CORNHILL CONFERENCE.

Officers of the Elders' Conference, Open Communion.

The 16th annual conference of the Free Christian Baptist denomination formally opened at Cornhill, Kings Co., on the 30th Sept. The church at Cornhill is the property of the F. C. Baptists but the Methodists are allowed also to worship in it. Their minister is the Rev. Mr. Thompson, of Petticodiac. Rev. A. H. McNinch of Sussex has accepted a call to this pastorate. The elders' conference convened at 10 a. m. This is composed of ministers and licentiates who meet for a general talk. The business is of a private nature. At it, however, they elect the officers for the ensuing year. For this year they elected Rev. T. O. DeWitt, moderator; J. T. Parsons, corresponding secretary; E. B. Gray, J. Noble and John Parry, assisted by moderator and secretary, executive committee. The meeting was a very harmonious one, and was continued that afternoon. In the elders' conference, Friday, the Rev. G. W. Foster read an able paper, subject: Why Free Baptists are Open Communionists, or Why They Commune with All Saints. Following is a synopsis:—

Communion with All Saints tended to union—the strength and beauty of the church, "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." Close communion was a wall not erected by Divine authority, and separating the people of God. Communion, significant of atonement, and designed for Christians, was to be in remembrance of Christ, in whom all had a personal interest. The assumption that baptism was an indispensable prerequisite for admission to communion, and the practice of refusing it to all whom they regarded as unbaptized, was unauthorized by scripture. Close communion could not be sustained, by circumstantial evidence, nor could proof be adduced to show that all the disciples had been baptized previous to the night the Saviour administered to them the emblem of his body and blood. Admitting, as was done, that it was the practice in the early church to baptize persons before allowing them to commune, it (baptism) being a visible profession of faith, it could be shown that people unbaptized, yet sincere, were denied the privilege. If one wilfully refused baptism one was refused communion. The apostolic precedent did not authorize close communion, but the contrary, and may be said to admit all who exhibited true, Christian piety. Free Baptists were open communionists because the table was the Lord's, and around it were to gather His people. The ordinance was designed for all; not one to exclude the others. Fordifferent denominations there was but one of the following courses:

To commune with each other's members; to deny that the communion was designed for all evangelical Christians; to deny that any with whom they would not commune were evangelical Christians. The apostles' doctrine authorized free communion. Peter once thought the gospel was for one people, but he afterwards boldly proclaimed, "Of a truth I perceive God is no respector of persons; but in every nation he that feareth Him and worketh righteousness is accepted by Him." The scripture required forbearance which was favorable to free communion—Romans xiv, 15. Another thing consistent with it was the practice of the church in the ages succeeding the apostles. The essayist cited numerous instances of prominent Baptist writers in support of this view He pointed out that missionaries after a close communion in heathen countries had renounced it. In closing he said that in free communion was recognized but two characters in mankind; the righteous and the wicked. It placed all Christians on the same road, elevated platform, and destroyed detention, detraction and proselytism. "There will be free communion in heaven; may God hasten the day when it shall exist on earth in the household of faith."

The corresponding secretary's report for third and fourth districts was as follows:

Third district—The churches at Eel river, Millville, Campbell Settlement, Upper Hainesville and Southampton have had the pastoral care of Rev. A. H. Bonnell. Four were added to the church at Upper Hainesville. Rev. A. G. Downey has had charge of the Douglas, Prince William, Bear Island and Lower Queensbury churches. One was added by baptism to the church at Douglas. F. C. Hartley acted as pastor of the Fredericton churches. Eleven have been added by baptism to this church and three by letter. The liquidation of the debt on this church is spoken of as the most pleasing feature in the report. Rev. J. T. Parsons has had charge of the Nashwaak and Penniac churches. He has also organized a church at Gibson with a membership of forty-seven. This circuit has finished a fine parsonage at Marysville. Five were added by baptism to Kingsley church. 34 have been added by baptism and 44 by letter to the churches in this district. Money raised for support of ministry, $2,254.78; current church expenses, $704.47; buildings and improvements, $7,906. Total, $10,955.25. Sixty-six votes were cast in favor of union and 177 against it.

