THE ENGLISH NIGHTINGALE.

BY GERALD MASSY.

You [illegible], you bonny Nightingale,
You are no summer bird;
[illegible] wall
[illegible] sword.
All night she sings, brave Nightingale,
With her breast against the thorn;
Her saintly patience does not fail,
She keepeth watch till morn.

O sing you bonniest bird of God,
The night is sad and long;
To dying ears—to broken hearts—
You sing an angel's song;
She sings, she sings, brave Nightingale,
And weary wailing souls
Are caught up into slumber's Heaven,
And lapped in love's warm folds.

O sing, O sing! brave Nightingale,
For at your magic note
Upon life's sea victoriously
The sinking soul will float.
O sing, O sing! brave Nightingale,
And lure them back again,
Whose path is lost and spirit crost,
In dark wild woods of pain.

She sings, she sings brave Nightingale,
She breathes a glorious balm;
Her presence breaks the waves of war
She smiles them into calm.
She sings, she sings, brave Nightingale,
Of [illegible] and home;
And life grows light, the world grows bright,
And blood runs rich with bloom.

The rose will lift her veil and blush
At her bower-dower like a bride;
The shy brown birds will come with spring,
In merry green woods to hide;
While she sings on, brave Nightingale,
Till war's stern heart melts mild,
And nestles in the arms of peace,
And slumbers like a child.

Day unto day her dainty hands
Makes life's soiled temples clean,
And there's a wake of glory where
Her spirit pure hath been.
Brave bird of life, wave healing wings
O'er that grey land o' the dead!
God's heaven lie round you like a shield,
Earth's blessings on your head!

VARIETY.

French Sang-Froid.—In the intervals between the sorties of the enemy the soldiers amuse themselve in the trenches in playing pitch and toss, or cards, or at bowls—the Russian balls serving as the bowls. Sometimes, to try the skill of the Russian riflemen, who are in ambuscade at 50 or 60 yards from them, they raise a bottle or a cap on the top of a parapet and when the man hits it, which he almost always does, they hoist up a canteen, signify that he deserves a drink for having fired so well.—Four days ago eight of the soldiers were playing at loto in the trenches, and all at once a shell fell in the midst of them. "Quicive?" cried one, with a laugh; and the moment after it was ascertained that of their party one was killed and six wounded. The other evening a sentinel, who was peeping through a hole in the parapet cried, "Here are the Russians coming!" "Are they far off?" asked the others. "Not very," answered the sentinel. "Well, when they are quite close to us!" was the answer; and the men remained quietly seated. Presently the sentinel cried, "Here they are!" On which each man seized his musket, and after firing a volley over the parapet, proceeded to attack the Russians with the bayonet, and in a few seconds routed them.

The Ohio Liquor Law.—One of the most important questions brought before the Supreme Court of Ohio this winter was decided on Saturday morning, January 20th, at Columbus. The decree was pronounced by Judge Thurman, as being the unanimous judgement of the entire bench, as to the constitutionality and validity of the Liquor Law enacted at the last session of the Legislature. The opinion fully sustains the law against all objections that was raised against it. This decision will, we suppose, quiet all cavalling as regards either the surface the justice or the validity of the law, and forever silence those who have heretofore declaimed against it as being unconstitutional. The questions decided are said to be numerous, and to embrace almost every phase of the points at issue.—Western Christian Advocate.

Dry and Moistened Fodder.—Bous-ingault has recently tested by experiment the widely diffused view of the practical farmer, that soaked fodder forms a more suitable food than that which is dry. It was found that heifers fed with soaked hay gained in weight over those fed during the same time with dry hay, though the increase was so slight that it hardly compensated for the additional trouble. By reversing the order of feeding, the results were the same. The moistening of fodder also appears to have no influence upon the secretion of milk, the use of moistened fodder appears to be of advantage only in those cases in which quick fattening is required, since the cattle devour the fodder much quicker—nearly twelve times as fast—when it is in this condition.—Liebeg's Annual Report.

Cereal Wonders.—At the corn exchange meeting in Philadelphia, on Tuesday, some samples of California wheat and oats were exhibited which excited much wonder. The grains of wheat and oats were of remarkable size, the former being at the rate of 70 pounds to the bushel, a thing unheard of here, where the very best samples of wheat do not go higher than the rate of 63 or 64 pounds to the bushel. The head of wheat was also of great size. With such fertility as the soil of California must possess to yield such products as these, it is no wonder that we already hear of the abundance of the last wheat crop, and of its being sufficient to supply that region. Some fine samples of cotton grown in California were also exhibited—a fact which shows that the State is adapted to almost any of the crops now cultivated in other section of the Union.

