The Railway machine shops Moncton, are lighted with gas.

The Choir of St. Peter's Church, Portland, was complimented on their good singing by Rev. Father Collette last Sunday.

PROPERTY SALE.—On Tuesday, Messrs. Logan & Lindsay purchased at auction for $500, Mr. Daniel Morris' leasehold lot at Fairville.

PORTLAND TOWN COUNCIL will not send a delegate to present an address to the Marquis of Lorne and the Princess Louise on their arrival at Halifax.

CARLETON.—On the King Square, Saturday night, some mischievous person poured kerosene oil on a dog belonging to Mrs. Vernon, and set it on fire.

FALLING OF A WALL.—On Tuesday morning, a brick wall of one of Mr. S. K. Foster's buildings, George street, fell, being undermined by the cutting away of the street.

NOT FURNISHED.—The body of the young man, Riley, drowned in the Falls last week, has not yet been found, although grappling operators have been carried on when the tide would permit.

THE BAZAR for the ladies of the St. Dunstan's Church, Fredericton, will not be held until February. They hope by postponing it until then to make a larger display of fancy articles.

THE INQUEST held on the body of Henry Cunningham, a well known Sunday character who died in the Hospital on Saturday last, was finished at the Dead House on Tuesday afternoon.

FIRE.—Mr. Robt. McCampbell's house, Calais, was destroyed by fire on Sunday afternoon. There was a slight fire on the roof of the building of the Lunatic Asylum about noon, Thursday.

A VERDICT of guilty was returned against Mary Ann Walsh charged at St. Andrew's with the birth of her child. The judge sentenced her to twelve months imprisonment in the common jail to be kept at such work as the sheriff may think proper.

VERY FUNNY.—Newspaper reporting is a very funny amusement. If you give a man a 4000 puff, he never sees or mentions it; but let one line against him appear, and he sees it almost before the paper is off the press, and spends two days abusing you.—Halifax Herald.

ACCIDENT TO A SCHOONER.—On Monday evening, the Sch. "Digby," lying at the Victoria slip and loaded with flour, lime, and soap, careened over on her side while the tide was out. When the tide rose again the vessel was righted, but part of her cargo was destroyed by water.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.—Godey's Ladies Book for December has been received. It is a good number and is for sale on Mr. T. H. Hall's counter. The Rose-Belford Magazine for November has come to hand, and is a very creditable number to all interested in its publications.

REUNION.—On Monday Mr. McKane's horse ran away on Mill street, throwing the occupants of the carriage out into the mud and breaking the shafts. A horse belonging to a Mr. Reed, ran away on Prince William street, Tuesday evening, and stumbling, fell and broke the shafts.

LECTURE ON "IRELAND."—The lecture on the literature and music of Ireland delivered, by Mr. Thos. O'Reilly, of Carleton, under the auspices of St. Malachi's T. A. E. Society, last Sunday evening, is pronounced by all who heard it, as one of the most able and instructive efforts which that gentleman has yet delivered.

ACCIDENTS.—A man named McIntyre was injured by falling from a scaffolding on the Douglas Road, Portland, Saturday last. Mr. Elias Godine, of Kingsclear, York Co., had his leg broken recently by a kick from a horse. Mr. Robt. O'Brien, of Moncton, was nearly suffocated by tea while engaged at a gas pipe, Wednesday noon.

CHASE AND ARREST.—On Monday night John O'Shaughnessy chased his father-in-law, a Mr. Beresford, about the back streets of Indian town, until he caught him. He then "hammered" him without mercy and threatened to "tear his liver out." However, this was not accomplished, some parties interfering in the old man's behalf.

BURGALARY.—Mr. Brundage's store, St. James street, was entered by burglars early Tuesday morning and a quantity of goods stolen. Mr. Hunter's grocery store, corner of Duke and Sydney streets, was broken into by the other night and some pork stolen. On Tuesday night, Andrew Morris' store, Fairville, was broken into and some tobacco and money stolen.

DIRTY BEER.—We saw a specimen of beer in the country market this week that appears to be roughly handled. We think if the slaughter house commissioners would take a walk through the market occasionally they would find that the butchers' meat, notwithstanding all that has been said and written about it lately, was never so muddy looking as that we saw.

MURDER TRIAL.—On Tuesday the McCarthy murder trial was commenced again at Dorchester. It is generally believed that this trial will not be so tedious as the former one.

