THE MONCTON MYSTERY.

Sometime in the month of August a man named Timothy McCarthy, a Moncton liquor dealer, left his home to go to Prince Edward Island, since which time he has not been seen. He was traced as far as Shediac, and the last place he was seen was in a house kept by a family named Osborne. For sometime past various rumors have been afloat as to what had become of McCarthy. He was known to have had a large sum of money in his possession at the time of his disappearance, and there were many who believed he had been murdered for his money. The evidence of a French girl, named Annie Parker, at an investigation which is now being held at Moncton, goes far to strengthen this belief in the minds of many, who were previously in doubt as to his fate. She says that she was in the Osborne house on the night of the 12th of October; McCarthy was there, and treated four times. At the fifth drink Mrs. Osborne put some white powder and sugar in liquor for McCarthy, after which he became stupid and laid over on the counter with his head on his hands. She says that while in this state he called several times for his wife and eldest son, and than Mrs. Osborne came from behind the counter and took money out of his pocket and divided it with her son, Harry, who said, "Mother if you think he will come to let us finish him." Mrs. Osborne thought that when McCarthy would come to he would know all about the affair and would have them arrested, and handed her son a hatchet with which to kill him. The son obeyed the mother and struck him two blows with the hatchet killing him; after which a large stone was fastened to his breast and he was conveyed to the Scadouc River and thrown in.

It was rumored around the city yesterday that McCarthy's body was found at the place on the river indicated by the girl Parker, but it turns out to be incorrect.

OPENING OF THE NEW ST. MALACHI'S HALL.

The opening of the new St. Malachi's Hall, on Monday evening, was an event long looked for by the citizens of St. John, who had become so used to the almost continued attractions of the old hall, that they were naturally impatient to see the first public entertainment in the new and more attractive structure that has been so quickly raised on the ruins of the old one. Although this impatience of the public was natural, under the circumstances it was hardly reasonable, for we must bear in mind that hardly six months have elapsed since we beheld the destruction of the edifice which was so dear to the hearts of every citizen of St. John, and around which so many tender associations clustered. The energy then shown in the building of the new hall in such a short period is worthy of admiration. It is, we believe, the first structure of a public nature thrown open to the public since the great fire of the 20th of June last. This fact is something to boast of, and proves that the impatience to witness the inauguration of the new building, which is simply immense in its extent, was not well-founded. But, however, this was amply satisfied on Monday, when the new edifice was for the first time thrown open to the public. The opening was most auspicious. Many of our leading citizens made it a point to be present. Among the hundreds who crowded the hall on the opening night, and since might be noticed the venerable Bishop of St. John, Rt. Rev. Dr. Sweeny, Very Rev. Fr. Connolly, V. G., Rev. Fr. Belliveau, of Quaco, the clergymen of the city; Hon. Mr. Anglin, John Boyd, Esq., His Worship Mayor Earle, and many others whom it would be impossible for us to name without filling columns with the names of St. John's best and most intellegent citizens. The very appearance of the hall was of itself sufficient to attract visitors, not to mention the many pleasant and agreeable means furnished by the ladies of the Cathedral congregation, who had charge of the Soiree and Festival. The hall was beautifully decorated with many colored flags and banners to which the numerous gas-jets throughout the room added fresh beauty. The different societies, among which the St. Malachi's T. A. R. S., as usual took the lead, are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts to render the hall attractive. The event of Monday night was, in a purely utilitarian point of view, the magnificent array of edibles of all kinds, shapes and dimensions, and their quantity, which seemed almost fabulous. The ladies who had charge of the refreshment tables were busily occupied for three hours and more ministering to the wants of their many hundred guests, who appeared to relish the beautiful and substantial things set before them. The vast hall was completely filled with visitors during the evening, and in fact every evening during the week. To the refreshment table other attractions were added, and furnished abundant sources of pleasure to all. The fortune-tellers, who are, by the way, very reasonable in their fees, and who do not care whether the palm is crossed with silver or other coin, did a rushing business and satisfied their customers in nearly every case. The Post Office, under efficient management, was ably conducted, and many missives bearing within themselves words of a pleasureable nature were unsparingly distributed. The Wheel of Fortune was the centre of attraction for the astonished youngsters, who beheld with admiration the fortunes lavishly displayed on the managers' table, which might be had for the modest sum of five cents. A good and profitable business was transacted in this department. As it had been publicly announced that the members of the Cathedral Choir would favor the audience on different evenings with the choice and well executed music for which they are so justly noted, many went to the hall in expectation of this rich and pleasurable source of enjoyment alone, and they were not disappointed. Mrs. Doherty, Miss Guthrie, Miss Coholan and Miss Hannah Sullivan all sang in a way that afforded much pleasure to the large and appreciative audiences assembled in the hall. With Mrs Doherty's singing those who are competent judges express themselves as always delighted. Her voice is one of great power and beauty, joined with careful and unceasing cultivation. Miss Guthrie as a singer is always listened to with pleasure; her songs are always well sung, and thoroughly artistic even in the most minute detail. Notwithstanding the peculiar acoustic properties of the new hall, its great length and the position of the gallery, which is rather too elevated to give entire satisfaction to the singer or the audience, Miss Guthrie's voice was distinctly heard, [illegible] the lowest notes, at the ext[illegible] "God is supreme" [illegible] long hall. Her friends were [illegible] resist His power and prevailed on her to [illegible] encore, which she did very gracefully. Miss Sullivan's sweet and pleasing voice gives promise of even greater success than she has yet achieved. As is always the case when Miss Coholan sings the audience were very enthusiastic in marking their appreciation of a graceful, careful, highly-cultivated artist. Her songs were greeted with genuine, hearty applause, and she was compelled to answer repeated expressions of the desire of her many friends to hear her sing just once more. Miss Coholan's superiority is so fully acknowledged that those who hear her once are again and again attracted to St. Malachi's in the hope of hearing her free, clear melodious tones. It is only to be regretted that she and the other members of the Cathedral Choir did not more frequently gratify the expectations of the visitors. The City Cornet Band, under the skilful leadership of Mr. Dixon, was present each evening and added much to the success of the entertainment. Mr. Dixon's own original compositions, particularly one dedicated to Mr. William Walsh, a very popular member of the Band, were much admired. The City Cornet Band is now, perhaps, the best in the city. The Festival continues to-night when, of course, St. Malachi's will be crowded, and the ticket-sellers, who done such a fine business during the week, will be fully occupied.

