FREDERICTON, NOVEMBER 10, 1894.

THE LIBERAL CONFERENCE.
All three of the Maritime provinces were well represented at the Liberal conference at St. John the other day, to talk over plans for the approaching general election. Prominent among the leading public men present were Hon. A. G. Blair and Hon. W. S. Fielding, premiers of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, Hon. L. H. Davies, M. P., of Charlottetown, and two scores or more of representative men, the backbone and sinews of the Liberal party in maritime Canada.

A DISTINGUISHED JOURNALIST.
John Walter, chief proprietor of the London Times, whose death is announced at the age of seventy-six years, has been connected with that great newspaper since 1840. He graduated at Oxford and studied law, but soon entered journalism as the controlling spirit in the Times, which had been established by his grandfather in 1788, and was subsequently owned by his father. When the subject of this sketch had finished his education, he found the Times in editorial charge of one Delane, and to him Walter offered $10,000 retiring allowance, which was accepted, and Walter entered into full control of his property, conducting the news until his death. He was elected to parliament in 1859, and sat almost continuously in that body until 1880. The Times suffered severely in reputation when Parrell won his suit against it for publishing the Pigott forgery, but with his earthly duties. In politics Mr. Walter inclined to Liberalism, but he was never a very strong party man. He was a warm friend of all educational projects, and during his visit to the United States in 1881, visited all the leading schools and colleges of the country.

THE UNITED STATES ELECTIONS.
The Democrats of the United States were treated to a genuine surprise by the result of Tuesday's federal and municipal elections. They were very handsomely beaten and will have to give up control of both branches of the national legislature. The business depression and the miserable attempt of the Democrats to reform the tariff, were primarily the causes which led to the great political upheaval.

THE WESTMINSTER TORIES are industriously cultivating Hon. A. D. Richard whom they so roundly abused for running on the Local Government ticket in 1892. Since Mr. Richard has been created a Q. C. and now he is elected vice-president of the Westminster Conservative Association. Mr. Richard's influence among the French voters in the county is the secret of these touching attentions to him just now. It is not to be doubted that the Democrats to reform the tariff, were primarily the causes which led to the great political upheaval.

THE OVERTHROW OF TAMMANY IN NEW YORK CITY was a startling result of the campaign. That powerful Democratic machine which for years has controlled the patronage of the metropolis, was beaten out of its boots. The public conscience has been aroused by the development before the Senate committee investigating the rottenness of the Tammany system, the creature which fattened on black mail levied on almost every section of the people. Ex-Mayor Grant, a powerful candidate, was brought into the field by Tammany only to be beaten by over 40,000 majority by a new and untried man, Mayor-elect Strong, who has the support of the Republicans and the more decent Democrats who had become disgusted with Tammany rule and corruption.

SUNBURY AND QUEENS.
The Conservative convention for Sunbury and Queens, held at Gagetown on Thursday, developed one important fact, namely: that Geo. F. Baird does not again intend inflicting his candidature on the people. While he has sat in Parliament for a number of years, he was never honestly elected, and he has no reason to feel proud of his political record. The convention was not able to secure a candidate. Mr. Wilmot, M. P. for Sunbury, was present, but when asked if he would accept a nomination, said he would not waste time to consider. It is well known that Mr. Wilmot wants a senatorship, but the Government will force him to run another election, and if he is defeated, why then he will have the best possible Tory claim for office. The Herald confesses to a great deal of respect for Mr. Wilmot and suggests to him the inadvisability of entering upon a contest which must end in defeat. Sunbury and Queens will be captured by the Liberals this time, and the man who is able to do it will shortly be before the electorate.

THE DEMOCRATS WERE SOUNDLY BEATEN IN THE UNITED STATES ELECTIONS TUESDAY.
Republicans Redeem New York and Shatter Tammany.
The Congressional, State, and Municipal elections in the United States, Tuesday, resulted in a remarkable victory for the Republicans, who have captured the House of Representatives at Washington and will also control the federal Senate. In the State elections the most astonishing Democratic overthrow was in New York, where Morton defeated Hill for governor, and in the city the Tammany machine was very badly shattered.
