Weddell, M. Lemont, A. McNeil, R. E. Bagnell, Judge Vanwart, G. F. Atherton, Dr. Harrison, J. S. Beck and A. D. Thomas. The building committee reported that the building now occupied by the Reporter office could be secured for $250 per year and would be suitable, but no definite action was taken. The directors met shortly to name officers for the Association.

The Herald sincerely regrets to record the death of Mrs. Arthur G. Thomas, which occurred at her home on Charlotte street at 4 o'clock Tuesday morning. The deceased, who before her marriage with Mr. Thomas, was Miss Emma MacKinnon of St. John, was a most estimable lady, and her early death is a great shock to her friends. She has been in delicate health for some months from consumption, to which she finally succumbed. She leaves one child between one and two years old. The funeral takes place tomorrow afternoon at services at 2 o'clock at 299 St. John.

Miss Crow's travel talk attracted a large audience to the old Kirk Monday evening, and the entertainment proved most interesting throughout. Her subject was "Through Europe with a Camera," and her description of the many points visited was illustrated by beautiful pictures thrown on a certain eight feet square. During the evening Miss Crow sang a couple of songs, showing a well trained voice and adding to the interest of the evening. She sails from New York July 6th with one of Gaze & Sons excursion parties, and it is probable will be accompanied by one or more persons from this city.

The Freemasons spent a couple of pleasant evenings together this week, and enjoyed the honor of a visit from their grand master, Dr. Thos. Walker, of St. John. On Monday evening the grand master paid an official visit to Alexandria lodge at Marysville and was accompanied by about thirty members of Hiram lodge. After the exercises there, the Marysville brethren entertained their visitors very hospitably. Dr. Walker visited Hiram lodge Tuesday evening, and afterwards was entertained to a very pleasant dinner at the Barker House by the two lodges, the brethren turning out in large numbers to honor their popular chief.

Strong Team at Gagetown. (Fredericton Gleaser, Nov. 14, 1885.) Davies of P. E. Island, Fielding of Nova Scotia, and Blair of New Brunswick make a strong team, and if their services could be secured by the people as members of parliament, the maritime provinces would come to the front at Ottawa. The comprehensive and able report of the grand master in which these gentlemen discussed public questions at Gagetown produced a profound impression upon the Conservatives present.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

A Very Quiet Affair and Not Much Business Up.

Those who anticipated a lively meeting of the City Council, Tuesday evening, were disappointed. All the business was through before 9 o'clock, and the gathering was as quiet as a funeral. Mayor VanWart was in the chair and all the aldermen were present, the new members appearing on their Sunday best. The attendance of spectators was large.

After the standing committee and chairman there had been confirmed, as already published in THE HERALD, Auditor McMurray's monthly report was submitted and the following sums voted:

Roads and streets.....$300.35 Public works.....6.00 City.....10.50 Fire.....16.85 Contingencies.....16.00 Sewerage and water.....174.45

On motion of Ald. Golding the market committee were authorized to sell the feet and tolls of the market as usual, and the wharf committee were authorized to dispose of the wharfage and anchors for the current year.

A letter from Harry White offering to put the fire alarm on St. Dunstan's church in order for $30, was referred to the fire committee with power to act.

Mayor VanWart read a petition from the bicycling and boating club asking for a lease of the land fronting on the river below the land occupied by D. F. George, and extending down river 100 feet for the term of years.

The petition was signed by A. H. F. Randolph, Willard Kitchen, J. R. Howie, R. F. Randolph, A. R. Wetmore, Geo. A. Hughes, J. P. McMurray, G. W. Hogg, C. F. Chest, T. C. Allen, T. B. Winslow, and others.

His worship also read a petition from Bishop Kingston, Governor Fraser, J. L. Inches, F. S. Hilyard, Wm. Jennings, Jas. Crangle, Spencer Inch, Geo. Hatt, Geo. E. Howard, F. B. Coleman, H. A. Cropley, W. G. Gregory, T. B. Winslow, Andrew Inches, T. G. Loggie, L. W. Bailey, and others, praying that the lease now held by D. F. George on the bank of the river, in front of the Parliament Buildings, be renewed.

