News Summary.

DOMINION.

— It is said that the blueberry crop of Quebec this year will yield $10,000.

— An election for the repeal of the Scott Act in Fredericton is not far off.

— Last week 279 sheep and lambs valued at $567 were shipped via Summerside.

— Large catches of mackerel were recently made at Tignish, some boats taking 2,500 fish.

— The Railway Men's Christian Convention is to be held at Halifax, N. S.,

August 24 to 26.

— Hon. G. S. Turner has men in the woods getting timber for a vessel which is to be built at Harvey Bank.

— Bank of Yarmouth and Exchange

Bank of Yarmouth have each declared a half-yearly dividend of 3 per cent.

— The Dominion government have men blasting rocks at the pitch of Grand Falls where the great jam of logs was last fall.

— Applications for admission into the Normal School are being daily received by Principal Mullin from all parts of the provinces.

— The Hessian fly, or an insect which attacks the plant in the same way, is doing considerable damage to wheat in some parts of P. E. Island.

— The hay crop on the Grand Pre, in N. S., is the best in quality (and fully equal in quantity) since the Saxby flood of twenty years ago.

— Maitland, N. S., has voted a bonus of $10,000 to the Hants Central Railway, one gentleman offering one-fifth of the amount from his own purse.

— The furloughed debt of the city of Halifax for water, schools, and general purposes amounts to $1,920,375. The consolidated debt of that city was increased during the civic year by $102,500.

— W. F. Wortman, of Salisbury, says the Maple Leaf will ship three cargoes of pulp wood to the American market this week, one vessel from Hillsboro, one from Moncton and the other from Sackville.

— Miss Grace D. McLeod, of Berwick, has been engaged by D. L. Throp & Co., to write twelve stories about the early settlement of Nova Scotia, for publication in Wide Awake. Miss McLeod gets $300 for the work.

— The coal shipments from Cape Breton collieries are some 50,000 tons ahead of last year. The outlook for August is good. The mines are now working to their full capacity. A number of the collieries are averaging over 1,000 tons a day.

— The Dominion Safety Fund Life Association of St. John, N. B., has won an exceptional record for prompt payment of its losses, and for equitable dealing with its members. All its policies are by their terms, indisputable after being in force three years.

— 1,064 vessels arrived at Port Hawkesbury, C. B., during the past fiscal year, of 126,431 tons and carrying 8,826 men, and of these 747 sailing vessels and 126 steamers of 76,231 tons with 5,848 men — The grand total of produce and live stock shipments from the port of Summerside since the opening of navigation is $240,077. Of this amount the United States took only to the value of $82,972. By far the larger quantity, to the value of $157,105, was sent to the mainland provinces; the West Indies and Great Britain taking the balance.

— Says the St. John Gazette: From time to time barrels of duise are shipped at a time via the American boat, and the points of shipment in the States include Boston, Philadelphia, New York and Washington. The total shipments over the border for a year run up to from 1,500 to 2,000 barrels, or sometimes to the value of nearly $10,000. St. John does not consume a very large amount, but the local or provincial trade is large.

— The Toronto Globe has been analyzing the assessment roll of that city for the purpose of finding out the value of property exempt from taxation with the following result: Dominion Government property, $1,833,394; Ontario Government property, $3,124,210; Public Schools, $715,459; Separate Schools, $59,571; Protestant Church property, $3,130,108; Roman Catholic Church property, $1,158,217; Salvation Army property, $94,934; city property, $2,301, 805; Universities and colleges, $2,522,441; charitable institutions, $438,356.

BRITISH AND FOREIGN.

— The wedding presents received by Princess Louise of Wales were valued at £150,000, or nearly $750,000. The jewels alone were valued at £150,000 ($750,000).

— The government is forming grain deposits along the Nile for the purpose of supporting fugitives fleeing before the dervishes. Many tribal sheikhs are tendering their services to the govern-— Reports from England to hand, by last mail, indicate high prices for apples this fall—the unprecedented cheapness and abundance of last year's supply has increased the demand for all classes of American fruit.

UNITED STATES.

— The Texas cotton crop promises to be the best ever known.

