FREDERICTON, MARCH 9, 1895.

MR. GIBSON'S CANDIDATE.

Mr. Foster is billed to speak in the City Hall here next Wednesday evening, evidently having become alarmed at the wave of indignation which has swept over this constituency since his nomination was announced.

Outside of Mr. Foster's proposed treatment of his "policy," there are a number of interesting matters he may touch upon Wednesday evening.

By all means let us hear from Mr. Foster on the prohibition question, and as a kind of wind up, let him present some good and sufficient reason if he can, why this constituency should pitch to one side or the other.

THE SESSION.

The Legislature was prorogued at 11 a. m., Tuesday after a short and quiet but very useful session.

In the closing hours of the session Mr. Pitts attempted to revive the agitation to which he owes his seat in the Legislature.

INDIGNATION EVERYWHERE.

The more Mr. Foster's nomination is discussed, the more indignant are the electors of York at Mr. Gibson's attempt to unload the Finance Minister on this constituency.

The Conservative papers in the province are pointing with a considerable degree of pride and satisfaction to the fact that Mr. Gibson, the lumber and cotton king of York, is one of the strongest supporters of the Minister of Finance in the new constituency that he has sought refuge in.

It is Mr. Gibson and Marysville against the county of York, and we are very much surprised if the king of the Nashwaak wins, even with the millions of money at his command.

Mr. Foster has grown rich in the past twelve years. When he went into public life he had no means, now he holds mortgages in different parts of the province, especially in Carleton county, and is an independent man.

We nominate Mr. Gibson as chairman for Mr. Foster's meeting Wednesday night.

SOME of our Tory friends say they are bound to carry York if it costs $20 for every vote necessary.

The Sunbury and Queen's convention at Gagetown Thursday was a splendid gathering of the sturdy Liberals of that constituency, and the nomination of Mr. King, ensures victory for our party.

Nobody believes that the Newcastle Board of Trade had any idea of buying Mr. Gibson's little railway.

There would be $10,000 to carry Northumberland, $10,000 to carry York, and still a balance of $,000. Great scheme if it only carries.

Mr. Foster abandoned his prohibition principles for a cabinet office worth $8,000 a year, which is somewhat better than $10 a night!

This is not Russia, although we have an Alexander the Great.

Civic Nominations.

Nominations for the Mayoralty and Aldermanic nominations closed Monday, and the contests take place on Monday next, polls opening at 9 a. m. and closing at 4 p. m.

In King's ward Aldermen Roseborough and Babbitt were returned by acclamation; the other nominations are:

For Mayor—Wesley Vanwart and Daniel Jordan.

For Aldermen—Wellington Ward—J. Macpherson, Wm. H. Anderson and Chas. A. Tupper.

St. Ann's Ward—George Gilman, Elijah Estabrooks, George W. Adams and Fred. Quartermain.

Carleton Ward—Patrick Farrell, Israel Golding and Benj. A. Everett.

Queens Ward—L. C. Macnutt, Jim Moore, Dugald McCatherin, Joshua Limerick and Martin Lemont.

Every qualified elector has the right for the first time of voting for two candidates in each ward.

Then about that $20,000 piece of railway, which Mr. Gibson offers for sale to the Newcastle Board of Trade.

What does Mr. Foster know about that, and what relation, if any, has he to his contesting York. These are pertinent questions for Mr. Foster to discuss at the City Hall.

But we almost forgot the temperance question. We can almost hear the echo of Mr. Foster's voice, as he spoke years ago from the same platform on the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

He was for prohibition straight at that time, and we all thought that as soon as he got into parliament, he would propose a law of that kind.

But he has not done that; on the contrary, he comes back to us and says we won't see prohibition in the next fifty years.

By all means let us hear from Mr. Foster on the prohibition question, and as a kind of wind up, let him present some good and sufficient reason if he can, why this constituency should pitch to one side or the other.