Both petitions were referred to a committee consisting of the whole council, and will be heard on Monday evening.

Ald. Anderson was appointed to the vacancy on the Board of Health caused by the death of Jos. Vandine.

Wm. McLaughlin's petition for relief from taxes was referred to the assessment appeal committee, and a petition from residents of College road asking for the extension of Union street to Sunbury street, went to the road committee who have power to act.

The following resolution, moved by Ald. Limerick, passed after a short discussion: Whereas, last year's assessment for the different departments was largely overestimated, thus causing quite a large overdraft on the city bank account; and whereas the present council in making up the assessment for the present year have taken into consideration ways and means of paying the same, and a large portion of the debt thus contracted;

Resolved, that this council, after the appropriation for each or any of the departments shall have been expended, shall suspend further work.

Adjourned.

The N. P. Not Necessary. (Fredericton Gleaser, Sept. 3, 1885.) The only new industry which the St. John Herald could speak favorably of the Marysville cotton mill, and this he considers "exceptional" because Mr. Gibson is "an extraordinary man."

Mr. Stockton had added that Mr. Gibson does not consider the N. P. necessary to the prosperity of his cotton business, but he believes that he can manufacture cotton and hold his own against all comers in a fair field. [And yet the people of York are told that without the high protection tariff of the Tories the Marysville cotton mill would not have been erected.—Ed. Herald.]

The Water Department. (Fredericton Gleaser, Oct. 29, 1885.) To THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD: Sir,—As the present city council have commenced the year with the intention of reforming the expenditure in the several departments it is desirable they should give special attention to the Water Department as it without doubt is run the most reckless and extravagant of any. Whether the fault has been that of the committee or department, I am not in a position to state, but evidently there is room for improvement. Some people say the committee have only been a matter of form, as the Superintendent acts generally on his own judgment in main, but I do not believe that to be true, regardless of the opinions of those comprising the committee, or council either, for that matter. If this is true, I think it is time in the best interests of the city, that he should be given to understand, if not by the council then by the people, that the Water Works belong to the citizens, and must be run in their interest. Some time in the near future I will refer in detail to the extravagance above mentioned. Meantime it will be hoped the council will see it that the department is managed in accordance with the best judgment of the committee and aldermen generally.

Yours truly, C. FITZGERALD. Fredericton, April 5th, 1885.

Arrested for Theft. The city had a fair sized sensation Wednesday evening when it was learned that the store of H. C. Jewett's, had been placed under arrest on a charge of stealing from H. C. Jewett's grocery store. It appears that the members of the firm of Thompson & Cox have not been getting along smoothly, and Tuesday morning when Thompson went to the shop to get a box of tools, Cox and he had a lively row. As a result, Thompson, it is alleged, who with Cox and his family live over Jewett's store, went to Jewett and told him that Cox had been stealing from him (Jewett's) place of business. Jewett at once made information before the Police Magistrate, and Cox was arrested Wednesday night but was afterwards released on bail furnished by R. T. Mack and J. C. Miller. The matter was called in the Police Court Thursday morning, and Cox was on hand but neither Jewett or Thompson appeared to prosecute. Jewett's counsel, J. W. McCready, announcing that the trouble had been settled out of court. This did not seem to please Judge Marsh who postponed the case till Thursday next, when it is understood Jewett will be compelled to appear and give evidence.

Turn the Rascals Out. (Fredericton Gleaser, Oct. 13, 1884.) The Tories should be ousted because of their corruptness. They should no longer be trusted with the management of affairs, because of their extravagance. They say the Liberals have no policy. But the Liberals have a policy—the policy of honesty, equal rights, of economy and reform. To dismiss those who have shown themselves unworthy, and place in power men whose records are unimpeachable, is a sufficient issue for the constituencies to pronounce upon.

Notice. The success attending the exhibition and sale of New Dress Goods, Jackets and Capes at Tennant, Davies & Co., has been so satisfactory that they have decided to continue the sale at special prices during next week. The general verdict is that there never was shown in Fredericton such handsome lines of dress goods and at such moderate prices.

