MARITIME W. C. T. U. IN ANNUAL SESSION.

Tenth Convention Since Its Organization. Executive This Morning Elected Committees and Talked of Sending Missionary to Lumber Camps—Reports.

The tenth annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of New Brunswick opened this morning in the Union Hall, North End, and was well attended, although it is expected that the sessions to follow will be much more largely attended, as quite a number of delegates for one reason or another could not get here in time for this morning's session. The delegates present were: Mrs. C. A. Lindow and Miss Lindow, St. Stephen, N. B.; Mrs. Henry Wise, Newcastle; Mrs. D. McLeod, Newcastle; Mrs. Cahill, Millstream; Mrs. Troy, Newcastle; Mrs. Wynne, Millstream; Lower Millstream; Miss Green, Perth; Miss Ferguson, Campbellton; Mrs. M. F. Right, Mrs. Lovell, St. John; Mrs. McLean, Newcastle; Mrs. Howard, Sprague and Miss Dearborn, St. John; and Mrs. Scott, of St. John North. A meeting of the executive was held at 10 a. m., which was largely attended. The president, Mrs. C. A. Lindow, was in the chair. The singing of a temperance hymn, reading of the scriptures and prayer by Miss McLeod, vice-president, opened the meeting. The business transacted was that left over from the last meeting, routine work, discussion on the appointment of a missionary to the lumber camps and the appointment of an official field organizer. Several committees were also appointed.

The regular session opened at 10 o'clock with the president, Mrs. C. A. Lindow, in the chair. A hymn was sung, scripture, 146 Psalm, prayer, Mrs. D. McLeod, Mrs. Katherine Lent Stevenson, from Boston, was introduced and made a member of the convention. Mrs. Lindow, in a few words, expressed her pleasure in being present at this, the 10th annual convention of the provincial W. C. T. U.

In answer to the reports of superintendents of departments Mrs. Askew read a report of mothers' meetings written by Mrs. Todd, also a report of Sunday school work sent by Mrs. Bullock. A report of work among sailors elicited some discussion, as it seemed a good deal had been done in this direction, of which adequate report had not been given.

St. John union had been active in the work of the Seaman's Mission, and had contributed $10.00 to the fund. North End had also active work, and a union committee was appointed to prepare a fuller report for the year book.

Mrs. Troy read an excellent report of the anti-cigarette movement. The petition to the legislature had not met with the desired success, but the work had been carried in almost every society in the province, principally in the way of distributing circulars, discussing the subject with the dealers and with the boys. St. John Union had given $5.00 to the fund, Newcastle had given $4.00 and altogether quite a fund had been collected.

Members of parliament along with members of the common council had been interviewed. Three fines had been made, and three boys had been under nominal arrest. Another effort will be made next year.

Mrs. Sprague of St. John, and Mrs. Cahill of Sackville, N. B., gave supplementary reports. Mrs. Sprague on giving her reports as superintendent of Fairville work said she had received word from only two societies and that the work seemed to have been neglected.

Mrs. D. McLeod read a report on Scientific Temperance, showing that through the introduction of the Health reader temperance is taught in almost every school throughout the province. This afternoon—8 p. m., Conference on Press Work and Literature, led by Mrs. Lindow.

8 p. m.—Prayer. Minutes. Introduction of visitors. President's address. Musical. Report of correspondents. Secretary. Report of treasurer. Reports from county presidents.

8 p. m.—Adjournment. This evening—8 p. m. Reception to delegates and visitors by the St. John Union. Music. Address by Katherine Lent Stevenson, Boston. All ministers and their wives and those who are entertaining delegates are cordially invited to the reception. Each member is requested to bring a friend.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 5.—The peace treaty opens with a preamble that His Majesty the Emperor, the august of all Russia and His Majesty the Emperor of Japan, desiring to close the war now subsisting between them, and having appointed their respective plenipotentiaries and furnished them with full powers which were found to be in form, have come to an agreement on a treaty of peace and arranged as follows:— Article 1 stipulates for the establishment of peace and friendship between the sovereigns of the two empires and also for the recognition of Russia and Japan respectively. Article 2—His Majesty the Emperor of Japan in the empire of Korea, and stipulates that Russia will not oppose any measures for its government, protection or control that Japan will deem necessary to take in Korea under the subjects and enterprises of other countries. Article 3—It is mutually agreed that the territory of Manchuria be simultaneously evacuated by both Russian and Japanese troops. Both countries are to enjoy the same status as the subjects and enterprises of other countries. Article 4—The rights possessed by Russia in conformity with the situation of Port Arthur and Dalny together with the lands and waters adjacent, shall pass over in their entirety to Japan, he thought, let Russia do so easily.

