

LOCAL NEWS.

LAW STUDENTS—The law students will re-open their debating society in January.

AT THE QUEEN.—Agricultural society, District No. 34, met this afternoon at the Queen hotel.

FORGETTING THE SEASON.—Flocks of wild geese have been seen passing over the city during the week.

CHAS.-CURRIE.—It is expected that the now notorious Chas.-Currie case will be tried in this city about the 10th of January.

BROKER HERB WINTER.—Miss M. Alice Clark of the normal school, broke her wrist by a fall when entering the school grounds on Tuesday morning.

WILL REMAIN.—By urgent request of the congregation, Rev. Mr. Weddall has decided to continue as pastor of the Methodist church for another year.

CREDIT.—The outside work on the new York street school building is about completed. All are giving Mr. Limerick credit for the character of the work.

RETURNED.—Rev. Dr. McLeod has returned after a two months' absence in the North and British Columbia on liquor traffic-commission business.

DROPPED DEAD.—Isaac Peabody lost a fine collie by Keenage on Tuesday. He was taking it out of the stable when it dropped dead. He later refused $300 for it.

C. P. R. REPAIRS.—The C. P. R. bridge construction company, under control of Charles Clark, are repairing the turntable and other similar structures at the station here.

IN THE WEST.—Word reaches us from Vancouver that Home Hume, a son of George Hume of this city, was recently married at that place to May Connacher of Vancouver.

NOTHING DONE.—A special meeting of the Fredericton curling club was called for Thursday night, but on account of business only a few attended. No arrangement for games was made.

MAIL AND PASSENGERS.—Edward Quinn runs the mail stage from Welford on Tuesday, C. P. R. to Georgetown on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and returning alternate days on Sunday.

BOY DIES.—Friday morning was one of the liveliest days for the city lads since the normal school students were departing for their homes, and nearly every doorstep was trod by one or more trunks.

THE RIVER.—The river is now safe for teams between the city and Gibson, and many have been across. At several points down the river the farmers have taken the ice instead of following the highway.

GOING TO BATHURST.—Chief superintendent Inch has visited Bathurst during the week in the interest of education. It is expected that the grammar school will be continued, and the services of Mr. McIntosh, principal, retained.

TEACHER HONORED.—At Upper Georgetown, on Wednesday, the pupils of his school presented R. B. Wallace with a handsome lamp as a token of their love and esteem. C. M. Palmer made the presentation in a neat address.

FOR QUEEN.—J. DeVeber Neales, the defeated Queen, will take an office in Fredericton shortly, and carry on a law practice. A. W. Ebbett has assumed the duties of judge of probate, and is prepared for all business in that line as well as usual law practice. He will be found at Georgetown.

APPOINTED.—F. B. Mesher, who is at present one of the teachers in the collegiate school, has received the appointment of school inspector. Mr. Mesher is well fitted for the position—holding a grammar school license and being a graduate of the university. He has proved himself an efficient teacher.

LADY KILLED.—Miss Susan Smith, daughter of Wm. Smith, Tetonia-ganche, Gloucester, was on Saturday killed at Bathurst by being thrown from a sleigh, the horse being frightened by an incoming train. She fell on the rails, her skull being crushed. Death was instantaneous. She was a teacher and much esteemed.

PEOPLE WE KNOW.—Rev. Wm. Ross, Prince William, is reported to be in Fredericton attending the last meeting of the board of education. Messrs. Lee Street and A. G. Harrison are home for the holidays. R. A. Eley left on Monday for an American trip. Mrs. Jackson Adams shows no symptoms of recovery.

FIRE.—The fire ladders were called out on Monday by a fire in a house on Charles street, occupied down stairs by James Estabrook and up stairs by Mrs. Smith, a widow. The house was badly destroyed and the occupants took lodgings elsewhere. On Wednesday night, at half-past ten, there was an alarm for a fire in a house on George street near the graveyard; damage slight.

TAKING THE BRIDGE.—The slight hitch caused by some of the powers that be, respecting the use of the railway bridge here by the C. P. R., has been removed. Mr. Temple went to Ottawa, after visiting Mr. Timmerman at St. John, to interview some of the C. P. R. magnates, and that company will take over the bridge and lately constructed curve at an early day.

THE STEAMERS.—It is reported, on good authority, that the Weston, Star, Solongues and Florenville will be controlled by a new company next year, and an endeavor will be made to give the river districts between St. John and Woodstock the best service they have had for years. The boats will be thoroughly refitted and put in shape for speed, comfort and convenience. Part of the season night boats will be run if traffic allows.