— The strawboard makers of the country have united in a trust under the name of the "American Strawboard Company." Twenty-six mills are in the combination.

— The catch of mackerel by the New England fleet to date has been 1267 bbls., against 365 bbls., 15,889 bbls., and 5530 bbls., in the corresponding months of the three previous years.

— The grain speculators of Minneapolis are gnashing their teeth because the city authorities have assessed 8,000,000 bushels of wheat in the elevators there, a thing never before done.

— The storing of sugar in New York by the trust, in order to make a "corner" in the market, is being carried on with unabated vigor. From 12,000 to 15,000 barrels are being stored in warehouses here daily.

— Among the prosperous and eminently useful institutions of this country is the New England Conservatory of Music, Literature, Art, Elocution, etc.

Its courses of instruction and corps of teachers have been proved to compare favorably with those of the Conservatories of Europe.

Deaths.

RICE.—At Bear River, N. S., July 25, Fitz Rice, aged 32 years.

McNITT.—At Onslow, July 9, Martell McNitt, infant son of William and Mary McNitt, aged six months.

McNITT.—At Bear River, N. S., July 20, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis, Mrs. John McNitt, aged 45 years.

CRANDALL.—At LaCombe, Washington Territory, July 18 of paralysis, Sarah Crandall, formerly of Petitcodiac, New Brunswick.

McLINTY.—At Montague, P. E. I., July 25, Mrs. Donald McLinty, in the 85th year of her age. She was for many years a member of the Baptist church in Belmont. Her last hours were cheered by the presence of her son.

THURLEY.—At Greenfield, Queens Co., N. S., July 21, of consumption, Nettie Thibet, aged 29 years. Our sister was a member of the Baptist church at Greenfield, and her trust in her Saviour was firm during her lingering illness. She will be missed very much in the home and community.

WAGNER.—At New Canada, Lunenburg Co., N. S., July 16, John H. Wagner, aged 77 years. Deceased had long been a member of the Baptist church. A large congregation followed his remains to the grave, after which a sermon was preached by the Rev. W. P. Anderson, from the words, "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like His."

SMITH.—At Kempt, Hants Co., N. S., July 24, Ellen, daughter of Alexander Smith, deceased. Twenty-three long years confined to her bed, she suffered most intensely. Most faithfully and tenderly through these years did her aged mother pour the balm of affection upon the aching heart of her suffering child until death took her away, and now that mother thinks of the words of her child, "I am ready and willing to go." The good Lord bless the dear, aged mother and all the members of the family.

RAID.—At Avonport, King's Co., N. S., July 16, Joshua Reid, in the 88th year of his age. Bro. Reid experienced religion over sixty years ago, and having remembered his God in the days of his youth, and having lived by faith in Him during his life, he found no difficulty in trusting him during the last days of his pilgrimage. While physical force failed and while the world receded, his spiritual strength and vision increased immensely. Never during his illness of five weeks did a cloud pass over his mind. His hope was clear and mighty. He was comforted with patience till his change came, and he quitted his earthly tabernacle, finished his course, with joy.

DEXTER.—At Cheverie, July 16, Capt.
Enoch Dexter. The departed was a tried and faithful member of the Baptist church in this place. He was a man of few words, but a true lover of Zion.
His kindness to his pastor was shown by the hearty welcome he always gave him to his friendly home, his liberal support year after year, and ten dollars placed in the hands of his daughter just before his death, and now being the writer's possession. This is not mentioned because the dear brother wished to have his deeds trumpeted, but because of its preciousness as a proof that his religion had a divine side. His last days were very peaceful. His interment took place on what would have been his 83rd birthday if he had lived two days longer. He leaves behind five sons, all sea captains, and doing well, and one daughter, who we are sorry to say is poor health. The Lord grant them all the same consolation in death enjoyed by their beloved father.

