

Arrival of the "Canada."

On the fourth of July, Colonel Lloyd, C. Francis Goss, and Hugh Montgomery, with Rev. Andrew Hamilton, were sent with some of those who accompanied the fleet, to guard the entrance to the harbor, and to give the British the command of the vessel, an account of the capture of their town, and the capture of the British.

On a raw, it gratifies us very much that that is all parts of Canada the Orange are rapidly progressing. Unfortunately arisen from the some of the leaders of the Association, body of the Orangemen are united and work together for the benefit of the community. In the city of St. John's, Halifax and Peterborough, various branches are forming. In the latter especially, it has been found necessary to form a branch of the Orange Order, as the friends of Orangeism, while it gives us some friendly opposition, it also gives us some friendly argument to these enemies. The internal conflict of the Orange body could effect the action of the Orange body and it is necessary that it should act.

We learn from the Halifax British Northwestern that the Captain and crew of the steamship Fairy Queen have undergone an ex-making their arrangements, and conducting work in that quiet but systematic manner which is characteristic of the Japanese in the shortest time possible.

We understand that timber from the Japanese Bridge over the Sazanow River, (which is the largest of the bridges in the city), has been shipped from England by Messrs. Jackson and Bay Brunsen.

CHANGKANG, Oct. 1st.—During the night of Thursday 29th last, a heavy rain storm drove their anchors in Chiamooan harbor, and many of them are greatly injured; several are in contact with each other; one vessel is in flames, and the others are scattered away from the coast. It is expected that five vessels will be consumed and sunk.

There is also a small vessel, known as the "H. S. S.," which is reported to be from Antung, N. S., bound for French St. Peter's.
