LOCAL NEWS.

BROKE HER ARM.—Mrs. Charles Allen, an old lady of Gibson, fell on Friday breaking one arm just above the wrist.

SELF-DENIAL.—One hundred and thirty dollars was received here by the Salvation army during their self-denial week.

RUMORED.—It is rumored that rev. Dr. Brecken is to purchase senator Wark's residence and reside in this city in future.

LOST.—The party who found a pocket book on the street Saturday morning, will be rewarded by leaving it at this office.

CHURCH CALL.—Dr. Sprague, of the Centenary church, St. John, will be called by the board of St. Luke's church, Chatham, next year.

TWO MILLION.—James Humble, Cross Creek, the largest operator on the Nashwaak waters, has two million feet of logs yarded this season.

A GOOD ONE.—W. R. Dunbar, the popular trainer, has purchased a standard bred filly from Isaac Peabody; it is by Harry Wilkes, dam by R. R. Morris.

PRESS AND PULPIT.—Rev. S. McCully Black, editor of the Messenger and Visitor, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church in this city on Sunday last, both services.

ALMOST.—Kitchen & Shea's establishment came near being the scene of a conflagration on Tuesday evening. A kerosine lamp was upset, the oil catching fire.

MARRIED.—John A. Maybe, of St. Marys, and Jrs. Sophia Clayden, of Prince William, were married at the manse by the Rev. W. MacDonald on the the 17th inst.

CURLING.—The curlers are having the rink put in shape for a game. They intend to do some practicing this winter, and will carry away several of the provincial prizes.

CHIEF SUPERINTENDENT.—Chief Sup't Inch has gone to Toronto to have a conference with the Ontario minister of education. He will also attend a meeting of the Methodist general conference.

THE BEST YEAR.—The result of the recent stock-taking on the C. E. R. has been very pleasing to manager Snowball. It shows the best year in the history of the road both in improvements and in traffic.

ILL OR CUT.—Several men from Lynches and Richard's camp have recently come to town, either ill with rheumatism or badly cut. Rheumatism appears to be very prevalent in the woods this season.

AT THE S. A. BARRACKS.—Capt. Holman will be at the Salvation army barracks on Saturday night and Sunday. Those who remember her work here two years since will be glad to welcome her again.

DISCHARGED THEIR PROPHET.—The St. John Sun has discharged its prophet who it appears was so sensitive to weather and other forecasts that Belia's comet rendered his predictions unsafe. Witness the the St. John and Queens county elections.

A FIRE.—What might have been a serious fire occurred at the new school building, York street, on Tuesday night. A charcoal pot, used in tinning the roof, had got fanned into a blaze by the wind and was in a fair way for a lively fire when discovered. No damage was done.

MEDICAL.—Dr. Gregery, of Centreville, has purchased the Pelton property at Stanley. He and his wife are now visiting the village. It is rumored that he intends practising there, but his past practice in Stanley was small, and not large enough to induce him to give it a second trial.

POPULAR.—One of the popular conductors of the C. E. R. is Charles Sterling. The ladies especially, ask before getting on, if this is Mr. Sterling's train, and if answered in the affirmative, they appear supremely happy. He is careful and obliging, and these things are appreciated by the public.

THEY STRUCK.—On Wednesday night the earth and that very erratic comet (a discription of which will be found on our 1st page) collided. The force of the impact shattered the comet to pieces. On Thursday night there were vast numbers of shooting stars or meteors seen—an evidence of the collision.

ENJOYING THEMSELVES.—Lindsay's restaurant was the scene of an oyster supper a few evenings since, when Capt. Rutter and the men of No. 4, with officers of the fire department, dined. On Wednesday night Capt. Vanwart, and the men of the hook and ladder protection company, enjoyed themselves in a similar manner.

IT WAS THERE.—At the Queens election on Tuesday there was a ten gallon keg of rum at one of the Petersville polling places for the friends of Mr. Neales. It is to be hoped that this liquor was not sent to Queens by Mr. Pitts, of Fredericton, the great temperance champion and advocate of prohibition.

MILL BURNED.—The Grand Bay mill, owned by Dunn Bros., was burned on Tuesday morning. The mill is a mass of ruins. The origin of the fire is unknown. A couple of years since it was purchased by the present owners for $15,000, who have since put on improvements of $20,000. There was $20,000 insurance.

