GOLDEN TEXT. Jesus said unto her, I am the resurrection and the life—John 11:25.

20. Then Martha, as soon as she heard that Jesus was coming, went out to meet him...

21. But Jesus said unto her, 'I am the resurrection and the life. Whosoever believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.'

22. But I know, that even now, whatsoever thou wilt speak, God will give thee.

23. Jesus said unto her, 'Thy brother shall rise again. These words mean that her brother would be brought back to life again...

24. I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection of the last day.

25. Jesus said unto her, 'I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.'

26. Jesus said unto her, 'I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live.'

27. She said unto him, 'Yes, Lord, I believe. But who art thou, O Son of God, that shouldst thus speak of thyself?'

28. And Jesus said unto her, 'I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.'

29. Jesus said unto her, 'I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.'

30. And Jesus said unto her, 'I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.'

Charlotte Elliott's Hymn.

Some fifty years ago that eminent minister, Rev. Geo. Malan, of Geneva, was a guest of the Elliotts...

Several days afterwards, the young lady apologized for her abrupt treatment of the minister, and confessed that his question and his parting remark had troubled her.

Just as I am, without one plea, But that Thy blood was shed for me, And that Thou bid'st me come to Thee, O Lamb of God, I come!

The words of Pastor Malan, realized in her own experience, were of course the writer's inspiration.

Beginning thus its public history in the columns of an unpretending religious magazine, the little anonymous hymn, with its sweet counsel to troubled minds...

Prayer and Penance. The Messenger says that at the Mission Conference of the Methodist church, Judge Donforth made a decided impression...

A NOTABLE INCIDENT. The rector of a London parish, one day called on a sick boy. The boy was one of the neglected outcasts of the great city...

A Skillful Surgical Operation. The American Ambassador at Vienna, Mr. Kasson, has lately forwarded to his Government an interesting account of a remarkable surgical operation lately performed by Professor Dierbach...