He was crushed underneath and caught in the flogger car, which was attached to the train.

The train was running about fourteen miles an hour, and ran about a quarter of a mile after the accident happened.

Death had been instantaneous—the head badly cut and bruised and limbs crushed and mangled.

Deceased was a young man about 26 years of age, of a most genial and engaging disposition, and was universally esteemed by all who knew him.

The remains were taken to Woodstock on the noon train, and afterwards sent to Hampstead, Q. C., his former home, for interment.

Death of Thomas Hall.

Thomas Hall died at the residence of his son, M. S. Hall, in this city Sunday night in his 83rd year.

Deceased was born in Granville, N. S. He early exhibited talent for mechanics and put his knowledge to a practical test, being engaged in ship-building, which he followed successfully until the great crash of 1844.

Since then he was associated with his son, T. H. Hall, in the book and stationery business in St. John, where he became known by many of the older merchants who have passed away.

Five years ago he had a stroke of paralysis, from which he partly recovered; since then he has been living with his son, M. S. Hall, in this city.

He enjoyed good health until last week, when he was seized with a cold, which rapidly developed into bronchitis.

The small house in the rear of the Park Barracks, occupied by Sergt.-Maj. McKenna, was badly damaged by fire last Saturday night.

While the family were all out, a stove fell over setting the place on fire, and before it was discovered a good deal of furniture and a fine piano were destroyed.

The fire had made its way along the walls and through the roof before it was discovered.

A double roof made the fire hard to get at, and the firemen were obliged to tear off most of the upper one to get it out.

The furniture was insured for $500 and the piano for $300.

Dow Vandine, the 13 year old son of Wm. Vandine, died on Sunday morning after a few weeks' illness of hasty consumption.

At the time his mother was lying at the point of death. The remains of the little fellow were laid to rest Tuesday afternoon.

MR. KING NOMINATED

By the Liberals of Sunbury and Queens.

A Splendid Convention.

There was quite a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Liberals of Sunbury and Queens held at Gagetown Thursday, called for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the county at the next general election.

The convention was called to order shortly after 2 o'clock by Charles Burpee, ex-M. P. Mr. Ebbett was chosen secretary.

Among the gentlemen on the platform were G. F. Gregory, G. G. King, Z. R. Everett, C. E. Duffy, Benjamin Palmer, Thos. Hetherington, Charles Harrison, L. P. Ferris and T. C. Clowes.

The chairman, after stating the object of the meeting, suggested that the convention proceed at once to appoint delegates to select a candidate.

The delegates, were promptly chosen, and very soon afterwards reported to the convention that Mr. G. G. King was the unanimous choice of the delegates.

The announcement was received with loud cheers.

Mr. Burpee moved and Mr. Hetherington seconded the nomination of Mr. King. The meeting ratified the nomination which was then tendered to Mr. King.

Mr. King on rising was greeted with hearty cheers. The nomination, he said, was somewhat of a surprise to him.

He preferred that the convention had chosen some other person. Had he consulted his own feelings on the matter he would have declined the nomination, because he knew from past experience that his acceptance of it would seriously interfere with his own business.

He was satisfied that he had been the choice of the electors of Queens at the last election, and he would to-day have been standing before them as their representative had it not been for the little trick played by Messrs. Baird and Dunn.

Having accepted the nomination of the party he was now prepared to enter the fight with all the energy he possessed, being fully satisfied that the Liberals, notwithstanding that the Tories were repeating their old chestnut, that they (the Liberals) had no policy, would be triumphantly returned to power at the next election.

No better argument could be used against the government's policy than the mere statement of the fact that in his own county the population had decreased over 4000 in speaking of the government's promised subsidy to the Hudson Bay railway.

Mr. King contended that the effect of the building of that road would drive away from Halifax and St. John, the western trade which had been developed since the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in the building of which millions of money came out of the pockets of the people.