OAK HALL.—The second week of the big cheap sale of boy's clothing starts to-morrow at Oak Hall. The first week has been a big success, and all next week customers may depend on getting boy's overcoats, suits and reefers at prices lower than ever offered before. You will find at Oak Hall the largest and best assorted stock of boy's goods in the city.

RATHER SEVERE FUN.—A few days since two rather agile young men belonging to Chatham, amused the villagers of Boiestown by a boxing match near the station. They fought with gloves and had several knockdowns, honors being about equal. Some of the on lookers, when they had decided the affair had gone far enough, stopped the battle. It was only for amusement but appeared rather severe fun.

PRESENTING A CLAIM.—Miss Martha McBride of Apohaqui, Kings Co., has visited this city and Kingsclear, respecting property left by Edward McBride, who in 1852, was killed in the lumber woods at Kingsclear while working for James Camber. Shortly after his death, the mother died and the children went to friends in Kings Co. The land in question is at New Market settlement. Miss McBride was driven to Kingsclear to Mr. Cambers' by aldermen Everett.

MAKING A STIR.—William Richards, the king of Miramichi lumbermen, has about completed a fine store at Boiestown; it is eighty feet long, thirty feet wide, with twenty foot posts. A building of similar length and width, with sixteen foot posts, has also been put up for him. The former will be used as a general variety store with offices; the latter will be used as a storehouse for heavy goods. Isaac Brown of Nashwaak is the builder, and the work is a credit to his skill. Mr. Winters and sons of this city, are doing the painting.

NO BOMBS FOR THEM.—According to population, Queens is the largest protestant county in New Brunswick. But the people have minds of their own—they could not be caught with the bombs that put Pitts and his gang in the house. They measured the capacity of that gentleman by his appearance, and saw "there was little in him." There is a scheme on foot now to get "Pitts and his gang" to represent themselves as the members for Greenland in the local house, as all York is ashamed to own them. but they needs must.

A CYCLONE

Of Votes Elects Attorney General Blair In Queens

AND SNOWS NEALES AND HIS GANG COMPLETELY UNDER.

A Tribute to the Ability and Worth of Mr. Blair.

NEALES LOSES HIS DEPOSIT AND HIS FRIENDS MOURN.

The Vote Stood 1583 to 691—A Majority of 892.

Most of the citizens of Fredericton were well pleased when on Tuesday night word came in from Queens county that the hon. A. G. Blair, was carrying every poll. Each call at the telephone made the majority greater till it was seen that Neales, the Pitts candidate, was the worst defeated man in the history of elections in this province. From here messages were going all over the province, telling the tidings to friends of the attorney general and government that he had a greater success in Queens than the most sanguine expected.

Many of those who voted against the government in York were glad to know that Mr. Blair had been returned and that he is still at the head of provincial affairs. The returns are as follows:

	Blair.	Neales.
Brunswick	57	23
Cambridge	227	35
Canning	98	22
Chipman	196	42
Gagetown	117	86
Hampstead	176	134
Johnston	197	101
Petersville	184	177
Waterborough	157	57
Wickham	154	14
Totals	1583	691

The total vote polled was 2,274 against 2,222 at the late general election. Mr. Blair's majority over Neales being 892.

The vote in Queens on October 22nd was as follows:

	Gov't.		Oppo'n.
	Ferris.	Hetherington.	Woods.	Pearson
Chipman	228	213	39	27

The intelligent voters of Queens were not in the least misled by the sectarian cry although "Pitts and his gang" had done all they could to stir up strife. The Rev. A. F. Thompson, the apostle in this "school" business was there in person but failed miserably. His schemes had been totally exploded.

It is not fair and few will blame Neales for the part he took in the contest. He showed plainly that he did not wish to run against Mr. Blair but was forced into it. His only fault was in being so easily influenced.

Mr. Edwards, proprietor of the Queen hotel, received the reports from Queens as the ballots were counted, and very kindly displayed the figures on a large blackboard so that the waiting crowd might see. From the closing of the poll the hotel was crowded with the friends of Mr. Blair, "Pitts and his gang" being conspicuous by their absence. When it became an assured fact that the victory was with the attorney general there was much rejoicing.