Fourth district—Rev. W. H. Perry has charge of the churches at Mill Settlement, Patterson Settlement and Blissville. The Fredericton Junction, Tracey Station and Little Lake churches have been under the pastoral care of Rev. G. W. Foster. Two were added by baptism and one by letter to the church at Fredericton Junction, and two by baptism to the Tracey Station church. Licent. A. W. Currie has cared for the churches at Oromocto, Lincoln and Rusagornish. He has been assisted by Rev. Dr. McLeod. One was added to the church at Lincoln, and three to the church at Oromocto. Money raised for support of ministry, $989.22; for current church expenses, $126.50; for buildings and improvements, $217.95—total, $1,333.67. Seventy-three votes were cast on the basis of union; 35 in favor and 58 against it.

THE B. N. A. ACT.

The great British North America act nowadays is to buy a bottle of B. B. B., and cure yourself of dyspepsia, constipation, headache, liver complaint or bad blood, and it is an act that always attains the desired result.

The woman who marries a man to reform him undertakes a job that will ruin her complexion.

A FAMILY FRIEND.

SIRS,—I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in my family for years and can highly recommend it for summer complaint, diarrhœa, cramps etc.

MRS. GEO. WEST, Huntsville, Ont.

BOIESTOWN.

SEPT. 30.—The new store of Messrs. Richards and Gunter is being rapidly completed. Mr. Winters of Gibson is now engaged painting the outside.

Four candidates for councillors have been nominated in the Parish of Ludlow. John Pond, Hurbert Gunter, Maurice O'Donnel and John McLeer.

Lumber supplies, are now beginning to come to this station in large quantities to be distributed amongst the various and many parties who engage in the lumber business. Men for the woods are seemingly scarce just now and pretty fair wages are being offered. Fairley, Lynch and Richards who all do an extensive business in that line are engaging every available man and boy to fill up their crews on the different streams.

Mr. VanBuskirk, of Fredericton is around this way soliciting orders for plows.

W. R. Robinson, of Newcastle, addressed the people here on the temperance question one evening last week.

A missionary meeting was held in the Methodist church here on Tuesday evening, Rev. Mr. Howie, of Gibson, describing the advancement of the work on home and foreign missions under control of that church.

W. Sharpe, station agent, who has been to his home in Benton, on a vacation, has again returned to his duties, Mr. Powers, of Barnaby River, having charge in his absence.

Miss B. Lugrin left here for her home in Boston yesterday morning.

The scott Act election which was held to-day has resulted so far as learned yet, favourably for the act, throughout the whole country. The parish of Ludlow we are glad to see went strong for the act, sustaining it by a large majority. Only thirty votes against it, and this is comparitively few considering. This goes to show plainly that the well thinking men of Ludlow voted as their conscience led them today, also that this parish is not so easily bought as imagined, especially when so great a matter of importance as repealing the Scott Act is concerned.

HARVEY STATION.

SEPT. 29.—One of the heaviest thunderstorms of the season passed over this place on Saturday afternoon. A cow belonging to Wm. Patterson was killed by the lightning while in the pasture with other cattle. Mr. Patterson found the cow lying dead shortly after the storm had passed. He says that there was no wound or visible marks upon the outside of the animal but after the hide was taken off the flesh in places looked as if it had been riddled with shot. The cow was a valuable one.

At Tweedside on Monday night burglars made an attempt to enter the house of Peter Wood but were scared off by Mr. Wood who was aroused by the noise they made. Some Arabs who were seen lurking in the neighbourhood the day before are suspected.

The crops are about all gathered in and threshing is now the order of the day. Messrs. McCulloch and Coburn are going round with a new machine and are giving satisfaction. James Lyons is also doing good work in Acton with a little giant machine.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed in the church last Sabbath. Rev. Mr. Ross, of Prince William assisted Mr. McLean in the ceremony. Mr. McLean has obtained three weeks leave of absence from the congregation and has taken a trip to Boston. Mrs. McLean accompanied him.

Rev. Robt. Laing principal of the Halifax Ladies College will preach here next Sabbath.

FREDERICTON JUNCTION.

SEPT. 30.—A very pleasing event took place, here recently, when Shadric Moore led to the matrimonial altar Miss Jennie Murray. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have the best wishes of their many friends.