THE P. W. RAILWAY.—This line of railway is making good progress so far as end of liminary are concerned. The result of the survey will be known in six weeks when all plans will be made and the road let out to sub-contractors who will all be put to work at once, so the road will be completed in a short time. The company mean business, and the citizens are gladdened over the prospect of this road being in running order at an early day.

SOME CALENDARS.—Carroll's steam laundry, Phoenix square, is out with a fine calendar, fully describing the business. It is one of the best this year. J. and A. McMillan, St. John, have our thanks for a superb calendar, an ornament to any office. The Times, Canada's popular newspaper, Toronto, Canada, sends a very unique one, containing a picture of its office, accompanied by a gem of a picture of the editor's mastiff, the winner of a $1,000 prize.

THE RIVER ROAD.

What Georgetown People have to say of it.

Just at present the people of Georgetown and vicinity are almost as completely isolated as was Napoleon at St. Helena. They turn their thoughts longingly towards St. John and Fredericton; but the river is closed, and the same may be said of the highway. It has been cut up by heavy loads during the soft weather, and now shows a succession of ruts and mounds that soon the Telegraph shows that the river has to foot it. Of course everything for the holiday market has to be got through in some way, but the larger quantity is left at home.

A butcher who lately visited there for heavy beef cattle, although he found some fine oxen, yet he was compelled to leave them as they could not be driven to the train at Welford on account of the roads. In the meantime all are enquiring anxiously into the prospects of the St. John valley railway being built. Many offer the right of way, and all will be made as pleasant for the company building as possible. The people desire the through road between Fredericton and St. John, and no great obstacles are presented to the construction of a road by the nature of the country. It may be said that several long detours will have to be made, that the river bank cannot be followed, but it may be, except in very few instances. There is no doubt but that a road will pay its way, especially through the Queen's as that country is rich in farming lands, and there is a deposit of coal on each side the river that must add to the freight and to the wealth of the people. This road, with the through line by Prince William and Woodstock, with the Gouville road to the Temiscouata, will afford a means of communication unsurpassed in the province and one that will increase the prosperity of all towns on its route.

Makes a Mess of it.

The Sun correspondent who is nothing if not making a mess of it, makes one of his usual mountings in Monday's issue respecting the attitude of Fredericton business men towards the Telegraph with regard to the transfer of the Intercolonial to the C. P. R. He speaks about the business men being "disgusted at the course of the Telegraph" while the truth is they are disgusted at the course of the Sun correspondent. Like his cases at the police court, his articles in the press fall flat with residents of this city. Were his utterances not apt to be believed in other sections of the province, there is no reason why they should be noticed, as they are pretty stale stock here; but they may meet with some credence abroad and give readers a poor opinion of our citizens. The Telegraph is relied on in this city first, last, and every time.

Week of Prayer.

During Tuesday night's meeting of the city pastors at the Methodist parsonage, the following was arranged for next week—the annual week of prayer. The meeting will begin on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock in the F. C. Baptist church, Rev. Mr. McDonald making the address. Wednesday evening, Rev. Mr. Weddall will preach in the Presbyterian church. The Baptist church, on Thursday evening, will listen to an address by Rev. F. C. Hartley. Rev. Mr. Crawley will speak to the people of the Methodist church on Friday evening. The subjects of address for the different evenings are as follows: Tuesday, families and schools; Wednesday, nations and rulers, reforms, such as temperance reform; Thursday, foreign missions; Friday, home missions.

Did it Himself.

The story is told for what it is worth, but it appears to receive general credence. Two years since, the wife of Major Howe, an American, was shot while in a canoe with her husband at one of the Tobique fishing spots. The affair created quite a furor here, and many thought that the sentence of penitentiary for fifteen years was too light for such a dastardly deed. It appears that the Major and since that event taken to himself another wife, whose sudden death raised suspicion, and he was arrested and sent to prison. Becoming ill, before his death he is said to have confessed that he shot his wife in the canoe while the firing was going on, and that the imprisoned one is innocent. If this is true it is another case where circumstantial evidence was very misleading.

The Graveyard Suit.

Another stage in the graveyard insurance case against Sydney Welton, C. B. Welton, and Dr. Randall, was reached on Tuesday. The jury disagreed, the last vote standing at 11 to 1 for conviction of the brothers Welton, and 9 to 3 for the conviction of Dr. Randall. Sydney Welton is out on bail to two amounts of $500 each, but it is believed that nothing more will be done with him, though he is expected to appear at the next session of the court. G. D. Reid's trial was postponed, he being too ill to appear. A motion was then made for the sentencing of C. B. Welton and Dr. Randall under the first indictment, but sentence was deferred on appeal.

