LOCAL NEWS.

THE American boat due on Saturday did not arrive until yesterday morning.

BEATEN.—John Boyle and Geo. Britt were beaten by a gang of Sheriff street rowdies, Saturday night.

John Burke is also at the same station for creating disturbances in his father's house City Road, Saturday night.

FEVER FUND.—The employes of the London House have contributed $55 towards the relief of the Southern sufferers.

WORK will, it is expected, be resumed to day in Shives' mill, Straight Shore. The mill has been down quite a while.

A few rounds were also fought in Lynch's shipyard by a couple of young men living in the vicinity of the Long Wharf.

CRUELTY TO A HORSE.—The police have reported Michael Doyle for cruelly using his horse on Water street last Friday evening.

FAST DAYS.—Wednesday, Friday and Saturday next being the Ember days of September, will be fast days of obligation in the Catholic Church.

POLICE NOTES.—There were eleven prisoners in the city station last night. Two of them were women.

The Portland police captured seven.

ST. PETER'S T. A. R. SOCIETY, Portland, at a meeting held last night decided to have a lecture under their auspices shortly, the proceeds to be sent to the yellow fever sufferers.

DROWNED.—Richard Hines fell off a raft of deals at the Nashwaak, last Friday night and was drowned. The body was recovered. "Accidental drowning" was the verdict of the coroner's jury.

COLLISION.—On Saturday night a light waggon and express wagon collided on Main St. Portland, opposite Mr. John Devine's shop. The shafts of the carriage were badly smashed.

THAT PART of Union street where the grading is going on was in a fearful muddy state Saturday night. A woman named Kelly, belonging to Portland, fell there; but luckily escaped without any serious injury.

CARELESSNESS.—The contractors of the Maritime Bank building show gross carelessness in the hoisting of lumber, bricks, etc. On Saturday afternoon a lady passing by narrowly escaped being struck by a falling brick.

BETTING.—On Saturday evening there was a good deal of money staked on the result of the elections on Tuesday next, at the head of the city market. The Government supporters were looking for two to one, and several small sums were staked at their odds. An offer of one hundred dollars even that Tilley would beat Deveber found no taker.

CARLETON FIRE.—The roof of Mr. John McCafferty's house, St. John street, Carleton, was damaged by fire on Saturday morning.

A FIRE took place in the kitchen of the house occupied by Joseph Beattey, Esq., Saturday morning, before daylight. It was just discovered in time to prevent serious damage being done.

DISORDERLY.—Samuel Taylor was run into the Portland Police station last night in consequence of his efforts to raise a 'shindy' in a house behind Fort Howe. Taylor had offered to divide a bottle of rum with the owner. He refused and tried to put Taylor out. Capt. Rawlins arrested him and with difficulty brought him to the station. The prisoner was bleeding freely and looked as if he had slept part of the day in a mud puddle.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S ROWING.—About midnight Saturday there was a considerable show, of rowdyism on Main street, Portland, nearly opposite Long Wharf. It commenced by an unprovoked attack on two young men who were standing talking together at a shop door, by a couple of half drunken men passing up the street. When this quarrel was adjusted the customary assembled crowd rushed into an adjoining alley where three different pairs of rowdies were trying to inflict bodily injury on each other, and who preferred not to fight in the full glare of the moonlight as the others had done. After pummelling each other until they were tired they parted. The results was not very serious, one having his eye cut and another his shirt and coat torn. The others did not appear to have sustained any damage. The affair lasted about twenty minutes and when it was all over policemen McDonald and Malone who had been out on the Paradise Row end of their beat put in an appearence and dispersed the crowd. The originators of all the trouble are said to be two young men named Raynes and Rooney.

