WHITEWASHED.

How the Committee Deal with the Auditor's Report.

THE HERALD in a former issue stated that the auditor's report for the county of York was unreliable, inasmuch as on almost every page there was an error in the addition or subtraction of accounts. At Tuesday's meeting of the council after a certain amount of bluster and buncombe from Messrs. Black and McCready a packed committee was appointed to examine the report and investigate the criticisms made by THE HERALD in the interests of the county.

THE HERALD believes that it is the duty and the privilege of a newspaper to criticize any accounts of a public man and the report of Messrs. Black and McCready is public property.

The committee met and in less than one hour concluded that the errors were the fault of the printer. We made the statement that the report was incorrect as it contained many errors. The committee substantiated THE HERALD's statement, but found out in the few minutes devoted to it that the printer made the mistakes.

No committee could go over the report in the time taken, therefore they were not in a position to say whether the printer made the mistakes or not.

This typographical error business is a neat way to blind the eyes of the people. The people pay for a correct statement and there is not the least reason for fifty mistakes or more to be printed off on them year after year coupled with the weak excuse, the printer made them. There are errors since 1864. Messrs. Black and McCready say that the written records are correct. We do not know as we have not examined them; but this we do know, that the printed report is misleading and unreliable and we give the figures.

It is not only possible but very easy to print a report the size of the one under consideration without a mistake. We will guarantee that the next printed does not contain so many mistakes as the present one. Whether the typographical errors of Pinder, Black & Co. affect the balance due by or to the county we cannot say; let those who have the accounts examine them for themselves. It is a fair and an injustice to the people of York an investigation such as the one conducted by Coun. Kinghorn, Scott, & Co. The report could not be examined in less than half a day; but this select committee of financial experts did it in less than an hour. We make the statement again that the report is unreliable, and that the committee did not take time to examine

All reforms have met with more or less opposition, we must expect it in this case. We will reach our aim when a report is given to the people that is a correct showing of the auditor's books (as the present has been shown not to be) and till then no cries of malice will have any effect.

RICHES IN STORE.

F. B. Edgewcombe's Unlimited Enterprise.

HIS TWO STORES IN ONE—FULL FROM CELLAR TO CEILING.

Latest Novelties from Paris, London and New York.

Citizens of Fredericton are always pleased to see a new store opened or an established one enlarged, and they are therefore well pleased when the enterprise of Mr. F. B. Edgewcombe adds to the city's many choice establishments another of which all may well be proud.

Although Mr. Edgewcombe has carried on in the past a large business in dress goods of all kinds and although from time to time enlarging his store yet he was always cramped for room. Ladies goods, especially, occupy so many lines and need so much space for a display that a choice may be had with little delay that Mr. Edgewcombe was compelled to take over the store vacated by Messrs. W. Smith.

Combining this large building with his own he has now one of the largest establishments of the kind in the Maritime provinces and by far the largest in this city. The entire stock of the W. Smith store will be changed, a plate glass front of 27 ft. in width taking the place of the door now used.

The Lower Flat.

The entrance to the mammoth double store will be by the door used before the last addition. As the visitor enters, before him is a large circular counter of walnut neatly made, dividing the numerous departments of the store. This counter is a length of 116 feet and a width of forty feet, allowing space for a gigantic display of goods and a magnificent floor space so that many patrons can be waited on at once without confusion. At the rear is the stock room, the department, so arranged that the whole store is under supervision. This is tastefully furnished and attractively placed. In the left of this and in the rear is a neat office for the manager. The new building has been erected by the proprietor or manager. This great room has its countless shelves stocked with all sorts and styles of dress goods, at prices to suit the pockets of the laborer or the millionaire.

Dress Department.

The dress goods will be found at the top of the lower flat. Here every thing in dress goods from the finest silks to the best cottons will be found on the many shelves which await the purchaser. Opposite the dress goods department and occupying the upper side of the circular counter and shelving are kept all the various trimmings required for the dress goods kept in stock. The haberdashery department where all kinds of small wares, such as gloves, hose, etc., are kept is near at hand so that a pair of gloves suited to the dress purchased may be got without walking far.

The Prints.

Here is a counter that is at present much visited, all kinds of prints, all of beautiful quality, are to be had. The counter will say that Mr. Edgewcombe carries a large stock of superior prints. There is the correct department with its many lines of novelties. The gents department is further down the hall, all kinds of furnishing goods in shirts, hats, caps, collars, etc., may be got. A very large assortment in each line is kept, of the latest styles and at the lowest prices.

Then comes the staple department where may be got table linen of all kinds, towels, etc., in great variety, best quality and latest designs. We have now got over the lower flat, and are at the great amount of goods and seen a large store.

Up Stairs.

