A DANGEROUS CROSSING

On Sunday afternoon a cow was killed in the vicinity of the "church crossing" so called. We do not wonder at the accident. We are rather surprised that human beings have escaped so well. This spot, so public, has always been regarded as most dangerous to traffic. Approaching from the Millstream side, Eastbound, trains are hidden by the hills until the traveller is almost at the crossing and the train but a couple of hundred yards away. Trains not infrequently come down this grade at a tremendous rate of speed, and it often becomes a race for life between the pedestrian and the train. The railroad management has frequently been warned of the danger, but up to the present nothing has been done by way of safeguarding the public. It is time the matter was taken in hand by the Town before human life is sacrificed.

Rural Phones

Solve These

Every-Day Problems

Problem I. Bad Roads:—

The old way was to curse nature and idly await sun's return. The new way is to telephone for what you want, and send because you get the information in a thousand part of the time.

Problem II. Weather Forecasts:—

The old way was to work on belated information, and to excuse the losses with "That's what the farmer has to put up with." The new way is to telephone every morning to the weather man and overcome much of the needless haste and bustle of the old way.

Problem III. Prices Current:—

The old way was to ask a neighbor or trust to the newspaper. The new way is to get information in the nick of time over the phone, thus knowing when to sell and when to hold.

MONTREAL TORONTO WINNIPEG VANCOUVER REGINA

Problem IV. Emergencies:—

The old way of procedure when some one took sick, was to harness up the "doctor" and make all haste for the doctor. Effort in this direction often procured as its only result the information: "Doctor is out."

The new way is to call up the doctor on the phone, and know instantly what can be done pending the medical man's arrival.

Problem V. Help:—

The old way was to allow men to go on boys' errands—waste half a morning waiting to Smith's only to find that his harrow was already loaned. The new way is to make the phone your errand boy—buy, borrow, beg by means of the "silent partner."

We have prepared a Booklet describing fully a rural phone system. Hadn't you better instruct us to send you this interesting bit of information, seeing it costs you nothing.
