THE HERALD.

FREDERICTON, SEPTEMBER 7, 1895.

A REPORT REVIVED.

The Moncton Times, a straight Tory organ and under the inspiration of Mr. Powell, M. P. for Westmorland, revives the rumor that Hon. A. G. Blair is to be offered a judgeship, and strongly advocates his appointment. After calling attention to the incapacitated condition of the Chief Justice and noting that he is a Liberal, the Times argues that there are some good grounds for the appointment of a Liberal to succeed him, that it would be a graceful act for the Government to appoint a gentleman of that political stripe, and that the Attorney General "is admittedly an able jurist and so far as ability goes, his appointment would pass unchallenged." The Times also adds that—"against Mr. Blair's professional career, little can be said and his appointment would be viewed with pretty general favor by the bar of the province."

This is a pretty good certificate from so staunch a Tory organ as the Times, and has almost sent some of our good Tory friends in these parts into conniption fits. The Times' testimonial, however, would probably be better appreciated by the Attorney General and his friends, if they did not feel that behind Mr. Powell's graceful words there is a motive of self interest. Mr. Blair's name has often been mentioned in connexion with the Liberal nomination in Westmorland, and Mr. Powell still breathless from his recent tilt with Mr. Killam, thinks it would be a good stroke of policy to remove from the political arena a possible rival for Parliamentary honors in his county. However the Tory desire to shelve Mr. Blair on the bench is not confined to Mr. Powell and the Times. The writer a few days ago was assured by a Nova Scotia Senator that the feeling among most supporters of the Government outside of New Brunswick, is that Mr. Blair should be offered the Chief Justiceship. He said he knew at least two Maritime members of the Government, one of whom is the Minister of Justice, are anxious for the appointment to be made, and that the chief opposition came from Mr. Foster and his cousin Mr. Ezekiel McLeod, who want the position for Ezekiel. There is another view, however, which has not been fully canvassed by these gentlemen. Have they discovered whether or not Mr. Blair would accept a position on the bench, and retire from active political life? The Herald, although often referred to as Mr. Blair's personal organ, has no knowledge of the Attorney General's feelings in the matter. Some day, however, when he comes into this office, as he does about once in every fifteen years, to inspire an editorial, or possibly to dictate one, we shall put the question straight to him, and let our Tory friends know his answer. One thing there seems to be no doubt of in the Tory mind, is that Mr. Blair would be an ornament to the bench either as an ordinary judge or as Chief Justice. The rumor now so current that he will in the near future accept either position, while it has a most disquieting effect in local Tory circles, meets with the approval of the more liberal minds of the Government party. Without desiring to soothe the disturbed feelings of our Tory friends who are so panic stricken, we may venture the opinion, that it will not be long before Mr. Blair is creating judges and chief justices, rather than accepting an appointment in that line.

CIVIC AFFAIRS.

Ald. Babbitt, at the city council meeting Tuesday evening, attempted to grapple with THE HERALD'S statement regarding civic affairs, but it downed him. Ald. Babbitt is a recognized authority in financial matters, but he was not able to show how $1400 worth of asphalting can be done with a balance of some $500, which he alleges is still to the credit of the public works department of the civic machine. The fact is as THE HERALD stated. The council put down $1400 for new asphalt sidewalks in their public works assessment last spring, and have already spent nearly, if not all the money without laying a single foot of new sidewalk. That is the point which strikes the taxpayers, and especially those who had every right to expect new sidewalks past their premises this year. In connexion with this, some observations from a gentleman who is fully conversant with all the facts, have been handed THE HERALD, as follows: The chairman of the finance committee in making his monthly statement, took occasion to refer to an article in THE HERALD re the asphalting, and quoting THE HERALD'S words, "that there had been $1400 assessed for asphalting and that it had been spent and the council could not tell where it had gone," he pronounced it a false statement and injurious to the council. He then read part of a statement prepared for him by the treasurer, itemizing the expenditure on public works, which he said went to show that nearly all of the money spent on public works had been spent on asphalting. "True" he said, "it was old asphalting, but it was asphalting all the same." But the chairman did not mention that the assessment for asphalting was based on a statement of work to be done made by the roadmaster, and approved of by the council, and adopted by motion, and that in that statement was an estimate for coating the old asphalting in addition to the $1400 for new asphalting, or that at the August meeting it was discovered that there was virtually no funds for asphalting, the sum being about $150.

