

NOMINATION IN QUEENS.

The people of Queens turned out in force on nomination day to listen to the speeches of the candidates. The fact that for the first time in the history of the county, the leader of the government was to address the electors of Queens in his own behalf, no doubt deepened the interest in the proceedings, and attracted a great many to the hustings. Those who came expecting to hear an able speech from Mr. Blair were not disappointed. The attorney general's defence of the policy of his government was a clear, eloquent, and convincing effort; his replies to the unfounded, and for the most part, contemptible charges and insinuations against his colleagues and himself, were unanswerable; his attitude towards the ignorant individuals from this city, whose disgraceful behaviour and insolent interruptions disgusted and exasperated the whole audience, was manly and dignified, and far more generous than they deserved. The respect and enthusiasm with which he was received, and the spontaneous applause which greeted him throughout the speech and at its close, was a genuine expression of the people's feelings, and showed conclusively that during his brief campaign in the county, Mr. Blair had won his way into the hearts and affections of the people of Queens.

Mr. Neales, whether from inability and lack of experience, or because he felt that he occupied before his neighbors a mean and unjustifiable position, did not do himself credit. He seemed entirely out of touch with his hearers, and the noise of the paid mob boys in the gallery did not counteract the absence of any expressions of encouragement or approval from the body of electors; while a contemptuous habit among the audience, to stand up and disprove to his face many of Mr. Neales' statements, made it very embarrassing for him to get on, and finally necessitated his abandoning all discussion and confining himself to the Bathurst school question, which seemed to form the burden of his song. In fact, the attitude of Mr. Neales and his friends at the hustings and in their meeting in the evening, shows that the Bathurst school question, and the issues it has raised, formed the whole stock-in-trade of the opposition in Queens. Assisted by Pitts and a few equally ignorant and bigoted fanatics from this city, to which element Dr. Stockton, the leader of the opposition, in the extremity of his political despair, has also lent his aid and approval, Mr. Neales and his friends are endeavoring to raise a religious war in Queens; they have flooded the county with the same class of literature that did the work in York, and are making inflammatory speeches wherever they go. Mr. Pitts, to whom this county has given the right to speak for it in matters political, loudly asserted in the meeting at Gagetown that it was "union, union!" they were after. Such is the campaign that Mr. Blair has to meet in Queens. Good people generally all over the province will be pleased to hear that the attempt to wage this sort of warfare has met with the keen disapproval of the people of Queens. They take no stock in such men or their methods, and on the 22nd will bury them out of sight.

THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA AND THE BANK TAX.

During the nomination speech in Queens Mr. Neales read a letter, purporting to have been written to him by the manager of the bank of Nova Scotia in this city for the purpose of showing that the bank tax was really a direct tax upon the people of the province. The letter, as read by Mr. Neales, bore strong evidence of having been written expressly for campaign purposes, and particularly with a view to prejudice the minds of the people against the local government. Its appearance at the time and under the circumstances, naturally excited no little surprise among those present at the hustings. There were at least two reasons for surprise at the appearance of such a communication in such a place; in the first place it is unusual, we may say unprecedented thing, for the manager of an essentially non-political institution to use his official position and knowledge for the purpose of making political capital against any party in the second place it was surprising, indeed refreshing, to hear the manager of a bank publicly declare that the institution of which he was an official, was deliberately taking money out of its customers against the provisions of its charter and the banking act. The gentleman may have been ignorant of the fact that the extra ten cents which he has been in the habit of adding to the regular rate of discount, was an illegal charge, and one that could not be collected. But ignorance of the law is no excuse, and we hardly know what plea would justify the attempt by a person to prejudice the people against the government, by the publication of his own illegal acts.