SKETCHES OF SHERIFF HARDING AND MAYOR EARLE.

(From the Canadian Illustrated News.

JAMES A. HARDING,

High Sheriff of the City and County of St. John, was born at Westfield, King's County, N. B., educated at a private school in the City of St. John, and admitted a Barrister of the Supreme Court in 1841. He was elected a member of the City Council in 1851, and in 1851, at a time when political feeling ran high, he was elected to the Provincial Legislature as a representative of the city of St. John, and a supporter of the Responsible Government party. He was re-elected in 1854 to the same seat, and assisted materially in changing the Government of that day, in maturing the principles of Responsible Government in the Legislature, and in aiding in the passage of measures for reciprocal trade with the United States, to urge which he had previously visited Washington as a representative of the Reform Club of St. John. In 1855 the Provincial Legislature passed a prohibitory liquor law which came in force in January, 1856. The unsatisfactory working of that law produced great excitement in the Province, and in the opinion of the Lieutenant-Governor, rendered it necessary to dissolve the House and appeal to the people. At the election which immediately followed, Mr. Harding was returned as an opponent of the liquor law which was immediately repealed. After this old party lines were re-formed and a vote of want of confidence having been passed there was another dissolution. At the election which followed, Mr. Harding was returned on the Liberal ticket and chosen Speaker of the House of Assembly, a position which he filled for two sessions with much ability. He then received the appointment of High Sheriff of the City and County of St. John, and has held that office up to the present time, a period of nearly twenty years. During that period he has always taken a leading position in every movement for the advancement of the interest of St. John.

Sheriff Harding has always taken a great interest in those aquatic sports for which the oarsmen of St. John have been famous. He is probably the best judge in Canada of the points of our oarsmen, and no man is better qualified to select a four-oared crew. The celebrated St. John four, known as the Paris crew, owed their success largely to the attention which he bestowed in their training and to the discipline which he enforced. He went with them to Paris when they vanquished the best amateurs of Europe on the Seine and contributed largely to all their aquatic triumphs. His services are always in request as referee in boating contests in St. John, and his decisions are always received with unquestioning respect.

It would be tedious to enumerate the many public positions which Sheriff Harding has filled in matters that concern the interests of St. John. He is an active member of the Board of Trade, and has several times been a delegate to the Dominion Board. He has taken an active part in the negotiations with the Dominion Government for placing the harbour of St. John in the hands of a Commission, negotiations which it is to be hoped will not be without result. He is now Chairman of the Commission for the widening of Dock street, and Chairman of the Special Relief Board formed since the fire. The zeal and delicacy with which he has discharged the duties of this last office will not soon be forgotten by many worthy persons who lost their all by the great fire. Sheriff Harding was himself a great loser by the fire, his fine residence together with its contents being destroyed. He was absent from St. John on that fatal 20th of June.

SYLVESTER Z. EARLE, M. D.,

Mayor of St. John, was born in 1823, at Hampton, N. B., and is the son of Sylvester Z. Earle, Esq., who for many years represented King's County in the New Brunswick House of Assembly. Dr. Earle studied with the celebrated Dr. Valentine Mott, of New York, and completed his terms in the New York University. He afterwards went to England where he gained experience in surgery in the hospitals, and finally commenced the practice of his profession at Hampton, and continued there with great success until 1864. He was appointed Coroner for King's County, and prior to Confederation was an unsuccessful candidate for the representation of that county in the Provincial Assembly. He took an active part in connection with Lieut. Col. Saunders in organizing the fine regiment of yeomanry cavalry of King's County. When Dr. Earle came to St. John in 1864, he was appointed Surgeon of the Battery, a position which he still holds. He was also appointed Coroner for the County of St. John, a position in which he acquitted himself admirably, in the course of the many important investigations that have come before him. He is one of the physicians of the St. John Public Hospital and has always taken an active interest in its management. In 1870 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the office of Mayor, being defeated by a narrow vote by A. C. Smith, Esq. In April, 1877, he was elected Mayor without opposition at a serious character. After the late fire he became Chairman of the St. John Relief Committee and took an active part in the necessary work of that organization. Mayor Earle is a gentleman of popular manners and affable address and occupies a high position among the citizens of St. John. He is a married man with a large family, several of his sons being engaged in active life.