There is the bald fact admitted by aldermen who are quite as well posted as Ald. Babbitt. Only $150 really remains of the $1400 assessed on the taxpayers for new asphalts. The proof that no new work of any consequence is intended to be put down this year, is shown by the asphalt purchase recently made by the chairman of the road committee. The magnificent quantity of one ton was added to the two barrels left over from last year, so that the committee have less than one a half tons for work which was intended to cost $1400. The council of 1894 used 14 tons of asphalt on new sidewalks, and the council of 1893 put down sixteen tons. While THE HERALD raises no objection to Ald. Babbitt airing his knowledge of finances at the city council board, it advises that gentleman to be more careful as to his facts when he next deals with the asphalt question.

THE HERALD thinks the city council made a grave mistake in repealing that section of the market law which compelled our country friends to offer their produce for sale only in the market. There is no city the size of Fredericton anywhere but has its regularly constituted market, and its regular market days. We think it would be to the interest of both buyer and seller, and to the business men, if street hawking was entirely stopped. Those who peddle their produce around town, are only a small minority of the farmers who live near the city, and it is scarcely fair to the bulk of the class who have neither the time nor the inclination to make calls from door to door. It would be much better for all to be compelled to meet in the market in fair competition, and it certainly would be more satisfactory to the citizens of Fredericton. The council in this matter as in almost everything they have touched this year, have shown their incapacity to intelligently deal with public questions.

The citizens do not need the assurance of THE HERALD, that the present board of aldermen, with some exceptions, are a do-nothing, incompetent lot, men who went in on the cry of economy and have proved in many ways an expensive and reckless lot. They have thrown the assessment around without achieving any practical good. Indeed the council seems to be run entirely by two or these irresponsible persons whose fads are most willingly satisfied by their fellow members. The citizens are surprised that men like Ald. Babbitt and others from whom better work was expected, should be led around by aldermen whose narrow gauge opinions and general incompetence mark them as utterly unfit to transact public business.

STILL ON THE TRAMP.

The friendly manner in which Hon. Geo. E. Foster is knocking around Kings county this hot weather, gives color to the rumor that he is again seeking nomination in that county. He has been occupying his summer residence at Apohaqui, and besides seeking to recuperate from the labors of the late parliamentary session, he has been addressing tea fights and harvest festivals in various parts of the county. It is stated that Dr. Pugsley may be induced to withdraw from his candidature in Kings on the promise of a senatorship or judgeship, and that if Mr. Foster can pluck up the necessary courage he will again face the redoubtable Domville. It is certainly a humiliating position for the Finance Minister to occupy, tramping around from one constituency to another looking for some place to rest his feet. While the Conservatives of Kings were congratulating themselves that they had unloaded Mr. Foster on York, the Tories in this county give the Minister to understand that they will feel much relieved if he withdraws from his candidature in York county. The Herald sympathizes with Mr. Foster. No doubt he is possessed of a great deal of ability, which, if properly directed, would produce good results, but as a financial authority—as the business manager of Canadian affairs—he has proved a great failure. The record of three successive deficits aggregating $7,000,000, proclaims to the world Mr. Foster's unfitness for the cabinet position which he occupies, and it is no wonder he finds it difficult to secure a constituency willing to undertake the responsibility of re-electing him to parliament.

A NEW LEADER.

We observe in the Montreal Witness under flaring headlines, that "the preparations down east for the general elections are making rapid and vigorous headway, and that the agitation is being led with great zeal, determination and force by the Rev. Joseph McLeod, D. D., the prohibitionist member of the Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic." The report adds that at a recent public temperance meeting at Amherst, Rev. Dr. McLeod made a powerful and masterly address, showing the wonderful grasp of the question which he had acquired while a member of the Royal Commission. In the climax of his address he uttered the demand that prohibition be made the immediate national issue.

