RICHARD O'BRIEN, of the Globe, drew the largest prize at the Irish Friendly Society Lottery which came off in this city a couple of weeks ago, the lucky number being 6178.

S. H. later—only a few days ago—he drew a counterpane and a pair of curtains at a County bazaar. An old saying has it that "it is better to be born lucky than rich."

Well, perhaps, so. But, Richard, we're sorry for you—not that you got the money, oh, no; but we were just thinking of our "friends" so bad. Light!

There's a prize worth the drawing number? Don't all speak at once! Joking aside, though, Richard, you have our warmest congratulations on your good fortune, and we trust your "good luck" will never fail you, and that you will only see the beginning of a long, prosperous and happy career.—Printer's Mixed Bag.

THEATRICAL.—A theatrical company under the management of Mr. Wm. Nannery, has been performing in the Mechanics' Institute during the past week to large audiences.

Managers of theatrical companies or shows of any kind are, as a rule, very affable or polite, unless when looking for favors of one kind or another. This, however, does not apply to Mr. Patrick Nannery, Business Manager of the May Howard Dramatic Company while in Halifax, as the following from the Reporter and Times of that city will testify:—

"Before the company, however, make their exit it would be unjust for the press not to recognize handsomely the gentlemanly demeanor which has distinguished the Business Agent, Mr. P. Nannery, whose labors during the past six weeks have been extremely arduous. Always affable, polite and painstaking, courteous in his conduct to all, and with whom he had business relations, he has earned much popular respect, and his friends will with much regret, but with the hope that his general fame may often be seen among us in the future."

The MCCARTHY INQUEST was concluded at Shediac, on Monday. The jury disagreed, seven of them bringing in the following verdict:—

"We the undersigned convened for the purpose of enquiring into the cause of the death of Timothy McCarthy, and that the said Timothy McCarthy came to his death by a blow or blows on the head, inflicted in the hands of Harry Osborne in the bar room of the Waverly House, and that the said Harry Osborne, in the presence and with the consent of Edna Osborne, Mrs. John Osborne, the wife of the said Harry Osborne, inflicted the said blow or blows on the head of the said Timothy McCarthy."

(Signed) SHERMAN WELLEN, JAMES WYBLEN, JOHN W. MALLAN, JOHN DICKIE, GEORGE MINER.

The minority finding was as follows:—"We find that Timothy McCarthy came to his death by a blow or blows on the head, but the evidence is not sufficient to say by whom the blow or blows was administered."

(Signed) ERNEST AVARD, GEORGE MALLER.

The Osborne party brought back to Dorchester jail, on Tuesday.

IRISH MINSTRELS.—Isidore's Irishian Minstrels, Brass Band and Orchestra, have been performing to very good houses at Dockrill's Hall this week, commencing on Wednesday night. Last night the audience was not only complimentary in numbers but thoroughly appreciative and enthusiastic.

The first parade of the minstrels was particularly fine, and attracted much attention. The songs were all first class, and the pieces are remarkably Irish in character. The ballads and jokes are full of that genuine humor, laughter and provoking mirth that is inseparable from the Irish character. These Irishian Minstrels are Irish to the backbone, and their pieces partake of all the human and eccentricity which we have learned to expect from them. A most appreciable part of the evening's performance was the "Mirror of Ireland," an enchanting representation of scenes fitted to interest the student of Irish history or the traveler in that portion of the world. The new and efficient scenery gave a most vivid idea of the country. The audience were kept in good humor by the songs of Bryan O'Lynn which were particularly charming. Every feature of the entertainment indeed was creditable and evidenced the superior powers of the company. The company which was in their prizes of the company which has an excellent and obliging manager. This afternoon there will be a matinee to which school children will be admitted for 10 cents.

The Hall will no doubt be crammed to-night again. They will continue next week when novelties will be introduced. Those who have not seen the show should not fail to see it as it is a capital one in every respect.
