CHURCH VANDALISM.
 Jarvis street Baptist Church of Toronto paid $1000.00 yesterday into the city treasury for the other day. It was an installment of $1000 of the taxes which the church will pay for its own account this year on a valuation of $100,000 on the building. The property is, of course, legally exempt from taxation, but the church has managed for several years past to pay taxes thereon just the same. With the church's cash coming today from the First Baptist, the treasurer, a woman, said the city authorities use their influence to have all exemptions abolished.

ST. JOHN STAR.
 ST. JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 24, 1901.

LEON COLOJOS.
 This morning Leon Colajos, the assassin of President McKinley, paid the penalty of his crime. The law exacts a life for a life, and though that of the murderer could not be compared with that of the man who died by his hand, yet for his rash and awful deed he was compelled to give up his own. There can be but little pity for the dead assassin. His action was deliberate and he has since expressed no degree of repentance. The only pity there can be is that a man, instinct with possibilities, should come to such an end. For his deed there can be nothing but abhorrence and his execution is the natural and only sequence. Should it prove to be a lesson to the people and retard and finally stamp out anarchy and its attendant horrors, President McKinley has not died in vain.

THE SMALLPOX OUTBREAK.
 Whether the present outbreak of smallpox is liable to become an epidemic or not, whether the disease is of a mild type or a virulent one, or whether all persons are safe from or exposed to it, has yet to be learned. But the fact remains that too great precautions cannot be taken to prevent the spread of the disease, and the first and most important step in this direction after the isolating of the victims is to make the system proof against an attack by the simple method of vaccination.

Vaccination practically causes a mild, a very mild, attack of smallpox in the person operated on. One of the unexplained facts of medical science is that after recovering from a first attack of certain diseases the victims are rendered immune. Smallpox in one of those diseases, and vaccination being truly a mild type of smallpox creates a species of immunity in precisely the same way, with this difference, that whereas vaccination is an exceeding mild type of the disease, it does not totally prevent the possibility of contagion, but renders the system, if affected, more able to resist and causes the attack to take a much milder form. Persons who have been vaccinated are, provided it "takes," somewhat less liable to contagion than those who have not taken this simple precaution, and they are also comforted by the thought that even should they fall victims they need not fear a fatal or even a disfiguring termination to the disease.

As yet the Provincial Board of Health has not seen the necessity of ordering public vaccination for the city of St. John, but even if they did it would not in this advanced age be required. Surely all know that vaccination is a safeguard, and whether they believe in it or not they should submit to the opinions of others who are supposed to know what they are talking about, and undergo an operation which, simple and painless though it be, is everywhere recognized as the first principle in combating smallpox.

WICKED NEW YORK.
 If the reports now circulated about the condition of New York be true, Babylon in its palmy days would have a good rival in the American metropolis. Something must be allowed for the fact that these reports are used as campaign material by the fusion candidates, against Tammany and its officials. Nevertheless the standing of the men, and the reliability of the papers, who have made these charges, compels a more than partial belief in their truthfulness. A report lately issued by a citizen's committee regarding traffic in young girls, seems almost too horrible for this age, and for the chief city of an enlightened and professedly Christian people. This report has so roused the women of New York that many have banded together to aid the anti-Tammany candidates by their personal efforts and by the use of what is apparently most powerful in that city, their money. It is their intention to contribute fifty thousand dollars to the campaign. And while this amount will be of considerable help in the fight the very work of raising the money, bringing as it will the minds of many who are indifferent about the state of affairs, the true condition of the city, will be of justly greater help to the fusion candidates. When charges are openly made, as they are at present, that robbery, assaults and even murders, are winked at by officers sworn to carry out the law and protect the lives and homes of the citizen, it is certainly time that something should be done to remove from such position of trust and responsibility persons who have shown

THE ROYAL TROOP.
 A review is about to be held, according to the despatches, which if it proves to have foundation in fact may affect seriously the condition of Afghanistan. It is stated that Ayub Khan, a son of a former ameer, has escaped from British surveillance. About twenty years ago Ayub headed an insurrection against the late ameer and was defeated. Since that time he has been a virtual prisoner. In the present, apparently peaceful and settled condition of the country it is unlikely that he could obtain much of a following. But the rumor that he has escaped has caused some uneasiness.