County Council.

The council of the municipality of York will meet on Tuesday, the 17th of January next, at 10 o'clock. One question that will come up for discussion is respecting the change in electoral terms. An act has been passed allowing a councillor to hold his seat for two years instead of one as formerly, and it appears that some of the present members favor the old law. The vote of the council will decide. Many will avail themselves of the auditor's report, and it is thought there will not be so many "typographical errors" as has been the case for years. If there are mistakes, there will have to be another special committee appointed as the work must be satisfactory.

Parents and McNeill's Wanted.

The St. Andrew's Beacon has an article to the effect that James W. Leonard, of Deer Island, with a number of New Brunswickers interested in a wealthy estate, valued at several millions, that has been valued at $1,000,000. The property in question is situated at the New York end of the Brooklyn bridge and is known as the Parent property. It appears that the Parents of Southampton, Queensbury and Dumfries are interested as well as the McNeill's, of Nashua. Mr. Leonard's mother was a McNeill. The property descends through the Parent line. More particulars will be given in a future issue.

COMPLETELY HELPLESS.—Wm. J. Nobles, former of one of R. Connors' camps on the Allegany, and his brother Herbert Nobles, reached this city on Thursday evening completely helpless through rheumatism. They are sons of Wm. Nobles, merchant at Fredericton Junction. At the Waverley house where they were conveyed they were made as comfortable as possible and Dr. Brown sent for. He at once ordered them to Victoria hospital where they are now receiving attendance. Both cases are quite serious.

THE INDIAN DISPLAY.

A Unique and very Fascinating Exhibit.

Indian commissioner Farrel has collected throughout his district, on exhibition at his office, King street. Those wishing to see it must call on his residence on Wednesday evening, as the exhibit will then be shipped to the department of Indian affairs at Ottawa from which place it will be forwarded to the world's fair at Chicago. It would be impossible on paper to give our readers an idea of the beauty and neatness of the work which far surpasses anything in the same line ever shown here. Mr. Farrel has been very solicitous that his charges should do themselves credit, and the specimens he has secured, show his labor has not been in vain. Two very handsome pairs of snowshoes are shown, one made by Jim Paul, St. Mary's, and the other by the chief of the Tobique reserve. Susan Sappier shows a full set of the best and most beautiful Indian moccasins, made of splints and sweet hay that looks as if it had come out of a China shop. A pair of seal skin moccasins with the fur on, beautifully trimmed with beads, is one of the best of the kind seen here. There are also Indian pouches and watch cases, fancy baskets in all sorts of fantastic designs, old fashioned water pot and bowl of birch bark, birch bark, handsome knife sheath and belt of deer skin with silver ornaments, and many other articles of Indian work. Willie Polchis, of Kingsport, eleven years old, shows some drawings that an artist might be proud of. Mr. Farrel feels proud of the exhibit, and deserves to be, as there is no doubt that it is the best that will be sent by any section in the dominion. Mr. Farrel will be pleased to show the display to any one who wishes.

Y. C. TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

Some very interesting Papers and Discussions.

The York county institute met in regular session at the Normal school on Thursday morning last. President Everett occupied the chair. About ninety teachers enrolled. Miss Thorne, from the committee on finances, submitted her report, and was well received. This important feature was in good condition. H. C. Creed read a very much appreciated paper on drawing. As Mr. Creed is very thorough in this line of school art, his listeners got many ideas that will help them in subsequent work. Miss Galt dealt with the teaching of writing, many of the strong points of her paper being heartily commended. The papers on geography by Miss Cliff and Mr. Brittain, dealt very exhaustively with that subject, its connection with history being strongly dwelt upon.

A letter was read by the secretary from Dr. Ingham, chief magistrate of education, expressing his regret at not being able to attend and wishing the teachers a happy holiday vacation.

The session was a successful one. The closing exercises took place on Thursday evening was attended by a number of the citizens as well as by the teachers and normal school students. President Everett occupied the chair, and in a short address welcomed the teachers and wished them good success in their work. Mr. Ingham followed in a piano solo by Miss Walker. Dr. Harrison addressed the gathering, dealing especially with the necessity of putting good literature within the reach of the people. He strongly urged that each school should have a library, no matter how small, so long as it contained good books. A duet by Prof. and Mrs. Stockley followed, "Merry is the sound of merriment." It was received with a general ovation. Prof. Davidson spoke on the necessity of a study of psychology as a further aid to the teacher. He showed what might be gained by such study, the affair created quite a furor here, and many thought that the sentence of penitentiary for fifteen years was too light for such a dastardly deed. It appears that the Major and since that event taken to himself another wife, whose sudden death raised suspicion, and he was arrested and sent to prison. Becoming ill, before his death he is said to have confessed that he shot his wife in the canoe while the firing was going on, and that the imprisoned one is innocent. If this is true it is another case where circumstantial evidence was very misleading.

