THE WEEKLY SUN.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 16, 1898.

THE WHEAT BONUS.

The legislature has given the government authority to expend $5,000 per year for a term of five years, in the form of bonuses to wheat mills. It was stated by Mr. Shaw that a flour mill to be successful should be on an extensive scale. To this Mr. Emmerson replied that if the present experiment were successful the government might be enabled to aid in the establishment of a very large mill at some central point. In other words, the premier would regard it as a reasonable proposition to bonus and encourage a number of small mills, and when they had got fairly established in business would bonus one on a very large scale, and which could consequently be operated at less relative cost, to compete with them. Mr. Emmerson's free trade principles appear to be in some danger. But when he gets ready to establish his big mill he will probably hear some wholesome truths from the promoters of the smaller ones, assuming of course that these are fairly successful. The commissioner for agriculture stated that the government would not doubt be careful to see that the mills are located at points best suited to the convenience and interests of the farmers. He might have added that their location will also be considered in connection with the political interests of the government. Mr. Emmerson has abandoned the idea of giving a bonus to farmers for wheat raising. The question of profit for the farmer will rest upon his ability in the first place to raise good wheat and plenty of it, and his proximity to the mill, and in the second place upon what he will have to pay for having it ground in the mill of the bonused manufacturer. Everybody will hope for the success of the experiment, now that it has been determined on, but it is by no means free from doubt or criticism.

The question raised by Dr. Stockton was very lightly treated by the government, and yet it is certainly pertinent. The $5,000 is to be paid out of current revenue. The government admit that the revenue from crown timber lands will show a falling off this year. It will not be expected by anybody that Mr. Emmerson will reduce expenditure in any line pertaining to executive government. The money for the new venture, it is not unfair to assume, will have to be raised by starving some other branch of the public service.

(From Saturday's Daily Sun.)
STRIKING DOWN THE UNIVERSITY.

The proposition to withdraw the provincial grant from the university, of which Mr. Fowler of Kings has given notice in the legislature, will if carried into effect, strike a death blow to this ancient and honorable institution of learning. Mr. Fowler has raised an issue that should be decided at once and for all time, solely on its merits. The public cannot fail to see that this attack on the university means the serious mutilation and dismemberment of our non-sectarian free school system, of which it is the cap-stone. And we much mistake the temper of the people of New Brunswick if they do not stamp with vigorous disapproval any legislation in the direction proposed by the member for Kings, sugar coated though it may be with the pretence that the money is needed for an agricultural school or college. This is a matter into which party politics does not enter. If funds are required for agricultural education, the government that has devised ways and means for bonusing flour mills and securing the services as lecturers of some of the best cattle and dairy and farm experts in Canada, can be trusted to raise whatever amount may be needed for a school of agriculture, so soon as the legislature declares that the time for its establishment has arrived.

That the university has fallen short of accomplishing all that was expected of it is attributable in no small measure to the uncertainty that has for some time overshadowed its future. The very fact, however, that for the first time in the life of the present generation, its extinction has been threatened by a member of the legislature, affords an opportunity for its friends to rally to its defense and to demonstrate to the house and the country that it is not only worth every dollar it costs the taxpayer, but that it is capable of greater things than it has yet accomplished.

(From Tuesday's Daily Sun.)

The withdrawal of Mr. Fowler's resolution to starve out the university should not mislead the friends of the institution into believing that all danger has passed. The very fact that notice of such a resolution was entered on the motion paper of the legislature may go a long way to perpetuate the impression that Mr. Fowler and his ally, the Telegraph, desire to create, that the university has outlived its usefulness. To counteract this impression is the work not of days or weeks, but of years. Something more than spasmodically falling to the defence of their Alma Mater is required of the graduates, and its friends. They must labor continuously and zealously to popularize the university throughout the province. St. John and Fredericton are not all New Brunswick. There are other centres in which much missionary and educational work remains to be done. The great heart of the country must be touched and the people generally made to feel that they have a personal as well as a financial interest in the success and permanency of the head of the free school system.

It should be recognized that the university cannot stand still. It must go ahead, or it must go down. It has made some progress in very recent years in extending its influence, but it is not living up to the full measure of its opportunities. Speakers at Saturday's meetings were profuse in expressions of faith in the university's future. But "faith without works is dead."

THE WAR CLOUD.