NO PAIN IN DYING.
 The Phrase "Death Agony" Not Warranted in Natural Death.
 (Humanitarian.)
 The popular idea that the act of dying is a painful process often causes a fear of death. But death from even the most painful mortal diseases is usually preceded by a period of cessation from suffering and partial complete insensibility, resembling faintness, or the pleasant gradual unconsciousness caused by an anesthetic. The common phrase "death agony" is not warranted by what occurs in natural death, which is a complete relief from all pain, when death is owing to heart failure or apoplexy. It is sudden and painless—perhaps pleasant. Death by hanging, there is a reason to believe, is attended by a voluptuous spasm. Death by decapitation or electrocution is only a momentary shock, barely felt. Death by poisoning—whether in painfulness according to the poison employed. Opium and other narcotics probably give a painless, perhaps, a pleasant, dreamful death. Hemlock, as we know from the death of Socrates, causes a gradual insensibility, from below upward. On the other hand arsenic, strychnine, carbolic and mineral acids, corrosive sublimate, tartar emetic, and other metallic poisons inflict slow and torturing death. Prussic acid and cyanide of potassium cause quick and painful death.

NEWCASTLE COAL FIELDS.
 Geo. W. Allen, K. C. M. P. P., returned on Saturday night from a visit to the Newcastle coal fields in company with other prominent members of the New Brunswick Railway and Coal Co., says the Fredericton Gleaner. The party, which included Hon. Mr. Tweedie, Hon. Dr. Pugsley, C. N. Skinner, A. P. Barnhill, A. I. Trueman, Geo. Ross, M. P. P., Dr. Smith, E. Hutchinson, F. M. Tweedie and Mr. Allen, left St. John on Friday morning on tugboat Murray and went to Newcastle, on Grand Lake. The steamer drew eight feet of water, and although the river had lake are now at very low level, no difficulty was experienced in getting to and from Newcastle, which is the shipping point by water for the coal fields of Queens county.

The party spent a day in inspecting the several mines adjacent to Newcastle, which are worked in a crude, desultory and limited way by their owners, and also looked over the properties possessed by the company. The gentlemen express themselves as well pleased with what they saw, very hopeful of the future as regards the development of the coal-mining industry of Queens county and greatly encouraged by the prospects for a large and profitable business for the railway which the company is building from Chipman to Gibson.

SAFETY BOARD.
 The regular meeting of the board of public safety was held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon. Alderman Staton presiding.

It was decided to recommend that J. R. Woodburn and R. E. Sandall be given renewals of their leases of lots on Orange street at $40 and $50 respectively.

A letter from J. B. Hamm asking for definite instructions in the use of the ambulance caused considerable discussion. It was decided to recommend that Mr. Hamm be instructed to ascertain whether the coal mined for whether it is for a case of contagious disease, and if so, not to let it go. It was further decided to recommend that the council memorialize the hospital commissioners asking them to take charge of the ambulance.

A form for use in the jail and police court on the discharge of prisoners, showing the amount paid, was approved.

Capt. Hamm, of No. 2 Salvage Corps, asked that a company be paid a second of entering upon North Market place; that 14 new winter coats be purchased and 12 repaired for the police force; $500 having been voted for that purpose; and that 2500 lbs. of spelter be purchased for the fire department.

The presentment of the Grand Jury was read and called for some attention in regard to fire escapes on all buildings of three stories or over. It was decided to recommend that proper metal winding stairways be provided on all buildings of this class.

A number of bills were recommended to be paid. One of them of $68 from Dr. D. B. Berryman included charges for ten visits to Captain Jenkins and three to Sergt. Campbell, while they were suffering from injuries received at Torbay. It was decided that as the officers were not on duty when the injuries were received the city should not pay the bill. It was recommended that the bill be paid, the charges for attending the officers being thrown out.

First Banquet—That was a great dinner.
 Second Banquet—Elegant. I have not felt so uncomfortable for a long time—Philadelphia Record.

THE MOOSE HEADS.
 Two moose heads, said to be among the largest ever brought to this city from the Maine woods, are the property of W. R. Comfort, of No. 34 New Campbell street, and John Harper of the Bank for Savings, says the N. Y. Herald. The heads are of a fine size, and the antlers, respectively, fifty-nine and sixty-one inches.

