GREAT BRITAIN PEACE DISTURBER.

So Says a Foolish German Prince.

Says the Foreign Policy Has Been to Make Trouble Between Others—Book Approved by German Press

(Special to the Star.)
BERLIN, Oct. 23.—A violent attack upon Great Britain is made in a book written by Dr. Henry Oberwinder, which is just out. Were it not that the author is taken seriously by his readers the tirade might be regarded as amusing. But the condition of affairs is extremely shaky so far as the peace of the world is concerned. The leading Conservative Journal, the "Deutsche Tageszeitung," recommends all Germans to read the book attentively.

Dr. Oberwinder begins with the declaration that Great Britain is a disturber of peace throughout the world, and then proceeds to enumerate a few of the troubles which she has purposely created for her own purposes.

Among the formidable category are the French Revolution of 1789, all of the revolutionary troubles of 1848, the Polish rebellion, the like of which Russia, the Franco-German war of 1870 to promote British interests at the expense of France and Germany, the entire Dreyfus scandal, all native rebellions in German colonies, all the Balkan countries, all the Boer troubles and last but not least the Russo-Japanese war.

The author states that England has three powerful allies at work everywhere—the press, gold and cables. Liberalism, British as it is, is said to be the same foreign policy of reckless brutality towards all other nations.

As examples of British intrigue the author discusses Great British newspapers concocted the story of an anarchist plot at Alexandria to prevent the British Emperor paying his intended visit to Egypt. Describing British influence at the Russian court the author says that the Czarina counterfeited the order given by the Czar during the Boer war to send a Russian expedition to the Red Sea.

Again the American press is said to be absolutely dominated by the British. The author says that the British have erected fortified places at Gibraltar, Aden, and elsewhere. Paris is a meeting place where peaceful travelers are waylaid.

THE RUSSIAN REVOLUTION HAS DEFINITELY BEGUN.

Parties Unite to Form Government Independent of the Czar.

Panic Rules in St. Petersburg—Revolutionists Determined on Bloodshed—No Trains, No Mails, No Telegrams, No Papers.

(Special to the Star.)
MOSCOW, Oct. 23.—At a meeting of delegates representing the different political parties, it has been decided to unite in the establishment of a government and to act independently of the Imperial authorities.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Telegraphic communication with Moscow is now interrupted.

PANIC IN ST. PETERSBURG.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—A condition bordering upon panic prevails here today. Business is completely suspended. Soldiers are everywhere in the streets and bloodshed on a large scale is feared. The government is trying to appease the inflamed population but the revolutionaries seem determined to force an armed conflict.

The last railroad link connecting the capital with the outside world was broken last night, when the Finland railroad discontinued service between St. Petersburg and the Finnish border, but communication by water is still open. The cable is still operating, although the post office is closed and the newspapers to appear today were the official messenger and the Army organs, which printed directions for the military. The former contained a letter from General Treppoff, who is in command of the St. Petersburg garrison and addressed to the provisional governors, instructing them to allow public meetings for the discussion of political questions and interpret the law liberally under Count Witte's direction. The government resists that suppression by arms in the tremendously excited state of the country would be fatal and meetings are allowed as stated. Further meetings at the University have been prohibited, and buildings set aside for meetings in St. Petersburg and General Treppoff has instructed the governors to select buildings in all the cities.

BULLETINS OF REVOLUTION.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Much alarm is shown at some of the embassies for the safety of foreign subjects.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Serious rioting occurred at several last night. This morning the city is ablaze. The theatre and spirit shops are burning.
TIFLIS, Oct. 23.—There is a general strike of every class here. Business is at a standstill. The population is nervous.
ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 23.—Telephonic communication in this city and with Moscow has ceased.
St. Petersburg is entirely cut off from Moscow.

L. P. FISHER'S WILL FOUNDS HOSPITAL, LIBRARY, COLLEGE, TRADE SCHOOLS.

(Special to the Star.)
WOODSTOCK, N. B., Oct. 23.—The Lewis P. Fisher will was proved yesterday afternoon, the probate value being $47,000.

$2,000 per annum is left to the widow, the provision he made for her being the house, repairs, insurance, etc., to come out of the estate. If she does not desire the house she gets $200 extra per annum for a residence. Annuities of six hundred dollars are given to six of his nephews and to his niece, Mrs. C. F. Garden and F. H. J. Dibble.

There are other bequests. After the death of the widow the house goes to the public hospital board to be used by the hospital. $10,000 is also bequeathed to that purpose.

$20,000 is left for the establishment and maintenance of a public library and $40,000 as a memorial to erect a school building on the grounds where the college school building now is if possible or any site on the north side of Melville street with a special wish that the provision be made for night school. Land is left for a public park.

If the residue of the estate does not exceed $10,000 it is divided among the three objects of a public hospital, library and park. If it does exceed that amount it goes to technical schools, including an art school, and if desirable, agriculture may be taught in these schools.

