towards the relief of his niece Helen Thompson, the sum of $200; a like sum for the relief of her two children, Helen Thompson and Julia Thompson, or the survivors of them, to be applied by his executors in such manner as may be considered most beneficial to honor them if surviving him.

He leaves to Edward Slaven, his groom, the sum of $50.

He bequeaths to his wife, Elizabeth Ann O'Dell, all the rest and residue of his real estate as well as personal, wheresoever situate, either in Canada, in the United States of America or elsewhere, but subject to the charge of a payment of an annuity to his sister Isabella Hailes Twining of $200, in two equal instalments of $100 each, the said amount being so payable to him as trustee of her mother's estate.

Board of Trade Meeting.

At a meeting of the council of the board of trade Thursday evening a communication from the Quebec board relating to the Canadian Atlantic mail service with a copy of memorial forwarded by that body to the dominion government, was submitted and favorably discussed. The memorial urges the necessity of establishing this service at once to a Canadian port and suggested by a slight increase of subsidy it might be possible to secure a line of four steamers instead of five, which would suffice for a weekly line provided the steamers did not run further than Quebec in summer and Halifax or St. John in winter. The communication was favorably received and action deferred till the next meeting for further consideration.

The question of a better river service between this city and Woodstock was also discussed, resulting in a resolution appointing J. S. Neill, W. Lemont and the secretary as a committee to make inquiries concerning the cost of a new steamer of light draft more suitable for this purpose.

J. M. Wiley, J. J. Weddall and A. G. Edgecombe were also appointed a committee to interview the government in regard to continuing the subsidy now paid for this service to the proposed new vessel.

The board adjourned till Dec. 10th, when these committees are expected to make preliminary reports.

An Elopement Spoiled.

The Chatham World says: Kate McMillan, a pretty gipsy girl of St. John, about sixteen, and George Williams, a gypsy pedlar, arrived here by the accommodation train Thursday afternoon and took a room at a boarding house. That evening in obedience to a telegraphic request from the St. John, chief of police, officer Gillis hunted up the couple and took the girl from the arms of her beloved to the lockup. Next day, in obedience to another despatch, Williams was arrested and taken to the lockup also. After the girl's parents missed her they informed the police, who ascertained that she and Williams had walked to Coldbrook and taken the train, and telegraphic enquires led to the information that they were in Chatham. The girl says she has only known Williams about four months. She wept very much in the odoriterous cell, and no doubt repented her folly. Williams is a married man, and his arrest is on the charge of abduction.

The couple were taken to St. John and on examination the prisoner pleaded guilty and was sent up for trial.

Sad Homes.

Evangelist Chubbuck, whose illness was noticed in last week's HERALD, died in Massachusetts on Saturday. His wife, formerly Miss McCully, of Amherst, survives him.

Mrs. Hamilton Woods died at her residence, King street, on Thursday morning last, after an illness of some years. The deceased leaves a husband and six children to mourn their sad loss. The sympathy of the entire community is extended.

William W. Everitt, youngest son of Benjamin Everett, of Long's hotel, after a long illness, died at his home on Monday evening, at the age of twenty-one years. His remains were taken to Lower Kingsclear for burial on Wednesday afternoon, the Revs. Messrs. Crawley and Weddall officiating. The borders at the hotel contributed a handsome wreath and some flowers were presented by friends. The pall bearers were: Harry Porter, Willie Long, Lee Hagerman and Frank Cooper.

Police Pencillings.

Blanche Ackerman, charged with keeping a house of ill repute, on Charlotte street, acknowledged the offence on Tuesday and deposited the necessary soothing plaster.

Richard O'Connor, who was arrested last week for stealing a fur cap from T. G. O'Connors' store November 4th, was before the police magistrate on Wednesday and was concluded Friday afternoon. Judgment will be given on Monday.

The trial of John McKinna on the charge of a larceny of a horse and carriage from John B. Orr, has been occupying part of this week before Mr. Marsh. On Wednesday morning judgment was given committing the prisoner for trial at the county court, December 15th.

St. Dunstan's Fair.

