

RAW HATS. Reduction from Former Prices. Weekly Herald. SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 7. EDITORIAL NOTES.

Boston has contributed the magnificent sum of $25,000 towards the relief of the sufferers by yellow fever in the South.

The Government have not as yet succeeded in securing a candidate for Montreal, and the Opposition will probably elect three candidates by acclamation.

Could not the whole of the iron work or our public buildings be manufactured in this city instead of having a small quantity made here and the balance in the United States?

General Donville having consented to be put in nomination to represent Albert County in the Dominion Parliament, has entered into the canvass with a determination that angars well for success.

It is said that 648 letters from Catholic Journalists throughout Europe have been received at Rome stating their intention to take part in a press pilgrimage to the feet of the Pontiff on the anniversary of his exaltation.

Mr. Tilley ought not to be returned to House of Commons, say Messrs. Mackenzie, Burpee, and Smith, but they were quite ready to give him the Lieutenant-Governorship of New Brunswick for a second term.

It was rumored on the streets yesterday that one of our manufacturers, who had the contract for the iron work in the new Post Office, had received positive information that such work was being done in the United States, and that in consequence he had gone into active opposition.

Dr. Tupper and Hon. James McDonald arrived in Charlottetown on Tuesday evening last and were accompanied by a large number of friends. Upwards of ten thousand people were assembled on the wharf. They also received a very hearty reception in Summerside.

Complaint has been made to us of the anonymous attacks of a number of people of Church street are being made by a school young man who compares them and all on the doorsteps and insult people passing by their indecent language.

The Boston Globe says that the leading manufacturers of New York and other cities have been giving more attention to the business outlook, and not only in the United States, but in many other countries.

It is stated that the Hon. P. E. Landry called upon Sir Albert Smith in his office and informed him of his intention of withdrawing from the contest by resignation.

The Court of Session in France has just delivered a most admirable and logical decision on a matter of great importance.

It is often stated from the public platform and in the press that the policy of the Opposition is to raise the price of the poor man's loaf, that it is well to keep Mr. Mackenzie's opinion prominently to the front.

Mr. Palmer is meeting with every assurance of support from all classes of our people. There is no reason why he should not be elected.

At a picnic held at Cape Barr, Westmorland County, by the Catholics, Mr. Smith and Mr. Chapman were present.

Mr. Tilley met with a serious accident while being driven to a meeting of the Liberal Conservatives in Fairville on Monday evening last.

The great Reform party in this city made a desperate effort to attract a large audience to City Hall, Carleton, last evening. In addition to the usual amount of advertising by hand bills, circulars, editorial notices in the Government papers, etc., work was sent to the various Committees in the city and Portland to attend the meeting in order to make as strong a numerical appearance as possible.

We understand that one of the paid speakers of the Reform party admitted in a round about way that the Opposition would be likely to carry one of the seats either in the city or county.

At the conclusion of the Hon. Mr. Adams' speech at a public meeting in Newcastle on Wednesday evening last, he said he believed Mr. Mitchell's election was certain in spite of the slanders and misrepresentations sent forth broadcast against him.

Another evidence of the insanity of American Statesmen in adhering to this absurd and ruinous policy of protection is furnished by the ex-Premier of England, Mr. Gladstone.

A TAX ON FLOUR WILL NOT RAISE THE PRICE.

It is often stated from the public platform and in the press that the policy of the Opposition is to raise the price of the poor man's loaf, that it is well to keep Mr. Mackenzie's opinion prominently to the front.

Now then, we ask Mr. Mackenzie's followers to look to their leader and not to any doctrines which he expounds.

PROTECTION.

We ask our contemporaries who arouse the habit of illustrating what they propose to do for the benefit of a protective policy, by pointing to the depression existing in the United States, if they consider they are acting honestly in their trying to impose on the credulity of their readers?

THE SITUATION.

The situation of the two political parties from end to end of the Dominion, is daily becoming more interesting.

When we look at the position of the Liberal Conservatives in Fairville on Monday evening last, the carriage collided with a sloven, throwing him and the driver, Mr. Amato, to the ground.

SOME IMPORTANT QUESTIONS FOR THE HON. MR. BURPEE TO ANSWER.

As questions are the order of the day, perhaps it would not be out of place if we asked a few—

Did you or did you not, Mr. Burpee, after the downfall of the Mackenzie Government, state to Mr. Mackenzie that if he took Mr. Angus into the Cabinet you and your followers would go into Opposition?

Did you not go even further than this and assert that you would support the Government of which Mr. Angus was a member?

Did you not agree to run the election in 1874 with Mr. Jones and promise him that all you could do to secure his election as well as your own?

Did you not, after having by these promises induced this truly honorable gentleman to come before the electors of this constituency, basely betray him and instruct your confidants to drop his name from the ticket?

And when the then editor of the Globe, Mr. John Y. Ellis—becoming disgusted at your double dealing and ungentlemanly treatment of Mr. Jones, which caused that gentleman to retire—came before the people as a supporter of the Government, did you not repudiate him and refuse to render him any assistance whatever?

As a leading Reformer, was not Mr. Ellis entitled to whatever aid you could give him? Were not the services of that gentleman to the party from which you obtained your position of such a nature as to entitle him to some consideration and political gratitude on your hands?

Did you not, in spite of the opposition that Mr. Devereb and all the influence that several old, tried and true Reformers could bring to bear on you, appoint a man to office in this city who was an avowed opponent of the present administration and indeed the chosen member of a caucus held to select a candidate to run this city in opposition to Mr. Devereb in 1874, although the gentleman that Mr. Devereb desired to get the position for was always known as a consistent supporter of Mr. Mackenzie and his followers?

When we asked your reasons for persisting in making this appointment did you not have two answers to suit our inquiries? When a Catholic asked you why you refused to consent to Mr. Campbell's appointment you did not say it was because Mr. Campbell did not vote for you while Mr. Rowan did? When a Protestant asked you the same question did you not say "we have enough Micks in positions?"

Other questions suggest themselves but salva specie at least for the present.