The cheerfulness with which the nations are pushing forward their preparations for the contingency of war is a grim illustration of the fighting instincts of the human race. The awful results of a general conflict are not, of course, lost sight of, but are overshadowed by the determination that if war come there will be no surrender of rights or of territory without an obstinate struggle. The jealousy of nations is simply the jealousy of individuals projected on a gigantic scale, and the nations that go to war over a strip of territory or a fancied wrong are but exemplifying the spirit of the men who indulge in fistfights over a disputed boundary line or a personal affront. It is, however, to the credit of those in authority on both sides of the Atlantic, and notably so in the case of Britain and the United States, that whatever may be said of the utterances of a section of the press or of irresponsible individuals, the gravity of the situation is recognized and the dignity of the nation upheld. Therein lies the most hopeful feature of a situation that is full of danger, for in the present temper of the people the manifestation of a jingo spirit by the government might easily result in acts that would precipitate war. It seems hardly credible that war will result from the present complications. There is not sufficient cause for an outbreak of hostilities. The United States and Spain should be able to settle their differences. It has not yet been shown that Russian aggression in the far east has seriously threatened British interests. The situation in Africa is a source of anxiety, but it cannot be said that the relations between Britain and France are seriously strained. It is an easy matter for an imaginative journalist to draw a harrowing picture, and certainly we have the facts of history show that war sometimes arises from a very slight cause when the spirit has once been aroused. But there is still ground for belief that the present crisis may be passed without an appeal to arms.

Those upon whom the burden of the new I. C. R. freight tariff falls heavily are asking themselves what advantage it is to New Brunswick to have Mr. Blair in the cabinet, and what has happened to the liberal members of the house who represent this province, that they have no word of protest to offer. Some persons who declared that New Brunswick's representation in the conservative cabinet was weak, are now in a position to make instructive comparisons.

That portion of the English press which expresses sympathy for the United States in the present critical state of the relations of that country with Spain, is heaping coals of fire on the heads of our jingo neighbors. Where Britain is concerned in any international difficulty the United States press invariably discovers at the very outset that Britain is in the wrong.

Temperance leaders representing nearly two thousand Good Templars of P. M. Island, have sent a letter to Sir Louis Davies, asking him to use his influence "to prevent any side issue being coupled with the prohibition question when the plebiscite is called for, so that the question may simply be, Shall we or shall we not have prohibition; 2nd, to have the law now in use in each province used in the plebiscite election so as to save time and expense; 3rd, to secure in the Yukon district prohibition of the liquor and opium traffic, gambling and other dives."

THE WEST PRINCE VACANCY.

On the ninth day of March Sir Charles Tupper asked in the house whether a returning officer had been appointed for the West Prince election. Sir Wilfrid replied that the government "received notice only today of the funeral of the late Mr. Perry, and we thought it advisable to allow a few days at least to elapse before the writ was issued."

It would appear that Sir Louis Davies does not take advantage of the opportunities that offer to hear from his island home. The funeral of the late Mr. Perry took place on the first day of March. It was described in the Charlottetown papers of the following day. On the third day of March Mr. MacDonald, one of the members for the province, had heard of the funeral and had brought the West Prince vacancy to the notice of the speaker. Yet it was six days later when Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies had learned that the funeral was over. One would have expected the minister of marine to take a deeper interest in the colleague whom, as he told the house the other day, he had "known so long and loved so well."

But if the premier and Sir Louis Davies do not know what goes on in Prince Edward Island others are better posted. A week before the premier had heard of the funeral, and while the government was too delicate to take action, the home organ of Sir Louis Davies was getting in the campaign work of the party. The Patriot had already advised the electors of West Prince to support the government. In this connection the Patriot pointed out that public works required in the constituency, had attracted the attention of the ministers, and told the people that they had nothing to expect from Sir Charles Tupper. It is a pity that Sir Louis has so much to do that he cannot read his Patriot until it is a few weeks old. Otherwise he might rebuke this attempt to seduce the honest electors of West Prince with suggestions of rewards of this kind.

There is nothing unbecoming in the demand that the election for West Prince should take place at once. If it was worth while for the late member to proceed in mid-winter to Ottawa, while yet in feeble health, in order that the people of West Prince should not be unprotected even for a few weeks, it is worth while for the government to take steps at once to have the constituency represented. At the best half the session will be over before the member can take his seat, and if further delay takes place the purpose of bringing the matter to the attention of the speaker will not be served. An honest desire to pay due respect to the late member would be commendable, but it is a poor tribute to him not to know that the funeral is over for a week and a half after the event, and to deprive his former constituents of their representation in the house of commons, as they remain without their representation in the senate.

SPAIN AND U. S.

MADRID, March 13.—The view held in official circles is that Spain will not provoke a war, because if she did, she would have herself isolated; but if America gives the event of war Spain will not need to check American territory. It will suffice her to pursue a war of privation. As America's commerce is benefited greater than Spain's, American interests would suffer most. War would be madness, benefiting neither nation and good sense therefore counsels peace.