St. Dunstan's fair opened on Tuesday afternoon in the hall, and has been visited by throngs of people all the week. The hall was handsomely decorated, the several booths, tables, etc., in the hands of an efficient staff of ladies and gentlemen, and the canvassing of friends of candidates for the several prizes vigorously carried on. The fair has been a decided success in every particular, and those ladies who have labored as assiduously in the interest of the fair, deserve all the praise that have been bestowed upon them by the numerous patrons attending. It seems that whatever their hands find to do, they do it with all their might—and do it well, too.

Snow Shoe Club.

There is every indication that Fredericton can boast of a genuine snow shoe club the coming winter. The movement is in the hands of the right parties, and if our young people take hold the arrangement will be perfected. Invitations are issued for a meeting at the Queen's parlor on Thursday evening, the 17th December, for the purpose of organizing, and if properly started good results from such enjoyment will be beneficially felt during the frost king's season. Every city has such a club, why not Fredericton?

THE TELEGU MISSION.

Address of Rev. Mr. Archibald at Gibson Last Sabbath Evening.

The Rev. J. E. Archibald, returned missionary from Telegu, India, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church, Gibson, on Sunday night last, and delivered an address on mission work in that section of the field.

He said he had to retire from the labor of a missionary owing to ill health and overwork, and was now endeavoring to do what he could to interest his hearers as to the needs of the heathen. He located the field specially occupied by the Baptists in India. He said it would be a disgrace to a denomination if they were able and did not have a foreign mission somewhere. The Baptists have supported this mission for sixteen years. He gave a short description of the physical features of India, specially the great rivers, Ganges, Gaudavery, Krisbna and Indus, the Himmalayah and Gants mountains. In few words he spoke of the great cities of Calcutta, Madras and Bombay. Speaking of the Himmalayah, he portrayed the work of God as displayed in this mighty mountain chain. He had remained for a few days on a peak 7,500 feet high, and had taken a view of the country from one 9,000 feet up. The highest peak is five and one-half miles above sea level.

The country, he said, is divided into presidencies, three of them each having a lieutenant governor, appointed by the Queen, and each presidency is sub-divided into districts. Each district is governed by an English magistrate, called the collector, the term being taken from his duties which were originally collecting revenues. All departments of government have an English officer at its head while the clerks generally are natives. The grand general management of government affairs is one great cause of success of British rule in India. It is often, he said, a question of words that 286,000,000 natives should be ruled by the few British present, but, remember, he said, these have the support of the whole British empire.

The people are becoming more loyal each year. One great secret of this is the general belief and trust in British justice. In their litigation the Hindoos would in all cases prefer to be tried by a British magistrate than one of their own, as the latter is open to bribes. Another secret is that of pensioning the native soldiers. Pensions are graded according to time of service, ten, fifteen and twenty years being the periods. Not only are the soldiers thus treated but natives in the civil service as well. When there is talk of Russia entering their country and driving out the British, their loyalty is at once apparent, yet, it is only their fear that should there be a change of masters their pensions would be done away with.

The British government, however, said the missionary, though doing well for the country and people are not doing all that it can and should. It fosters the sale of intoxicating drinks. But a few years since it was an unusual thing to see a native under the influence of liquor, but now it is, alas too common; there are hundreds of thousands who are drunkards. The same way he said of opium. The war with China was not all there was to it; it is farmed out and its license brings in a large revenue. The lecturer related a case of one wealthy native who paid $160,000 for the privilege of controlling the sale of this drug in a certain district. He licenses it out in smaller districts and then made a large profit and a number of miserable opium slaves. It is a struggle between these licensed venders and the missionaries. Another drawback to the spread of Christianity is found in the example set by the immoral lives of many British. They say they are away from home and can do as they please, but these are held up to rebut the testimony of the missionaries. The natives say, "You Christians do thus and so," and point to certain well known characters to sustain their arguments.

The greatest obstacle, however, is that of caste. The people are divided into many classes. There are four great castes—priest, merchant, warrior and laborer. These have many sub-divisions. That of priest has 2,000 sub-divisions, warrior, 900 divisions, laborers, 3,000. A native of one caste will not eat with another of a different caste, he would be defiled, and henceforth an outcast. This is one reason why India can not govern itself and is being ruled by the British. They say your religion is good and true and we know that there is no salvation through our gods, but if we join you Christians we lose caste and will be regarded as an offscouring of the earth. After a native is baptized, he is burned in effigy, funeral ceremonies take place, and he is treated as though really dead. He may regain caste by paying a heavy fine, having his tongue burned with a spoon and drinking a certain decoction, but there are very few who go back.

