ROBERT DIXON ACQUITTED

Jury Finds Him Not Guilty of Theft—He Conducted His Own Case.

The county court re-opened this morning at 10 o'clock, Judge Carleton presiding. The case of the claimant, Dixon was then called. H. A. McKewon appeared for the crown, while Robert Dixon conducted his own case.

The prisoner objected to Mr. Dolan as a jurymen, also to Mr. Chamberlain, who, said the prisoner, had told him if he were on the jury he would bring him in guilty. The jury selected is as follows: W. G. Dunlap, W. Green, J. Rodgers, J. P. Maloney, E. H. Duval, F. W. Dunham, D. R. Cole, A. L. Phillips, F. C. Melloy, H. Bustin, J. Coll and M. F. Coughlan.

Mr. McKewon in opening said that going to bed the prisoner was that on the 10th of August he stole $4.70 and some wearing apparel, the property of William Cohen, of Main street.

The first witness was William Cohen. He said that on the night of the 10th inst. he had gone to bed about 9.30 p. m. and had left the kitchen window open. His wife had wakened him up and recognized him at the door. He later found the other clothing, but $4.70 was missing from his pocket.

To the prisoner—He had not seen him either in the house or about the house.

Harry Cowan said he was ten years old and gave a little of his school history to Mr. McKewon. He said he had seen the prisoner on the evening before the night in question sleeping in a garden at the back of the house. He knew the man by sight.

Mrs. Cohen said that some time after the man got out of the kitchen table had been moved. A man then came into the bedroom. She spoke to him and he looked at her. She awakened her husband and then saw the man get out of the kitchen. She recognized the man as the prisoner.

To the prisoner—When asked by Officer Semple to identify him he said he did not know the man. The answer of the witness, the prisoner did not consider true and he said it was no good to ask him more questions.

Officer Semple and J. Dalting also gave evidence after which the prisoner was sworn.

He testified that on the night of the robbery he was drunk and slept in a barn at the rear of his own house. He denied that Mrs. Cohen had been able to positively identify him. Later when she asked him in the cell, she said she thought it was him. He positively denied entering the house.

A jurymen asked if the money was found on him. He said it was not. The prisoner then earnestly addressed the jury on his own behalf. Mr. McKewon did not address the jury and the judge summed up very briefly.

As the jury was dismissed the prisoner said to say something about the last time he was convicted, but the judge advised him not to.

The jury after a very short absence brought in a verdict of not guilty.

REV. C. T. PHILLIPS ACCEPTS.

Will Go to Hartland, Carleton Co., October 1st Has Had Many Calls

Rev. C. T. Phillips, who lately resigned from the pastorate of Waterloo street Free Baptist church, has decided to accept a call to Hartland, Carleton county, and sent a telegram of acceptance to that church today. He will enter upon his duties there October 1st.

There is a rather remarkable coincidence in the fact that when Mr. Phillips came here from Woodstock, the late Rev. J. W. Clarke, took the pulpit Mr. Phillips in going to Hartland, is taking the place of Rev. J. W. Prosser, who has accepted the call there.

Since resigning his pastorate here, Mr. Phillips has received several calls, including two from Nova Scotia. One which he had considered favorably was from McAfee. A year ago he had agreed to accept a call to Hartland, Carleton county, but the church in that place provided a parsonage was built. The McAfee people had intended to do this, but the recent disastrous fire in that town has rendered them temporarily unable to proceed with the work.

Mr. Phillips' friends here have been hoping that he would persist in his occasionally expressed intention to stay in St. John without a fixed pastorate, preaching occasionally and devoting his spare time to the literary work for which his talents and inclinations so eminently fit him. This was Mr. Phillips' desire, but the call of the work in Hartland has been too strong. He will continue to preach here until the last of September.

A KICK FROM INDIANTOWN.

Indiantown residents are very much displeased with the way in which that section of the city is being treated by the street department. They claim that for the past four weeks there has not been a watering cart seen in that section of the city and want to know the reason why. They contend that there has always been a tendency on the part of city officials to deprive that end of the city of its fair share of what is going on, and like the residents of Murray street, they may hold an indignation meeting, when they will say things.