We are pleased to state, that Rev. G. W. Foster has concluded to remain with the people of this place another year. Brother Foster has been with us for some time, and has accomplished much good, and it is to be hoped that still more good may be done in the ensuing year.

James Paterson is building a well under his house which will add greatly to its appearance. Mr. Patterson has lately refurnished his hotel and can now accommodate anybody.

The C. P. R. Company is building a new tank at this place. Its situation is near the depot.

Miss Hannah De Witt, who has been spending her vacation with her parents, has returned to the city.

We are very happy to congratulate Conductor Hagerman upon his recovery. We missed him very much during his illness.

The Loyal Legion of this place, held their annual picnic on Mr. Miller's grounds last Saturday week. A very pleasant time was spent by all.

BROCKWAY.

SEPT. 29.—The shooting season has commenced and guns are heard in every direction.

Two gentlemen, from Boston, are spending a few days among the deer and partridge here with W. Davis as their guide.

Misses Mary Brockway and Phœbie Sinclair started for Boston to-day, also Miss Ida Campbell, of Flume Ridge.

Chas. Brockway, Jas. Vail and F. Sinclair left this morning for New Hampshire where they intend spending the winter.

Earnest Smith had a bush-cutting yesterday and in the evening the young folks had a party. All seemed to enjoy themselves.

Deer seem to be plentiful in the vicinity, but none as yet have been shot.

Jack Frost was round in all his power last night.

Wm. Bennet preached a sermon on dancing last Sunday evening in the church here.

BENTON.

SEPT. 28.—The new tannery is nearly completed. Part of it is in running order now. When finished, it will cost about $50,000.

The two Misses Cains, of Marysville, formerly of this place, paid us a flying visit one day last week as the guests of Mrs. Dow.

Robert Blackie, our popular tonsorial artist, is erecting a new barber shop where customers will be waited upon with the dexterity and ability of a professional. Call and see him.

Henry Merrithew, of Canterbury, and Miss Emma Miles, of this place, were married at Canterbury on the 28th. Your correspondent wishes them all happiness.

Miss Annie Murchland, of Murchie's Mills, is recovering from a severe illness.

Miss Cassie Bolger, one of our high school graduates, has accepted a situation as school teacher at Springfield.

One side of Sawyer's mill is shut down owing to the scarcity of spruce logs.

A GREWSOME ART.

The Strange Revelation Made by a Floating Corpse.

The finding of an unknown man floating in the Delaware river at Philadelphia finally led to the discovery of a most grewsome trade practiced by one of the discoverers of the body. The dead man, says an exchange of that city, bore upon his arm some perfect specimens of the tattooer's art, and Jacob Zizrachi, a Syrian, who assisted in the recovery of the body, applied for that portion of the cuticle of the left arm which bore an admirable representation of the crucifixion. In the representation of this piece of work the artist showed a master hand. Every detail was perfect.

This was what most attracted the attention of Zizrachi, and he begged and pleaded with the keeper of the morgue to give him the strip of cuticle covered by the picture. He even offered ten dollars for it, and when told that he could not have it without an order from the coroner he stormed and raved, declaring it to be rightfully his, anyway, because he had assisted in the recovery of the body. The keeper finally told him to call at the morgue again, and that he would in the meantime speak to the coroner in regard to the matter.

He being plied with questions as to what he intended to do with the strip of tattooed cuticle after he got it, Zizrachi said that in Morocco, where he had passed the greater part of his life, there were many dealers in curios who would give him from ten to one hundred dollars for such things, according to the artistic finish of the picture. He had made hundreds of dollars by trading with the merchants, and had learned the secret of properly preparing the skin for framing.

The cuticle is first carefully dried and tanned and is then treated with a peculiar solution of poisonous drugs, which has the effect of bringing into bold relief the pigment used in the tattooing. It is afterward pressed between two plates of glass and is allowed to stand for a month or so, after which it is framed and placed on sale. Many prominent citizens of the larger cities of the orient, the Syrian stated, had the walls of their houses decorated with these objects.

In same parts of Arabia, according to his statement, the sheiks of certain tribes always had their own portraits tattooed upon their backs. After the death of one of them the cuticle bearing the portrait was carefully cut away and prepared according to the usual process and reverently carried from place to place by the bereaved tribe. Zizrachi said that the picture on the arm of the drowned man at the morgue would be worth fifty to sixty dollars to him.

