

The Conservatives are on the move in almost every province of Canada, in preparation for the approaching general election. All summer in Quebec, there has been a succession of political meetings, addressed by members of the cabinet, and many gatherings of the same kind have been held in Ontario.

In Nova Scotia, Thompson and Tupper have spoken in Antigonish and recently, the latter addressed half a dozen meetings in Pictou, which he represents. The agitation is soon to commence in New Brunswick. Tupper, Costigan, Wallace and Oulmet are to speak at Moncton, Nov. 5th, and they will also be heard in Nova Scotia towns. What are the Liberals doing to counteract these efforts of the Tory ministers? In the Maritime provinces, simply nothing. It is true, Mr. Laurier has been doing excellent work in the Western provinces, but there is plenty of room for Liberal missionary work down here. The government majority obtained in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, in the last general election, kept the administration in power. Are the Liberals content that the thing shall happen again? Where is Davies, the recognized leader of the Maritime contingent in Parliament. Why does he not organize a series of meetings for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The farmers are about through the busy season and would like to hear from the politicians. Davies, Blair, D. C. Fraser, Fielding and others would furnish an array of debating talent, which the Conservatives in these provinces could scarcely match. The Liberals should not be caught napping, as they were in 1891.

MR. LAURIER'S PLAN.

Conservatives pretend to discount the statement made on behalf of the Liberals that if Mr. Laurier and his party came into power they would be able to reduce taxation, as the whole of the sum raised now is necessary for the public service. Laurier's speech at Brandon, Manitoba, the other day, shows that the Opposition leader has a well defined plan—a feasible, practicable plan to suit the case.

Mr. Laurier pointed out that without impairing the revenue, great savings could be effected. How much coal oil, barbed wire and binder twine produce annually? Out of a total of $30,000,000 of revenue, barbed wire produced last year but $5,215. This was an amount not difficult to replace, making it free, and would materially assist the whole body of farmers. On binder twine the revenue last year was not $14,000. The high duty maintained on this article was not for purposes of revenue, but for the enrichment of the cartage combine. He advocated the removal of all taxes which do not produce revenue. Then he would materially reduce the national expenditure. How? Well, first he would abolish the franchise act, and he was sure every Conservative would rejoice as much as any Liberal at its removal. This would save about $200,000 per year. Then the amount that could be saved simply by honest administration is immense. Then he would extend our markets. To the south of us were 65 millions of the same race as ourselves, from whom we are debarred from trading by injudicious legislation. The United States government had expressed themselves as willing to trade reciprocally in barley, hay, eggs and some other things. He would take advantage of this disposition to the mutual benefit of both countries. The cry that Canadians could not compete with Americans was a bugaboo. Gurney, of Hamilton, and Waterous, of Brantford, have for years had branch establishments successfully operating in Boston and St. Paul. At the present time the Massey-Harris company are talking of taking their factories to the south of the line. This proves the fallacy of this argument. But, then, we are told that reciprocity is not loyal to Great Britain. Dr. Johnson once said that "Patriotism was the last refuge of a scoundrel." Tory loyalty! We know it well. Look at it in history; how quickly their slavish notions of divine right were changed when the king commenced to persecute them; while they were regarded with favor and given all they desired, none were louder in their professions of attachment, but when their privileges were invaded, their professions proved but hypocritical mockery. It was Tory loyalty that pelled Lord Elgin with stones and rotten eggs. In '79, when measures were advocated by which it was supposed might injure trade and British connection, their reply was, "So much the worse for British connection." When their own interests are at stake down goes the scale of Tory interest and up goes the scale of Tory loyalty.

THE QUESTION OF COAL OIL.