OBSTRUCTIONS.—Acadia street, Portland, is usually a quiet street, but there was a ripple of excitement there, Saturday night. It seems that during the previous three or four days, a Mrs. Ferson, blocked up the sidewalk with a load of laths, and pedestrians to and from their homes, were obliged to step off the sidewalk into the mud and cross to the other side of the street. She was remonstrated with by some of the justly indignant neighbors, but gave no satisfaction whatever. On Saturday night, about 11 o'clock, they took the matter into their own hands and threw the laths into the street. The noise awakened Mrs. Ferson, who hastily dressing herself, appeared on the scene, but too late to see the perpetrators who had escaped. Instead of submitting to common sense, or the wishes of the people, she placed them back on the sidewalk and said she would stand by them until daylight in the morning." But policeman McDonald came along and ordered her to remove them, which she did with the assistance of a few boys. The neighbors, though strongly objecting to her milking cows on the sidewalk, are averse to walking in mud, and think that when they pay taxes, they should receive the benefit of them.

KILLED ON THE RAIL.—The body of a man was found on the track at Gilbert's crossing on Saturday morning. The head of the unfortunate man was lying on the rail when discovered and was horribly mangled. It is certain that he was run over by an outward train of the previous night. No blood stains could be found on the wheels of any of the engines. The remains were placed in an empty car and afterwards taken to the dead house. In the afternoon Coroner Earle held an inquest on the remains, which could hardly be identified, a large portion of the face being completely scooped out. John Kelly, a Halifax painter, testified that he could identify the deceased as Thos. Early of Halifax. The last time he saw deceased alive was about five weeks ago on King Square. He was a laborer. Witness heard he was going to walk to Moncton to work on the water works there. This concluded the evidence. The inquest was adjourned until to-day at 4 o'clock owing to the non-appearance of other witnesses.

After the inquest had adjourned Constable Powers heard that a brother of the deceased had been arrested for drunkenness and sentenced to jail for 10 days at the City Police Court that morning. This man's name appears in the record as that of Ephraim Scroggs. Mr. Powers and a reporter of the Globe interviewed "Scroggs" at the jail, but he persisted his name was Scroggs. After the clothes of the man in the Morgue had been described, he gave in and acknowledged his name was John Farrel. This man, though roughly clad, evidently has a delicate nature, for he said he gave his name wrong because he did not wish it published in the papers for fear his mother should hear it. He wept at the sad intelligence of his brother's death, and felt keenly the fact that he was locked up in jail, and that in the Morgue adjoining the jail lay his brother a corpse. During the same night one brother is arrested for drunkenness and another killed, no doubt while under the influence of strong drink. Deceased's mother lives on Water street, Halifax, with her son-in-law, Edward Shears.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP SWEENY at the 11 o'clock mass in St. Peter's Church, Portland, yesterday, in speaking of the proposed new Church to be built there, said that the amount of the monthly collections, together with the proceeds of the annual pic-nic, amounted to about $2,500. This sum he considered insufficient to give out any considerable portion of the contracts. The shell or outside of the building, which will be brick and stone, would cost in the vicinity of 15 or $16,000, and he would require about two thirds of that amount to safely undertake its construction. The sum stated would about cover the cost of excavations, and if the site were even determined on and everything else ready, the amount together would be insufficient for a commencement. He appealed to the congregation to increase the monthly subscriptions, and by so doing the Church would be started next Spring. As to site the congregation were divided. The priests appointed to collect in the parish said the majority were in favor of the Church being built at Indiantown; three of the Advisory committee were in favor of the same site, and two favoring the present one. The committee afterwards left the selection in his hands as the Bishop was judge of what was best for the interests of the diocese. There were a great many reasons why the Church should be built at Indiantown, the cemetery being there and other land which could not well be used for any other than Church purposes. In building it there the future wants of the parish would be considered. In the near future it was intended to have a priest resident near the present Church, and also a collegiate institution for training young men for the priesthood. He had not fully determined on the site of the new Church, but would make the selection for the best interests of the congregation and the glory of God.

His Lordship also took occasion to speak to the laboring men, strongly advising them to go into the country and take farms, where they and their children would be free from the evil influence which surround city life. Of course they would have to contend with some difficulties for a time, but comfort and independence would surely follow the efforts of those disposed to sobriety and industry. Many complain that farm work is hard, but it is far harder to work in mills and other employments in and about the city. He spoke of the thriving settlement of Johnville, and recommended some of the workingmen to take land there. Any information required by those intending to settle in Johnville will be gladly given by Rev. Father Chapman, the resident priest there.
