CEREMONY.—Several of the celestial curators attended at the Maryville rink on Monday night. A very enjoyable game was played, Alex. STRICTLY RELIABLE.—The Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, a full statement of whose affairs appeared in last week's issue, is deserving of the patronage of the public. They have provided themselves real, their assets at present being $159,507, 138.08. Those wishing insurance should deal with this company.

CLANFIELD VS HENDERSON.—The application for a new trial in the Clanfield vs Henderson suit was disposed of at the county court on Wednesday. Application was made by Wm. Wilson, M. P. Mitchell. James Mitchell, his grandson, gets a lot of land on Oromocto island; Dufferin Mitchell, also a grandson, a lot of land on the same island.

CHERRY WALL PAPERS.—McMurray & Co. advertise in this issue a cheap sale of wall papers, commencing on Monday. Next to the papers offered is Mr. Nixon's emerald stock—some very handsome designs in gills, bronzes and plain. Bargains may be expected as the whole stock must be cleared out to make room for new goods to arrive in a few days.

GRIBBINGLY ILL.—Mrs. Moses White, of Gibson, although for a time apparently recovering from her affliction is again, her many friends will be sorry to hear, seriously ill. The cancer which had been removed is again developing and Mrs. White suffers a great deal of pain. It is a sad case. Every thing that can be done for her is being done but little relief is afforded.

ON A TIME.—There was a little stir on Monday in police court circles, occasioned by two non-commissioned officers of the I. S. C. They hired a horse from G. I. Gunter, and it is said, used it pretty badly. The horse in return upon the sleigh and in running again upon the sleigh and in running contact with a loaded team at St. Mary's horse was badly injured. The soldiers paid for the damages after prosecution was threatened.

AT THE HOUSE.

Of course, the all absorbing topic of interest to the legislature. Those who do not and equally eager to hear what has transpired and this session, like all under the present administration, is marked by the rapid despatch of business consistent with the careful study of the people's interests. Members are in their places on time during all sessions. It is plain to all that each member of the government is a worker. There is not a man in this legislature who does not have a character of most assemblies, each member has a duty to perform and he does it. Several very important measures have been passed, new laws have been enacted and changes made in old ones, all of which will be for the benefit of the province.

The opposition have shown that while ready to take advantage of any mistake that may have been made by the government, they are totally without a platform; their schemes are only for the sake of gaining power with nothing in them to commend themselves to the people. Having no leader, they are directed or misdirected by Messrs. Hanington, Stockton, Atkinson, Alward and Phinney, their efforts are unavailing, no two points in any one direction. Until they choose a leader whom they respect and on whom they can depend their position instead of improving must have a retrograde tendency.

The galleries are crowded at all sessions when anything especially important is up for debate, the ladies particularly attending in force. No doubt the many good looking members on both sides of the house has something to do with this as well as a consideration of the country's prospects.

By the number of farmers present the session is one in which they are much interested. They here get a better understanding of how the country's interests are dealt with and go home with the feeling that it will be a bad day for the province when the present opposition hold the reins of office. Some of the old farmers when coming out after hearing Hon. Mr. Ryan's address said that the "almshouse had not been built yet that shows the day on which this opposition will come into power."

They feel especially proud of their representatives, having in the leader of the government a man, acknowledged even by his adversaries, as the most capable New Brunswick affords for the position, one who is able to command the respect of an audience at home or abroad and one honored not only here but throughout the dominion. In William Wilson, T. H. Colter and John Anderson, the people feel that the interests of York are safe and this feeling they will be prompt to show whenever the occasion offers.

Principal Topics.
The vacant judgeship is the principal topic of discussion at present, especially among Conservatives. The candidates mentioned are Dr. Barker, Mr. Hanington, Mr. Skinner and R. A. Lawlor. Some suggest L. A. Curry and back up his appointment by saying that he has worked very hard for the party. Judge Landry is spoken of in connection with the vacant judgeship as a strong opponent in Mr. Burns. Another arrangement is that the Chief Justice shall assume the government, Dr. Barker and Judge Landry be appointed the new judges, and Mr. Hanington be Chief Justice.

Another topic that is exciting considerable talk, is as to the outcome of the resolution made at the City Council's last session respecting Scott Act. All think that the act should be either enforced or repealed. There will probably be a heated discussion of the matter at next session and several new points will be introduced respecting the collection of fines. In connection with it may be mentioned that during the week the sergeant of police prosecuted a Scott Act case which was acknowledged. A peculiar feature of the affair is that a bill has been introduced for a local "blimp" asking a fee of one pound for each offence. The Council will deal with the matter. They believe that if this law is paid, another has the same right and that in a short time the police court will have to be enlarged to afford accommodations for the lawyers when a case is up for trial.

