pected that eight thousand men would have to be left to garrison Lucknow.

Symptoms were observable of a gathering cloud in the North West, and preventive measures were urged for fear of a sudden outbreak among the Sikhs.

Sir James Outram had issued a proclamation that the British Government had no intention to carry on an armed proganadism as was believed among the natives; and the Governor General had issued a proclamation promising reward to those who had been faithful, and calling on others to submit and throw themselves on the mercy of the British Government. He confiscates all the estates of the latter, but promises to spare their lives shall be spared if they are not guilty of shedding murderous blood. The Paris Pays affirms that in a private despatch from Sir Colin Campbell, has urgently demanded large and immediate reinforcements, on account of the great losses the Army has sustained by sickness and the enemy's fire. The Pays says:—Notwithstanding the taking of Lucknow, Oude is in full insurrection and revolt, and instead of being trodden out, it extends daily.

FRANCE.

The Emperor is expected to pay a few days' visit to Brittany in July. The Commission appointed to consider the claims of Prof. Morse has recommended that the Government should give him four thousand francs indemnity, for those of his system in France.

Trade in France continued to show symptoms of improvement. Increased orders received from the United States had reached Lyons.

MARKETS.

Cotton advanced 1-4d. and tending upwards.

Wheat and Flour quiet. Corn advanced 3s to 6s; Provisions steady; Sugar slightly advanced, and the improvement in Molasses continues.

Coffee quiet; Tea inactive. Consols 97 3-4.

Timber remains with little alteration.

The Small-Pox, now in the City, with a fresh arrival in a vessel, now in quarantine, is alarming our City Belles, quite as much as does the growth of hoops the moustached Beaux. But let our pretty faced ladies take heart and place implicit faith in the following distich:—

"You're very elegant my lofty lady,
And have indeed a most bewitching face,
Which only wants a little modest grace
To make you as beautiful as Byron's "Haidee!"
A decent pride there's certainly no harm in;
Tis very best of us must still be human;
But though fine features charm us in a woman,
Beauty with modesty is twice as charming!
I knew a lady, fairer, colder, purer,
Than any ice on Nova Zembla's side,
Who grew so ugly with o'erweening pride,
It took a regular small-pox to cure her!
Proud, she was spurned; but, nature thus outwitted,
The girl was loved the moment she was pitied!

A Smasher Edition in a rage.—Why should Mr. Robertson, of the Westmorland Times, feel so much annoyed that his Government appointment has been animadverted on by a writer in the Freeman? Does he not know that "to the victors belong the spoils:" and does he not know that he is entitled to a share of the prize money?

Fires.—Two fires have occurred in the city during the past week, fortunately neither of which was extensive.

Good News for the Unemployed.—One hundred laborers are wanted immediately on the Saint Andrews and Woodstock Railroad. Wages 5s 6d per day.

The season is unusually backward: we have high freshets, lots of fish, but scarcely a bud on the trees unfolded.

Provincial Appointments.—James A. Harding, Esquire, to be Sheriff for the City and County of Saint John, in the place of Charles Johnston, Esquire, deceased.

George Thomas, Esquire, to be Commissioner of Railways, in the place of Robert Reed, Esquire, resigned.

Henry Livingstone, Esquire, to be Deputy Treasurer and Controller of Customs for the Port of Richibucto, in the place of J. W. Weldon, Esq., resigned.

Robert Douglas, Esquire, to be Deputy Treasurer and Controller of Customs for the Port of Buctouche, in the place of Peter M'Phelim, Esq.

"That the present Government are fast losing ground in the opinion of the people, is beyond all question. We see the evidences of it daily."—Constitution.

Beef as is Beef.—Our friend Godsoe, always a first rate caterer, has now on sale about the best Beef ever exhibited in this market. We trust the Smasher officials who are in the receipt of large salaries and no sons, will not monopolize the whole, but allow their less-favored fellow citizens, whose mouths are watering with the sight, a taste, if it be only a steak.

Inter-Colonial Railway.—We find from the Halifax papers, that the Nova Scotia Legislature are still hopeful of aid from the Imperial Government towards the construction of the long-talked-of extension of the Grand Trunk Railway through New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, to the Port of Halifax.