We understand that the gentleman referred to admits of having written the letter to Mr. Neales, but says it was a purely business letter and not intended by him for election purposes. If this be the case it is very unfortunate that it was written just at that particular time, and couched in the language read by Mr. Neales. If however, it was a pure business letter written in the regular discharge of duty, the local manager will no doubt be able to stand by it no matter what effect the publication of it may have. It is a matter of some significance that while the letter, as read by Mr. Neales, conveyed the idea that this extra charge was made on all notes discounted at the bank, the manager says it is only made on country notes, and not on their city customers, as the competition is too keen. Inquiries, however, have revealed the fact that the making of this charge by the bank of Nova Scotia in this city is quite general and not confined by any means to country discounts. We understand also that the bank of Nova Scotia is the only bank in this city which attempts to collect the bank tax in this way. The publication of the letter in question will very likely end in the abandoning of this charge by any bank which may be now collecting it without warrant of law. In the meantime the bank of Nova Scotia need not be surprised if its discount business falls off in this city.

Herman H. Pitts, William Anderson, William Rosborough, Spencer Inch, Ashford, Fred Bliss—these are the men who are managing the campaign in Queens county for Mr. Neales. These are the men who have been specially called to elevate the tone of provincial politics. The millennium must be very near at hand.

A SCHEME THAT FAILED.

For some reason Mr. Neales failed to get himself legally nominated as a candidate in Queens county. The law states that the candidates must be nominated between the hours of ten and twelve. Of course there must be some moment at which the nominating of candidates must end; the law places the time at twelve o'clock. If a person could be legally nominated a minute after that time, he could just as well be nominated a week later. Mr. Neales was not nominated until after one o'clock, and as far as the legality of his nomination was concerned, might as well have been nominated to-day. Mr. Blair, although aware that Neales was not legally nominated, and consequently in a position then and there to have himself declared elected by acclamation, publicly advised the sheriff to accept Mr. Neales' nomination, and stated to the people, that as Mr. Neales had shown a desire to run by being nominated at all, he would not take any advantage of the omission, but would give the electors a chance to choose their representative at the polls, adding emphatically, that if he could not be elected through the ballot-box, he would never take his seat at all. He would not represent them on a technicality, but would give them all a fair chance to say whether they wished him to represent them or not. His manly statement was received with loud applause, which showed that the people of Queens know and appreciate fair play and honesty.

It is believed by many that Mr. Neales, at the advice of certain parties, purposely withheld his nomination until too late, in the hope that Mr. Blair would take advantage of it. Realizing that there was not a ghost of a chance of his being elected, Mr. Neales and his friends may have thought that they could in this way get out of the contest, and at the same time raise a storm of indignation against Mr. Blair, which would place him in an unfavorable light before the whole province, and bring a certain amount of sympathy to the opposition cause in Queens. If this was their intention they failed of their purpose. One thing is sure: Whether Mr. Neales knew within what time he had to be nominated or not, he had friends there who did know. Mr. Bliss was there, and one F. Gregory went down purposely to be present at the nomination proceedings; as he was not heard from in any other way, it may be that the above was the result of his presence at Gagetown, if so he must be proud of his effort.

THE BATHURST SCHOOLS.

In another column we publish the official statements in regard to the Bathurst schools. They are fair and candid statements of the case, and are well worthy of a careful perusal by all, and particularly by the people of York county, who were led in a moment of panic to believe that the protestants of Bathurst were being persecuted by the government. They show how deeply the people were deceived and blinded by the literature that was circulated among them, and the stories that were told them from the platform and in the family circle, by the opponents of the government in the late election. They show how utterly without foundation was the pious cry which frightened the people of York county, and which their colleagues in the city were so ready to believe. We would advise the people of York to read these statements and think over them calmly. What has been done is done, and we must put up with the consequences. At the next election, however, the people of York will have a chance to reverse their disgraceful and suicidal verdict of Oct. last, if they wish. Indeed we believe they are only waiting patiently for the opportunity to undo the foolish work of which they are already heartily ashamed. In the meantime they may learn wisdom if they will.

During the progress of the nomination proceedings in Queens county on Tuesday, two parties from this city, acted in such a disgraceful manner as to arouse the indignation of every fair minded elector present. These men are the bosom friends and backers of Pitts, Crockett and other irresponsible individuals, who without rhyme or reason, have repeatedly scandalized, lampooned and abused respectable citizens with whose political opinions they differed. For many reasons we have allowed these attacks to go unnoticed, and we even now withhold the names of the "English" and "Irish" who are doing so well as we are using them far more charitably than they deserve, and that we are treating them with more leniency than they would have treated any of the government friends, had they so misbehaved themselves in an opposition meeting. The fact that one of the parties is a civic official, would justify a full exposure of his conduct at Gagetown, together with the publication of his name and office. For the present, however, we withhold names, but we remind him and his friends that there comes a time when patience ceases to be a virtue, and when it may be necessary to fight such characters with their own weapons.

