MORE SMALL-POX.

Two New Cases Are Reported in the City. Just as the Board of Health were congratulating themselves that the disease had been thoroughly stamped out in the city other cases of small pox, happily this time of a very mild type, are reported.

One victim is Miss Georgia Deboo, daughter of C. E. Deboo, who resides at 24 City road. She has been ill since Friday, but the symptoms of smallpox were so slight that the attending physician was not alarmed until Tuesday, when a consultation was held.

Yesterday the patient was again examined. The disease definitely pronounced as smallpox, and the Board of Health so notified. Last night the house was quarantined and all the inmates vaccinated.

The Deboo family, which occupies the upper flat, consists of Mr. and Mrs. Deboo and two children, besides the patient. On the lower flat, which is also included in the quarantine, lives Joseph Sproule, his wife and her child, and one boarder. A. D. Branscombe's grocery store is in the same building, but up till noon today it had not been closed nor placed under quarantine.

One of the peculiar facts about the case is that the patient, Miss Deboo, who is about 26 years of age, has been a confirmed invalid since childhood, and for a long time has not been out of the house, nor in any place where she could have come in contact with the disease, the germs of which must have been carried to her about the person of some others in the house.

Another case was reported to Inspector Burns about midnight, a fourteen-year-old girl, daughter of William Fawcett, of 247 Waterloo street, has contracted the disease, although it is but a mild type. Dr. Baxter reported the case. How the young girl contracted the disease is not known.

In fact there is a considerable mystery about both of these cases. The homes of both patients are near to the epidemic hospital, but four physicians say that it was impossible to have contracted it in that manner.

The Fawcett house was put in strict quarantine and the board of health will be in session this afternoon to decide what will be done in the case. There is an excellent chance to isolate Miss Deboo at her own home, but that matter will be decided this afternoon.

DR. PARKIN'S GUEST. (Toronto Mail and Empire). Sir Frederick Young, K. C. M. G., who is at present the guest of Dr. Parkin, principal of Upper Canada College, has had a remarkable career in connection with the Colonial Institute, of which he was the honorary secretary for thirteen years.

He saw his numbers grow from 200 to 4000, and he still retains an important post as vice-president. In 1888 Sir Frederick was knighted in recognition of his services for the Empire through the Colonial Institute.

Though an ardent Imperialist, he does not care especially for the word "imperial" as being apt to convey a wrong impression. He believes in national development, and the thorough realization of the value of the colonies by the people of the Mother Country.

Sir Frederick is a writer of distinction, and in connection with colonial matters published in 1890 "A Winter Year in South Africa." Last year he published "Erie Party," an essay on the rise and fall of parties in the conduct of British affairs.

This is his first visit to Canada, and, though 64 years of age, he takes the keenest interest in observing the extent and wealth of the country of which he has written and spoken so much. From Toronto Sir Frederick goes to Ottawa, where he will be the guest of Sir Sandford Fleming, and then to Montreal and Quebec before sailing for home, as he says, "I must stand on the Plains of Abraham before I die."
