A LUCKY NATION.

Whatever may have been the motive for Mr. Henry Norman's question in the house of commons in regard to the negotiations at the time of the Spanish-American war, it has been fruitful of results. From the very first other nations have endeavored to dispraise the stand of Great Britain in this matter and at the same time modestly claim for themselves a somewhat large share of praise. Practically every power but Austria has been heard from, and each has expressed itself as having always entertained the warmest regard for the United States. This being true, there never was, of course, the slightest fear of European intervention while Spain and the American Republic were settling their little difference. The powers, if their present stand is to be believed, regretted extremely that the United States should have been so seriously annoyed with the European nation as to have been forced to take up arms and settle the matter and the sister country at one and the same time. The suffering and death on both sides was, they say, a source of great grief to the onlookers, but they never thought of interfering. Except to the most unselfish and trusting person, and the United States is not made up of such, the cause of all these protestations is fairly obvious. The American republic is a power whose favor is to be courted. Just at present German statesmen are almost falling over one another to prove that Lord Cranborne's statement was a verbal quibble, and that Germany alone is the United States' greatest and dearest friend. To make their position stronger, the Kaiser had a yacht built over on this side and now Prince Henry will soon arrive at New York, bearing gifts to more fully propitiate the natives. The United States is certainly a lucky nation.

ONTARIO AND PROHIBITION.

The Toronto board of trade has declared for a referendum and in favor of compensation to liquor dealers, in the event of a prohibition bill being enacted. Following is the clause of the resolution adopted by a vote of 56 to 25:—

Further resolved that this meeting petition the government of the province of Ontario that if it should decide to introduce a prohibition bill, such should provide for the just payment by the government for that percentage of value of property which would be confiscated if such bill should provide for speedy application of the act, and that in order to be assured of an efficient public sentiment in favor of the measure, so that its practical enforcement may be ensured, the bill be followed by a referendum, with the majority necessary to confirm it to be either two-thirds of the vote cast or fifty per cent of the duly qualified electors.

Yesterday Premier Ross introduced a prohibition bill in the legislature. It provides for a referendum, but does not say anything about compensation. The premier stated, however, that if the bill became law the question of compensation must come before the next legislature. If the bill were carried by popular vote, it would not, he said, come into force before May, 1st, 1904.

Accidents on the I. C. R. have lost the element of novelty. It might be worth while for the minister of railways to look a little carefully into the question whether the condition of the rolling stock and road-bed is fully up to the former standard, and if so, what explanation can be given of the fact that the damage account is attaining such proportions.

M. Santos-Dumont has made three trips in his airship over the Bay of Monaco. The aeronaut made evolutions with complete success for thirty minutes and returned to his starting place. The weather was fine, which, of course, made the feat less difficult of accomplishment.

The Winnipeg city council, by a vote of six to five, has declared against Sunday cars. The labor party of the city ask that the question be submitted to a vote of the people. Should that be done, there is little doubt that the majority will vote in favor of a Sunday car service.

In 1901, 295 1-2 miles of railway were built in Ontario, the total mileage of the province being now 7,019, of which 5, 571 miles have been built since confederation. At the present time 193 miles are under construction, the Algoma Central having 164 miles.

HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 12.—There is no change in the position of the Allan steamer Grecian, ashore in this harbor. She lies as before, broadside to the shore. Large boulders protrude through her bottom. The prevailing northeast winds are favorable and while they continue there is some hope for her, but on the first change to the opposite quarter the Grecian will be destroyed.

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 12.—Mrs. Pearce, a colored woman, died of smallpox today. She was taken to the hospital twelve days ago. This makes the third death in the city since the outbreak. The board of health today decided to hand the names of persons whose children have not been vaccinated to Recorder MacCoy.

GOVERNMENT COMMISSION.

To Inquire Into Charges Against the General Public Hospital.

The provincial executive, in session in the local government rooms last evening, were waited upon by delegations from the Fabian League, the hospital commissioners and from the municipal council and board of health of Gloucester county. Arrangements were made for the introduction into the legislature of a workmen's compensation bill; for the appointment of a commission to investigate the charges against the hospital management, and for a committee to inquire into the non-payment of smallpox bills by the Gloucester municipality. The members of the government present were Premier Tweedie and Hon. Messrs. Pugsley, Dunn and Farris.

The committee from the Fabian League, headed by W. F. Hatheway, presented petitions from labor organizations of the city and a resolution from the league favoring the enactment of a Workmen's Compensation Act. The government inclined a favorable ear to the proposition and promised to introduce legislation along that line. Attorney General Pugsley was asked to frame a bill and present it to the committee for approval.

Hospital Commissioners Dr. Walker, W. C. R. Allan and H. A. Hilyard consulted with the executive regarding the matter. It was pointed out to them that a commission would have no power to detain Mrs. Trombly should she desire to depart, so a communication was sent to her during the meeting by Attorney General Pugsley, requesting her attendance at such a commission. Later a written reply was received from Mrs. Trombly, in which she stated her willingness to appear at any time before an impartial tribunal. Acting upon this, a commission to investigate the charges will be appointed at the session today.