The following is the resolution passed, on the 23rd ultimo, by the House of Assembly, inviting the co-operation of the Legislature in the matter:—

Resolved "That a conference be requested with the Legislative Council by committee on the general state of the province, and that at such conference the committee of this House request that the Legislative Council will unite with this House in an address to the Queen on the subject of an Inter-Colonial Railroad between Canada, New Brunswick, and Nova Scotia, and inviting the assistance of Her Majesty's government on that great project."

The request contained in this resolution having been acceded to by the Council, the Hon. Messrs. Almon, McHeffy and Holmes were appointed a committee of the House to join in preparing the proposed address.

In reply to an enquiry in the Lower House, the Attorney General said that it was the intention of the Government, so soon as circumstances admit, to complete the road from Truro to Pictou.

[From the Quebec Morning Chronicle.]

The 100th Regiment.—Yesterday morning about 630 men of the 100th Regiment arrived from Montreal and took up barrack accommodation in the Citadel. The Commandant and Staff of the Garrison were on the wharf when they landed and the Band of the 39th Regiment played them up to their quarters. The Hundredth are rather a fine looking body of men physically but as they are dressed in the old military uniform they do not show to the full advantage in the eyes of the 'civil' population. The Montreal Herald says they will remain in this city till the end of the month and when joined by the remainder from Montreal will proceed to England. The regiment is nearly wholly organized and in a few days may be expected to complete its quota, and will then be a thousand strong. The following General Order was issued on Thursday by Lieut. General Sir Wm. Eyre, K. C. B., commanding the Forces in B. N. America, upon the embarkation of the Head Quarters of the 100th Regiment for Quebec:—

Head Quarters,
Montreal, May 6, 1858.

General Order.

The Recruits of the 100th, or the Prince of Wales Royal Canadian Regiment, being about to embark for Quebec the Lieutenant General Commanding desires to express to the men his thanks for their obedience and orderly conduct in Barracks, under trying circumstances. The Lieutenant General is not only satisfied with the progress they have made towards discipline and order without which a military body is a mere rabble. The Lieutenant General has perfect confidence that the 100th Regiment will do honour to the noble service to which they belong and sustain the character of the great Province which has so effectually contributed to the military strength of the Empire.

R. Rollo, Lieut.-Col.,
Asst. Adjt. General.

☞ A correspondent from Hopewell complains of the Mail arrangements in that quarter. Notwithstanding there is an office at the "Corner," and the mail passes within fifty yards of it, the people in the district have to wait several days for its return to get their correspondence. The whole postal arrangements of the country are in a deplorable state, and will be until the useless office of Post Master General is abolished, and the Department placed again under the orders of Mr. Howe.

The Orange Incorporation Bill of Canada has been defeated in the Legislative Assembly by a vote of 52 to 42.

There is in the city of New York nearly forty thousand women who sew for a living. About thirteen thousand of these are shirt-makers, eleven thousand tailoresses and vest-makers, four thousand four hundred cloak and mantilla makers, three thousand dress-makers and milliners, besides those employed in other branches of needlework. Most of these women have been out of employment during the past winter,—only about three thousand of them, it is said have had work during this period. Shirt makers generally receive 25 cents a day. The introduction of sewing machines has thrown a great many out of employment.

Canadian Revenue.—The total revenue of Canada for 1857 was £1,338,193 11s. 8d., and the expenditure £1,422,233 10s. 7d. The deficiency in the entire revenue for the year, as against expenditure, is about £180,000. Over £110,000 was expended for education; the civil goverment of the Provence cost £58,000; the administration of justice £126,000; the expenses of the Legislature were over £126,400. The customs revenue amounted to £981,807; of which £446,910, or nearly half was collected at the port of Montreal.

England and France.—The intelligent London correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser still adheres to his opinion that Louis Napoleon is determined to support his despotism by a war with England at no distant day. He says this opinion is gaining ground in both countries, and every minor indication, from day to day, points to this conclusion. He says:

"The first signal of the struggle may come at any moment, since nothing could be plainer than that a pretext is all that is waited for. The refuges difficulty failed to answer the purpose at the time, but even that is looked to as capable of affording the necessary means for a rupture, in case no other subject should offer that will involve a less flagrant disregard of decency. When Count Walewski withdrew from further discussion on the point, he left it to the people of England to do what was requisite. Therefore they are not likely to do anything, and the charge can at any time be raised that they have repaid the generous reliance of the Emperor with an insulting indifference. In the hands of Marshal Pelissier a reclamation of this kind will not be frittered down by delicate handling. But it evidently hoped that some more covert and diplomatic cause of rupture may be found without delay.