The Gleaner publishes an absurd yarn about a gentleman who recently visited this city from New York. The gentleman came here on private business, stopped at the Barker House over night, and went away next day. His tracks seem to have been dogged all the time he was here. If a gentleman cannot come to this city and register at the Barker House without having his every movement, even to his room door, as well as the movement of every friend who may call on him, watched by spies, and absurd and annoying stories about him published in the papers next day, it need not surprise anyone if visitors to the city find it necessary to shun the above named hotel.

Dear Sir— I had the pleasure, on my return home to-day, of interviewing the Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Bathurst school notoriety, and heard him state the grievances of the protestant minority in regard to the management of the schools. He discovers any concerted action on his part with Pitts and company. At the same time he has been laboring industriously with some of the adherents of the Presbyterian church in this place. I am pleased to say with poor success. They have discovered that his opposition is largely personal, and that he is not a genuine promoter of the school. He has refused to present it. Notwithstanding this he had advised several of his friends to support him in the contest. During our conversation I told him that you gave me to understand that the school manual for the present year would contain a regulation making provision for the trustees in any town or village to fill up the public school building before incurring any extra expenses in the way of additional school accommodation. He said that if that were done it would remove the principal cause for complaint in Bathurst. He said he did not hold your government responsible for the regulation which permits the employment of sisters of charity, but thinks it was a wrong act on the part of those who made the compromise. The only other change which he thinks called for would be to place the power in the hands of inspectors to dismiss one or more teachers where too large a number were being employed. So far as a number gathered from the conversation Mr. Thomp-

THOMPSON AND HIS VILE SCHEMES EXPOSED.

His Aim Was to Ruin the Attorney General.

Statement of the Trustees of Bathurst Village.

To the Editor of the St. John Globe:

Sir—We, the trustees of District No. 16, Bathurst village, having seen your article of the 10th inst. in reference to the Bathurst school difficulty, think it advisable to give the public, through the columns of the Globe, the following statistical information in reference to school matters in our district. We have four teachers engaged at present, one male and three females, of whom two are presbyterians and two Roman catholics, these latter being sisters of charity. These teachers have enrolled on their several registers 132 pupils, of which 16 are protestants and 116 Roman catholics. We pay in salaries to these four teachers the sum of $775, of which amount, the male teacher, Mr. McIntosh, gets $350. This of course, is apart from provincial allowance to the teachers. The male teacher has charge of the superior school department, and has on his register fourteen pupils enrolled who belong to the district. He has also one pupil enrolled from an outside district.

At the last annual meeting the ratepayers present unanimously expressed the opinion that as we had so few pupils to take advantage of the education to be given in the superior school, we might dispense with the services of the superior school teacher and hire in his stead a first-class female teacher and save thereby to the district nearly $200 per year. We ought to say here that neither the trustees nor ratepayers have any objection to Mr. McIntosh, whom they recognized to be a very efficient and superior teacher in every respect. But they desired to have the fourteen pupils in Mr. McIntosh's department were coming to the district too much money; that while the pupils in the three other schools were costing on an average less than $4 each to the district, those in Mr. McIntosh's department were costing $30 each. And although they would like to retain Mr. McIntosh's services, they felt they could not do so under existing circumstances. The present board of trustees consists of one protestant and two Roman catholics, our secretary, Dr. G. M. Dunson, also being a protestant. The trustees have only to say in conclusion that they have been all along, as they are at present, most desirous to meet the wishes of all the ratepayers in their district, both protestant and catholic. They believe that the great cause of public education can be best subserved here as elsewhere by all classes uniting together to make our schools as efficient as possible.