The greater part of the evening was taken up by the hearing of the dispute between the municipal council and board of health of Gloucester county regarding the bills incurred during the late smallpox epidemic. The total expense of the board of health for its measures in suppressing the disease was $5,523. Of this the local government paid $3,000. It was pointed out to them that a commission would have no power to detain Mrs. Trombly should she desire to depart, so a communication was sent to her during the meeting by Attorney General Pugsley, requesting her attendance at such a commission. Later a written reply was received from Mrs. Trombly, in which she stated her willingness to appear at any time before an impartial tribunal. Acting upon this, a commission to investigate the charges will be appointed at the session today.

William K. Redmond and Joseph Devlin, the United Irish League leaders, arrived at New York Monday, says the Brooklyn Eagle. Mr. Redmond, who is a member of parliament, has come over here for the purpose of increasing the membership of the league, in which work he will be assisted by Mr. Devlin. Mr. Redmond seemed to be very enthusiastic over the success which he said the league was having, and said that it was never as strong as it is now. When asked what he thought of Lord Salisbury's remark, which he uttered in a recent speech, "England is not afraid of the Boers, it is afraid of the Irish," he said: "Lord Salisbury knows what he is talking about. The Irish movement was never as threatening as it is now, and the British public are beginning to realize that there is something in it. No matter what gag-rule they introduce in parliament, we will still keep on talking and making our grievances heard and if they reduce our membership by twenty, which there is some talk of doing, the sixty members that are left will make as much noise as the eighty do now."

"When the Irish finally unite to assert their independence it will be with a force of arms such as no country has ever seen before. I think the Boers will win the war and gain their independence. People do not realize how many Dutch there are in Africa that are in sympathy with the Boers. From the extreme north to the Transvaal to the docks in Cape Town the Dutch sympathizers can be found, and the British have to be continually watching them."

Mr. Redmond said that he was not sure how long he and Mr. Devlin would remain in the United States; it all depended on how they were received, he said. This is Mr. Devlin's first visit to this country. He is a small man, with smooth shaven face, and talks in a slow deliberate manner. Mr. Devlin said that the United Irish League had at present about 700,000 members, and that he was not exaggerating when he prophesied a membership, in the near future, of 10,000,000. John Morley was the favorite Irishman on the other side, he said.

MONTREAL, Feb. 12.—At a meeting of the harbor board today, James Cuthbert claimed that Montreal was not being treated by the government on the same basis as Quebec, in view of Tarte's admission at a recent banquet here, that the Quebec commissioners pay no interest on the five and a half millions loaned them by the government, whereas Montreal pays charges to the amount of $70,000. Robert Reford stated that Mr. Tarte had informed him that he favored placing Montreal on the same footing as Quebec in that respect. After some further discussion the matter dropped.

COURT LOG CABIN'S ANNIVERSARY.

The seventh anniversary of Court Log Cabin, I. O. F., was celebrated last evening by a social entertainment. The invited guests included friends of members, high court officers, and the chief rangers of other courts, with all the members of Companion Court "Wygody." A. H. Beidling presided. E. H. Chapman, H. C. R., spoke briefly, congratulating the court and referring to independent Forestry in a general way. J. Pradsham gave gramophone selections, and R. S. Ritchie a solo. Aid. Macrae delivered a short address on Forestry, its principles and its growth, and warmly congratulated Court Log Cabin on its success. Rev. W. W. Rainald delighted the assembly with a Scotch reading, and Stanley Fisher with a piano solo. Walter Fyne sang a song and was heartily encored, and E. S. Ritchie being recalled, sang a second solo in splendid voice. Then while the committee were passing refreshments, Mr. Pradsham entertained the company with more selections from the gramophone. Though a number of those whose names were on the programme were unable to attend, the affair was very successful. The chairman expressed the thanks of the court to those who so cheerfully aided the committee of entertainment. Mayor Daniel and Aid. Seaton, who are members of Court Log Cabin, were among those present. Aid. Maxwell, who is also a member, was owing to illness, unable to attend. Among the guests was Dr. O. J. McCully, who was an active Forester in Moncton before removing to St. John. The entertainment committee, of which E. W. Paul was the most vigorous member, was ably assisted in preparing and serving the refreshments by a number of ladies.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

On Tuesday evening a meeting of St. John Council, 133 Royal Arcanum, was held in their room, Knights of Pythias Hall, the regent, Bro. Wetmore, in the chair. There was a representative gathering to receive Geo. W. Liddell of Montreal, deputy supreme regent, who is visiting St. John in the interest of the order. Mr. Liddell in a forcible manner brought out the prominent features of the Royal Arcanum, its aims and objects, and spoke with pride of the long and favorable record of St. John Council as one of the oldest on the register. He urged the members to work steadily and persistently to increase the membership in their council, in order that in the near future a grand council might be formed here, as has been done recently in the province of Quebec. A public meeting of all members and those desirous of joining the Royal Arcanum will be held on Friday evening. Good results are likely to follow Mr. Liddell's visit.