In conclusion, Mr. King asked his friends to vote for him because of the principles which he advocated, and which he believed were the correct ones, and these he believed would have the endorsement of the majority of the people of Canada when they were called upon at the general elections.

Mr. King's speech, of which the above is a mere outline, was a very able and convincing one and attracted much attention and applause. Short but vigorous addresses followed by Messrs. Geo. F. Gregory, C. E. Duffy, Z. R. Everett, of Fredericton, and Dr. McDonald, W. C. King and Mr. Palmer of Queens.

The convention closed by vigorous cheering for the Queen, Mr. King and Mr. Laurier.

Mr. King will open the campaign in Oromocto next week.

It was said that we would have too much cheese, and that there was danger of having too many factories. I have never felt any particular alarm, but I have always thought that it was better to move slowly, than to make rapid progress and have to step back again.

It is better to make success and make it sure, even if we have to be a little slow. Any move the government makes in these matters is not going to be done hastily.

We are going to get any information we can on the subject. I have to thank many of the intelligent farmers of this province for the information they have cheerfully given me in the past.

I also have to thank Prof. Robertson, a man, who as an authority on agriculture, stands preeminently above any man on the continent of America, for his assistance.

The Professor tells me that the farmers of this province are the most intelligent looking men whose faces he has looked into, in any part of Canada.

With the information we expect to get we hope to be enabled to move wisely. New Brunswick is a great country to live in; it is today one of the best countries under the sun.

I don't believe today that a man can get a better living anywhere than he can in the province of New Brunswick. We have a good soil and a hardy race of men.

I have heard a good many heads who speak the tongue of my motherland; we have good many of the Irish race; we also have descendants of loyalists, whose ancestors left their homes in New England to throw in their lot with us, and it was for them to make our country a noble country, and leave to our children a land better than it was when they found it. (Loud Applause.)

The Pedlar's Bill.

The pedlar's bill passed by the legislature provides that any ratepayer of a county who peddle in his own or an adjoining county on payment of a license fee of 50 cents in each county.

Pedlars entering other counties than those adjoining that in which they are ratepayers must pay a fee of 50 cents. Persons from other parts of Canada will be charged $30 in each county, while aliens will pay a fee of $100 in each county.

No restrictions are placed on the peddling of meat, fish, fruit, farm produce and oysters. The licenses are to be secured from the secretary of each county, and must be shown when demanded; failure to show them subjects the pedlar to a fine of $5, while a fine against a pedlar who has not taken out an license is from $10 to $30; in every case half the fine goes to the informer and half to the municipality.

Two decrees for absolute divorce were granted by Judge Vanwart Thursday. They were Watts v. Watts and Busby v. Busby.

In the latter case no defence was offered, and the evidence of Detective J. King and Annie McDermott established the evidence necessary. Judge Trueman was counsel for the plaintiff.

Mrs. Cameron, sister of Roadmaster McKay and John McKay, died last Sunday morning at the latter's residence, Forest Hill, after a protracted illness, and the funeral took place Tuesday, Rev. Willard Macdonald conducting the services.

Mrs. Brown, widow of the late John Brown, died Friday morning, aged 74 years. She was ill only one week from grippe. The funeral takes place tomorrow (Sunday) under the direction of John G. Adams.

The returning officers in the civic election Monday, will be; No. 1 district, City Hall, Alfred Turner, and W. H. Vanwart, poll clerk; No. 2, at County Court House, H. C. Ratter with D. B. Barker, as poll clerk.

Alexander Lawson the veteran editor of the Yarmouth Herald, died on Sunday last. He had the distinction of being the oldest editor in Canada, having been manager of the Herald for over sixty years.

The postponed meeting of the St. Marys Parish Sunday school association will be held at Peniac on Friday, March 16th, first session to begin at 2.30 p. m.

John Morgan, 54 years, who died Thursday, was buried at Forest Hill cemetery, John G. Adams having charge of the funeral.
