Teachers will appreciate this book. Those not seeing it should address W. J. Gage & Co., Tronto and procure a copy. They will find it of much advantage in their work.

THE NEW MILL.

The Latest Addition to Mr. Gibson's Industries.

The new shingle mill at Marysville has got to work and the many decided improvements in the cutting of shingles are only beginning to be realized. Richard Staples, master builder, had full power to plan and build the mill, to make it the best in the province and competent millmen say that he has done so. Mr. Kelley, of the New Brunswick foundry, planned and built the engine on new lines and it works to perfection. The mill is so constructed that instead of five men being necessary to fire the engine, one can and does do it. One man does the slabbing for all the machines. By means of carriers and elevators sawdust and waste blocks are taken away; instead of a crowd of men with wheelbarrows as is usual, the machinery does the work. The waste goes away almost as quickly as though it was turned into shingles. In cutting the logs into blocks the work is done quickly, one man doing the work of three. The object appears to be to make the machinery do the work instead of men. Seven of the machines are running. One peculiar feature of the mill is the long shaft that drives all the machines. This leaves plenty of room, instead of the old style of endless shafting and belts, running everywhere so that space was lost and it was endless trouble to repair breakages. Geo. Logan, late of the C. E. R. runs the engine and knows how to do it. Those contemplating putting up mills should visit this mill and have a talk with Mr. Staples. It is the general plan to have the mill building erected by one man, and the machinery put in by another. The trouble with this is that one does not work to the other's advantage rather the reverse. In this case Mr. Staples did all the work so that building and machinery are suited to each other. Mayor Gibson will have charge of this mill as well as looking after the others, plenty of work but he is able for it. A shed, one hundred feet long, is to be built to have a capacity of one million shingles.

City-County Roads.

That daily sheet up town that stretches the truth till it breaks, has been out with a bit of credit to Wm. McKay. To help him up a little it says that he has been fixing the brick kiln road that should have been repaired by the local government. This is hard on Bill, as there are so many miles of these city-country roads that are crying out for him that it is a sin to keep him away from them. Let anyone in favor or opposed to the local government take a drive over the Maryland road, several miles of which are under city management, and decide for themselves whether the city or government has best met the wants of the people. Let them decide for themselves and they must allow that Mr. McKay has enough to attend to. That cart with a load of beef that broke down on Wednesday met its fate on the city road. With the exception of some culverts the government part of the road is good, while the city part is worse than bad. If you don't believe it, try it. To get the full benefit take a top buggy. We may say, however, that the city is doing some work on this road but it is well within city limits, and it is to be hoped they will continue as far as they have authority.

Kitchen & Shea.

Another fine store has been added to the many along Queen street. The enterprising firm of Kitchen & Shea has opened up a shop opposite the post office for the carrying on of all work in the plumbing, gas fitting and tinsmithing lines. The building has been fitted up so that now it compares favorably with any on that street. A fine plate glass front shows goods to advantage. This firm will do everything in the above lines with care, and having a good force of workmen, are competent to handle the largest jobs with despatch and at correspondingly low cost. All sorts of plumbing goods of the best description will be on sale. They will handle the best quality and pattern of stoves and furnaces and will place the latter in position if required. This will be an advantage to the purchasers of furnaces, saving cost and labor of putting up. Give the firm a call and see for yourselves.

Almost a Drowning.

At Marysville on Tuesday evening Wilfred Young, of Petitcodiac, and Albert Buchanan of the town, set out to cross the river above the dam on a small raft. When well out Young fell into the water and sank immediately. He went down the second time before Buchanan could get to him with the raft. Seeing that he could not reach him in time Buchanan jumped in and got the drowning man, almost unconscious, and held him on the raft with one hand while with the other he tried to paddle ashore. Buchanan's shouts gathered a large crowd, but there were no boats and the trio were slowly but surely drifting to the dam where death was certain. Willie Simpson put out a raft and helped the almost exhausted men to the shore. It was a close call.

A Grand Ceremonial.

The M. W. grand master of the masonic fraternity having accepted an invitation from the Presbyterian church at Andover to lay the corner stone of their new church, now in course of erection at that town, with Masonic rites, desires the assistance of the lodges in this district. The M. W. grand lodge of New Brunswick and subordinate lodges, will assemble at the Masonic hall, Andover, at a quarter to five o'clock, local time, in the afternoon, of the 7th of June next, when a procession will be formed and proceed to the site of the church and lay the corner stone thereof. The Presbyterian church of Andover request the attendance of all Masons at the ceremony. The matter will come up at the regular meeting of Hiram lodge next Thursday evening.