Little Kindnesses.—That humble current of little kindness which, through but a creeping streamlet, yet incessantly flows—although it glides in silent secresy within the domestic walls, and along the walks of private life, and makes neither appearance nor noise in the world—pours, in the end, a more copious tribute into the store of human comfort and felicity than any sudden and transient flood of detached bounty, however ample, that may rush into it with a mighty sound.

Poligamy and Mormanism.—Elder P. P. Pratt, in California, has thrown down the following challenge in the way of a discussion:—

Resolved—That "Poligamy" is not contrary to the constitution and laws of the United States—the Scriptures, the law of nature or the laws of God.

We understand printed and blank sheets of paper made from basswood have been forwarded from Albany to the London Times and Bell's Life in London, and to some of the Paris journals. The London Times has for some time had a standing reward of £1,000 for the production of paper from other material than rags, at a reduced cost.

Three hundred and eighteen Polish non-commission officers and soldiers have accepted the offer made by the French Government to the Russian prisoners quartered in the Isle of Aix, to enroll themselves in a foreign legion to fight against Russia.

A new bridge is to be built over the Seine to Paris, to be called the bridge of Alma.

All of a Size.—The American Courier, reporting a case of disputed title in pigs, which had been suffered to run wild, gives the following examination of a deaf witness. Lawyer: Do you know plaintiff's pigs? Witness: Eh? (very loud) Lawyer (raising his voice): Do—How long have you known them? Witness: Fed 'em all last spring. Lawyer: Were they all of a size? Witness: [illegible] Lawyer (rises on his feet petulantly, and shakes his fore finger at the witness): Were—they—all—of—a—size? Witness: Some ov 'em wor and some on 'em wor'n't!

Laughter.—A singular contortion of the human countenance when a friend, on a rainy day, claims his umbrella.

THE INFALLIBLE REMEDY!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

ERYSIPELAS OF EIGHT YEARS DURATION CURED!

Copy of a Letter from George Sinclair, Esquire, of Paris, Canada, dated the 18th of July, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I feel a pleasure and pride in bearing witness to the wonderful benefit I have derived by the use of your inestimable Ointment and Pills. For eight years I suffered unceasingly from attacks of erysipelas; large purple blotches came all over my body; in addition to the unpleasant feeling of itching and burning, which effected me both night and day, rendering life misery to me, as well as to all around,—so severe was the attack. I used several reputed remedies without deriving the least cessation to my misery. At last, I determined to try your Ointment and Pills; after taking them for a few weeks, a visible improvement took place, and I feel considerably better;—in three months, by continuing with your medicines, I was completely cured, and now enjoy the best of health. The truth of this statement is well known here, hence there is no necessity for me to request secrecy. I am, Sir, yours respectfully,

(Signed) GEO. SINCLAIR.

ULCERS IN THE LEG.—REMARKABLE CURE!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Edward Tomkinson, of Cape Breton, Nova Scotia, dated the 4th May, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My sister, Miss Jane Tomkinson, suffered for a great number of years from a bad leg; in which there were several deeply seated and old wounds, defying the skill of some of the most eminent of the faculty, a variety of remedies were also used unsuccessfully; and it seemed to me that there was not any thing capable of mitigating the agonies she endured. At length she had recourse to your Ointment and Pills, and after using them for about five weeks, she was completely cured, after all other means had failed to afford her the slightest relief. I have no objection to these facts being published, if you feel disposed to make them known.

I remain, Sir, your most obedient servant,

(Signed) EDWD. TOMKINSON.

A BAD BREAST CURED WHEN AT DEATH'S DOOR!!

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Henry Malden, of Three Rivers, Canada West, dated July 9th, 1854.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—My wife suffered most severely after the birth of our last child with a bad breast. There were several holes in it, one as large as a hand; all the devices and stratagems I tried would not heal them, but assumed an aspect more frightful than before, and horrible to behold. As a last resource I tried your Ointment and Pills, which she persevered with for seven weeks, at the expiration of that time her breast was almost well; by continuing with your remedies two more weeks, she was entirely cured, and we offer you our united thanks for the cure effected.

I remain, Sir, yours truly,

(Signed) HENRY MALDEN.