This information is altogether of a startling nature. It is true there was quite a breeze in prohibition circles last winter, and it blew to some extent in this constituency. The prohibitionists met to select a candidate for Ottawa and the Rev. Dr. McLeod was their choice. He declined the honor, and since that time the matter has not been prominent. We are pleased to learn however that from even so distant a source as Montreal, that Dr. McLeod is still leading the prohibition movement "down east" "with great zeal, determination and force." Hon. Mr. Foster used to be regarded as the prohibition leader, but it appears that "in a moment of weakness" he has stepped aside and made room for his distinguished cousin, whose labors on behalf of the great moral movement will never be forgotten so long as the treasury records at Ottawa are available to the public.

WANTED A RESIDENT BISHOP.

The following is in the Toronto Churchman of the 29th ult. :—

SIR,—Prince Edward Island is sadly isolated and should have a resident bishop. Bishop Courtney is willing to contribute $1000 per annum towards making P. E. I. and C. B. the nucleus of a new diocese. To this might be added Labrador, Magdelene Islands, Gaspe and part of Fredericton. In such a case I have no doubt the Bishops of Quebec and Fredericton would each contribute $500. Here you have $2000 per annum already to hand for a sadly needed diocese. This is worth discussing.

PRIEST OF NOVA SCOTIA.

Governor Chaplean of Quebec, does not seem to have much confidence in the ability of the present government to settle the Manitoba school question. At Winnipeg the other day, he told a reporter that the solution of it requires men who place principle before opportunity, and as soon as that is realized the trouble will be past, and, like all agitations, once it is settled the feeling aroused on the subject will die away.

THE city council has appointed an additional policeman at $1.25 per day, and although their action entails quite a large extra expense on the taxpayers, the services of the new officer may be made available in further preserving the peace of the city.

An excursion from Hodgton yesterday, under the auspices of the Foresters of that town, brought to Fredericton nearly four hundred people, and the Hodgton brass band. The Foresters were met at the depot by the local brethren, and at the latter's hall, speeches of welcome were delivered by Dr. J.W. Bridges, Daniel Jordan and others.

Wm. Harrison, C. E., son of Wm. Harrison of Maugerville, and nephew of Dr. Harrison, Chancellor of the University, succeeds A. G. Beckwith in the engineering department of the board of works.

MISS MARCKWALD'S SUCCESS.

A Brooklyn Lady Well Known in Fredericton Who has Made Her Mark as a Music Composer.

A recent issue of the Brooklyn, N. Y., Eagle has the following appreciative reference to the musical compositions of Miss Grace Marckwald, a lady with many friends in Fredericton, and a sister of MRS. A. G. Beckwith of this city: There are several women composers in this city, who, if they they are not all Chaminades, still write some exceedingly promising things. Composing appears to be about the last thing which the new woman is to take up, and yet it seems much more appropriate that she should sit down quietly and write a melody or song than to have her go into court and plead a case. The composers who have been unearthed in this city are young and of attractive personality. Miss Grace Marckwald, the first one to be considered, has been honored by having a selection played by Gilmore's band at Manhattan Beach, by Sousa's orchestra at Madison square, by Reeves' musicians on their travels, and Victor Herbert and Fohs have signified their intention of performing this favorite selection later on. A cornet solo, entitled a Request and the Reply," has been played by Mygrants, Herbert L. Clark and other popular cornetists. Miss Marckwald belongs to one of the old families of the city; on her father's side she is German, and on her mother's Scotch. Mr. Frank Marckwald, the tenor who has sung in many prominent churches, both here and in New York, is her brother. The young woman composer was found in one of the spacious old houses near the heights, engaged in the pleasurable occupation of writing a part song. Sheets of manuscript music were scattered over her desk. Arrangements had been made for her to go to Paris this summer and study composition with Guilmant, but she decided not to leave her mother, whose health is not robust, and as long as there is a man like Dvorak to study with in America Miss Marckwald feels that she can obtain the training she desires much nearer home. The cornet solo before alluded to has been the subject of much praise, one orchestral leader having told the composer that it was one of the daintiest bits of melody he had ever directed. An Easter anthem, written by Miss Marckward some months since, was sung in San Francisco, Sacramento, Fargo and parts of Canada, also in this city in the Reformed Church on the Heights, South Congregational, Grace Methodist, St. Peter's and Reformed church on the Bedford avenue, the first Easter after it was written. It contains some graceful melodies, and shows what the author can do in sacred music. The "Helmsman," a bass song, is a good descriptive effect and reveals strength of handling. "The Old Mill" and the "Silent Land," two songs in lighter vein, are also from Miss Marckwald's pen. An impromptu for piano, dedicated to H. E. Benedict, is another bit of her writing. At present she is at work upon a part song; a piano solo, dainty and fetching, will soon appear. As an enthusiastic, ambitious writer, with high and earnest aims, Miss Marckwald must certainly be classed, and it will not be surprising if she becomes prominent as a composer.

