

The statement of the dominion finances for the past fiscal year is at hand. It does not on the face of it show the surplus which was promised by Mr. Foster during the year. On the contrary, the public debt has increased over three million dollars, and that too, largely in items which should be controllable. The protection of taxation realized about twenty and a half millions of dollars. Over half of this went to pay the interest on the debt, and the balance was about all consumed in collecting the tax. The gross debt is now $205,333,000, and it requires about $12,000,000 a year to keep this debt in hand. Our total revenue is something under $37,000,000, which is less than last year. It will be easily seen that if the revenue decreases while the debt increases, it will soon require all the revenue to pay the interest on the debt. The worst feature of the business is that while the burdens are rapidly increasing, the ability of the Dominion to carry them is yearly growing less. There is rather a falling off than an increase in business, and the people are leaving the country in carloads. It certainly does look as if there will have to be a change in the fiscal policy of the country pretty soon. One thing is sure, in order to maintain any kind of an equilibrium between revenue and expenditure, the tariff has got to go up another notch, or it must come down. In view of past experience, which shall it be?

SAINT MARYS.

Across in St. Marys the people of that enterprising village are considering the question of their future status. Shall they remain a plain ordinary parish, shall they become incorporated into a town, with the prospects of becoming Brooklyn in the near future, or shall they unite themselves with Fredericton and at once become a part of the capital of the province? Such are the conflicting questions which are agitating the minds of the villagers just now. The cause of all this perturbation of mind is the total lack of fire protection, and certain other accommodations in the way of sidewalks, etc., to which the people feel are entitled, but which under the existing municipal conditions they cannot get. The necessity of protection against fire has been painfully demonstrated in the history of St. Marys several times, and that something should be done to secure the necessary protection is unquestioned. The idea which appears to meet with the most general approval is to have the village incorporated, and then lease debentures and buy a fire engine. The main objection to this plan is that it means to saddle upon a comparatively small number of the people a large debt at the outset, besides all the incidental expenses necessary to making the dignity of a town or city. To amalgamate with Fredericton on the other hand, while it would bring at once to the village of St. Marys everything it could desire in this world, would be a luxury for which the people would have to pay the highest price in the markets of the known world. The streets of Fredericton are beautiful, its sidewalks splendid, its water system perfect, its sewerage all that can be desired, its fire department unsurpassed, and its tax bills immense. We would like "to take in" St. Marys first rate. Of course the question of the Indian village complicates matters some. The natives of that independent borough might kick at the idea of being made citizens of Fredericton, body and breeches, and having their sagamore paid second fiddle to our mayor. We might give them a separate alderman, however, to even matters up. On the whole, we think it would be best for St. Marys to go it alone; either become incorporated or do the next best thing—mortgage the parish to the richest man in the place and let him do the financing.

MICHAEL DAVITT, one of the ablest men in the Irish party, has lost his seat in the British house of commons, because of "clerical impropriation" said to have existed in his behalf during the election. Should Mr. Davitt permanently retire from political life on account of the finding of the courts against him, the Irish national party will lose an able lieutenant. As to how far the result of the election contest was affected by the undue influence, said to have been exerted by the clergy to secure Mr. Davitt's return, we do not know. If the spiritual advisors of the people of the country intimidated the electors into voting for any candidate against their will, it is only right that the law should provide a remedy for the injured candidate. According to the Rev. Dr. Douglas, if such a law exists in Canada, the opponents of Sir John Thompson failed to take advantage of it.

The danger to the French republic seems to be averted at this moment, and an effort is apparently being made to ferret out the wrong doers in connection with the Panama canal scheme, and to bring them to justice. A Paris despatch brings that the prosecution in connection with the Panama scandal are likely to be followed by disclosures of rotteness and colossal corruption in the French republic's department of public works, as "that department has long been controlled by men lacking in character and technical knowledge for the benefit of influential contractors who give a commission on their profits to the deputies." This state of affairs seems to pretty accurately describe the public works department of Canada, as recently controlled at any rate, and yet we do not hear any sound of a revolution in the land. The white-wash brush makes very little noise.

In an address which he made a few evenings ago in Toronto, Dalton McCarthy is reported to have made a speech in which he declared that he could not follow the Thompson government, but would strike out upon independent lines. Mr. McCarthy is preparing an address to his constituents in which he will explain where he stands politically. It appears that all the efforts made by Sir John Thompson to conciliate Mr. McCarthy and win his love have failed.