SHE HAD FORGOTTEN.

After she had made her purchases and had informed the clerk as to the address to which they should be sent, she picked up her purse with her left hand and placed her parasol across her left arm, gazing the while over the counter and floor as if in search of something else.

"Excuse me miss," ventured the clerk; "but have you mislaid anything?"

"I am sure I don't know" she replied; "but when I entered the store I am positive that I carried something in my right hand."

"Did you not have your parasol or purse in your right hand?"

"No, for I recollect very distinctly that I carried my purse in my left hand and the parasol on my left arm, as you see them now."

"It is very strange," remarked the clerk, with a troubled expression on his face, as he searched under the different pieces of fabric strewn over the counter.

"I cannot imagine what it was," she remarked, musingly, as she placed a small gloved hand to her chin and gazed into space. "I am positive it was something, and I feel lost without it."

"I am unable to find anything here," came the muffled voice of the clerk from under the counter, whither he had dropped a few seconds before with the faint hope of being able to find the missing he knew not what.

"Oh, I know now what it was," she gleefully exclaimed, as a pretty flush overspread her face, "It was this."

As the clerk's head bobed up from behind the counter, like a jack-in-the-box, she, with a graceful sweep of her shapely right arm, clutched a handful of her skirt in the back, and smilingly took her departure.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence, born of success—another has only "hopes."

Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not. Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison to which they belong. And there isn't a state or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that are happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to take the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back, as they do, if they do not benefit or cure you.

Pleasant Time.

A very pleasant social was tendered the Normal School students at temperance hall on Monday evening. The F. O. M. W. furnished some of their very much appreciated music. The students were welcomed by H. McLeod in a pleasant address. Members of the R. T. of T. council sang a chorus. Miss Yerxa's banjo solo was received with applause. There were duetts by the Miss Lottimer and Simmons, and Messrs. Haviland and Lemont. H. C. Creed read a very interesting selection. Grand sec. McFarlane addressed the students and closed a very enjoyable gathering. Refreshments were served. These socials are very much appreciated by the students and are a means of much good.

BETTER THAN GOLD.

GENTLEMEN,—I have used Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for bowel complaint and can say there is no other remedy as good. MRS. JAMES DENNISON, Lake Dora, Ont.

He—Show Shame her own image. Why does he make Shame feminine? She—Because men haven't any.

Itch, mange and scratches of every kind, on human or animals, cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Warranted by Davies, Staples & Co.

LOWER PRINCE WILLIAM.

SEPT. 28.—The people of this locality are done harvesting and are now busily engaged digging potatoes. Reports show that rose and hebron are rotting badly. The tubers will not be an average crop.

On the evening of the 11th inst. a floral concert was held in the F. C. Baptist church which proved a grand success. A large and appreciative audience gave good attention throughout. The program consisted of singing, recitations and other exercises. The church was decorated with evergreens and flowers. On either side of the stand was an arch trimmed with green and between these in large letters the word "welcome." Miss Sykes, through whose efforts the concert proved a success, was at the close presented with a dressing case from her friends in this place. J. W. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday school, was also presented with a teacher's bible by the scholars. Two clergymen were present, Revs. A. G. and William Downey, who each gave a short address. The collection which amounted to upwards of seven dollars, goes to the Sunday school fund.

Charles Ebbett and wife, of Hampstead, Queens county, paid their friends here a short visit.

W. E. Vickery passed through here a few days ago with his span of Shetland ponies.

R. Wilson, from Maine, paid his friends in this part a flying visit last week.

William Vanwart and Harry Cliff returned home last week from a trip to Cross Creek where they attended the F. C. Baptist district meeting.

SPRINGFIELD.

SEPT 26.—D. Estabrooks, of Fredericton, and W. Hawkins, of Keswick, spent Sabbath, the 18th inst., with us, holding meetings in afternoon and evening.

The pulpit was occupied yesterday afternoon by Rev. Mr. Sykes and Rev. Mr. Maine. Mr. Maine preached a powerful sermon, his subject being "Our Saviour's self-sacrificing Love." The congregation was unusually large.

Alex. Howland, of Howland Ridge, is busily running his thrashing-machine in this vicinity.