Article 5—The governments of Russia and Japan engaged themselves reciprocally not to put any obstacles in the way of measures which shall be alike for all nations; that China may take for the development of the commerce and industry of Manchuria shall be operated jointly between Russia and Japan at Kouang-Cheng-Tse. The two branch lines shall be employed only for commercial and industrial purposes. In view of the fact that the branch line with all rights acquired by her convention with China for the construction of the railway in Japan requires the mines in connection with such branch line which falls to her. However, the rights of private property and enterprises are to be respected. Both parties to this treaty remain absolutely free to undertake what they deem an expeditious ground. Article 6—Russia and Japan engaged themselves to make a conjunction of the two branch lines which they own, at Kouang-Cheng-Tse. Article 7—Russia cedes to Japan the southern part of Sakhalin Island, as far north as the fiftieth degree of north latitude together with the islands depending thereon. The right of free navigation is assured in the bays of Laperous and Tartarac. Article 8—This article recites the situation of Russian subjects on the southern part of Sakhalin Island and stipulates that Russian colonies there shall be free and shall have the right to remain without changing their nationality. Per contra, the Japanese government shall have the right to force Russian convicts to leave the territory which is ceded to her. Article 9—Russia engages herself to make an agreement with Japan giving to Japanese subjects the right to fish in Russian territorial waters of the Sea of Japan, the Sea of Okhotsk and the Behring Sea. Article 10—The two high contracting parties engage themselves to renew the commercial treaty existing between the two governments prior to the war in all its vigor, with slight modifications in details and with a most favored nation clause. Article 11—Russia and Japan reciprocally engage to statute their prisoners of war on paying the real cost of keeping the same, such claim for cost to be supported by documents. Article 12—This peace treaty shall be drawn up in the languages of French and English, the French text being the original. The ratification of the treaty shall be countersigned by the sovereigns of the two states within 60 days after its signature. The French and American embassies shall be intermediaries between the Japanese and Russian governments to announce by telegraph ratifications of the treaty. The additional articles are agreed to as follows:— Article 13—The evacuation of Manchuria by both armies shall be complete within 18 months, the two parties will only be able to leave as guards for the railway 15 soldiers per kilometer.

NORMAL SCHOOL'S RECORD.

The Largest Class in Institution's History Began Work Today—Case in York County Equity Court.

(Special to the Star.) FREDERICTON, N. B., Sept. 5.—The regular sitting of the York County Equity Court was held this afternoon Judge Barker presiding. There was but one case before the court. In the matter of the Colten infants, J. H. Barry, K. C., moved for an order to appoint a guardian and for leave to sell certain real estate. His honor ordered the appointment of Emma Colten, the mother as guardian and the sale of the property on the entering into a recognizance of $400 sureties, the widow to join in the deed. The guardian is to be allowed the amount asked for maintenance of $120 per year for each infant.

The Provincial Normal School opened this morning. The attendance is the largest in the history of the institution, being 236, of which 37 are males and 199 females. This will probably be considerably increasing. Last year the number was 200. In the French department are 23, five males and eighteen females. There has been no rise of water in this vicinity.

The non-com. officers and men of the Army Service Corps are requested to attend a meeting to be held at their armory this evening. Important business to discuss.

JAPAN'S SILENCE WORRIES THE WORLD

No News From There For Four Days.