F. J. McMANUS, Trustee JOHN E. BALDWIN, Trustee ANSON BLAIR, Trustee

P. S.—We forgot to say that the assessment voted for school purposes in this district at the last annual meeting was $800. The trustees in their report to the meeting had asked for the sum of $800, but the ratepayers have no objection to the operation of doing away with the superior school that they voted the lesser sum only, saying that the trustees could hire a first-class female teacher in place of Mr. McIntosh.

To the Editor of the St. John Globe:

Sir—In your article in the issue of the 10th inst., commenting on the letter of Rev. A. F. Thompson in the Sun, you draw the inference that our Grammar school has been closed and no other operation "except those taught by persons connected with the religious orders of the catholic church." We have much to say to enter into any discussion of the subject with Mr. Thompson, but we wish to set you and your readers right. All the schools in the town of Bathurst are in full operation and giving satisfaction. It is the intention of the trustees to do in the future what they have been doing in the past, viz: provide education for all our children. There are about 230 pupils in this district. Six teachers are required; three of these are employed in the grammar school building, the others are sisters of charity, holding licenses from the board of education and teaching in what are called the convent buildings, which are the most suitable that can be procured.

The principal of the grammar school, who has filled the position for the past few years, is a member of the church of England, and although he is doing so well as we are using them far more charitably than they deserve, and that we are treating them with more leniency than they would have treated any of the government friends, had they so misbehaved themselves in an opposition meeting. The fact that one of the parties is a civic official, would justify a full exposure of his conduct at Gagetown, together with the publication of his name and office. For the present, however, we withhold names, but we remind him and his friends that there comes a time when patience ceases to be a virtue, and when it may be necessary to fight such characters with their own weapons.

Later on we may give you a full history of the so-called "English" and "Irish" from which, we are satisfied, it will be seen that statements respecting the schools made by Mr. Thompson have been of a misleading character. We beg to remind you, J. E. O'BRIEN, J. W. POWERS, ALEX. C. DOUGLASS, Trustees of School District No. 2, Town of Bathurst, Nov. 14, 1892.

So far as a number gathered from the conversation Mr. Thompson would be perfectly satisfied with the make up of your government under the leadership of any other gentleman except Hon. A. G. Blair. You are at perfect liberty to use this letter in any way you may see fit, and in order that my statement may not go to the public unnoticed, I take the liberty of giving you the name of E. A. Blakney, of Albert county, as having been present and heard the whole of the conversation to which I allude. Yours truly, G. G. KIRK.

Mr. Blakney informs me that he is not county master in Albert county, and black knight of Ireland in the orange order. Mr. Blakney's letter is as follows:— CHIEFMAN, Q. Co., N. B., Nov. 17. Hon. A. G. Blair.

Dear Sir—I have read Mr. King's letter to you of this date, and assure you that the statements therein are correct. I have had a further conversation with Mr. Thompson in which he stated that his whole desire was to defeat you on account of the way in which you used him at the Bathurst investigation. He, Thompson, told me he knew A. G. Stockton was thoroughly unprincipled and that the opposition had made a sad mistake in choosing a leader that had just been exposed and requested Stockton to make the protest cry a plank in his platform and Stockton refused to do so. He says he told you in Bathurst that he would be your political ruin and he intended to do so. Timothy Coleman, one of the electors present and heard the principal part of this conversation. Mr. Coleman was another candidate of Albert for five years. Wishing you success in Queens, I remain, Yours respectfully, E. A. BLAKNEY.

NOMINATION IN QUEENS.

Hon. Mr. Blair Received a Fine Hearing. Neales Not in It.

On Tuesday last at Gagetown the sheriff opened his court for the nomination of candidates for the seat in Queens made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Hetherington. Hon. A. G. Blair's nomination papers were filed up to twelve o'clock no other candidate had presented himself. According to law this was the hour for closing court after which no nomination papers could be accepted. Mr. Blair was informed of the matter and asked to accept the seat, and the sheriff was ready to declare him elected. Mr. Blair replied that there was only one way through which he would accept that and that was by the votes of the electors; that if no other nomination was received by two o'clock he would be obliged to accept.