On the closing of the polls at Gagetown, Mr. Blair, Mr. Ferris, M. P. P., and others met in the Orange hall, where a large crowd had gathered and delivered addresses. The people of Queens saw the mistake the electors of York had made and are much elated that the office of attorney general is theirs. They knew that they had an opportunity never before presented to them and appreciated it at its worth.

The Home Coming.

The Eva Johnson, with the attorney-general and friends on board, steamed up from Gagetown on Wednesday, reaching here about noon. Among those on board were: Hon. F. P. Thompson, Hon. James Mitchell, F. B. Edgecome, G. A. Hughes, Ald. Farrell, James Robinson, M. P. P., Arthur Ebbet, C. S. Hickman, W. T. Whitehead, F. I. Morrison, Mr. Wall of Moncton, and others.

The sound of the little tug's whistle told the citizens that the attorney general was coming, and the wharves were soon densely packed, while cheer after cheer rang across the water. When the landing was reached, congratulations were universal. No stronger token of the hold which the attorney general has upon the hearts of the people of this city was needed—it was a regular ovation.

The Other Side.

The miserable wretches, who have in a measure ruined Mr. Neales, got back to the city during the night—no doubt preferring darkness. They have been taught a lesson that they are not likely soon to forget. They have shown that they will stop short at nothing to serve their ends; and have occasioned more strife and hatred in this county than has ever before been known in it. Visit the places where they carried the poll and judge by the feelings of the people as to whether this statement is true. It will not be long however, before the people of York will have another chance to speak, and then the result will be different.

Declaration Day.

The friends of Mr. Blair in Fredericton and other places along the river, chartered the steamer David Weston for the purpose of accompanying him to Gagetown on declaration day. When the steamer swung from the wharf over one hundred of Mr. Blair's friends and supporters, including the most prominent representative and business men of the city, were on board, and they formed a merry crowd. On the way to Gagetown the crowd was augmented at the various stopping places along the river until it numbered over two hundred, all anxious to do honor to the gentleman who, at the mandate of the people of the province, stands at the head of the government. The following gentlemen and about one hundred others, for whose names we cannot find space, were on the boat:

Hon F P Thompson	Geo T Whelpley
F I Morrison	D F George
W T Whitehead,	F B Edgecombe
George A Hughes	Patrick Farrell
A S Murray	J A Edwards

David Burpee

At the Gagetown wharf they were met by a large body of the electors of Queens. Three rousing cheers were given for Queens by the people on the boat, and those on the wharf and shore responded with three cheers and a tiger for Mr. Blair.

The court house was filled to overflowing when the sheriff announced the result, 1,562 votes for Blair and 691 for Neales. The announcement was received with loud cheers.

Mr. Blair then addressed the electors. He thanked them heartily for the handsome support they had given him. The contest had been an important one in many ways, but particularly in regard to the issue on which the election was mainly fought. He felt that the false and dangerous cries which his opponents had endeavored to raise against him had been effectually and finally answered, and the authors of such canvasses had received a crushing rebuke. He expressed his regret that Mr. Neales had allowed certain parties in Fredericton to draw him into the fight, and he felt that if Mr. Neales had any sore feeling in the contest it must be against those who, after inducing him to sacrifice himself, had left him to fight the battle alone. "Where," said Mr. Blair, "are the friends and advisors of Mr. Neales who entertained him at Fredericton, and were present here in such large numbers on nomination day? They had deserted him in the hour of his adversity. Perhaps Mr. Neales would now realize who were his true friends and who were using him for selfish purposes." Referring to the statements that he had carried the county by promises and other questionable means, he said that such stories belied the electors of Queens, who were not that class of people. He made no promises except legitimate ones. Whatever influence and legitimate means he could employ he would use to further the interests of his adopted county, and he would use no others. Mr. Blair's speech was received with loud applause.

Mr. Neales followed. He evidently felt that he had been sacrificed but contended that he had been defeated by bribery and other questionable influences.

Speeches were also made by Messrs. Ferris and Hetherington, Hon. Chas. Burpee and Chas. Harrison, M. P. P. The crowd arrived home about half-past five, many of the Gagetown friends came up in the boat which returned to St. John the same evening.

Enthroned.