So All Preaches.

S. L. Peters, of upper Hamstead, who visited York and several of the other counties during the summer in connection with dairy work, practices what he preaches. He feeds two ration of ensilage and one of hay daily, and his cows appear to like the corn and thrive upon it. His plan is to feed hay in the morning, then turn the cows out to water for a while, then put them in and feed ensilage; they are then left for several hours without food and then get their evening feed of ensilage. This is following nature's plan as closely as possible. In York, especially where hay is expensive, the ensilage system might be followed with excellent results.

Successful Concert.

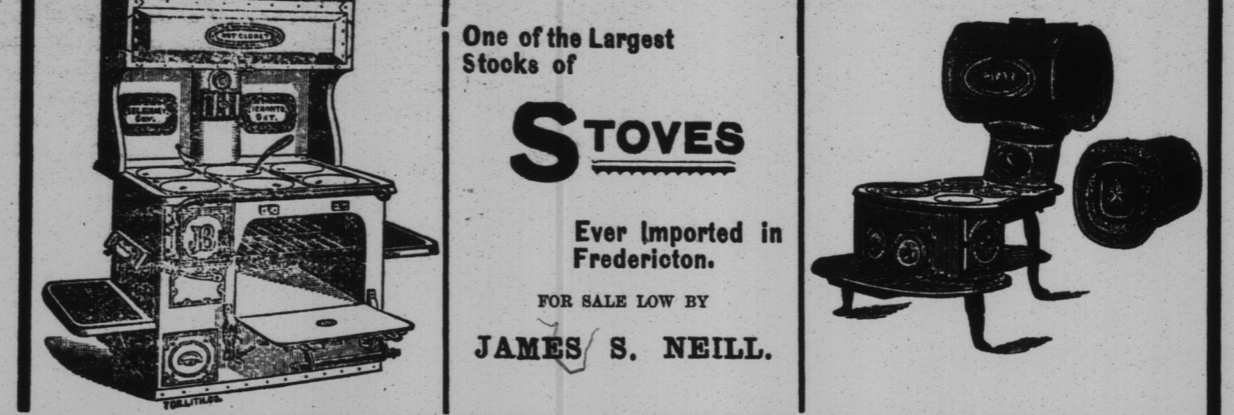

On Wednesday the teachers and pupils of St. Mary's and Gibson schools, under the direction of Mr. Dobson, principal, gave a very successful concert at the church hall. The exercises consisted of choruses, dialogues, old and broom drills, and recitations. Among the interesting features was a harmonious duet by masters Bliss and Cole. Little Miss Viola Butler and Edna Staples got a great burst of applause, and they handled the dolls in a professional way. The concert consisted of a five act piece, when some good grey impersonations were made. Ran Foster looked after the finances in a way that left nothing to be desired. The proceeds are for school purposes.

St. John Presbytery.

A special meeting of the St. John Presbytery was held at that city in Calvin church on Thursday night to consider a call extended to Rev. Mr. Fullerton, pastor of Calvin church. The call comes from St. James church, Charlottetown, and has been signed by 280 members and adherents and guarantees $1,400 a year and a free manse. The reverend gentleman has accepted the call and will sever his connection with Calvin church on the 15th of January. All present spoke in terms of much regret at the conclusion reached by Mr. Fullerton and wished him all success possible.

A TRAIT.—The Salvation army promise quite a treat at their banquets, such as the evening of the 28th inst., when a service of songs especially appropriate to the Christmas season, will be conducted.

JAMES S. NEILL.

DEATH COMES.

And Old and Young are Laid Away. Many have heard with regret of the death at Little River, Sunbury Co., on Tuesday, the 29th inst., of Henry T. Bailey. He was one of the pioneers of the settlement and had many friends in this city. He was in his forty-fourth year.

Miss Mary A. Cameron died at her father's residence, York street, on Wednesday last. Deceased was a daughter of Nathaniel Cameron and a young lady that had many friends. She was in her twenty-second year. The funeral, which was largely attended, took place on Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

At her residence, Queen street, Mrs. Galt, the mother of Miss Galt, a teacher in the normal school, died on Sunday morning last. She had been ailing for some time. Her death is sincerely regretted by all. The cause of death was paralysis of the brain. She was a sister-in-law of the late Sir Alex. Galt, finance minister of Canada, and of Sir Theo. Galt, present chief justice of Ontario, by Monday afternoon train.