The funeral of the late C. S. Ingraham from the Queen Hotel Sunday afternoon was one of the largest seen in this city for a long time. Services were conducted by Rev. J. D. Freeman, the floral tributes were beautiful, and the mourners included many members of Hiram and Alexandria lodges of Freemasons.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Five Young Bloods Under Arrest for Assault and Attempted Robbery.

Preliminary Examination Commenced.

A Russian Jew, named Isaac Samet, and his wife, were the victims of a serious assault at the hands of five young men Tuesday night, and they also attempted to rob him of a large sum of money which he had in his pocket at the time. Samet has been a pedlar, but now keeps a little shop on King street. Tuesday evening Samet appeared at the police office in a bruised and bleeding condition, and told a startling story. He said that about nine o'clock five young men came into his shop, two of whom came to one side where he was standing, while the other three ranged themselves along the opposite counter. One of the visitors first asked him to buy a suit of clothes. He said no, he had goods to sell, not to buy. Then they began to banter about the price of something else, and to contradict and swear at him, when the boy called out that the parties at his counter were taking things. This brought Samet's wife out, and no sooner did she appear than one of the men seized a chair and struck her twice on the head, knocking her down. He ran to his wife's help, but was seized, knocked down and dragged into the street by three of the men. Here he was kicked and pounded, while they did their best to get his pocket book out of his pants pocket. Samet, however, made no intention of giving up his money, and held on firmly until the uproar attracted some neighbors and the robbers ran off. Their names were taken by parties who saw them and given to Samet. They are Harry Finnimore, John Brady, James Slavin, Frank Slavin and Herbert Downey. They are all young men and belong to the city. They were at once arrested, and on being arraigned before Col. Marsh Wednesday morning, were charged with assault with intent to commit robbery. J. W. McCready, appeared as counsel for Samet, and the prisoners were remanded until Friday morning for examination.

At the Police Court. The preliminary examination commenced yesterday before Colonel Marsh. J. W. McCready appeared for the prosecution and Geo. A. Hughes for the Slavin, Chas. E. Duffy for Finnimore, and Brady and Downey were unrepresented by counsel. Isaac Samet was the first witness. He said he kept a store on King street and sold dry goods and lived in the same building; had five children, and was now in the city. He was home Tuesday evening last; was in the back room in the evening about 9.30, when he heard the door bell ring. He went out into the shop and saw five boys coming in the door; they were five in number. Two came to the dry goods counter and the other three went to a stand where he kept small articles displayed. He identified the prisoners in court, the five boys who had entered his shop, Finnimore and Brady were the two who came to the dry goods counter, and Downey and the two Slavins went to the stand where he kept the small articles, and Brady asked him if he wanted to buy a watch chain. He replied that he did not buy goods at night. Finnimore said "you are a—, you must buy." With that the five boys who were the other men were observed them handling the goods, and he called to his boy to come and look after them. The boy came in and called out "Papa come here I am scared." Samet went to the shop and as she came in Finnimore took a chair and struck her twice on the side and she fell down from the effects of the blow and began to cry. Witness attempted to go to her help, and Brady tried to stop him. Witness jumped over the counter and took the chair from Finnimore and asked him what he was doing. Finnimore struck him twice in the face and four times caught hold of him and carried him out into the street and laid him down in the snow, the fifth holding him down. Witness had one hand in the pocket where the money was, and he saw Finnimore strike him and take it out of his pocket. Finnimore then tried to get his hand into witness's drawers and witness began to call "police." The neighbors began to come and Finnimore withdrew his hand and four of the men left. Witness caught hold of Finnimore's leg and tried to hold him, but he was too strong for him, and he held his pocket-book had been torn in the fracas, and exhibited the blood spots on his shirt. The witness stated to the court that someone had been in the shop and had taken the money, and he was not settling the case but the testimony was not admitted. On being shown a purse which was found on one of the prisoners witness said he had similar ones in his shop. Cross-examined by the defence, he kept store in Fredericton since last July and previous to that had been a pedlar and had lived in St. Marys. When he came in the shop that night prisoners were all inside and the door was shut. The witness tried to buy the chain, Brady asked the price of a binder. When witness jumped over the counter and took the chair away from Finnimore, Brady did not try to stop him. He was kind of stunned and could not tell all that went on in the shop exactly. He was exerting all his force to save his money. When witness called police, the men left. He held Finnimore by the leg for two or three minutes, still keeping one hand on his money.