LEAHY.—At the home of her father, Obed Miller, Bear River, N. S., July 12, after a short sickness, Mrs. Clara Leahy, aged 22 years, leaving husband, parents, brothers, sisters, and a large circle of friends to mourn her departure. All that a skillful physician and loving friends could do, could not save that fair form lately the very picture of health, from the wasting withering touch of decease. She was a sweet Christian, fair as a May morning, good and kind and cheerful as she was beautiful and lovely. Her last day on earth was a time long remembered by all the family, to whom she spoke personally of her trust in Jesus, and hope of glory exhorting them one by one to meet her in heaven. Gladly were her words received by the long time meeting her grand parents, and the faithful father and mother, the earnest sisters, lately joined to Jesus Christ, to follow her to the home of unending bliss.
Sad were the tears of the devoted husband bidding adieu to the precious one, his wife for scarcely two years. Many were the friends assembled to the Lord's table, in the Lord's house, the day before, to hear the words of the preacher, to pay the tribute of respect, and to perform the last sad duty to the body of the dear departed.

MORRELL.—At Freeport, N. S., July 7, of consumption, Alvin B. Morrell, in the 26th year of his age, leaving a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his loss. The deceased was for some years a consistent member of the Baptist church of this place. During his sickness his heart was deeply moved when he remembered Zion. At the little prayer-meeting held with him as his own request, his voice was heard in the earnest earnest words exhorting professing Christians to faithfulness and activity in the Master's cause, and the impenitent to preparation for eternity. His faith through his entire sickness was unwavering, but as he neared the close of his earthly pilgrimage, it grew weaker fully bright. He spoke many beautiful words which evinced his trust. Once being asked if he were bright in his mind, replied, "Yes, but will soon be brighter up there," pointing upward.

Then looking at his wasting body, he said: "This body must soon decay in the grave, but" laying his hand on his heart, "there is something in there which will never decay, but will shine brighter and brighter in the eternal day." As we conversed with him we felt as though we were talking with one who was standing at the very gate of heaven, uttering a few farewell words before entering the brightness of the glory world.

ESTABROOK.—At his residence, Burton, Sunbury Co., N. B., July 27, after a protracted illness, Deacon Wm. Estabrook, of Upper Gasconade church, in his 91st year. Few have been so devoted with so long an earthly race in the Christian life as our departed brother. His name is connected with the early days of our people in this land and will long be cherished in loving remembrance by all who knew him. He was a thoroughly religious man, who during a revival in the fall of 1812, and was baptized, with many others, into the fellowship of the old Canning church by his uncle Elder Elijah Estabrook. For upwards of seventy-six years he has been an active member of the Canning and Upper Gasconade churches and within a few months of his decease, he was in his place in the house of God, as he had always loved to be on the Sabbath day.
The cause of God near his heart and for some time he had been praying that God would pour out of his spirit and build up his Zion. Last spring a glorious revival of God's grace came to refresh and cheer his Israel here, and none rejoiced more than our aged deacon, although barely able to attend a few of the meetings. Shortly after, his approaching end was manifest to all, and amid the lamentations of his family and friends his spirit took its departure to its eternal home. Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints. Brother Estabrook leaves three sons and three daughters; his wife preceded him many years.

CALHOUN.—At Hopewell Cape, July 12, of consumption, Deacon Joseph Calhoun.
He suffered long and much, though without complaint. According to his own version, it was all well, and always well.
He praised God for freedom from pain and suffering, when to all beholders it was apparent that he suffered much. It was his father's hand and he was content. His disease, literally, wore him out, and though his sufferings were not acute, they were protracted and trying.
Deceased leaves one son and daughter, and an affectionate widow, together with a host of relatives and friends to mourn his demise. Indeed all who knew him lament his death. He was a man of sterling worth, whether considered as a parent, citizen, Christian or friend. As a parent, he was kind, affectionate, considerate and wise. As a citizen, he was active, earnest, and foremost in all good enterprises. He was also hospitable, lenient, kind and benevolent. As a Christian, he was devout, humble, earnest and true. His confidence in God and Christianity was unwavering. His attachment to the church was steady and strong, and continued to manifest itself to the very end. His friends, he was warm-hearted and genuine. Deacon Calhoun was a good man, and in his death the whole community has suffered loss, and are prepared to acknowledge the same. Few men who moved in a similar circle made more friends and less enemies than Joseph Calhoun. When death approached he recognized his footstep, yet faltering not nor feared, but steadily moved onward. His arrangements made and farewells uttered, he calmly fell asleep in Jesus.