LEMBERG.—Reports from the lumber woods are to the effect that the yarding has been so excellent that it has been completed earlier than usual and now several crews are on account of no snow. On the Upper Nappawak and Miramichi there is from four to ten inches but not enough to make good roads. The upper St. John lumbermen make similar reports.

ALLLENDALE.
It being some time since you received notes from your correspondent at this place, and attending, by invitation, the closing exercises of the school, I concluded to send a few. The visitors present were not many, but nevertheless, that did not take any of its merits from the exercises. The primer class being called first, it was a marvel to hear those little prattlers read, spell and recite as each was called in turn, and let me say here that this school is in charge of Miss Longstaff, of the parish of Canterbury, York county. The second class was then called up and excelled in reading, spelling, natural history and geography. The different branches were well rendered by Miss Jessie Simmons and Master Willie Madden. At this point of the exercises a motion from the teacher caused all the children to look back in their seats and fold their arms, and led by Miss Ida Simmons, Miss Helen Simmons and Miss Louise Connelly, sang a most beautiful piece. The third class was examined in reading, writing and natural history. Their answers showed the good training received. The fourth class was then examined in reading, writing, English history and grammar, and gave the dates of the crowning of all the kings of England. The class also gave some very nice recitations as follows: The Dying Soldier, Helen Simmons; Serenaded for life, Ida Simmons; Carle, Louise Connelly; Crisples, Jenny, Jessie Simmons, and an excellent one by Mary McDowell. Another nod from the teacher called the whole school to attention, and led by the young ladies already mentioned, they sang Auld Lang Syne. This closed the exercises for this term.

M'ADAM.

Dec. 29.—We are having very fine weather, but a little more snow is required to help out the lumbermen in this neighborhood. Mr. and Mrs. VanBuren and daughter spent Christmas in St. John. The Misses Minnie and Martha Burpee started on Tuesday for a short trip to Boston. Mrs. Nehemiah DeWitt arrived on Saturday with her family to spend Xmas with her husband.

Mrs. Henry, of Gibson, is here on a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Moffat. Christmas eve of James McLeod, arrived last Thursday to spend the holidays with his parents. He has been attending school at Pettoodiac. A handsome present was made to Miss Martha Burpee last week in recognition of her services as organist of the union church.

J. W. Green, the zealous superintendent of the Sabbath school, was also suitably remembered. Mrs. John Hallitt, with her daughter, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Byram, at Gibson. Miss Maggie Baskin of Carleton, St. John, is expected shortly on a visit to her many old friends. At Woodstock, last Sunday, Frank Saunders was married to Miss Ada Boone. They returned on Tuesday to take up their residence at McAdam, and were given a royal reception by the young folks.

LUDLOW.

Dec. 29.—A mission concert and Xmas tree were held in the Baptist church on Christmas eve. George Murphy has moved with his family to Donkstown. He resides in the house which was previously occupied by James Holmes, who has recently moved to Minneapolis. The men who were home to spend the Christmas season have gone back to the woods again. Miss Pringle will resume her duties in this school on the 9th inst. There is very little snow here but the weather is very cold.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.—Dr. J. Z. Currie is planning a short vacation. George Wilson intends going west next week. Dr. Fletcher has returned to New York. Dr. and Mrs. Loch paid Sackville a holiday visit. Dr. Brown and bride spent the holidays at Moncton. Major Gordon of Halifax spent Xmas here. E. Lee Street of Newcastle was a guest of his brother, collector Street. Capt. Eber of Hampton has returned home. E. B. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher of Toronto spent the holidays here. William Kitchen has opened his old office Phoenix square. George R. Parkin, who made a short stay in this city, leaves New York to-day for England. Henry Graham and wife of St. Stephen were here on Monday. Charles A. O'Connor, brother of T. E. O'Connor, counsel-at-law and proprietor of the New Hampshire Catholic, is visiting his folks in this city.

KILLED IN THE WOODS.—A fatal accident happened in the lumber woods on the Nackawick, at Albert D. Hanson, one of the men employed at Robert Montgomery's camp, on Thursday afternoon. It appears that Hanson was felling a tree which "lodged," and while attempting to cut the "lodged" tree fell on him, crushing him to the ground. Several of the men were close at hand and got him out as quickly as possible but he was dead. His remains were taken to Woodstock. He was about thirty-five and leaves a wife but no children.

