THE SUGAR WAR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—Another aggressive move has been made by the American Sugar Refining Co. in the campaign which it has begun against the beet sugar industry. The cut in the price of granulated sugar to all Missouri River points, which was announced last week, has been followed by a reduction in the price of beet and cane sugar in all states from Colorado to California. The reduction as announced by the Western Sugar Refining Company, which is allied with the Am. Sugar Refining Company, amounts to 10 cents a hundred on beet sugar, and 20 cents a hundred on cane sugar.

Robert Oxnard, vice-president of the Beet Sugar Association, in speaking about the latest reduction, said:—"It is a fact that the Western Sugar Refining Company has made a decline of 20 cents per hundred on their cane sugars and 10 cents per hundred on their beet sugars. This makes the difference in their price between cane granulated and beet granulated 20 points instead of 10 points as heretofore. The cut affects all markets from California to Colorado. I know of no change in the general sugar situation to account for it. Further than this, I do not care to discuss the matter at present. In order to discriminate further against beet sugar the Western Sugar Refining Company announces that it will entertain no orders for granulated sugar which call for over 50 per cent of beet sugar. The reduction in price has also affected Hong Kong sugar, which there is a small supply in the market.

STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Wall street—The contrary movements of prices in the opening dealings reflected the uncertainty and hesitation of speculative sentiment. Dealings were not on a large scale, however, and price movements were not made.

There was some special pressure against United States steel, sugar, and the New York Tractions. Amalgamated Copper opened up ½ but more than lost it. New York, Chicago, and St. Louis, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste Marie and Iowa Central preferred showed good gains. The stock market opened irregular.

A CANADIAN CHALLENGER.

Ex-Mayor Smith, of Chatham, Suggests a Plan for Building a Challenger.

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 8.—Former Mayor Smith, who has just returned from a four months tour in Europe, has written to the Banner-News suggesting a plan for building a Canadian challenger for the 'America's cup in the event of the Shamrock not being successful in winning the three remaining races. He says:—'Everywhere in England, Ireland and Scotland, and on the Continent, I found a keen interest manifested in all things relating to Canada. For fifty years England has endeavored to lift the America's cup. I believe Canada can do it. I have mentioned the matter to friends in Toronto and Montreal and I firmly believe that if one of our millionaires could undertake to carry on the work so valiantly undertaken by Sir Thomas Lipton it would be of the greatest benefit to Canada. And I am convinced Canada can lift the cup.'

Americans Would Like to Have Mr. Jarvis Sail a Ninety-Foot 'Invader.'

TORONTO, Oct. 8—A Toronto yachtsman, in reply to a letter enquiring as to the present eligibility of Canadian clubs to challenge and compete for the 'America's' cup, has received the following communication from John R. Spears, the well-known New York authority:

'There is nothing in the deed of gift to prevent Canadian clubs challenging for the cup; but there is a paragraph or sentence that was drawn to prevent Canadians sending a challenger through the canals. The N. Y. Y. C. was rather disgusted with the challenger that came down that way, and drew the rule to bar anything so coming.

'I think this was rather unsportsmanlike, but that was a long time ago. If the cup stays (I think Sir Thomas has a chance to lift it), a Canadian challenger built from plans by the designer of 'Invader' would be heartily welcome.'

Mr. Spears adds that the members of the N. Y. Y. C. would be glad to see Aemilius Jarvis the skipper of 'Invader' at the tiller of a 90-foot 'Invader.'

COMMODORE STEWART.

Makes Fun of the Nautical Editor of the Telegraph.

(Chatham World.)

The St. John Telegraph is a great newspaper, but it has its weak points. For instance, in dealing editorially with Thursday's Shamrock-Columbia race, it says:

The disappointment of the day to the challenger was that the direction of the wind made the triangular course two close reaches and a dead beat instead of affording a broad reach which she has demonstrated to be her best point of sailing.

It would be interesting to those who know something of the history of these big yachts to be told by the Telegraph when and where Shamrock demonstrated a broad reach to be her best point of sailing, as compared with Columbia or any other yacht. But what we are most anxious about is to learn from the Telegraph how a triangular course equilateral, can be laid out, from any given point, so that a vessel sailing over it will have two close reaches on the first two legs and a dead beat on the third. Will the Telegraph please publish a diagram of such a course. If the nautical editor of our big contemporary knew that a vessel must have the wind well forward of the beam to be on a close reach he would not have written such nonsense. There is evidently, only one nautical phrase that the learned St. John editor understands, only one nautical manoeuvre that he can execute properly, and that is—to splice the main brace!

MAX O'RELL ON "WOMAN."

If you are bold, never make love to a woman taller than you. Looked at from below you are all right?

* * *

Never marry a woman richer than you, one taller than you, or one older than you. Be always gently superior to your wife in fortune, in size and in age, so that in every possible way she may appeal to you for help or protection, either through your purse, your strength or your experience in life. Marry her at an age that will always enable you to play with her all the different characteristic parts of husband—a chum, a lover, an adviser, a protector, and just a tiny suspicion of a father.

* * *

However ill you may speak or think of women, you will always find a woman able to do it better than you.

* * *

Never let your lady love see you without a collar—no, not even the very wife of your bosom. A man's head without a collar is like a bouquet without a holder.

* * *

Never let her see you asleep. Maybe you sleep with your mouth open. If you are married, let your wife sleep first. When you are quite sure she is off, let yourself go—and be careful to wake up first in the morning.

GLAD IT'S OVER.

