They were seated so close together on the parlor sofa that there was no room between them for an argument, when she suddenly let loose a large and soulful sigh.
"What's the matter, darling?" he asked.
"Oh," she replied, "I just happened to think that this would be our last evening together until tomorrow evening!"

BURY SECTARIANISM.
Ulster Orangemen Want Catholics and Protestants to Unite and Work for the Freedom of Ireland.

BELFAST, July 14—An independent section of Ulster Orangemen headed by common sense, Indiana, a gold striking manifesto to the country, appealing for the burial of sectarianism against each other to the prejudice of the country's higher claims. The country too long has been neglected in the strife of party, the manifesto continues, and there now is room for a patriotic party having the policy to rid Ireland of the domination of impractical creeds and organized tyrants and to secure the desired redress.

DIVIDENDS.
In another column will be found the semi-annual dividend notice of the B. C. Permanent Loan and Savings Company, showing that a dividend at the rate of nine per cent per annum upon class "A" permanent stock has been declared for the past half-year.

ADDRESSING TITLED PERSONAGES.
(M. A. P.)
Some queer blunders are made in addressing royalty and other titled personages. Lady Dufferin in India was once addressed as "your eminency." An Abyssinian missive came to Queen Victoria addressed to the "queen of kings, empress of the great Red Sea." One of her Highland tenants used to say: "Come awa' in and sit down, Queen Victoria."