About one o'clock a nomination paper was received for Mr. Neales through a Fredericton attorney which the sheriff accepted under protest. The attorney general on his arrival shortly after advised the sheriff to accept Mr. Neales nomination papers and a poll was demanded. Hon. Mr. Blair then made his address which space does not allow us to publish. He dealt with the unmanly canvases used against his return in York and showed the electors of Queens what a dastardly scheme was concocted by Pitts and his clique. At two o'clock the sheriff declared Mr. Blair elected. The court adjourned till Friday, the 25th inst., and L. P. Ferris, M. P. P., was appointed chairman of the meeting which then assumed a more business like aspect. On the platform surrounding the attorney general were Mr. Hetherington, G. S. King, John Clews, Messrs. Palmer, S. L. Peters, Thos. Peters, Sherman Peters and other representative men of Queens.

The attorney general resumed, explaining thoroughly the Bathurst school difficulty. He showed that in 1875 an arrangement had been made by the King government respecting examinations with which he had no connection and was in no way responsible. That the arrangement was and had been satisfactory to both classes and is only now trotted out for political purposes. He took up the Northern school deal, the Leary investigation, the Balfour draft and other like false and malicious charges. His speech occupied two and a half hours and was well listened to throughout with the exception of one interruption caused by the shouting of the "English" and "Irish" who were perhaps not responsible for their acts as they were in an intoxicated condition.

Mr. Neales was then called and blundered through a short address trying in vain to show that he had not been a supporter of the government. Then Dr. Stockton who had arrived by steamer made his appearance and proceeded to formulate some of his old time false statements respecting the attorney general.

Chief com. Emmons quickly turned the tables on Dr. Stockton and that gentleman found that his statements like his memorial would not hold water. He made a most favorable impression. In the evening a mass meeting was held in the orange hall where addresses were delivered by Messrs. Wilson, G. G. King, Hetherington, Palmer, Ferris, McAlpine, and on calls for the attorney general, Mr. Blair made a rousing speech. If the sentiments of those present at the nomination proceedings can be taken as a criterion of the feelings in the county Mr. Blair's return by a rousing majority can be confidently expected.

MRS. YEOMANS' DEATH.

Other Well Known People Laid to Rest. James Allen, a native of Margueriteville, Sanbury Co., died at the almshouse, Chatham, on Sunday the 14th, at the age of sixty-four years. Jacob B. Yerris, of Keswick, was laid away to rest at that place on Friday, the 11th inst. He had been suffering for some time from enlargement of the spleen, and a few weeks since went to Boston for treatment. He was forty years of age. Quite a number of the residents of Keswick, and vicinity attended the funeral. The service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hartley assisted by Rev. Mr. Downey. The death occurred at the mouth of Nashuak, on Monday, of Mrs. Geo. Yeomans, an old lady who was well and favorably known throughout eastern York. For years she, with her husband and family, resided at Mount Hope, Fenwick, where their hospitality was universal. Several years since, the family removed to Gibson. She has been in poor health for years. Deceased was the mother of George, Stephen, Benjamin, and Charles Yeomans, and several daughters. Mrs. Mary Swan, wife of John Swan, Jr., of Tweeddale, Manners-Sutton, died on Friday, the 11th inst. Her husband was a member of twelve years which she bore with Christian resignation. Deceased leaves a husband and four children. She was thirty-seven years of age. The funeral took place on Sunday last and was largely attended, the interment being at the Presbyterian cemetery. Rev. Mr. McLean attended. Jeremiah Nylund died in this city on Wednesday night, the 10th inst. Few people in the country there are who did not know the old man. His was a hard life. Left an orphan in Miramichi when very young, his father being lost at sea, he was taken by grandfather McLaughan of Nashuak; he lived there until he was grown up. One hand was disabled by a gun-shot wound. A leg also became disabled, and thus crippled he drifted here. He asked no help, and eked out a living by keeping a small shop. For several years he kept a shop on the bridge; then he removed to the Hayes shop at St. Marys. Getting too old to work, he was sent to the almshouse where he died after a short illness. He was upwards of seventy years of age.

The St. Croix Courier is out with a strong proposition for the carrying of the lumber sawn on the Miramichi, direct to St. Stephen by shipment. There is considerable in the plan.