By G. A. Hughes—No person was in the shop when prisoners came in. Never saw prisoners before or know them, but he would further talk to them than have already stated; the Slavin boys said nothing to me; they were handling the goods at the stand; I saw pick them up and look at them like any customer would; they made no noise; he would swear that all the five took hold of him and carried him out in the street; could not say who had hold of his arms; four took him out, and one held the door; they took him out in the snowband had the money in his pocket when prisoners came in; always kept it there; did not see him for it, and did not say anything about money. Finnimore and Brady were the only two who struck him.

To prisoner Downey, witness stated that he did not order prisoners out of the shop, and he saw Downey have hold of him by the leg. There was another Jew in the shop when prisoners came in, but he left by the back way as soon as the trouble commenced.

In the afternoon, George Mackey, who keeps a barber shop on King street, next door to Samet's, gave testimony as to hearing the noise and finding Samet in the snow outside. Other witnesses examined were John McLaughlin and Morris Samet, latter an elderly son of Isaac Samet. The two were exceedingly bright little chaps, who attend the York street school, corroborated the father's testimony.

The Police magistrate remanded the prisoners until Monday at 11 o'clock, when the case will be resumed.

A Renegade Liberal. (Fredericton Gleaser, Dec. 28, 1885.) Our advisers are to the effect that Mr. Donville is making things very warm for the new Minister of Marine and Fisheries. Mr. Foster is about as unfitted for his position as any one could be, and his appointment is really a slap in the face of all the New Brunswick Tories. He is a renegade Liberal and would have stuck to his old party if there had been any money in his side going.

Governor Fraser has been confined to his residence this week by a severe cold, but is now improving.

TRAPS! TRAPS! TRAPS!

JUST RECEIVED: MY SPRING STOCK OF BEAR, OTTER, BEAVER, FOX AND MINK TRAPS.

JAMES S. NEILL.

The Rev. Sellar Suppressed. Next to the Rev. A. F. Thompson, in the Bathurst school agitation, is the Rev. Jos. Sellar, who is not unknown in these parts, having at one time been the Methodist pastor at Gibson. It appears that Mr. Sellar is still "agitating," but, unfortunately, he chose the wrong place for his tirade on Sunday last. We quote from the Chatham World, a newspaper in straight opposition to the local government. It says, under the heading "A Kicker at Large:"

It was somewhat startling when Mr. Sellar, who occupied the St. Luke's pulpit Sunday evening, launched out into a tirade against "popery." It was distasteful to every person of sense in the congregation. The chairman quietly but firmly reminded him that the meeting was not for the consideration of the Bathurst and Manitoba School difficulties. We hope the rebuke will have a lasting effect. Mr. Sellar, the chairman of the American protest who insulted the patriotism and common sense of a Winnipeg congregation, the other day, by an attack on Great Britain and Protestantism, ought to be labelled and turned out to grass. Neither of them is fit to preach the Gospel. We don't wonder that Bathurst has a school difficulty if Rev. Mr. Sellar is a fair specimen of the occupants of his pulpits.

The N. P. a Corps. (Fredericton Gleaser, Nov. 19, 1885.) The N. P., as a promoter of prosperity, is as dead as Julius Caesar.

THE NEW DOMINION ballot to be used for the first time in the approaching by-elections has the distinctive feature that the printing of the name of the candidate is in colors; the space where the voter's mark goes is a colored square with a centre piece of white paper in which the cross is placed. Mr. Durocher, the Ottawa inventor, received $2,000 from the government for his patent.

Free Trade or Reciprocity. (Fredericton Gleaser, Oct. 13, 1885.) Day by day makes us firmer in the opinion that without free trade or a broad system of reciprocity with the United States the Maritime provinces will never enjoy a full measure of prosperity.

James Hall's house with all its contents at Lower Cavalry, was destroyed by fire on Monday night, the members of the family were absent from home. He had no insurance.