A Base Ball Accident.

A regrettable accident occurred in the 7th inning of yesterday's base ball match, here between the Tartars and Houltons. Young Glidden of the Houlton's in running for home plate, collided violently with Doran, the Fredericton catcher. He attempted to slide under Doran and his left side came in contact with Doran's knees. The accident was considered slight at first, but Glidden shortly afterwards complained of great pain. Dr. Coburn was called, and found no bones broken, but concluded that the bruise was severe. He administered morphine to ease the pain, and had the unfortunate young fellow conveyed to the Barker House. During the evening Glidden suffered great pain, and the Doctor thought he might be injured internally. However, he is resting easier today and no serious results are now feared. One of Glidden's Houlton friends remained over with him and he is receiving every attention from Dr. Coburn, Mr. Coleman and other friends. No blame can be attached to Doran for the accident. He was simply playing the game to shut Glidden off from scoring the run.

Money Letters Missing.

Quite a sensation has been caused in Fredericton banking circles by the disappearance recently of three money letters containing, it is said, in the vicinity of $4,000. One was sent to the bank of N. S. from Cross Creek two or three weeks ago, and contained $125. It never reached its destination, and P. O. Inspector King is investigating. The other two were sent to the bank of B. N. A. here from St. John and Montreal, the former containing nearly $3,000 in bonds and coupons. Neither has turned up yet, and the theory is advanced that they may have been stolen by some outside person from the Fredericton post office, the lock boxes of which are in a very insecure condition. The most searching investigation is to be made, but no definite clue has yet been reached.

De Rothschild's banking house in Paris was the scene Thursday of another anarchistic attempt. At 4.20 o'clock a detective, who was on guard in the vestibule saw a stranger trying to light the fuse of a bomb with a cigarette. The man seeing he was observed threw the bomb upon the carpeted floor. It did not explode and the man was arrested. At the police station he boldly avowed himself an anarchist. He made a desperate attempt to use a razor before he was overpowered by the detective and a policeman who had come to his assistance.

MANITOBA'S NEW GOVERNOR.

Hon. J. C. Patterson was sworn in as Lieut. Gov. of Manitoba at the Privy Council Department, Ottawa, Monday. The new governor was born at Armagh, Ireland, in 1839, and was educated in Dublin. He was first returned to parliament for the north riding of Essex in the local legislature of Ontario at the general election in January, 1875. He resigned his seat in the local house to contest the county for the Commons at the general election of 1878. He was an unsuccessful candidate for his old constituency in the general election of 1891; but when Malcolm Colin Cameron, the Liberal member for West Huron, was unseated for bribery by agents, Mr. Patterson took the field and won for the Conservative party. He was appointed Minister of Militia December 5, 1892, in Sir John Thompson's cabinet, and accepted the same portfolio in Sir Mackenzie Bowell's government, but afterwards resigned, being succeeded by Hon. A. R. Dickey.

SWIMMERS STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

At Stamford, Conn., Sunday, John Whowell, foreman in the Blickensderfer typewriter factory, took a sail in his catboat during the afternoon with his assistant foreman, Samuel A. Searle, the latter's son, Samuel, aged 9, and Willie and Burrett, aged 5 and 12. They went bathing on Greenwich Point beach, and then went in the boat, letting it drift 400 feet from the shore. The boat capsized in a squall at 6 p. m., but the party clung to her side.

Soon Searle proposed going ashore to get another boat and right their craft. He started to swim, taking his son on his back, with the latter's arms clasped about his father's neck. The others saw them start; then a vivid flash of lightning came, and when they looked again, at another flash, the man and boy were not visible. Whowell swam ashore and saw the bodies of Searle and his son floating near the beach. Doctors and men on shore tried until near midnight to resuscitate them, but without avail. Marks on Searle's breast lead to the belief that he was struck by lightning. He was a good swimmer and could wade ashore within 200 feet of the boat.