He then told of the special progress at Chickagoo and of the work of the missionary there. A day's duties were told, and it appears from the description that the life of a missionary is far from pleasant. He described the jinricksha and the bullock bandy, the wages paid to the coolies, who work as pack horses and the many interesting details of a life in the far east. One interesting part of his address was the singing of a hymn in the Telegu language. It was of course more interesting for its novelty than for any knowledge it imparted to the hearers.

The church was packed and the music by the choir specially good.

Gibson and St. Marys.

Leonard Inch has his new dwelling house at St. Marys nearly completed. He expects to move in this fall.

Jack Hawkins, assistant station agent at St. Marys who has been on the sick leave for a few weeks, is back to his post again.

Reid Blair who was injured in a runaway a short time ago, is able to move around again. His arm, however, is still very painful

A band of Scotch tinkers have rented a store in Haines building for the purpose of carrying on their trade. They drive quite a business in the tinware.

George Little, who carried on a small trade at the end of the bridge, has moved his quarters to McCoy's skating rink. George runs a 'sippi table and makes her go every time.

So large was the attendance at the Gibson Baptist church last Sabbath morning, many were unable to gain admittance to the services. The ordinance of baptism was administered to four young ladies: Misses Starkey, Hoben, Miles and Clarke, in the river near the railway wharf.

There is a rumor whispering around Gibson that a very prominent leader in the Salvation army—a young man of high moral standing and respected by everyone—is about to lead one of the lasses of the army to the altar. If these wisperings of the fair sex are reliable, THE HERALD offers its best wishes in advance.

Holland Boone has nearly completed a fine residence on the lower side of his mother's property. Well, the busy ones have it, and it is safe to presume, there will be an interesting event, in a very short time and lights will issue from the windows of the new house and the latch strings will be hung for the welcome callers.

Last Monday Indian agent Farrell officially visited the Indian school at St. Marys and reports favorably of Miss Martin, the teacher, as an instructor of much merit. Notwithstanding the difficulties she had to contend with, some of her dusky pupils are much more proficient than those of the same age in the city schools.

Blair brothers of St. Marys have received the contract to build a bridge across the Nashwaaksis stream to Col. Robinson's residence. The bridge will be composed of four spans, the piers of which will be built this winter. The work of getting out the timber and other necessary material, has already commenced. As Reid Blair, under whose superintendence the bridge will be constructed, is a thorough mechanic, the structure will be completed in an efficient manner to the satisfaction of Mr. Robinson.

Our Trotters on the Beautiful Snow.

BY FARMER ROBERTS.

The horses are having a much needed rest,
But the drivers are still on the go
Relating, what wonderful miles they'll put up,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."
Harry M. (that's a horse worth writing about)
His wonderful speed, we all know,
He will leave all the trotters and pacers behind,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

There's a pacer called Bruce, as fast as a ghost,
Or the north wind that down our streets blow;
His driver is eagerly awaiting the time,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."
But Sporter's the king, his proud owner claims,
He's willing to let them all crow,
He'll prove it, by "actions speak louder than words,"
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

Bessie Clay, don't forget, her marvellous speed
Gives her a place in the front row;
I think now I hear the crowd shout, "Bessie wins,"
When they get on the "beautiful snow."
There's a Kearsarge, a beauty, a cyclone in speed,
Though the family develop quite slow;
They intend to demonstrate what her friends now concede,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

Another aspirant for honor and fame
Is the standard bred stallion, "Clamo."
He's a good one and speeds very fast tw'll be seen,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."
A bay mare called Allie, report says can fly,
Her gait, it is stealing and low,
Her driver asserts, she'll down all the skates,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

The grey gelding Dred will be often ahead
Of the gang. If you think that's not so,
Just keep your eye sharp on the trotters that start,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."
Sir Wilkie, which bears the Wilkes Standard aloft
In defiance to every known foe,
With the shout "prenez garde," he'll rush to the front,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

George Allright I'd almost forgotten to name,
That he's speedy as ever he'll show,
And let none go by, without having a try,
When they get on the beautiful snow.
A black mare called Nell her owner declares
Will be kept to the front, and although
She's been laid up all summer, they'll find her right,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

There's a lot of young horses, too numerous to name,
That are trotters, but yet in embryo,
Their speed will develop, if handled with care,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."
A word to the wise is sufficient they say,
And love for your horse, it will grow;
If you treat them with kindness and care for them well,
When they get on the "beautiful snow."