The enthronement of his Lordship, Bishop Kingdon at the Cathedral on Wednesday was the occasion of a large attendance. The exercises opened with Bishop Kingdon and Bishop Mealey, of Maine, and Chaplain, preceded by one bearing the pastoral staff coming to the west door, where he was met by the clergy, headed by Sub-dean Alexander. Bishop Kingdon delivered to the Subdean the mandate of the acting metropolitan for his inthronization. The clergy then proceeded to the chancel. After prayers, secretary Gregory read the fifteenth section of the act of assembly 48 Vic. Cap. 36 (1885). The declaration was then read by the secretary of synod.

The Bishop then made the promise. Then followed the Te Deum and sermon by Rev. Canon Brigstocke, of St. John.

The "at home" in the afternoon was very largely attended, when the clergy and many citizens were entertained by the Bishop and Mrs. Kingdon.

City Accounts.

The accounts of the city for the past year have been handed to the city council. They are as follows compared with 1891:

	1892	1891
Schools	$14,000 00	$14,203 94
Support of poor	2,813 10	2,950 92
Roads and streets	3,113 88	4,448 73

Ordinary revenue	6,983 56	7,190 50
Board of health	419 95	425 45
Victoria hospital	443 06	600 00

The Eva Johnson.

The owner of the Eva Johnson, R. A. Estey, is much pleased at the summer's work done by the little tug which has now closed her best season. She has been docked for the winter by Chas. McCluskey, who will put some repairs on her during the winter season. Capt. C. W. Shields, and engineer E. W. Berry feel much elated over the fine record they have made and have the thanks of the owner for this record of their skill. The docking was the smartest work of the kind ever seen here. She steamed on to her cradle at two o'clock and at four was sixty feet up the dock clear of the water.

The Railway Curve.

The long talked of curve on the C. P. R., at Gibson, is now being constructed. It leaves the old track at the school house, passes between Robinson's and Barton's, and down through the Gill, Macklin and Miles properties. On Miles' there will be a cutting two hundred feet long, with an average depth of five feet. The C. P. R. trains will, instead of remaining at Gibson, cross the railway bridge and use the round house there. The work will be completed this winter. Engineer Ruel has charge of construction.

His Requiem.

Not a sound was heard save the bleat of a goat,
As they laid poor Herman to rest;
With his "pizen" tied to the tail of his coat,
And the bombs spread on his breast.

They sung his wail in the Otnabog swamps,
Where the ghouls and banshees play,
And ould Nick said, as he gave him the grip,
"I'm happy me b'hoy to-day—
Ta-ra-ra, boom de ay!"

SUFFOCATED.—Capt. Eben. Palmer was found dead in Palmer's creek, Dorchester, on Thursday. It appears that he had gone to the creek for the purpose of finding a good place from which to draw salt mud as a fertilizer. His family becoming alarmed at his absence went in search of him and found that he had fallen down the frozen bank and was suffocated by the mud at the bottom.

THE BATHURST SCHOOLS.

Further Facts for the Electors of York to Ponder Over.

The Miramichi Advance gives considerable space to a fair discussion of the Bathurst school difficulties; all with the exception of letters which THE HERALD contained last issue, we publish for the benefit of the electors of York. A careful perusal will show that there is no trouble in the schools of that town and village, the great cause and trouble being the Rev. A. F. Thompson and his misguided zeal. Being a minister of the gospel he is dealt with more leniently than would be the case otherwise.

[Chatham Advance.]

"It should be remembered that Mr. Thompson has repeatedly referred to the schools taught in the Bathurst convent building as Roman Catholic schools, or catholic schools, and sought to establish a belief in the public mind that there is something taught in those schools in the way of catholic doctrine or on religious subjects. We made it clear last week that this was entirely incorrect and that nothing is taught by the sisters to the school pupils save what is prescribed by the board of education and taught in schools of the same grades all over the province. Mr. Thompson seems to be one of those unfortunates who does not recognize any higher obligation in the direction of truth and honor than that which teaches that "the end justifies the means." In his persecuting zeal, he labors to prevent sisters of charity—however competent or well qualified—from teaching in the public schools. He seems to believe that it is necessary for the accomplishment of his purpose to misrepresent what they do and also what Mr. Blair and other public men have said and done. Being a clergyman he is all the more dangerous to the well-being, not only of the community in which he lives, but also to others, the harmony of which he labors to disturb. There was no necessity for any protestant child to go to the schools taught by the sisters, because a child could enter at the other schools and go up from the lowest to the highest grade. As a matter of fact, however, many protestants sent their children of the lower grades to the schools taught by the sisters of charity, because the sisters are mainly natives of the county of Gloucester, and on friendly terms with the parents of the pupils who are entirely free from any religious bigotry in the matter.

