EDITORIAL NOTES.

Our Washington correspondent gives his views on the labor difficulties in Washington.

Under the auspices of Monotti Gambini, a Garibaldian expedition is being organized in Albania.

The London Times says that a special order had been issued by the Secretary of the State of War, directing that the services of the army and militia reserves will not be required after the 31st ult.

It is the opinion of the newspapers that the Dominion elections will be held about the middle of September. The contest promises to be a warm one from one end of the Dominion to the other.

On our first page will be found the conclusion of the article on Secret Societies, by Rev. Thomas A. Becker, D. D. It is worthy of the serious attention of many of our readers.

In Altoona, where the people decided in favor of putting the Dunkin Act in force, liquor is sold in open defiance of the law, and it appears impossible to convict.

Out of fourteen cases before the Court, the Inspector has secured but one conviction and even that has been appealed.

The corner stone of the Donville building, our King and Prince William Streets, was laid on Monday afternoon last by Major General Dundas, father of James Donville, Esq., M. P. The idea of having it laid with Masonic honors, as rumored some time ago appears to have been abandoned.

It has been officially announced that the Marquis of Lorne is to be the next Governor-General of Canada. The Marquis is quite a young man, but is said to be possessed of considerable ability.

The appointment of a member of the Royal Family, he being the Queen's son-in-law, to the position of Queen representative, in the Dominion is no doubt intended as an honor to Canadians.

The Ministerial press in this city are asking what they lay down as the platform of the Opposition with all their ability. What is the Government's platform? Have they any? When in Opposition they had any amount of planks for a platform. No substituting of the press, no conditions, no superannuation, economy, no reduction of taxation, that public officials should not take part in elections, etc., but these have all vanished like a beautiful dream.

The Prince of Wales might have shared the fate of Emperor William had it not been for the vigilance of the authorities of the city of Bristol. The facts, as related by an English paper, are these:—Quite a sensation was caused when it was reported that a man at Bristol had written a letter to the King, and was locked up to prevent him from doing any harm. It seems that the man is of weak mind, and before he would go as far as the door to see the King, that they (the people) had to keep him and his children, and that he would blow his brains out if he were not kept in the asylum.

The St. John correspondent of the Toronto Mail thus describes Mr. Burpee:—Mr. Burpee is a badly scared man. He has no courage whatever; shakes his knees when he looks around at the people before him, and says mournfully to himself, "Why didn't I take the Government?" He has no conscience in elections; it being all frightened out of him, and it never true to any one on the same ticket. He had hardly entered on the canvass, after the nomination, greatly against the wishes of Mr. Weldon, before he told the electors of St. John that he wanted them to vote for him anyway, whether they voted for Mr. Weldon or not, as he was in the Government, and his defeat would leave St. John without a member of the Cabinet. This is a case of a man voting every time. He betrayed Mr. Weldon, and started to run with him at the last general election, and that gentleman retired in disgust. Then Mr. Ellis took the field, and Mr. Burpee threw him over his shoulder, saying that nothing but the Government could keep Mr. Ellis and his paper from going into opposition to the Burpee family compact. Mr. Burpee denies the correspondent's statement that he was at St. Martin's, but the other facts mentioned by the correspondent are generally correct.

Dennis Kearney was formally received at Fraser Hall, Boston, on Monday evening. Notwithstanding the rain, a large crowd gathered. Kearney made a speech in which he denounced John D. Long, and announced the Press as being in the DEATH OF THE PAPAL AB-LEGATE.

The sudden and unexpected death of the Right Rev. Dr. Conroy, the Apostolic Delegate to Canada, was a terrible shock to the Catholic people not only of the Dominion but of the entire Catholic world. The wisdom and ability manifested by the illustrious prelate, marked him out as a particular favorite of the Holy See.

The estimation in which he was held by the Holy Father was evidenced by his selection to perform the very important work in which he was engaged at the time of his death. He received his education at the celebrated college of the Propaganda at Rome, and immediately after quitting that institution repaired to his native country and commenced his labor of love in the service of God.

Having served as private secretary to his Uncle Cardinal Cullen for some time, he became President of the Holy See College, in which position he labored with love and all with whom he came in contact. On the 11th of April, 1871, he was consecrated Bishop of the See of Arlath. Some questions of importance having arisen regarding the interests of the Church in the Dominion and the United States, our late Holy Father Pius IX. died the deceased the great honor of appointing him as his representative to hear and decide upon matters that would be submitted to his consideration.

The great success that attended his mission in the choice of His Holiness in selecting the deceased for such an important work. It was understood that it was the intention of our Holy Father to confer on Dr. Conroy some special marks of his favor on his return to Rome, as a recognition of his eminent services to the Holy See. But our Almighty Father, in His wisdom, has seen fit to take unto himself His beloved child and confer on one and to which all those who serve him faithfully and well all those who may be rest in peace.