Very likely on the re-assembling of Parliament, the speeches of the peace members in the House of Commons—Messrs. Bright and Milner Gibson and others—will furnish the requisite offence. It is enough that an assault upon us has been resolved on."

A New Rotary Steam Engine.—The application of the rotary principal to the practical uses of steam power which has long been a desideratum, is said to have been successfully applied to a new steamboat of 400 tons, called the Dawn, by Mr. Ebenezer Burrows, of New York. On a recent trip from New York to Fairhaven, only 5 1-2 tons of coal were consumed, during twenty-five hours of time. The time of the passage was eighteen hours,—a little more than ten miles an hour.—This is as fast as propellers of this class, having ordinary engines, usually sail. The following is a description of the engine, taken from an authorized account:—

"The engine is cylindrical, and presents to the eye no motion but the revolution of the shaft which passes axially through it. There are no valves to be worked except in stopping or reversing the motion, and no reprecitating parts of any description, unless such term be applied to the wings or sliding pistons. To balance the enormous side pressure, steam is admitted at two opposite points, simultaneously; and there are two fixed abutments, between which are the sliding wings which project from the central wheel, the steam acts directly, and with none of the fluctuations and intermissions ordinarily experienced.—As each pair of wings approach the vicinity of the abutments they are quietly and smoothly withdrawn to be again gradually thrust out as soon as these points are passed. There are four or more pistons, so that one pair is always in position to bear the full and direct pressure of the steam. The engine may be worked expansively by the addition of suitable valves on the outside, but as at present arranged it is (with the exception of the packings, which are admirable in every part) the perfection of simplicity working with the same facility in one direction as in the other. The steam chamber, or space between the interior wheel and the fixed cylindrical case, is 30 inches diameter, 12 inches wide, and 2 1-4 inches deep."

The great advantages claimed for this rotary engine, are that about one-quarter of the usual amount of space is occupied; that a saving of one-third is made in fuel; that it acts with ease and without friction, and can be reversed with little trouble.—Boston Traveller.

The Railroad Case in the Supreme Court.—In the case of Sarah E. Shaw vs. Boston and Worcester Railroad, for $20,000 damages for injuries, now on its third trial in the Supreme Court, great progress has, so far, been made, when the fact is considered that no less than five lawyers are retained. The end of the plaintiff's testimony was reached before 1 o'clock yesterday, when B. F. Butler commenced his opening for the defence. His Honor Judge Bigelow will be a happy man if he can see the end of a case which he has once before tried, in a week from its commencement.—Ib.

Frightful Railway Accident.

A frightful railroad accident occurred on Tuesday morning last, on the Central Railroad, by the falling of a bridge over the Saquoit Creek, 3½ miles west of Utica, N. Y., by which eight persons were killed outright, five or six others dangerously injured, and some forty others more or less hurt. The accident occurred to the Cincinnati express train, which was crossing up at a high rate of speed, and was crossing the bridge at the same time as the Utica accomodation train for the West, each on its own track. The bridge being rotten the weight was too heavy and it fell just after the engine of the express train crossed the bridge, precipitating the freight cars of the accomodation train and the passenger cars of the express train into the creek, piling the passenger cars one above the other, and splintering the platform and seats to atoms as the cars struck the abutments. A despatch says:—

The bridge at which the accident occurred was entirely rotten, several of the main beams on which the track was laid being found decayed all the way through. There is no doubt but that the accident through the voluntary breaking of these timbers by the weight of the two locomotives passing over the bridge at the same time. The greater portion of the heart of the wood is like so much punk, and the wonder is that the bridge had stood so long.

The smash is a most terrible one, and the scene conveys a vivid impression of the horrors of the disaster. Between the stone abutments of the bridge is a space of 32 feet. The ordinary length of cars is 35 feet; and the depth to the bottom of the creek is 9 feet.—Three entire cars lay lengthways, crushed up like a telescope between the abutments of the bridge, thus occupying the space of but little more than the length of one car.

The first and second cars cannot be distinguished one from the other.

The third car is entirely demolished, except about one third of the rear.

On the sides of the cars and on the timbers of the bridge are frightful stains of human blood.