Mr. Comfort and Mr. Harper left New York some time ago with Charles Brooks of the custom house. They went first to St. Francis, Canada, where, with guides, they left the travelled routes, and for fifty miles drove through the forest to the St. John river. To get into the moose country a canoe trip of forty-five miles down the river was made. Moose were scarce, however. During their stay the party saw about ten in all, but most of them had small antlers and so were unselected. One day the party heard a cow call back in the woods from the river, and three bulls answered. Mr. Comfort with a large loaded gun, and before the hunters got near enough to shoot all three became alarmed. For several hours Mr. Comfort and his guide crept along the creek. Finally Mr. Comfort got within range and speedily pumped seven bullets into the moose, and one of which, the guide said, should have proved fatal.

Two days later Mr. Harper came upon his moose on the edge of a bog back from the river. He shot once, and then the wounded animal ran toward him, dropping some fifty feet before him.

Two days later Mr. Brooks got his moose, one with an antler spread of forty-eight inches. The moose whose heads were brought back stood about seven feet in height and weighed about 1,400 pounds.

SYDNEY.
 SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 23.—The work of ballasting the L. C. R. tracks on the Cape Breton division has ceased, though a good deal of it remains to be done. This portion of the work is left over until next spring. There were three ballasting trains used and a force of 125 men employed. Accommodation cars will be brought over to the Nova Scotia side to be used in connection with the relaying of the road from West River to Mulgrave with 80 pound rails. All the C. B. division is now equipped with such rails, except four miles at West Bay road station and two from North Sydney Junction towards Lettice creek. The men employed in ballasting the road are laid off.

SIX MEN HURT.
 LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Oct. 23.—By an explosion of a Colt's automatic firing gun at Fort Leavenworth today, Captain Charles T. Meneher and five men of the twenty-eighth battery of field artillery were wounded, three severely.

Look At It.
 We mean our little picture here. There's a vaporizer you put some Vapo-Cresol one in it; there's a lamp, you light it. Then you just naturally breathe-in the vapor. You can read, or sew, or study, the cure goes right on all the time. Now you see why the doctors all speak so highly of Vapo-Cresol for throat troubles. It takes the medicine just where it's most needed, and it is a perfect cure for whooping-cough.

Vapo-Cresol is sold by druggists everywhere. The name is blown in glass and is blown in a series of concentric circles, and is blown in a series of concentric circles, and is blown in a series of concentric circles.

The Grand Trunk has agreed to convey one hundred poor patients per year to and from the hospital, also physicians and nurses.

KINGSTON, Ont., Oct. 23.—Lt. Col. Gordon's illness in South Africa was fully as serious as cablegrams implied. He was unconscious for several days from erysipelas in the head. Now, after three months' illness, the medical board's report consigns him to still another month in hospital at Wynberg before he can sail for England.

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 23.—The post office inspectors, with a couple of provincial detectives, yesterday raided a matrimonial agency conducted at Toronto Junction by one Kohan. No arrests were made, but the inspector seized a great pile of letters and ordered the suspension of delivery of any further letters to the concern pending the action of the attorney general's department. Kohan formerly conducted a matrimonial agency at Syracuse, N. Y., until it was suppressed by the United States postal authorities.

The idea of the regulation is to prevent persons committing depredations upon oyster beds when digging for clams.

NO SWIMMERS THERE.
 The Negroes (a Philippine tribe) have an curious custom. As soon as a child is born it is rolled in soft wood shavings until it is thoroughly dry, and from that day until its death, may be at 70 years, it never voluntarily washes, or is washed, although no effort is made to protect it from the rain. A Negroite is as careful in crossing a stream that he shall not fall and get wet as though he had on $100 worth of clothes.

OLD SCHOOL DAYS.
 On the 10th ult., when Andrew Carnegie was passing from his club to the Central hotel, a native of Dunfermline, who is now a fruit merchant in Glasgow, made one of the crowns on the pavement. When the party noticed the burping appeared he could not resist exclaiming, "Well done for Bunty Martin's school!" that being the name of the scholastic establishment in the old city where both had been taught their letters. The remark struck home, and the man of millions stopped at once, and, giving the speaker a hearty handshake, said he was happy to have met him. The native was as proud as if he had been presented at court.