THE TRIAL of Thos. Dowd and Mrs. Ward for the murder of Thos. E. Ward, commenced at St. Andrew's yesterday. Dowd declares himself "not guilty before God and man."

A TROUBLE-SOME MATE.—On Thursday afternoon the second mate of Mr. Hudock's bark, the "Orontes," got drunk and refused to go to sea, and while the vessel was lying at Walker's wharf, left her. Policemen were sent for and he was soon escorted back to the cabin. Shortly afterwards, while the vessel was being towed out, the mate broke open the cabin door and wanted to be put ashore. Becoming unmanageable, it was decided to put him in irons before the vessel sailed.

ROBBERY.—On Monday afternoon some roughs battered one another outside a Brunswick street saloon until a policeman appeared.

ed when the gang separated. On Tuesday morning at an early hour, Geo. Moore, Thos. Kolston and Thos. McGivern, were drunk and kicking up a "shindy" in the cabin of a wooden boat lying at Lower Cove slip. A crowd gathered to the station with difficulty. A crowd gathered to the police and tried to take them out of the policeman's hands but failed. They were sent over to the Penitentiary for two months.

How THEY LOOK.—Says the Sackville Post: "Mrs. Osborne wears the inevitable gold spectacles. Her full cheeks have, in confinement, lost nothing of their rosy glow. Eliza Osborne looks much the same as at the last trial before she was exhausted by its cruel delusions, but lines and marks show themselves around her eyes and forehead. Harry Osborne has evidently not been distressed in jail; he has a full, well-fed look and glances boldly and there over the court room into the spectators.

LOST HIS VALUE AND STOCK.—A phenologist named Dr. Rolands made complaint at the City Police Court, Thursday, that while driving through the city the previous evening in search of a hotel, by a coachman named Whelan, he had lost a valise containing a sum of money and some valuable articles. Not being able to find the valise, he went to the hotel where he was staying, but found it there. He then went to the city station, where he demanded his coat in payment of each hire. The truth of his statement appears to be doubted as he was picked up drunk and having the money to pay his fine, he was sent to jail for five days.

THEFT.—On Tuesday night a thief entered Mr. McLaughlin's bakery store, foot of Waterloo street, and made away with a sum of money out of the till. A young man named McKenna was seized for the theft and while being marched to the station he unbuttoned his coat and by some means worked himself out of it and ran away. The money was found in one of the pockets of the coat. On Wednesday night Mr. John Laroche, corner of Adelaide Road and Metcalfe street, Indian town, was entered by a thief and a roll of carpet stolen. A barrel of beef, a tub of butter and a bucket of water were also stolen. A buck-bottle of Hamilton's Quinine Wine and Iron was taken from Sam Orr's woodshed, Indian town Road, Wednesday night.

SPORTING NOTES.—The aquatic joke of the Turf, Field and Farm is authorized for the statement that: "A retired tear taken from the cheek of a sporting man, who lost his money on the Hanlan-Courtesy race, is in possession of an Ogdensburg (N. Y.) chronicler."

Following the Astley walking tournament for the championship of England recently, which William Corkery won, reports are current that Corkery will challenge O'Leary for the "Go-as-you-please" belt, and that O'Leary will challenge Corkery for the belt of England, neither man caring to divide the honors with the other. Corkery walked 521 miles in 24 hours short of six days. He was born in Ekeahall Green, London, in 1833. He stands 5 feet 4 inches high, and has several short distance races. In the "Go-as-you-please" race, last March, when O'Leary won the world's belt, Corkery covered 332 miles. The first 24 hours he made 113 miles and one lap, or four miles, 360 yards less than O'Leary, while at the termination of 48 hours the latter was 260 miles to Corkery's 190.

Assault on bicyclists are severely punished in the English courts, the heaviest sentence yet imposed being one of seven years' penal servitude, which a navy recruit for knocking a bicyclist from his saddle, and then assaulting him and trying to steal his watch, on the Bath road.

On Tuesday night, Mr. Jas. Golden, horse trainer, of Mystic Park, Boston, was entertained at the Clairmont House, Torreyburn, by a number of our citizens.

Howard, the winner of a retired English horse race is hatched against Hanlan for a row over the Tyme course, next May for $1,000 a side.

Wallace Ross has left for England in the bark (Aaklow).