GENERAL NEWS.

In Newry, Ireland, the potato disease has manifested itself.

A poor woman in Dartmouth, N. S., is reported to have fallen heir to a fortune of £5,000,000.

In Athy, Ireland, small-pox of a very malignant type has broken out, many cases proving fatal.

On Sunday last, Toronto was visited by a very heavy hail storm. Much damage was done.

The cheap beer movement has struck Pennsylvania. The Pittsburgh venders are many of them selling good beer for three cents a glass.

The publishers of a Montreal evening Journal are about to take legal proceedings to compel Major-General Dundas to give a list of his 12th of July special constables.

Lord Beaconsfield is to receive from a British resident of California a $1,500 silver brick, mounted in wood and adorned with specimens of a quartz.

Mr. Ross says he sent $30,000 in London to the Rev. Charles. He recently declared to receive subscriptions for his relief that has been sent to a New York paper.

A thunder storm of unusual violence occurred recently in Killarney doing much damage. A great part of the city was flooded, in some houses being as high as four feet. The lightning entered a house of a farmer named Kenmare, killed two of his children and severely burned the mother.

The people on the coast of Labrador are represented to be in a dreadful plight. The fisheries failed last fall, and the traders, who usually barter and supply them for fish and oil, consequently have withdrawn from that region. Nothing of consequence will grow there, and some families have died of starvation.

Letters from St. Petersburg state that there are at least 50,000 sick soldiers in the Russian armies of Europe and Asia. Typhoid, small-pox and dysentery are the principal maladies. Surgeons are very scarce. Sixty-two are reported as having died, and one hundred have reached home broken in health.

In Hamilton, Ont., one James Henry Livingston, who has been in jail one hundred and sixty times, applied to a police magistrate to be sent down to jail for the remainder of his life, as he was tired hungry and disheartened and could get no work. A committal was filed up and he was accordingly sent to jail.

A Fort Clark special says, on Friday night Mexican men from Los Vaicos, Mexico, fired shots in the town of San Felipe, Texas, in retaliation for having been pursued the day before by a Captain of the U. S. army, who took from them some stolen stock. Great excitement prevails. A Pater, of Frating tone, shot and wounded a greaser on Friday night while in the act of stealing his horses.

A Paris special states that there is on the Tempie that Gen. Grant denounced Napoleon as a enemy of France, the Emperor of the Republic, and the author of useless and fatal wars, and that he did not care to see any of the Bonaparte family. A Christiana despatch says General Grant was received everywhere in Norway with extraordinary enthusiasm, the crowds following him about.

L. D. Atkinson, a well known distance runner, was shot by a bullet from his killed instantly, was a veteran soldier and a noble character, having repelled with his own hands the assault of the British during the war in Kentucky, his balloon burst at an elevation of 2,000 feet, but he clung to the ropes, and escaped with his life, though he was badly injured.

PROHIBITIONIST VS. ANTI-PROHIBITIONIST.

(To the Editor of the Herald.)

DEAR SIR,—In a late issue of the Free Press there appears a letter from an "Anti-Prohibitionist" which calls for some remarks. Always anxious to promote the Temperance Cause by fair means, I am glad that the prohibitionist liquor traffic has opened up the discussion, altho' I must say, his letter is not a fair representation of the temperance and politics, religion and morality, and not conceived in the spirit of true Christian charity. Were it not for his intemperate language, personal abuse of worthy persons, and merely biased tone in portions of his letter, one might suppose him to be a divine as he is a justly quoted scripture, and the learned Jesuit, the Very Rev. B. A. Maguire, and so unctuously drags in Religion when it suits.

I would respectfully ask this advocate of the liquor interest, by what authority he assumes that Catholics are opposed to the "Permissive Bill," or Prohibition in any form? Does he do so on the authority of the Rev. Mr. Conroy, whose denunciations of the traffic are so truthfully and so justly quoted in the "Saintry Father Dunphy," whose mission appeared to be specially engaged in liquor traffic, and any of his flock engaged in it? He is justified by the scores of clergy, bishops and archbishops of the United Kingdom, headed by Cardinal Manning, who are moving heaven and earth to get the permissive Bill, and finally to suppress the liquor business, which is certainly to be regretted, in their opinion, and by inference, that Catholics are opposed to such legislation? I can assure him he is mistaken, and that the number of Catholics in favor of a stringent, Prohibitory law, is greater than he supposes. In fact, when we consider how many Catholics are directly, and indirectly engaged in the liquor business, (which is certainly to be regretted, in their opinion, and by inference, that Catholics are opposed to such legislation?) I can assure him he is mistaken, and that the number of Catholics in favor of a stringent, Prohibitory law, is greater than he supposes.