The remains of the late Joseph E. Collier were brought from the Catholic asylum to this city last night by undertaker Adams. It will be remembered that but a fortnight since he was taken to that institution. Paralysis of the brain was the cause of death. He was in his forty-sixth year and leaves a widow and one son. As a neighbor and citizen he had the respect of all and his death under such trying circumstances is much deplored.

The remains of Margarette, the wife of Miles of that place, on account of the death of Allison on Wednesday afternoon. Deceased had been ill for some time but was able to do light work till Sunday when he was prostrated by an attack of hemorrhage of the lungs. This is the second sad affliction that has visited the family in the past eighteen months. He was in his twenty-sixth year and was highly spoken of by all. The remains of Miss Susan A. Coy were borne to the tomb from the residence of her son, Haycock Coy, this city, on Sunday evening last. She will be remembered by many outside of the city, as for years she had been residing with her family at Marysville on the farm now owned by John R. McMillan. Some months since, she visited her sister, Mrs. Geo. Vanwart, Queensbury, and has been confined to her room since her return. She was interred at upper Georgetown, a large attendance attending their respect and esteem. Rev. F. D. Crawley officiated.

Marysville News. A little three months' old child of James Arnold was buried on Sunday last. The Methodist and Episcopal Sabbath schools will hold Xmas tree socials for the children of the city on Monday evening. Rev. J. T. Parsons baptized five candidates at the river near the obbyruch on Sunday last. Others are coming forward.

The rink has been put in first class condition and will be open to the public during the holidays. Policeman Barker took Mrs. G. Moore to the asylum at St. John last week. John Falls has gone to Waterville, Me., for the winter.

There appears to be no let up in the cotton trade as the mill is being pushed to its full capacity. Many regret the drowning of young McGinnis last week. He put on his skates and fell into the water. George Foster, who saw his hands above the ice, gave the alarm but it was too late when help arrived. His body was in the water about half an hour. He was a son of Geo. McGinnis and about fourteen years of age.

Pickard L. O. L. No. 40, has appointed the following officers for the ensuing term: G. F. Bourke, W. M.; Samuel Hodgson, D. M.; J. J. Libby, rec. sec.; H. P. Lint, fin. sec.; H. Osborne, rec. sec.; F. L. Plint, fin. sec.; C. McConaghy, lect.; D. McNeill, D. of C.; Ed. Good, foreman; Wm. Davenport, R. W. Gregory, Chas. Clayton and Andrew Love, committee.

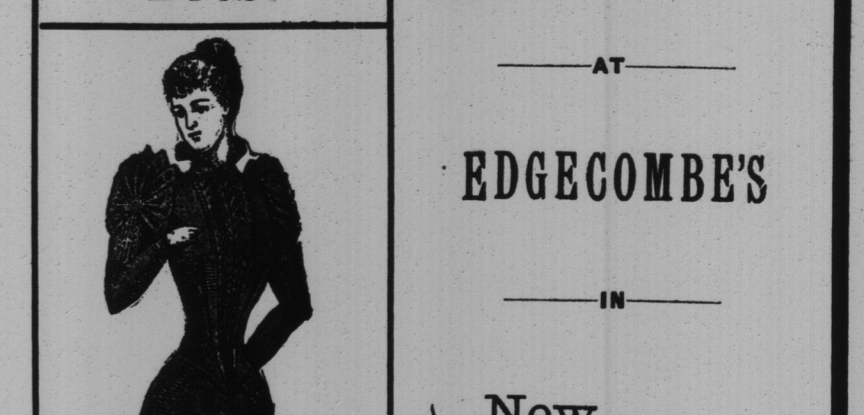

Gibson and St. Mary's. Miss Nettie Niles, Millie Pickard and Nellie Simmons have returned from Sackville for vacation. Many friends are calling to see the twin girls who have lately arrived at the home of Jonathan Chapman. On Sunday last there was baptism at the Baptist and F. C. Baptist churches, by Rev. Mr. Nobles and Mr. Parsons. The Baptist Sabbath school will hold a Christmas tree social in the church on Monday evening. Of course there will be a grand gathering. James Pickard attended the closing exercises of Acadia college.

PERSONAL.—W. E. Smith, the efficient secretary of the New Brunswick telephone company has gone to Annapolis, N. B., on a vacation trip.