"It may be stated that the secretary of the Bathurst town school board is a protestant, Mr. O'Brien, and that the secretary of the village school board, Dr. Duncan, is also a protestant and a member of Mr. Thompson's congregation. There were other protestants on the board, and there never has been any dispute or difficulty among them in regard to the management of the schools either in Bathurst town or village.

"One of the serious results of Mr. Thompson's misstatements of fact in connection with these schools is that he has induced the presbytery of which he is a member to take the matter up, and that influential body has thus been induced to take such action as must give color, strength and respectability to the prejudice which Mr. Thompson has created in the public mind.

"We give up a good deal of space to the discussion of this question, because it has been so misrepresented by more than one designing mischief-maker from whom a more Christian-like course might reasonably be expected, that well-meaning protestant laymen have had their prejudices stirred up against their Roman Catholic neighbors, under the belief that the latter have not, in good faith, accepted the concessions granted to them by the King-Fraser government nearly seventeen years ago and observed the conditions of compromise then made, in both their letter and spirit. It may not be known to either Mr. Thompson's fellow-clergymen of his own or other churches, or to the lay members and adherents thereof who have had their minds poisoned on this theme, that Mr. Thompson made a threat, several years ago, to work Mr. Blair's political ruin. He did this in Bathurst on the occasion of the visit of Mr. Blair and other members of the board of education, who went there to investigate complaints he had formulated and induced others to assist him in making. It was when he found that his case had broken down on that occasion, that he seems to have determined to devote his life to the purpose of having what he considered to be a justifiable revenge upon Mr. Blair who, as the spokesman of the committee of the board of education, pointed out to him the untenable character of his position. He has since, prostituted his office as a Christian minister to the work of deceiving everybody for the purpose of making good his malicious threat, and it is to be regretted that there are a few other clergymen who, being too willingly, perhaps, deceived by him, have aided in poisoning members of their flocks in connection with this much-discussed matter. We have no hope that such clergymen will be sufficiently candid to honestly admit that they were deceived as to the facts. It is not to be expected of them, because they are of the class whose strongest hold upon the confidence of their people is in their ability to cater to their sectarian prejudices. It is in order that the people interested may read, and judge of the facts for themselves, in the light of what they know—not what they are told—of their Roman Catholic neighbors, that we endeavor to lay the whole matter before them.

"If the great church organizations of the country intend that their ministers shall retain the respect of the people and continue to possess the influence over them that seems to be necessary to a proper discharge of their functions, they cannot afford to keep such men as this malicious agitator, Thompson, in good standing. His conduct in connection with the Bathurst school question proves him to be unworthy and neglectful as a pastor, dangerous to the peace and good-neighborhood of the community in which he lives, as well as the province at large, and capable of distorting, misrepresenting and exaggerating facts in the church courts, the public press and in his personal intercourse. Society cannot afford to tolerate such dangerous men and give them the respect due to Christian clergymen.

"If Mr. Thompson wishes to continue as a religious leader, his mission should be somewhere outside of this country and of the pale of Christianity, for his intolerance, fanaticism and mendacity fit him best for the region of the Nile, where men of his stamp succeeded much better than in New Brunswick, where public imposters, false teachers, mischief-makers and hypocrites find their level sooner or later."

Pitts and his gang were the only ones, with the exception of weak-minded Neales, who could be prevailed on to help Mr. Thompson boom the business. N. W. Brown, who has more friends in the county of York than any young man in it, a consistent temperance man and orator, has shown Pitts in his true light in connection with his temperance nomination. The Advance shows him as the tool of Mr. Thompson. No member has ever before taken a seat in the house on the deception of the temperance people and also the deception of the great body of Protestant electors, and Pitts must bear the odium. The Bathurst people, Protestant and Catholic, have said that there is no trouble in their schools, Pitts and Thompson say they are. Whom must we believe?

The Market.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:

Sir,—I wish to call the attention of the city council and authorities to the condition of that portion of the city streets known as the market yard. It would not cost a great deal to keep it clean and the matter should be dealt with at once. Perhaps the work is waiting the return of the roadmaster.

Yours, TAXPAYER.