Bequests are left to the Methodist church, the Salvation Army and to every pastor in Woodstock $25, to be distributed at Christmas among the poor. The executors of the will are A. B. Connel and F. H. J. Dibble.

KAUFMANN TERRIBLY PUNISHED BY O'BRIEN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—It took Jack O'Brien, a veteran of 200 fights, 17 rounds last night to knock out Al Kaufmann, who fought his second battle as a professional. Kaufmann took a beating such as seldom has been suffered in the history of San Francisco fights. Kaufmann is a strong, 19-year-old boy, credited with a punch, but he could not land on the shifty man from Philadelphia. O'Brien's side stepping, ducking and general foot work was a marvelous exhibition of skill. Kaufmann, with all his strength, could only land an occasional blow that never hit a vital spot. O'Brien, cool and self-possession, danced in and out, hitting the youngster almost at will. Early in the fight Kaufmann's right eye was closed and his nose commenced to bleed. In spite of the terrible punishment the boy kept after his experienced adversary, and on several occasions rallied and fought back in a manner that brought the spectators to their feet. In the seventeenth round a succession of left hand punches to the jaw staggered Kaufmann, and O'Brien delivered a cross to the jaw and the boy fell to the mat, his head striking with great force. Kaufmann comes from the Olympic A. C. Club, where he fought a number of battles. The heaviness of the odds was indicated a great deal by sentiment.

DISGRACEFUL FIGHT DESCRIBED IN COURT.

At the police court this morning the magistrate took up the case of John McCann, Wm. Dugan and Mrs. O'Dell, charged with fighting on the street last Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. J. Dufty, Robert Johnson, Fred Wilson, W. A. Spence, John McCracken, Officer Greer, Mrs. Shea and John McCann gave evidence.

It was shown that on Tuesday night last the three prisoners were in McCann's house, Dugan and McCann got into a clinic, and Mrs. O'Dell, who is Dugan's sister, flourished a bottle trying to strike McCann. The latter got out of the house and there was another fight between McCann and Dugan in which Dugan was kicked in the stomach by McCann, and Mrs. O'Dell was kept from striking McCann with a bottle by the latter's wife.

In Wednesday evening there was trouble in the O'Dell house on Strait Shore during which a man was badly beaten and Mr. O'Dell struck a young girl and used some very bad language. Magistrate Ritchie said that O'Dell should be brought to court and that O'Dell's daughter was better clear of such parents and that there were many young girls in the city that would be better clear of bad parents.

The prisoners were remanded until Monday when Mr. O'Dell will be brought to court and dealt with.

James McHugh charged with being drunk and profane in the city market was fined four dollars.

James Brookins for being drunk was fined four dollars.

BURGLARS DROPPED SAFE FROM WINDOW

Then Carried It Away With $10,000 in Gems.

Owner Returns Home to Find Visitors Had Rolled Chest to Second Story Window and Let It Fall

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—While the servants in the household of Edward Hale Graves, who lives in Scotland Road, South Orange, N. J., were on the first floor of the house last evening burglars took a safe weighing 250 pounds and containing about $10,000 worth of jewelry, rolled it to a window, dropped it out and made way with it. Despite police guard at every road within an hour, they escaped.

Mr. Graves is a broker of No. 39 Broad street. His residence in the fashionable Montross section of the community. It stands a short distance from the street, and there are other houses adjoining and across the road.

Because of suburban burglaries some time ago Mr. Graves bought the safe, which the dealer assured him was absolutely burglar proof. He said it would take a burglar hours to make a scratch on the lock. Mr. Graves himself said that it did look formidable and that sometimes even he had trouble in getting the door open. It was kept in the bedroom on the second floor, and with perfect confidence Mrs. Graves deposited in it much of her jewelry, to which her husband added many important papers.

Mr. and Mrs. Graves were in the city yesterday and went home soon after seven o'clock. It is supposed that the robbery was committed some time after six o'clock, as it could scarcely have been done in the daytime. After six o'clock all the servants were down on the first floor.

When Mr. and Mrs. Graves reached home and went to dress for dinner they found a window open in Mrs. Graves' room, and as the lights were turned on, it was seen that there were muddy footprints all over the room. The foot tracks led from the window to a dresser, the drawers of which had been broken open. There was nothing taken from them, however.

When the tracks ran to the corner where the safe had stood. The safe was heavy enough to tax the energies of a strong man who tried to carry it even a short distance, and it is assumed that there were two men. The safe had been rolled or carried across the room and then dropped out of the window. A deep hole in the ground shows where it fell. They had a horse and wagon waiting.

The police were notified of the robbery and men were posted at all the railroad stations, but the burglars probably drove off somewhere in the country. Mr. Graves said last night that he could not tell what was stolen until he had had time to make up an inventory with Mrs. Graves, but the value of the jewelry might reach $10,000.