The Spanish torpedo squadron has not left CADIZ.
El Imperial says: "The government is anxiously expecting to receive the report of the Spanish commission, which it is understood, maintains that the Maine explosion was accidental."
"Although the American commission give another explanation, the government will nevertheless uphold the Spanish report."

TO BOYCOTT THE C. P. R.

Mr. Blair and Mr. Harris are determined to seize all the through traffic that can for the I. C. R. at low competitive rates, at the same time that they squeeze the local patrons of the line in the provinces. St. John firms are now being asked to sign carefully prepared printed instructions to western shippers to send all goods via the I. C. R. This is a direct slap at the C. P. R. Merchants, except those who are anxious to further Mr. Blair's schemes, will perhaps not relish this stand and deliver programme. The C. P. R., a merchant observed yesterday, was in a position to do a great deal for St. John, and he saw no reason why there should be a systematic boycott of the line at the instance of Blair and Harris.

The price of Canadian oil has gone up one cent a gallon.

TWO NEW STEAMERS

For Service in Maritime Provinces This Summer.

The Dominion Atlantic Railway Building Two Elegant Fast Vessels.

Statements Made at the Annual Meeting Held in London on Friday.

LONDON, March 13.—The annual meeting of the Dominion Atlantic Railway company was held on Friday, March 11, at the head office of the company here. The president was in the chair and there was a crowded attendance of shareholders. The chairman in his preliminary remarks referred to the satisfactory nature of the directors' report, for though in many respects the season was an adverse one, the failure of the fruit harvest affected freight receipts, yet the company's enterprise and zeal in engineering and facilitating the source of business had counterbalanced the inevitable results of a bad season. Everything was being done to close a prosperous year, both for their company and the fine territory which they served with terminal points at the metropolitan cities of Halifax, St. John and Boston.

The traffic requirements of the approaching summer were being closely watched. He moved that the report for the year be received and adopted, and this was unanimously agreed to with applause. Mr. Ronald said that speaking with ample local knowledge of what the Dominion Atlantic railway had already achieved in building up a trunk service second to none on the continent of America, he thought the report of the directors to be very clear and intelligible. Of their train service there could be only one opinion, it was as good as any and better than any other railway system in Canada or the United States was put alongside of it. He believed that he had travelled on every railway line in the Dominion, and as far south as Mexico, and that was his mature opinion, and the opinion of all with such travelling experience.

It was imperative not only in the interests of the railway proper, but in the interests of the many thousands of "week-end" tourists, as well as the every-day travelling public that their steamship system should be on the same plane of excellence as their fine railway service, and to this end the directors have placed an order for two super-twin screw nineteen knot steel steamships, which would be on service this summer, in addition to the company's ships already in operation. He wished before sitting down to emphasize one point. The board of the Dominion Atlantic railway were wholly in accord of any designs to compete with other companies. What they were doing was to encourage that splendid stream of tourist travel which so far, only in its beginnings, was steadily flowing year after year towards the island of Evangeline, towards St. John, towards Halifax, and towards these unequalled playgrounds of sportsman, artist and healthseeker that formed the glory of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. He would be a proud man if by the efforts of this company that splendid territory were made as populous and prosperous as the territory or the most go ahead state in New England. He was a profound believer in the maritime provinces of Canada. The success of the maritime province was the success of the Dominion Atlantic railway, and he looked to the maritime province to encourage the railway company to the utmost in the hard and successful work the directors had already accomplished and were accomplishing.

There are scores of capitalists in London who would gladly see the company assisted. The company is held in the most beneficial fashion on the territory with which we are identified, but it is obvious what can be done will be retarded till three or four hundred thousand settlers can be induced to make their homes in these regions, which are so far from being isolated that they are within a few hours' run of large cities like Halifax, St. John, Boston, Montreal and New York.

What is more, the maritime provinces are next door to England and England's markets. The advantages of our company's position, are such that we would be quite justified in starting a sort of emigration mission of our own.

In conclusion, I will only say my constant instruction to the company's officers is to keep safety always first. In view of the fact that the road is being re-laid with heavier steel, the Pullman car service is much appreciated, and everything points to a very large volume of travel this coming season. (Applause.)

A very cordial vote of thanks to the general manager then carried unanimously. Mr. Campbell in rising to respond was received with cheers, and said: I thank the meeting and accept this mark of confidence, not for myself alone, but also for my colleagues and the entire staff of the company. I desire to state that no company can be better served than we are, and that there is no one through every grade of the service but has the company's best interests at heart. (Applause.) After the re-election of directors and formal business disposed of, the proceedings terminated.