But our guide asks us to come up stairs and here is another store as large as the one we have just left and just as fully and as completely fitted. At the front on the down town side is the wholesale department for all sorts of small wares, the up town side being devoted exclusively to carpets of which there is a grand assortment of the latest patterns. At the rear is the department for boys suits, hats, caps and furnishings containing almost enough suits to fit out all the youths of our county with a few years of Sunbury and Carleton. When you come to town, boys' suits, you must take you to see this room. Near this department and occupying a neat room in the jacket and mantle department. This is one of the best fitted rooms of the establishment. It will have special care and attention and will always be found replete with the choicest novelties. On the opposite side is a room fitted for ladies underwear especially. This is carefully maintained and contains only the choicest goods.

Rubber Goods.

Here is a room fitted especially for ladies and gents rubber coats and gossamers containing a large stock from which to make a choice. Near the carpet department opposite the rubber goods counter is a section devoted exclusively to the display of window poles, curtains, portieres, etc. All the rooms in that set filled with the choicest goods, bought at the lowest cash margin and besides being suited to the wants of the people contain the latest fashions of the day. But again we are invited to walk up stairs and here is as large as the one we have just left also well stocked with goods. Here we find the reserve stock for the whole establishment, and the family department. A room is set apart here for the making up of carpets by a competent person. All goods coming to this mammoth establishment first reach this store where they are inspected and priced. If not what was ordered or not suited to the patrons the goods do not reach the shelves.

The establishment is to be fitted with electric bells and a new and unique cash system. This establishment has for years had the reputation of being well managed and it will be better in this respect in the future than in the past. The markets of Paris, Berlin, London, New York and all great emporiums of the richest and best in the dress world will be laid under tribute to pour their wealth of choice goods into this store for the benefit of its patrons, and we are safe in saying that in our large assortments the best value for the money may always be found.

The various flats will be heated by steam and the same power will be utilized to run an elevator for the benefit of those who may not feel like walking up stairs. The store will not be lighted by an electric plant owned exclusively by Mr. Edgewcombe.

should pay a visit to this store see the goods, note the prices and buying once we guarantee you will buy again. Nothing succeeds like success, it is better therefore to deal with a successful man such as Mr. F. B. Edgewcombe.

Fifteen clerks are employed while at busy seasons this number is increased to twenty. Many of the best salesmen in the city have served a course of training at F. B. Edgewcombe's. We would in conclusion ask all our county readers to visit this mammoth establishment when they come to town.

Remember F. B. Edgewcombe sells tickets via the C. P. R. and other lines for all points west.

Miss Rachel Kelly, sister of the late Hon. Sir Charles, died on Sunday at 4 o'clock. Her death was not unexpected. Deceased was a lady who by her loving disposition had made a multitude of friends, and her loss is deplored by all. The funeral which was largely attended, took place on Tuesday at half-past ten, the interment at the Methodist cemetery.

A PLAIN STATEMENT.

Mr. Wilson's Dealings With the County and University.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:

Sir.—In an editorial of Thursday's issue of a local paper references are again made to my conduct as secretary treasurer, also as registrar of the University and my private dealings which are by no means new in their character, but are applied to new subjects of investigation. If I mistake not, this is about the sixth time that paper has referred to my dealings as secretary treasurer, so as to let the public are pretty well aware by this time of the nature of the charges and I think it will be remembered that I answered the charges in the paper in which they were made. I will not therefore refer again to them except to remark that when this paper first referred to them it stated that my embezzlements were upwards of $600,000, now, it says they reach $1000,000. Both statements cannot be correct.

In regard to Prof. Hyde's draft, which this editorial says shows that I have been using the university funds for my own use, the facts are that Prof. Hyde's actual work ended on the first of July, 1891, and was presented to his quarter's salary, as well as that of the other professors, was not due until the first of July, when the provincial grant of embezzlement would be paid. He, therefore, as he was anxious to call at once for home, drew upon me as registrar at thirty days for the whole amount of his quarterly salary, which draft I accepted and which was paid on the first of July, 1891, and was presented to the committee, composed of Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Hon. Archibald Harrison and Dr. Coulthard, appointed by the senate to examine my accounts, to whom I am safe in saying, it appeared perfectly satisfactory.

In regard to the money to my dealings with a certain deceased, much respected and prompt paying citizen, whose son I attempted to defraud of $10 of interest, I accepted the editor of this local paper, or the whole amount of his quarterly salary, which draft I accepted and which was paid on the first of July, 1891, and was presented to the committee, composed of Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Hon. Archibald Harrison and Dr. Coulthard, appointed by the senate to examine my accounts, to whom I am safe in saying, it appeared perfectly satisfactory.

When such a feeling, as is indicated by the editorial referred to and the above card, exists in the mind of the public, it is hardly possible that my conduct in any capacity would meet with their favor.