FREDERICTON SOAP WORKS.—The works of the Fredericton soap company at St. Marys are to be started again in early spring. John Murch, late manager, who is now in Sioux city, learning all the mysteries of soap manufacture, will buy out the other members of the company, if possible, and run the plant under different conditions. If Mr. Murch cannot make terms with the company a prominent resident of Marys is presenting an offer for the concern. The building and machinery are in good condition, everything is ready for opening.

CHRISTMAS SEASON.—The Christmas season passed off very quietly; according to police reports there was less rowdiness than at any time during the past ten years. The town was full of visitors and although the roads were bad the farmers turned out in force and found an extra good market. Turkeys went up to fourteen cents per pound but pork found a ready sale at eight cents per pound by the carcass. The merchants report a good business, and all in all the season was above the average.

F. O. M. W.—The F. O. M. W. club which is now regarded as one of the indispensable adjuncts to life in this city, held its annual supper at Parson's on the evening of the 26th. A good time was had and some excellent speeches made. Bright Clark, the popular traveller for Brock & Patterson, was presented with an address accompanying a more substantial token of the esteem of the club. The club is flourishing and deservedly so.

UPPER GAGETOWN.
Dec. 28.—On Monday evening, Dec. 28th, a concert and Xmas tree was given by the united efforts of the two Sabbath schools at this place. A most enjoyable time was spent by all. Old and young alike joined in the merriment. The tree was beautifully decorated with presents and many things which made the young heart glad at this particular time of year, and illuminated with wax candles and Chinese lanterns. The meeting was called to order at 7 p. m. by the chairman, John Hoban, and the following carefully arranged program was proceeded with: Chorus, The Ship that Never Returned; recitation, by Jas. Miller; dialogue, representing the seven days of the week by seven girls; recitation, by Alice Gunter; recitation, by Hazel Coy; guessing conundrum, by Grant Gordon; trio, The Ferryman, by Miss Nettie Coy, George N. Palmer; chorus, Little German; recitation, by Mabel Coy; dialogue, Scandal on the Brain, by the Misses Nettie Coy, Jennie Hoban, Louise Weston, Clara Brooks and Nettie Estabrook; recitation, by May Coy; recitation, by Jessie Forbes; recitation, by Fred E. Egan; recitation, by the Irish Philosopher, by G. N. Palmer; reading, by Miss Annie Weston; recitation, by Ethel Forbes; solo, by G. N. Palmer; recitations, by Almida Gordon, Lina Babbitt, Charlie Walton, Bessie Babbitt, Jennie Cooper, Hattie Hoban; tableau, Abbie Gunter; chorus, Little German; Home Across the Sea. If you can judge by applause, the program was a decided hit; the pieces were all warmly applauded, and led by the young ladies already mentioned, they sang Auld Lang Syne. This closed the exercises for this term.

DEAR TEACHER.—With sincere regret that we learn of your intention to sever your connection with us as teacher of the public school. Since you have come to us in this capacity we have learned to love and respect you for the uniform kindness you have shown us while under your care, as well as your patient endeavor to lead us in the way of knowledge and rectitude. We have to regret that many times we have not shown that consideration for your feelings that we might and ought to have shown, by yielding a prompt and willing obedience to your wishes and a most careful attention to the instruction given; but believe us, such acts were not intentional on our part, but rather the result of thoughtlessness incident to childhood. We shall ever remember with the kindest feelings towards you, the kindness and your tuition. It is our sincere wish that your life may be long and happy; and that in whatever sphere you may be engaged, you may sometimes at least think kindly of the days spent in our midst. We are glad to see you on a merry Xmas and many returns of the day.

MISS COY made a reply in a few well fitting remarks; and the school has done its work for the year. Among those who have arrived home to spend their Xmas holidays are Miss Annie Weston, who has had charge of the school in Gagetown village, and Miss Ada Coy, who has been spending the winter in Boston. We are glad to see them with us again.

