TWO PEACE CONFERENCES.

Within a few days now the terms upon which Japan is willing to make peace will probably be given out, and let Russia squirm as she may, these will undoubtedly be the terms upon which peace will be concluded unless they are so unreasonable as to arouse protest from more nations than Russia. Japan has the game in her hands and recent history shows that she is not easily bluffed nor easily moved by any too delicate nations of magnanimity.

The peace negotiations with China in 1895 give a good indication of what Russia may expect during the conference at Portsmouth. Then as now Japan refused to agree to any armistice until negotiations were actually under way and even then refused to grant a cessation of hostilities until China complied with certain terms. These were considered too onerous by the Chinese envoy, Li Hung Chang, and Japan was preparing without further argument, to press the war with unremitting vigor when an attempt was made to assassinate Li Hung Chang in the Japanese city where the negotiations were being carried on and as an atonement the Mikado granted an unconditional armistice for 21 days.

But here concessions stopped. Count Ito, acting for Japan, submitted the Emperor's terms. The Chinese envoy protested, chiefly against the size of the indemnity and the extent of territory demanded, and submitted counter proposals. Japan replied with an ultimatum, practically the same as the first proposal and demanded compliance within four days. Li Hung Chang struggled for three days without producing the slightest effect and then gave in and signed the treaty, practically as it had been written by the Japanese before the negotiations began.

In all probability Komura and his associates will come to the present conference with peace propositions similarly formulated and their minds as fixed. And they are in almost as strong a position to enforce their demands. Now as then, more war undoubtedly means more Japanese victories and more loss of men and territory to their adversary. If the Russians protest against the terms, as the Chinese did, Komura can say, as Ito did, that tomorrow the demands will be greater. So although there will undoubtedly be prolonged parley and Russia may refuse many times to enter the war, it is pretty sure that the conference which is to begin shortly will result in a peace treaty and that the terms of that treaty will be satisfactory to Japan.

ARGUMENTS THAT TELL.

If these delegations visiting Ottawa with reference to the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific would base their arguments on political grounds instead of on grades and mileage they would stand a better chance of getting the ear of the government.

The eastern section as proposed in the war, it is pretty sure that the conference which is to begin shortly will result in a peace treaty and that the terms of that treaty will be satisfactory to Japan.

But the Liberals are building on this road and the Liberals of Nova Scotia largely assisted in giving their party the job and Nova Scotia must be looked after. So the road, if it is ever built, is to be terminated at a point as nearly as possible midway between St. John and Halifax and every pound of freight which passes over it toward tide-water will be compelled to go miles out of the way and incur large unnecessary expenses.

If the delegates could persuade the government that the adoption of the St. John valley route in preference to the central alternative would make more good grid votes in Nova Scotia they would accomplish something. This eloquence about the shorter and cheaper and more convenient route is wasted on the wags.

A LATE PROTEST.

W. F. McLean of the Toronto World, a conservative member, says that the opposition leader should not have accepted any such favor from the government as a regular allowance. Similarly it may perhaps be said that Mr. McLean should not have accepted the favor of an additional indemnity. The fact is that the government gave no more favors than it asked. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's income has been increased by $5,000. The premier knows very well that he dared not ask for this extra salary if the opposition stood ready to condemn it. It may as well be admitted that while the government promoted and introduced and carried through this legislation the opposition members accepted all the responsibility that they were in a position to exercise. Mr. McLean was in the house when the vote passed. He certainly did not object the additional allowance to himself. He seems therefore to be estopped from complaining at this stage.—Sun.

COMRADE OF OLD.

Comrade of old, come back to me
The careless youth you used to be;
Come back and banish for a while
Your frowns, and let those stern lips smile;
We'll jaunt the aisles of memory.

Come back, the meadow winds blow free,
And with the brook that threads the lea,
They call you from your long exile,
Comrade of old.

Here, by the pond, the willow tree
Becks, with its arms, alluringly;
Come back, a truce to court and trial—
Doff for a week, the frock and tie,
And come, the boy we long to see,
Comrade of old.

INVESTIGATING GUNBOAT

EXPLOSION—ANOTHER DEAD

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 25.—Another death among the injured of the Bennington's crew has occurred, the victim being W. V. Kennedy. The body will be taken to Alliance, Neb.

The investigation of the disaster conducted by Commander Young and Lieuts. Yates and Wade has been concluded and a report is being prepared to be forwarded to Washington.

Nothing can be learned as to its contents from any of the three officers but there appears reason to believe that they have detected only one boiler exploded, but that the explosion broke the steam pipes of the other boilers, and that caused the latter to contribute their share of the death dealing steam.

MISSIONARY REPORTS AWFUL STORM.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Rev. J. M. Shannon, who for fifteen years has labored as a missionary among the natives of the Caroline Islands, was a passenger on the steamer Alameda from Honolulu. The missionary steamer Morning Star carried him from the Carolines to the Hawaiian port. He brings news of a frightful storm which swept over the Carolines in April last. Nearly all of the islands in the eastern end of the group were devastated. The coconut groves were destroyed, and much of the food supply of the natives swept away. Nineteen natives were killed and the schooners Ponape and Dina were destroyed.

