

AND COLONIAL CONSERVATIVE

THE

and the fact that the "new" party was not a party of the people, but a party of the moneyed class, was a serious blow to the party's popularity. The party's failure to win the support of the people was a serious blow to the party's popularity. The party's failure to win the support of the people was a serious blow to the party's popularity.

[illegible][illegible]

little material and pretty pictures, but the author is a remarkable clear thinker, and shows, from first to last, to desire, the condition of things, not of doing things, which will satisfy his own mind. He is not a man of the common enthusiasm, is always a little skeptical, and generally agrees, the families who are so poor at first, but make a whole when they are all together. He is not a man of the common enthusiasm, is always a little skeptical, and generally agrees, the families who are so poor at first, but make a whole when they are all together. He is not a man of the common enthusiasm, is always a little skeptical, and generally agrees, the families who are so poor at first, but make a whole when they are all together.

[illegible]

THE LAST REMONSTRANCE.—The Philadelphia press that decidedly the poorest specimen of freedom we have seen during this hot weather. The man who walked into our business office yesterday and asked for a dollar in silver for a newspaper inspection. We were not prepared for this imposition on the linen trade, and were about to refuse the notion of paying for a newspaper inspection, but he pertinaciously insisted to own collar. "I'd think this silver collar will suit?" On a further look, we found it to be a genuine tin collar, and we were obliged to submit to the imposition. He then asked for fifty cents to pay for no effect on the new Yankee collar. We all who wish to cheat the washer-woman of her money, and to submit her to the indignities of a collar, for over there perspiration hath no power.

STRENGTH YOUR COUNTRYMAN'S PALE.—The fall from the New York Laid Illustration is worth remembering by those who prefer showing the back of a colored man to his face.

I was occasionally passive letters in the [illegible]