Horse Seized.

Officers Roberts and Phillips paid a visit to the country a few days since and seized a horse from a well known and respectable farmer. The horse was bought and paid for, cash down, in this city about a year since, being sold by a well known former resident here, now in the North West. The farmer knew nothing about there being a bill of sale on the animal and received no notice, the first intimation he had was the arrival of the police. A Carleton street, west side lawyer had the affair in hand and the farmer thinks he has not only been cheated by the horseman but injustly treated by the lawyer. The end is not yet.

Out, All of Them.

John Kilburn got home from up river during the week, having his drive of eight million safe within the city limits. He was on the Allegash and although there was low water driving yet he averaged twelve miles per day. There is snow in the woods along that stream yet and ice on the shores. All the other up river drives will get out, most of them being safe at present. The snow melting so slowly kept the streams about at an average pitch and the logs moved slowly but surely. Much depends on the success of the drives and now that they are safe, a better business feeling will pervade financial circles.

Chocked Full.

The Sun representative and a prominent bank clerk saw an unusual sight a few evenings since. The Sun man does not say whether he got part of the story from Arlington's ministrels or not. But it looks like it. He says "two thousand swallows in one chimney is an assertion that may not be readily believed." It won't will it? Let us investigate. Two thousand swallows will take up a space of twenty cubic feet. It would take an ordinary chimney twenty feet high and twelve by twelve inches to hold them in a solid mass. And all at one cat. It must have been one of Arlingtons gags.

THE RACES.

How the Twenty-Fourth was Celebrated, —A Gala Day.

The bright sunshine of Tuesday morning cleared away the gloom that had settled on the faces of all on account of the mud and rain of the previous day and by seven o'clock the streets were astir. Many left the city on fishing tours, quite a contingent went out on the trains to Woodstock and St. John, while the excursion to Doaktown was largely patronized. The O. R. C. excursionists from St. John arrived early and after doing the town went to Marysville to take in the sights of that bustling beehive. The infantry school corps had a large gathering, many watching with interest their evolutions in the officers square. The men are gaining in precision and their movements elicited some applause. Strangers appreciated very much the superb playing of the band.

But the thoughts of all were on the horse races, for those who do not own a horse expect to at some time.

The first race was between N. Kierstead's Morris pacer, Chas. White's Columbus, Jos. Kierstead's Lee Robbie and Geo. Gunter's Frank. This was a good race all through as it was for blood from the start. N. Kierstead and Chas. White drove their pets while Geo. Ross guided Lee Robbie and in the first heat H. Calder sat behind Frank. Oromocto, as the boys styled Columbus, went to the front in the two first heats closely followed by Lee Robbie and the pacer, the old grey jogging in calmly in the rear as though out on a picnic. D. J. Stockford then got behind Frank and shoved him up well to the front, but N. Kierstead had got tired of fooling and put his pacer ahead in the next three heats, taking the race. There was not much between the three leaders but the pacer did his work the neatest and had apparently the most speed. The summary is as follows:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| N. Kierstead's Morris pacer..... | 3 | 4 | 1 | 1 | 1 |
| Chas. White's Columbus..... | 1 | 1 | 2 | 2 | 4 |
| Jos. Kierstead's Lee Robbie..... | 2 | 2 | 4 | 3 | 2 |
| Geo. Gunter's Frank..... | 4 | 3 | 4 | 4 | 3 |

Best time, 1:26, half-mile heats.

James Farrel's pacer, known as the Miller horse, and D. F. George's Allright, then came on for honors. Farrel drove his own horse while N. A. LaForest steered the black. The pacer won in three straight heats, with apparently plenty of speed to spare. Allright made several bad breaks while the pacer did not lift a nose in any of the heats. The second heat especially was a good one, the horses for an eighth of a mile being neck and neck. The summary is as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| James Farrell's pacer..... | 1 | 1 | 1 |
| D. F. George's Allright..... | 2 | 2 | 2 |

Best time, 1:17½, half-mile heats.