The Pertinent and Impertinent man of the Hamilton Spectator says, in regard to the yacht races that he is glad that it's all over. Of late he doesn't know whether he is shivering his topsail gaff, splicing his cathead to his mudward bowsprit, jettisoning the main brace receiver, reading the main boom ratlines, marlinspiking the dolphin-striker's mate, holystoning the windward wake or making a starboard scupper out of the garboard strake of the chafing rigging. Glad it's all over.

DANGER IN THE WOODS.

(Harrison, Ont., Review.)

Funeral on Tuesday, the 8th, from Trinity church. Service at 3 p. m.

DAYS GONE BY.

Oh, the days gone by! Oh, the days gone by!
The apples in the orchard and the pathway through the rye;
The chirrup of the robin and the whistle of the quail,
As he piped across the meadows, sweet as any nightingale;
When the bloom was on the clover, and the blue was in the sky,
And my happy heart brimmed over in the days gone by.

In the days gone by, when my naked feet were tripped
By the honeysuckle's tangles where the water lilies dipped;
And the ripple of the river dipped the moss along the brink,
Where the placid-eyed and lazy-footed cattle came to drink;
And the tilting snipe stood, fearless of the truant's wayward cry,
And the splashing of the swimmer in the days gone by.

Oh, the days gone by! Oh, the days gone by!
The music of the laughing lip, the lustre of the eye;
The childish faith in fairies and Aladdin's magic ring;
The simple, soul-reposing, glad belief in everything.
When life was like a story, holding neither sob nor sigh,
In the olden, golden glory of the days gone by.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE.

Savory Beef.

Take a shin of beef from the hind quarter, saw it into four pieces, put it in a pot, and boil it until the meat and gristle drop from the bones; chop the meat very fine, put in a dish, and season it with a little salt, pepper, clove and sage, to your taste; pour in the liquor in which the meat was boiled, and place it away to harden; cut in slices and serve cold.

Potato Salad.

Scrape six or eight new potatoes; cut them into rather thick slices and then into fancy shapes or neat dice. Cook in plenty of boiling salted water until tender but not well enough done to break; drain and moisten them well with French dressing and set aside to get cold. Scald, peel and chill sufficient number of small, firm, ripe tomatoes to make equal quantity of the two vegetables; sprinkle French dressing over the tomatoes and then mix carefully with the potatoes. Line a salad dish with crisp lettuce leaves; fill in with the vegetables and garnish with a little minced ham strewn over the top and minced gherkins.

Apple Dumplings.

One pint of flour, one teaspoonful butter, two teaspoonfuls yeast powder, salt and one cup milk. Roll out and cut into squares; enclose in each square three-quarters of an apple which has been previously pared, cored and quartered, and one teaspoonful sugar. Steam one-half hour or lay in buttered baking pan and bake to a fine brown.

Kidney Stew.

Take a large beef kidney, cut all the fat out, cut it up in slices; then let it lay in cold water, with a teaspoonful of salt added, fifteen minutes; wipe dry, then put it in the pot with three half-pints of cold water; let it boil two hours; half an hour before it is done add one large onion, sliced; one teaspoonful of powdered sage, a very little grated nutmeg, and pepper and salt to season well; serve hot, with mashed potatoes.

Bicyclists and athletes depend on BENTLEY'S Liniment to keep their joints limber and muscles in trim.

JESUITS EXPLAIN

Why They Cannot Submit to Law of Associations—They Leave France.

LONDON, October 3.—The Paris correspondent of the Times says the Jesuits have published a long address on the eve of their departure from France. They explain that they cannot submit to the law of associations, and apply for authorization under it, as by so doing they would have to admit the existence of a power higher than the church.

This address, remarks the correspondent, loses much of its significance and pathos when one reflects that the law was specially aimed at the Jesuits and Passionists. The former, therefore, can claim no merit, in not asking for authorization, as they know they would not be able to obtain it, and the application for it would provoke discussions painful to them.

It is semi-officially stated that communities not applying for authorization under the law, and not dispersing will be prosecuted immediately. Liquidators will be appointed for those which have dispersed.

UNFAVORABLE FISHING SEASON.

CONGREGATIONAL REUNION.

The congregational reunion held last night in the Queen Square Methodist church was the occasion of an immense gathering. Rev. R. W. Weddall, the pastor, presided, and Rev. Geo. Steel offered the opening prayer. Then came an address from Mr. Weddall. Addresses were also delivered by Revs. J. Rogers (Shelburne), Geo. M. Campbell and J. A. Clark. Geo. Warwick gave a piccolo solo, and Mrs. Nice and Miss Brown a duet. Refreshments were served and all present voted it a most enjoyable affair.

ROYALTY AND REGINA MUD.

The royal travellers had a unique experience with Regina mud, says a Regina despatch. Regina is situated on a blue clay field, and when the snow, under the influence of the warm sun, commenced to melt, the mixture was as thick and as adhesive as bookbinders' paste. As soon as the carriage wheels started to revolve the mud commenced to fly in showers. The duchess, who was wearing the cape presented to her in Ottawa, did not enjoy the experience a bit, but it did not appear to annoy the duke in the slightest.

To the Lungs.

Do you go to Chicago to reach Quebec? No. There's a better and more direct way. Then why try to reach your lungs by way of your stomach? Don't. Better go straight to the lungs at once. Just light the vaporizer and breathe in the healing, soothing vapors of Cresolene. The medicine goes exactly to the right place. Your lungs quickly heal and your cough disappears. For whooping-cough it's simply perfect. 7