Cable Communication Cut Off—Some Fear Rebellion Has Taken Place—Strict Censorship Say Others.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—The mysterious silence of the Japanese government concerning the peace treaty has taken on an almost ominous aspect since it was announced by two cable companies that cable communication with Japan had been interrupted and that the Mikado's empire has been cut off from the rest of the world for nearly four days. Several wild suggestions were made today in explanation of the strange break in the cables just at the time when the world was waiting to hear what the Mikado would say of the work his envoys had done at Portsmouth. One theory advanced was that there had been an outbreak in Japan and that the insurgents had cut the wires, or the government had seized them. This suggestion was not received favorably by the cable companies. They thought the cables had been broken by typhoons. Typhoons are getting lively just now, but they are going unusually deep if they are breaking cables at the bottom of the ocean. The situation has been made even more mysterious by the word from the Commercial Cable Company that Japan could be reached by way of Formosa over the government cable. This line is known as the Low-Choo Islands route. It is owned by the government of Japan. All privately owned cables running into Japan are cut or broken. It is absolutely impossible to reach Japan over the regular route via Shanghai. The last news from Tokyo was of a very quieting nature. It told of the anger of the people because of Japan's concessions to Russia. In some of the newspaper utterances cabled from Tokyo there was a veiled threat of trouble.

The suggestion of Mr. Sato, at Portsmouth, that a rigid censorship might be responsible for lack of news, is believed by many persons to be the true explanation, yet it seems peculiar that a censorship should be so rigid and severe as to prevent the Mikado himself from sending through a little message.

The last press dispatch from Tokyo said that Marquis Ito and Premier Katsura had received many protests and memorials appearing against the terms of peace as made public in the newspapers. The full terms have not yet reached the Japanese public, and it was announced that it might be a month before the treaty would be gassed.

The suggestion of Mr. Sato, at Portsmouth, that a rigid censorship might be responsible for lack of news, is believed by many persons to be the true explanation, yet it seems peculiar that a censorship should be so rigid and severe as to prevent the Mikado himself from sending through a little message.

The main floor of Mr. Thomas' store is splendidly laid out and all goods are shown in a most attractive manner. The shelves and tables are finished in natural white wood, while the walls and ceilings are painted white. The window trimmings are also white. The second floor has a space of 2,600 square feet and is used entirely by the wholesale department. The entire building has been renovated and no expense spared to make it attractive.

CIRCUIT COURT THIS AFTERNOON.

Only One Criminal Case on the Docket.

Civic Docket is Made Interesting by Another Trial of Michael Connelly Against the City.

The regular September session of the circuit court opened at 2 o'clock this afternoon with his Honor Judge Landry presiding. The court was to have started at eleven this morning and the court was thronged at that hour but on account of the non-arrival of Judge Landry the opening had to be postponed. One criminal case will come up at this session. This is the case of the King vs Moore, sent up from the police court. Frederick Isaacs, an Assyrian pedlar, claims to have been robbed of $38 and assaulted by Edward and Percy Moore on the Loch Lomond Road. Solicitor-General Jones will conduct the case for the crown and Daniel Mullin, K. C., for the defendants. An interesting civil case which is to come up is that of Michael Connelly vs City of St. John. Geo. W. McInerney, K. C., and L. A. Curry, K. C., will represent the plaintiff and the record-er, the city. This practically a second trial of the original suit brought by Mr. Connelly against the city and the city and then decided in the plaintiff's favor. This was, however, reversed by decisions of the supreme court of New Brunswick and of Canada. Mr. Connelly entered into a contract with the city for 220 hours dredging on the site of the McLeod warehouse and for as much more as the work might require. It appeared that no provision was made for the interference to the work at high tide when the water would be too deep for the dredge to work. Mr. Connelly claimed that there was an implied covenant that the city should pay for the time so lost and brought suit to recover $2,200, the balance of the contract and $200 interest. The defence made by the city was that the loss of time must fall on the contractor as no responsibility could lie on account of the action of the tides.

E. Ewing, be extended. Order granted extending the time to Sept. 10, Stockton & Price for the plaintiff and C. F. Sanford for the assignee.