HARVEY STATION.
Christmas was spent in a quiet way owing to the extreme cold weather. The sleighing could not be had owing to the absence of snow. A very enjoyable evening was spent by the congregation of the Presbyterian church, on Friday, 23d. Mrs. McLean gave one of her pleasant concerts. Stanley Craig, of Vancouver, favored us with several recitations. A very pleasant event took place on Wednesday morning last at the residence of D. Glendenning, when his eldest daughter, Mand, was united in marriage to H. Gilbert Chamberlain, of Collins, Kings county. The bride was dressed in cream set off with beautiful rose buds. She received some elegant presents in silverware. The wedding was private only a few friends being present. The happy pair left at noon by the Atlantic express for King's county, where they will spend their honeymoon. The bride is a general favorite and all join in wishing her much happiness.

Among the Christmas visitors here are Miss Ada Elizabeth Atchison, of Houlton, R. C. Kirkpatrick, of Philadelphia, and Samuel R. Toland, of Boston. J. W. Taylor has returned from spending a few days with friends in Houlton. He says the weather there is extremely cold. James Swan, a son of Henry Swan, was brought home from Kingston last week very ill from inflammation of the lungs. He is attended by Dr. Keith, who has good hopes of his recovery.

BLACKVILLE.
Dec. 28.—Miss McEhern who taught in the lower district has gone home, the school being closed for the winter months. Miss Loggie also who taught in the village has given up her school; her scholars were sorry to lose her. Christmas was very quiet, there being no snow on the ground there could not be any driving, as it was rather cold and the roads too rough for carriages. Miss Mabel Cameron, of Chatham, is visiting her friends, the Misses Underhill. Mrs. A. C. Wood, visiting at E. N. T. Underhill's where her husband is bookkeeper. The Episcopal congregation had their church nicely decorated for the Christmas services held morning and evening, conducted by Rev. C. O. Bailey.

A HINDOO SUPERSTITION.
No Hindoo will touch the wild last flower, which the botanists call the Erythrina indica, though it is when in bloom a very lovely flower and has a sweet odor. They believe that it originally grew in the "Garden of India," in the centre of the heaven, where it was worshipped by all the denizens of that blessed abode. Krishna stole it and brought it to earth, but all who worshipped at its shrine after that event died before they could leave the spot. On this account India is shunned as if it were a poisonous serpent.

What would you like for a Christmas gift? asked Sticks of his best girl. Are engagement rings very expensive? she replied, shyly.

AROUND THE WORLD.
The Weeks Events in Brief.—The Ocean of our Exchanges.
Seven new cases of cholera were reported in Hamburg, on Thursday. One death occurred. Mrs. Langtry's condition has grown much worse and she is now in imminent danger of death. Miss Merritt, only daughter of collector Merritt, of Woodstock, was united in marriage with J. Marshman Drayton of Montreal, last week. Rev. Dr. McGlynn was reinstated as priest by Mgr. Sotelli, and celebrated mass in private in the chapel of St. John's college Xmas morning. Geo. E. Baxter of Perth Centre, one of the provincial government's lecturers on carrying has thus far organized 22 local associations in the counties where he has labored.

James P. Byrne has been appointed judge of probate in Kings county in the estate of the late John Marvin, in place of Leonard Allison whose appointment is cancelled. Although ocean freights are low shippers expect to see them still lower and some twenty million feet of deals are piled at St. John and will likely be held over till spring. At the close of the examination in the advanced department of the Bathurst schools the other day, the retiring teacher, James McInnes, was presented with an address and present.

It is stated by Washington dispatches that it is not probable that traffic on the Canadian Pacific railway through United States territory will be disturbed during the present administration. Postmaster Pike, of Calais, is procuring subscriptions for a silver cup, to be held for competition by the St. Croix yacht club next year, any yacht winning it twice in succession to own it. The inquest at Mahone Bay, N. S., on Saturday, on the body of the young man Hyson, who was stabbed by another named Maher resulted in the latter's being found guilty of murder.

E. S. Johns, who began profit sharing with their employes a year ago, are so well pleased with the results that they intend trying it for another year. All the Hudson county ballot box stuffers serving terms in the state prison, were liberated Saturday, the court of pardons having pardoned thirty-two and pardoned one, John A. Whelan. A melancholy case of suicide occurred at Grand Pre Thursday morning. Theodore H. Dorman, aged 62, a farmer, while laboring under a fit of temporary insanity, took his own life by jumping into a well. Judge Wedderburn and Messrs. LeB. Coleman, A. W. Macrae, F. W. Emmerson and James Kelly visited St. George to attend a demonstration, by the Foresters in that town. They also attended a similar gathering in St. Stephen.