All Souls.
The Episcopal church to be built at Marysville will be a very handsome one. The building plot has been donated by Mr. Gibson at right, at the entrance of the village, near the residence of Ernest Taylor. It has not as yet been decided whether to build of wood or brick. Rev. Mr. Parkinson has had the matter in hand and under his direction Dunn and McKean architects, St. John, have drawn the plans. It is modeled after the parish church of St. Helens, Little Cawthorpe, Lincolnshire, England, designed by the celebrated architect, R. L. Withers, and built by the Rev. Edward Hunt. The reverend gentleman who died some months ago, was an esteemed friend of the Rev. Mr. Parkinson, and the Maryville church is intended to commemorate in some measure that esteem. It will contain a chancel 20 ft. 6 inches by 15 ft. 3 inches, nave 29 ft. 3 inches by 17 ft. 6 inches and a southwest porch and vestry extending like an aisle on the north side of the church. The design is very pleasing and the church will be commodious and beautiful. It will be known as All Souls.

Bathurst Schools.
To THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:
Dear Sir,—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your issue of Monday, March 23rd, under the distinguished patronage of Sir Leonard and Lady Tilley. Besides a choice programme by local talent, they have secured the services of Mrs. C. W. Harrison, of Blackville. The following speaks for itself:
(Amherst Record, Dec. 1890.)
"But the event of the evening was the appearance here of Mrs. Harrison, a soprano enjoying a high reputation in the Upper Province. Prof. Sterne in his neat and simple speech had previously attracted the audience that they would be delighted, she being one of the finest singers in Canada, and the result truly warranted the anticipation. Her song was 'The meeting' by Ardit. After gliding through the trying intricacies of the composition with perfect ease and soaring up to the final 'E', which was given with the earnestness of a bell, the pent up admiration of the audience burst forth in a grand tumult of applause. She possesses a voice of unusual sweetness and purity of tone which has been cultivated to a high degree. In articulation and expression, she leaves little to be desired. Added to all this Mrs. Harrison's appearance and manner are very taking."
Plan of hall at McMurray's book store. Popular prices—tickets 25 and 35 cents.

Gibson and St. Mary's.
Rev. Mr. Parsons has held revival services at the F. C. Baptist hall on each evening of the week. On Tuesday evening the Rev. Mr. Carpenter of Stanley conducted the services. Much interest is being taken. Mr. Wilson has opened a meat shop at St. Mary's and asks for a share of public patronage which he will try to deserve.

A daughter of Robert Johnson is under the doctor's hands. One knee is affected and the physician does not state just what the trouble is. It is apparently serious. The Gibson Auxiliary of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church held a bread and butter social, Tuesday evening, at the residence of Mrs. Jean Davidson. After a lengthy and interesting program was rendered, bread and butter, tea and coffee were served, when the party broke up. A collection of $5.75 was taken for the benefit of the society.

ST. PATRICK'S.

Dr. Moore's Very Interesting Lecture—The Program.

St. Dunstan's hall was packed on the eve of St. Patrick's day, Thursday, and the entertainment provided was fully all that could be desired. The music was furnished by Hanlon's orchestra, the program included: A solo, Shamrock and Rose, by Miss Mary McGarrigle; a guitar solo by Miss Mary Purdie; an Irish jig by Alfred Cooney and Mat Humphrey; a quartette by Jas. McGrath, Albert Masie, Wm. Walker and G. P. McGrath; violin solo by Miss McManus of the normal school; solo, Exile's Lament, by Miss Jennie Donahoe; club swinging by Thomas C. Doherty; and reading, A Lament for Erin, by May Dolan and a Lamont solo by E. A. O'Brien.

The principal event of the evening was the address by Dr. Moore, of Stanley, on the Life and Times of St. Patrick. He dealt with monastic institutions, under the primitive christian church and of the influence of these institutions on the education of the middle ages. He said the birth place of St. Patrick was either Scotland or the north of France, the date A. D. 373. His early life was obscure. At the age of sixteen he was carried by pirates from Scotland to Ireland, where being set at liberty he devoted his time and talents to the study of the Latin language. He regarded the records of St. Patrick to Rome to be made a bishop as confounded with Palladius, known as Patrick, who had gone on a mission that nature. The lecture dealt with the life of the saint that time existent in Ireland and of the labors of the saint to introduce christianity. The history of Ireland from that time to the present was detailed, and the lecturer said in conclusion that Ireland though borne down by oppression, to a state of abject servitude, exhausted and decimated by repeated wars and famines, and reduced to a pitiable degree of ignorance, the memory of Irish virtues, religion and honor had never forsaken them, but ever burned brightly as a beacon light, encouraging and keeping alive the flickering gleam of hope that in coming times from high civilization, they may receive that dower of self rule that all intellectual nations enjoy. Down the dim vistas of the mournful past yet faintly gleam the eloquent appeals of Curran, Gavan, O'Connell and Parnell whose immortal fire, like the words of the holy man perished not with the prophet but survive them. From the tribulation of the enlightened present shall go forth the decree that although confirmed she shall be consecrated with freedom, that though galled with oppression she shall yet enjoy the inspiration of liberty, and in the horizon of the future we already behold the return of Erin's time honored rights and affections, when he who sows shall reap and the sting of hunger and want shall be unknown, and when history shall record in her shrine that even the sternest of her foes shall be forever reit the scornful reproach of infidelity.