Marysville Notes.

Miss Mabel Dunphy has returned from Augusta, Maine, on a visit.

Joseph and Blanche wheeler have also returned from Augusta.

There are no fresh cases of fever, and those who were sick are now well.

The Rev. Wm. Chapman, resident pastor of the Methodist church, has had very interesting special services.

Thos. Gosman, a well known colored resident of this place, died on Sunday evening last. He was sixty-seven years of age.

The new chimney at the shingle mill was completed on Tuesday, except putting on the iron caping. The chimney is ninety feet high. It is expected the brick work of the mill will be finished this week.

On Friday last, Mr. Peterson, working at the new shingle mill, had his hand cut through by a plank falling on it from the scaffolding of the new chimney. He was attended to by Dr. Sharp, who put eight stitches in the cut. He is doing well.

The Rev. Mr. Nobles, of Gibson, performed the marriage ceremony between Miss Carrie Conrade, of Calais, and John Stevens, of Marysville, on the 19th inst. Quite a large number of the friends of the young couple were invited to meet them at supper and a pleasant time was had.

Mr. Gibson's new shingle mill at Marysville, when completed and running at its full capacity, will provide shingles enough, four inches to the weather, to cover a farm of an hundred acres in little more than a year. If the bunches, made in one year, were placed end to end they would make a sidewalk from Dalhousie to St. Andrews.

Charles Simpson who was shot by a charge of powder from a gun, mention of which was made last week, is improving, and it is now thought that he may have the sight of both eyes, but it will be a narrow chance. Frank McLean, who was standing beside him, when the gun went off, had his face filled with little specks of the burnt powder, but otherwise suffered no injury.

Mrs. Sarah O'Donnell, died here on Tuesday morning at the advanced age of sixty-two years after an illness of but a few days. She was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends. Her funeral took place on Thursday morning from her brother's residence and the remains conveyed to the chapel at St. Marys, where mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Kiernan, after which they were interred in the Catholic cemetery on Sunny Bank.

Marysville commandery, P. F. Y. B. O., No. 243, had a very interesting session on Thursday evening last. After the usual order of business had been gone through with, Walter Robinson took the platform and recited "Very Dark" in very fine style. Miss Hattie Camber then recited "Brave Jennie McNeill" in a beautiful manner, and was loudly applauded. After addresses from E. A. Tapley and James McConaghy, the session closed, looking forward to a very pleasant gathering on the next night of meeting.

Court News.

The trial between Hale and Murchie against Hilyard Bros., began at Fredericton and taken to the Woodstock circuit, where it has occupied the attention of that court for the past two weeks, was brought to a finish on Thursday. A verdict was found for the plaintiffs for $1,300.

The application of Mr. Pugsley in the case of the bank of Montreal vs. Parks, that the plaintiffs be adjudged guilty of contempt for issuing their notices calling upon Parks's debtors to pay their claims to the bank instead of the receiver, was taken up before the chief justice Monday night. The solicitor general, on behalf of William Parks & Son (Limited) made application to have the hearing postponed to give time to have the receiver represented, he being at present in New York on business. Messrs. Barker and Weldon opposed the application. The chief justice decided to take time to consider whether he had power to order the receiver to be present, and stated that judgment will be given as soon as possible.

CONTINUED.—Lucy & Co 's cheap sale of clothing, hats, caps, shirts, drawers, etc., is now going on and will continue from day to day until the whole stock is disposed of. Boots, rubbers, etc., at their usually low prices. 2in.

Rev. Mr. Parsons, of Marysville, preached to a large congregation in Gargen's hall, Gibson, Sunday evening.