The latest demonstration of ingenuity by G. A. Haggarty, mechanical superintendent of the C. P. R. at McAdam, is a nickel plated mantle clock. All of the work on case and movement, except the hands, main and hair springs was done by Mr. Haggarty. The authorities appear so strongly convinced that the Dublin explosion was part of the work of a band of conspirators that they have sent a detective to Biarritz to keep a guard over Mr. Gladstone and protect him from outrages. Home secretary Asquith is also protected. The investigation against section foreman James Crystal, of the I. C. R., as instigated by a disappointed tory healer, commenced Tuesday in the ladies waiting room at Harcourt and was continued in the Central hotel parlor, the evidence, as yet, has failed to materialize.

Further complications, arising out of the late strike among the miners at Springhill, are reported. A deputation of miners waited upon Mr. Cowans in order to get him to ratify the agreement entered into between the men and manager McInnis, but this he positively refused to do. The Dreibund nations, Germany, Italy and Austria, regard the situation in France as menacing the peace of Europe, and are exchanging frequent notes on the subject. They have decided to hold themselves in readiness to act promptly from a military point of view in the event of a revolution in France. G. W. Roberts, who travelled through Canada as a "convoy evangelist," and who was arrested last October while holding revival services in a prominent church in Toronto for gross indecency, on Monday morning, when he was three months at hard labor and to receive ten lashes after one month's imprisonment. Lawlor & Connor, the contractors constructing the Tobique valley railroad, have ceased operations, to resume again in the spring. Ten miles of their contract has been completed, and the objective point, Plaster Rock, will be reached with six weeks' work in the spring. Twenty-four miles of the road is now ready for traffic.

J. D. Edgar, in a speech at North Hastings nomination, referred to the Caron charges, saying that when McEwen stood not protected by the privileges of parliament. He reported his charges in order that Caron could if he would bring action for libel against him. He would be happy if the charges could be tried before a jury of fellow citizens. The sailor McNeilly, who accompanied the alleged murderer, Wm. McEwen, to his home at Glasgow, N. S., one night last October, along with the unfortunate woman who was murdered and horribly mutilated during the night, was Wednesday acquitted of complicity in the crime. McEwen was tried on the charge of murder and found guilty. He was sentenced to death. Everything tends to show that there was an explosion Christmas night outside of the detective office, Exchange street, Dublin. It was a deliberate planned dynamite outrage. The report that the explosion was a political outrage is deprecated by the police. The general opinion is that the bomb or infernal machine was placed by a person with personal spite against the detective office.

A courier from a San Juan mining camp, Colorado, reports a terrible battle there on Tuesday in which eleven men were killed and a large number wounded. The direct cause of the trouble was the discovery of large nuggets of gold at the bottom of a small stream. Each claim holder had first located the ground, and to settle the dispute guns were brought into play. Over forty men engaged in the fight. Few, if any, escaped unhurt.

ANOTHER SEVENTY.—Moncton, which appears to provide all the latest sensations, is out with another. It appears that a week ago Havelock Johnston, of Cape Tormentine, had received at Moncton about seventy dollars for farm produce. On Saturday night he was seen in town by several with a young man named Durant. Johnston was drinking heavily. He has not been seen since and all efforts to find him have proved futile.

A bottle of perfume always makes an acceptable present. See our stock in dainty packages at all prices. We have other reasonable goods in our line. O. FRED. CHESINUT, Apothecary, 2 doors above Barker House, Queen St., Fredericton. Dec 17th, 1892.

LOOK OUT FOR THE CHRISTMAS GOODS. We have been, during the last eight months, talking to our friends through the columns of THE HERALD. We have been quoting prices so low, that people often think that we are jesting. A visit, however, to our store and an examination of our Goods always convinces the most skeptic, that we are prepared to furnish what we advertise. We are now preparing a large canvas flag; when you come to purchase your Christmas Goods be sure you look out for this flag; under it you will find a magnificent stock, well selected, well bought, and MARKED AWAY DOWN. LOOK OUT FOR THIS FLAG. Respectfully yours, Lucy & Co.