The third race was very interesting, especially as it has been claimed that the Kearsarges are very slow in developing speed. This race was between J. M. Wiley's Claymo and A. Gibson, jr's., Kearsarge filly, Nellie. William Dunbar reined the old ringer, with his record of 2.27 while D. J. Stockford drove Nellie. The filly went away like an engine, moving as smoothly as a sunbeam, the old horse being driven to the top of his speed. The mare would not stand the rush as it was her first race and broke badly, losing the heat, although showing that Claymo was out of it if she could be kept level. The second heat was like the first. The next two were taken by the mare, showing some magnificent bursts of speed. The fifth heat was a close call for both, the onlookers favoring each horse, but the judges deciding in favor of Claymo. With more handling Nellie will make it almost scalding hot for the best of them. She was much admired for her beauty and action as well as for the speed she showed. Having a wide, rangy gait she broke at the turns, but on a mile track could just now show very much faster. The summary:

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| J. M. Wiley's Claymo ..... | 1 | 1 | 2 | 2 | 1 |
| Alex. Gibson's Nellie..... | 2 | 2 | 1 | 1 | 2 |

Best time, 1:20, half mile heats.

Messrs. Thompson, H. McKee, Flewelling, M. Tennant, and Tibbits occupied the judges stand and gave satisfaction. The races were well patronized and were carried out in a gentlemanly way, there being no jarring or discord. The track is well managed and the next races will be looked forward to with interest.

F. B. Coleman.

The Ottawa Citizen says respecting the house of commons restaurant that since the opening of the present session of parliament, the restaurant of the house of commons has been under the control of Fred. Coleman, the popular proprietor of the Barker House, Fredericton, N. B. Mr. Coleman has decided to give up the position of caterer to the members, and in the course of a few days he will leave for home. During his connection with the restaurant of the house, Mr. Coleman has steadily risen in the esteem of all who came in contact with him He has enjoyed the confidence and the respect of members, many of whom will regret his departure from the city, especially at a time when he was just beginning to become well known and to form new and lasting friendships. Mr. Coleman proved an admirable manager. The business of the restaurant, received his personal and constant attention, and he was invariably polite and courteous, giving general satisfaction to guests. Mr. Coleman's newly formed Ottawa friends will wish him all possible success in the future.

Killed By a Boy.

Otis Smith, a boy living near the Washademoak died some time since and grave doubts arose as to the cause of death. It was announced that he had died of diphtheria but the physician called could see no symptom of the disease. J. DeVeber Neales, barrister of Gagetown, caused an inquiry to be held before Coroner Purdey. The body was disinterred and certain marks were noticed on the head but the doctor would not say that these were sufficient to cause death and the evidence was very contradictory. Detective Ring of St. John then took up the case and got from the Vails the true story of the death; that on the 25th of February the boy received his death blow by an axe in the hands of one of their own children who is foolish. He was struck back of the ear and died next day. The child cannot be punished for his misdeed and the parents are unaccountable.

TROUBLES ENDED.

They Have Passed From Earth's Joys and Sorrows.

A little son of James Crangle died on Friday morning. This is the second child Mr. Crangle has lost in a short time. He was a bright little boy and was in his ninth year. The distressed parents have the sympathy of all in this sudden bereavement.

At Gibson on Tuesday, Mrs. Grass died at the age of seventeen, after a very short married life. She was a daughter of David Cowie of Rusagornis and was much esteemed in that vicinity. Being at Gibson but a short time she had not made a large acquaintance but was held in much respect by those who had the pleasure of knowing her. Her funeral took place on Thursday.

At the mouth of Nashwaak on Wednesday, Mrs. Yeomans, relict of the late Stephen Yeomans, passed away after a prolonged illness from consumption. Deceased was a daughter of Mr. Bailey of Mount Hope, Penniac, and a sister of Geo. Bailey of Gibson. The funeral on Friday at Gibson was attended by many, the Rev. Mr. Nobles officiating. Her loss will be severely felt. She leaves five children and many immediate friends.

A young lady, Miss McGloine, who was a student at Normal school during the present term took ill on Tuesday last. On Thursday morning she died shortly before nine o'clock. Deceased was a daughter of Patrick McGloine of Portland, St. John, a good student and a young lady of many sterling qualities. Her remains were taken to St. John for burial. Much sorrow is expressed by the students at this sad loss of one of their number. Out of respect the Normal school flag was hoisted half mast.

Never in the history of the mill has sawing continued as this year through May. It is a great benefit to Mr. Gibson as it allows of his placing his lumber in the markets a month earlier than usual. There is difficulty in getting the lumber cared for so much is being cut. The want of a freshet is a benefit to him.

It will be one hundred and thirty-three feet keel, being ten feet longer than the last one he built. She will have three masts. A small one will be put up also, so this place will be quite busy during summer. John Tennant, of St. John, is the builder; his former efforts in this line being much appreciated by Mr. Gibson.