KOREAN ENVOY A METHODIST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 25.—Yoon, who is his way to Washington for the purpose of acting as an official being appointed to look after the interests of Korea during the peace negotiations, arrived here on the steamer Alameda from Honolulu yesterday. Mr. Yoon is a minister of the Korean Methodist Church in Honolulu and he was not inclined to talk about his mission as he feared that his sentiments would cause ill-feeling among the Japanese.

He said however that his object was to get the most favorable terms for Korea for the present, with a view of obtaining independence in the future.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO SWIM CHANNEL.

DOVER, Eng., July 25.—Edward Henton, of Liverpool, started from here this morning in an attempt to swim the channel, his intention being to land near Chalkin. The conditions are favorable to the accomplishment of his task. No less than nine aspirants are now in training for channel swimming honors, including Miss Anette Kellerman.

EQUAL TO THE TASK.

Stern Father—So you want to marry my daughter, eh?

Young Man—That's what I said.

Stern Father—Do you think you will be able to provide for her in the style to which she has always been accustomed?

Young Man—Sure. She refused to accompany me to a picnic last week because she had no clothes fit to wear.

REAL TREASURE.

(A widow)—Excuse me, Miss Willing, but do you ever put your hair up in curl papers?

She (indignantly)—No, sir. Never!

He (tenderly)—Miss Willing, will you do me the honor to become my wife?

Before a large audience in the Presbyterian church, Rothsay, Rev. F. A. Wicher gave his lecture on Japan. His address was followed with the closest attention by all present. The lecture was given in aid of the organ fund.

This is said to be Maud Adams' favorite story: A colored "gemman" name unknown, but called "Culpepper Peter," who being enamored of some dusky maiden, and not having the courage to "pop" face to face, called up the house where she worked and asked for her over the telephone. When he got the proper party on the line he asked: "Is that Miss Johnson?" "Y-a-a-s." "Will you marry me?" "Y-a-a-s, who it is, please?"

LOCAL NEWS.

The Presbytery of St. John will meet on Tuesday, Aug. 1st, at 3 p. m., to consider the resignation of Rev. E. A. Wicher.

South Bay Sunday school will hold its annual picnic this afternoon on the Canterbury street side, will be removed to the front of the building, being lighted from King street.

The central committee of the I. O. F. met last evening. Delegates were present from Welsford and reported that they had arranged for a blueberry excursion to be held on August 17. The committee decided to make it a general Foresters' day, and the City Cornet Band will be present. Other courts expected to take part include Grand Day, Fredericton Junction, Hoyt Station, Armstrong's Corner, Colives, and Jerusalem.

The St. Croix arrived about half-past nine last evening, bringing between two and three hundred passengers. Owing to the large amount of freight which was taken on board at Eastport, she was about an hour and a half later than expected. One of the passengers was Mrs. Mary Rolfe, a lady eighty-four years of age, who was so feeble and crippled from rheumatism that it was necessary to carry her down the gangway. She came from Eastport, and will leave this morning for her son's home in Minnerville, Nova Scotia.

An important change in the interior arrangements of the Market building is now under consideration by Director Wisely and the members of the safety committee. The lavatory, which is at present situated at the head of the market, and which, even with the greatest care and under the most favorable conditions, cannot help being more or less objectionable, is to be removed and located on the roof of the building. A flight of stairs will be erected leading to it, and it is probable that a furnace will be installed on the ground floor, from which the rooms will be heated in the winter. The change will, it is understood, be made very soon.

The St. John Ice Company will in the course of a week, have under construction one of the best barns in the city, and one that will be unique in some respects. The plans have been given to the architect, and he is now at Douglastown looking after the work. The contract has not been given to anyone, but the construction will be by day labor.

At a meeting of the commissioners of the General Public Hospital on Monday afternoon Dr. McMurtry of Montreal was added to the hospital staff as an assistant to Drs. Scott and Loggie. Dr. McMurtry is expected from Montreal in a few days. He and Dr. Scott are classmates and friends at college. This is the first time the hospital has had three doctors in residence.

The following anecdote is told of Gen. Gilman Marston, a once famous lawyer in New Hampshire:

Gen. Marston was attending court at Dover, when a young attorney made a motion that was denied by the court. The young man remonstrated against what he thought was the wrong ruling of the judge. So vehemently did he remonstrate that he was fined $10 for contempt of court. An older attorney took the matter up, and he was fined a similar sum. Still another, who thought he stood a little better with the judge, endeavored to straighten the matter out, but he, too, enriched the coffers of the state by paying a "ten spot" for contempt.

Gen. Marston was then seen to rise in his seat and advance to the clerk's desk. Taking his long pocketbook from his pocket, he took out two $10 bills and laid them on the desk.

"What is that for?" said the Court.

"I want you to distinctly understand," said the general, "that I have just twice as much contempt for this court as any man here, and I am paying for it."—Boston Herald.