The tax on coal oil is one of the most iniquitous features of the Tory tariff, and it affects the masses of the people all over Canada. During the year which ended on June 30, 1893, Canada paid $480,564, into the public treasury on an importation of 5,980,153 gallons of oil, while on the 10,000,000 gallons produced in this country the consumers paid to the refiners $720,000 making a total import of $1,150,000. Thus the people at large were assessed $720,000 to maintain the men employed in the oil industry. All that the government did last session in deference to the universal demand for cheaper coal oil was to take 1-1/2 cents from the duty, a relief so imperceptible as to be no relief at all. Now, if the duty on coal oil were reduced 2 1/2 cents a gallon, an importation equal to the present consumption, would produce a revenue of $440,000, and the consumers would be saved the payment of $710,000 annually. This is one example, says Mr. Laurier, of how it might be possible to relieve the people, and at the same time, raise sufficient revenue to meet the requirements of economical government.

The Baptists of this city are to be congratulated on securing the services of Rev. Mr. Freeman as their settled pastor. He comes to them with the best recommendations as to education, ability and industry, and the congregation will doubtless advance under his leadership. He is young, full of energy, an attractive speaker, and a gentleman of genial manners. The Herald very cordially welcomes Mr. Freeman to citizenship. He has already formed good impressions of Fredericton, and those who heard him Tuesday evening were most favorably struck with him.

MCCARTHY CONFESSES.

Dalton McCarthy M. P. in days that are gone, was one of the stoutest defenders of the Conservative party and principles, but his eyes have been opened to the dishonesty of his former course and he is making a confession. Since speaking with the conservatives he has made three important admissions. One was that the gerrymander of 1882 was scandalously unjust, and another that the Conservatives took up the protection cry in 1878, not because they believed in it particularly, but because they saw it would be popular. His third confession was made at Walkerton last week, when, in an address he said that he had been among those who had charged on the Mackenzie government the responsibility of the hard times of 1875, '76, and that he was now free to say that in that he had done injustice and wrong to Mr. Mackenzie, who was in no way to blame.

Mr. McCarthy is evidently a full convert to the liberal platform, although he has not yet cast in his lot with the party led by Mr. Laurier. He is doing well, however. He is on the penitient bench, and the rest ought to be easy enough.

THE ST. JOHN RECORD in discussing liberal prospects in New Brunswick says "there is one man in this province to whom young men are turning with unreserved confidence, and about whom they will rally with unquestioning loyalty if he will enter the field of Dominion politics, and take up for them the battle they vainly would wage for freedom of trade. There is no other man in sight, and if he fails them a supreme hour in the history of the Province is tolled off with barren results. To them the leadership of Andrew G. Blair is demanded as a political and patriotic necessity."

THE Conservatives of Sunbury and Queens are to meet in convention at Gagetown, November 8th, probably to nominate a candidate for the House of Commons, the two counties now forming one constituency. It is understood that Geo. F. Baird M. P. will not see re-election, and that R. D. Wilnot will be the party candidate in the general election.

Hon. Mr. Laurier's great political campaign in the West wound up Thursday evening by an immense banquet at Winnipeg, tendered by his admirers in that city. Three hundred gentlemen sat down with the chieftain whose address in response to the toast of his health was cheered to the echo.

THE Conservative opposition of Ontario have selected G. F. Markler of Toronto as their leader in the legislature. He is quite a common place politician, but is the best they had. Mr. Meredith's resignation has greatly crippled the party both in the legislature and in the country.

SPRINGING OF THE probable death of the Czar of Russia, Lord Rosebery, in an address at Sheffield, Thursday, said that it would mean the removal of one of the greatest, perhaps the greatest, guarantee of peace in the world.

PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENT.

Governor and Mrs. Fraser Entertained a Large Company at Farnaline Place Thursday Evening.

The Thierd Governor and Mrs. Fraser once more dispensed their well known hospitality to a large company of ladies and gentlemen, at Farnaline Place Thursday evening, and everybody present enjoyed the event. The ladies' toilettes were especially attractive; there was a program of dances with music by Hanlon's orchestra, and a splendid supper served at midnight.