It was allowed to have been the best platform effort made here for many years and the Doctor has made many friends in consequence.

HORSE SHOES FLYING.
Records Smashed All To Pieces—Lots of Fun.
A prominent local horseman happened to stray down to the river on Wednesday afternoon and finding the ice in an area a perfect state for speed he took several turns between the bridges before he came up to town and spread the glad tidings. When Thursday bloomed out into a glorious afternoon, the feet of footed steeds that blankets pulled off, an extra amount of alcohol and other stimulants rubbed on to limber up the joints and then away to the river.

D. McEachern threw away the bobbin and shuttle and behind Permissive Bill he ran the van. Geo. I. Gunter lengthened out the traces of Whistler, his new acquisition, and set out for Langenburg, Eng., tired of records of the city council, found a more pleasing seat behind Sporter. W. P. Flewelling with Dred was out after tendered.

D. F. George, with the horse that all swear by, joined in the picnic. Geo. Cooper, thought his horse as good as the best and concluded to show some good. Geo. Gayley, of Maryville with Chas. Hat's chestnut out Island Chief and several other horsemen had their speedy youngsters.

It would not be fair to say which horse won the best, but Galey dived into the water and swam, and the others had high links for a time, till both concluded to go bare footed, when their drivers decided to haul them up. Sporter is able for the best of them, yet though George says that Whistler did not get properly levelled away.

Of course Dred was only spurred occasionally, but these spurs showed that the best of them would have to shed their coats to pass him.

Permissive Bill wanted to go, but his feet appeared to be too heavy to keep him up with the gang. Tommy Wheeler is going to down him with Pedler the first good opportunity.

One thing is pretty plain, however, and that is that Frederick has some pretty fast horses and those who have brought in dark ones to down them, have had their labor for their pains.

Many wanted to see the Keswick Flyer on the ice, but her shoes were not in shape or they would have been frozen out.

SECURE A FREE HOMESTEAD OF 160 ACRES;

And give you facts regarding successful Farmers that will surprise you.

The Canadian Northwest has the most productive soil in the world. Its wheat fetches the highest price; its live cattle are admitted to the English markets, while United States cattle are not. There is a market for the farmer at every station; and there are schools and churches wherever there are settlers. It is not subject to drought nor floods, to grasshoppers or to cyclones or locusts. Ask any Canadian Pacific Railway agent for books and maps concerning it, and the "Free Farms" map, or "Actual Experience," and read the testimony of men who have gone there from Eastern Canada. Young women are in great demand; they find occupation as domestics directly they arrive, and readily get married to prosperous young farmers. Young men or young women can start life there almost without money. They make the money there; an independence is gained in a very few years by the thrifty.

The old settlers of New Brunswick should see their influence with the young men who intend emigrating to keep their name in the Dominion, where there are offered better advantages than in the United States and they do not lose their nationality.

Loss no time in getting to the West and choosing your location. First come, first served.

What is this "Melissa" we hear so much about?

Will it do what is claimed for it?
MELISSA proofed coats of other garments are just what the Inventor and Manufacturers claim them to be, no better nor less. They are both rain-proof, porous and colorless, therefore perfectly healthful and comfortable. They are common sense garments and should be treated in a common sense manner. Although rain-proof they are not waterproof in the sense that a water cushion or bottle made of rubber is waterproof. Being porous, water can be forced through them, either by heavy pressure or by squeezing with the fingers. If they were absolutely waterproof they would be absolutely air-tight and therefore no better than rubber. Hence the peculiar value of the invention. Sensible people do not buy rainproof garments for the purpose of forcing water through them or for carrying water in them, neither do they take shelter under a water spout, nor sit in a chair for pleasure. They buy rainproof garments to wear for the purpose of protecting themselves from the weather, and a Melissa coat or man's suit is a common sense garment. Continued exposure to the weather will not impair in the slightest degree the rain-proof quality of Melissa. It is fixed and permanent. These garments are well made from fine materials, are now on the counters of the first-class dealers throughout the whole country.