A feat was performed by one of our young men last week which shows the strength of our ancestors is not extinct. A companion wagered that he could not haul an express wagon, weighing some eleven hundred pounds, for two miles in two hours. Thereupon he started out and, notwithstanding heavy roads, heavy uphill grade and downpour of rain, succeeded in accomplishing the task in little over half the time. It won't do to stump Elijah.

Alfred H. Prescott, son of Thos. Prescott, of this settlement, has successfully passed the preliminary examination for McGill, and leaves home to begin his studies on the 28th inst. He is only seventeen years of age and has been but one year out of our own country school. This certainly reflects credit on our school.

MCADAM.

SEPT. 29.—G. A. Haggerty, Mechanical Superintendent, returned from Massachusets on Saturday.

Our school is in charge of F. G. Calder of Deer Island, and owing to increased attendance it has been decided to enlarge the building.

The Misses Burbee returned on Monday from a lengthened visit to Gibson and Hampton.

Work on the R. C. chapel is being proceeded with rapidly and the edifice is rapidly approaching completion.

Mrs Geo. Wise and daughter returned on Tuesday from Nashwaak, where they had been visiting for the last month.

Miss Ida Nason is once more amongst us after having enjoyed her native air for the last three weeks.

Mrs. Hiram Thompson left here last week on a visit to Boston.

TEMPERANCE VALE.

SEPT. 29.—A grand good picnic took place here on Saturday last. The airolite swing was on the grounds and was kept quite busy throughout the day, refreshments were served by George Pinder, and we sincerely hope that the friends in attendance will think it not any reproach to the place on account of rum being there. It was brought in from the surrounding region and drank by outsiders.

Geo. McDonald of this place has gone to the states for a few weeks to learn how to talk yankee.

Solomon Paint preached two very eloquent sermons here on Sunday last, and it is hoped he will soon come again.

Mrs. Fanny Parent has gone to Woodstock for a few week's visit.

Potatoes in this section are proving a fair crop, the rot being prevalent in low lands.

KINGARTH.

STRONG TESTIMONY.

Respecting the Work of the Local Legislature.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley has resigned the solicitor-generalship of the province and has issued a card to the electors of Kings, thanking them for their support while he represented them. One paragraph is as follows, most of which will apply to other counties as well, especially with respect to public works: "I leave your roads and bridges in better condition than I found them. The colleagues whom you sent with me to the legislature have with myself been enabled to secure for you a considerable number of permanent bridges of iron and stone, which are of great utility, and will endure for generations. You are justly proud of them. When I was first elected there was not a wharf on the whole Bellisle bay, while now the people dwelling on the fertile farms along that beautiful sheet of navigable water are well accommodated in this particular, and the wharves which we have had constructed along the St. John river and Kennebecasis afford some evidence, at least, of the attention which we have given to your interests."

In respect to the interest displayed by the government towards agriculture, he says: "Our efforts in encouraging the establishment of creameries and cheese factories, and the general advancement of the dairying interests, as well as for the improvement of the horses, horned cattle and sheep of the province have, I am assured, met with your hearty approval."

He speaks also of what has been done for St. John directly and indirectly for the whole province: "It afforded me the greatest possible pleasure, as I knew it would be a matter of satisfaction to you, that the government of which I have been a member lately agreed to give liberal assistance toward the construction of deep water wharves and a grain elevator at the port of St. John.

The contract for the wharves has been let, and the work of construction has been commenced. The plans for a grain elevator are now being prepared under the direction of the civic authorities, and I trust that before very long many hundreds of thousands of bushels of wheat from the rich prairies of the Northwest will each year, and in ever increasing quantities, find their way to the port of St. John for shipment to the mother country. With this will surely come the establishment of a regular line of freight steamers from St. John to Liverpool. This result must tend ere long to greatly increase the wealth, commercial importance and population of the city, which must necessarily be of great advantage to your county as well as to other sections of the province."

NO STREETS IN MADAGASCAR.

On the island of Madagascar there are many brick and stone houses, but the streets are rocky and rough and narrow, the ground being in the same condition as nature made it. You see no roads are allowed to be built in that country and the towns have narrow footpaths for streets. Otherwise the natives believe that
