ST. GEORGE'S DAY.

President Wm. M. Jarvis gave an address to members of St. George's society, their wives and daughters, on Saturday afternoon. Miss Jarvis was assisted in the reception of the guests by Mrs. Kingston, Mrs. Ady and Mrs. R. W. W. Frink, wives of the chaplain and the two vice presidents. It is scarcely necessary to say that the function was eminently successful in every way.

St. George society held a smoking concert and had generally a pleasant gathering in the society's room on Saturday evening. The room was filled with members and a few guests. There were speeches by President Jarvis, Chaplain Bishop Kingston, J. D. Hazen, Hon. T. R. Jones, Sheriff Sturdee, Dr. Daniel and others. Many songs by different members of the society added much to the entertainment.

The St. George's society, accompanied by Marlborough lodge, Sons of England, attended service in Trinity church Sunday afternoon. It was a very interesting service, the music being particularly good. The service was read by Rev. J. M. Davenport, the lessons by Rev. S. J. Hanford and R. Mathers. Appropriate hymns were sung, and the anthem was The Lord is My Strength.

The sermon was preached by the chaplain of the society, the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Fredericton, who took for his text the words: "He that taketh a city." Prov. xvi, 32. The annual dinner of the society was held on Monday night in Hotel Dufferin. The usual loyal toasts were enthusiastically honored.

On Wednesday G. A. Brittain of Bristol received a dispatch from Vancouver announcing the death of his son, Albert A. Brittain, which occurred at Skagway on the 19th instant. No particulars concerning his death were learned, but it is supposed to be accidental. Mr. Brittain was about twenty-two years old, left Bristol for Klondyke last February, and a letter received a few days ago stated that he intended to leave Skagway in a few days and try the Chilkoote Pass. He was proprietor of the Bristol wood-working factory.

ONTARIO AND QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, April 13.—The funeral service of the late Cardinal Taschereau took place this morning. The city is filled with visitors, clerical and laymen. Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax arrived yesterday morning; Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop Langevin and Bruchet in the afternoon, and were present at the translation of the remains to the Basilica this morning. Seats were reserved for the family of deceased, representatives of the governor general, the federal ministers and members, for the lieutenant governor, provincial ministers and members, for consuls, ecclesiastical authorities and members of the learned professions. The funeral oration was delivered by Mgr. Labreque of Chicoutimi, and was most eloquent and impressive.

The casket for the remains of the late cardinal is lined with copper. The outside is covered with black cloth caught up by tassels in graceful folds. The handles and mountings are of solid brass. The crucifix upon the top and the plate are of the same material.

The simple inscription on the plate shows the date and place of birth and death. The shell in which the casket will be deposited when finally interred in the vault beneath the chapel of the Basilica is lined with lead, all edges of which will be soldered.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., April 22.—Senior Polo y Berabe, when approached by a reporter, declined to say anything on public matters, on the ground of his diplomatic position. As a citizen of Spain, however, he condemned the war as iniquitous on the part of the United States, and said the United States had no just cause to attempt to rob Spain of Cuba.

"How long do you remain at the Falls?"

"I will be here possibly until Saturday, and will then go to Toronto for a few days. I will then proceed to Montreal, and will sail either from there or from Halifax for Europe. I intend to go direct to Spain, unless otherwise ordered by my government."

He said he had a lot of business in connection with his legation to attend to, but it was all official, and could not make any statement.

BIRDS MADE TO ORDER.

The Japanese are ruthless in their tampering with nature. If they decide that they want a bird or an animal of a certain shape or color they set about manufacturing the article, so to speak, by the exercise of exceedingly clever ingenuity and untiring patience. Here, for example, is how the white sparrows are produced: They select a pair of greyish birds, and keep them in a white cage in a white room, where they are attended by a person dressed in white. The mental effect on a series of generations of birds results in completely white birds—Rural World.
