CUBAN LIBERALS

REFUSE TO FIGHT.

Refuse to Contest the Presidential Election.

Declare That Gov't. Registration Frauds Have Made Their Success Impossible

—Bogus Voters on the Lists

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—A special cable despatch to the Sun from Havana says:

At a general convention of the Liberal party held today it was decided to withdraw entirely from the coming presidential election and to inform the head of the Moderate party that the Liberals will not be responsible for any acts that may occur in the future. Manifestos will be published giving the reason for this act.

Senor Zayas, the Liberal candidate for the vice-presidency, who presided at the meetings, says the resolution was unanimous, there being no other course for the party to follow. The idea of withdrawal was presented at the last meeting of the Liberals, but consideration of the proposal was postponed awaiting events.

It is now seen, the Liberals say, that it would be useless to continue the campaign in view of the colossal frauds committed in the registration. Senor Zayas declares that in the San Lazaro ward of Havana there are about 3,000 actual voters, and that 12,000 have been registered.

It is deduced from the attitude of the press that moderates desire to avoid the withdrawal of the Liberals and wanted them to accept a few places in congress as an inducement to go to the polls.

This offer was not made officially. At any rate the Liberals would not have accepted it. Senor Cinceros recently wrote to the Liberals strongly denouncing the government. The letter was in such demand that the Lucha has reprinted it. It says, perhaps, is a good illustration of the feeling among the Liberals.

Senor Zayas, with his brother, was hurrying to the home of a friend and the brother held in his arms a huge floral pillow for the funeral of the friend's little daughter.

SONS SHOOT FATHER'S ASSAILANT

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—After he had been stabbed by Joseph Tocco during a fight last night, Vito Foglio, 39 years old, drew a revolver and fired at Tocco. A piece of dirty glass caused blood-poisoning in his hand. But the effect on the brain's conduct was magical. This nine months' maniacal, destructive, dirty, violent woman, became quite gentle and manageable as the inflammation progressed. Marked mental improvement has been noted when certain patients have contracted syphilis.

A case is mentioned which H. J. Gladstone, of Wigmore street, London, stands sponsor for in which a woman, who believed she was the Princess of Wales, was completely cured by meeting a man who had the delusion that she was Nelson. She said that she knew Nelson was dead and while arguing the matter she became convinced that she could not possibly be the Princess of Wales.

STREET RAILWAY READY

TO FIGHT THE SNOW.

The Street Railway Company are making elaborate preparations for the handling of the winter traffic and if machinery and power will do it are bound that the several lines operated by the company will be kept open this winter. Last year they considered that they were well equipped with ploughs and sweepers and in face of the heavy fall of snow feel that they did remarkably well. This year they will not take any chances and with the object of keeping the entire line open all the time have ordered a big increased plant. The new sweeper will be one of the most powerful machines of the kind built. Another plough has been ordered and both machines are under contract to be delivered here in full working order in a few weeks.

PEACE WAS FORMALLY

DECLARED THIS MORNING.

Treaty Was Ratified Yesterday and Went

Into Effect Today—A Cold Welcome

for Baron Komura in Tokio.

TOKIO, Oct. 16.—The peace treaty with Russia went into effect today. The text of the treaty was published this afternoon.

TOKIO, Oct. 16, 3 p. m.—Mr. Terauchi, minister of war, has issued an order instructing the Japanese army in the field to abstain from criticizing the terms of peace, on the ground that the declarations of peace and of war are entirely the outcome of sovereign power. He also forbids the criticism of the country, especially by those engaged in military service. He advised that soldiers utilize the opportunities of peace after the disbandment of their respective occupations, also holding themselves in readiness to resign the colors at the emperor's command.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 16.—The text of the treaty of peace concluded by Russia and Japan at Portsmouth, N. H., Sept. 5, and signed by Emperor Nicholas and the Emperor of Japan October 14, begins as follows:

"The Emperor of Japan on one part and the Emperor of All The Russias on the other part animated by a desire to restore the blessings of peace to their countries, have resolved to conclude a treaty of peace, and have for this purpose named their plenipotentiaries, that is to say for his majesty the Emperor of Japan, Baron Komura Jutaro Ju-sami, grand cordon of the Imperial Order of the Rising Sun, his minister for foreign affairs, and His Excellency Takahira Kogoro, Imperial Order of the Sacred Treasure, his minister to the United States, and His Majesty the Emperor of all the Russias, His Excellency Sergius Witte, his secretary of state and president of the committee of ministers, and His Excellency Baron Roman Rosen, master of the Imperial court of Russia, his majesty's ambassador to the United States, who, after having exchanged their full powers which were found to be good and dutiful, have concluded the following articles:

Then follow the several articles of the treaty substantially as published previously.

BARON KOMURA'S COLD WELCOME.

TOKIO, Oct. 16, 4:30 p. m.—Baron Komura, the foreign minister who acted as chief of the peace plenipotentiaries for Japan at Portsmouth, N. H., arrived here today from Vancouver. His reception at the railroad station was not enthusiastic, those present being principally government dignitaries. The streets were strongly guarded by troops. Police men guarded the baron drove to the palace in an imperial carriage.

MORE ENERGETIC TREATMENT

URGED FOR THE INSANE.

Expert Declares that Present Methods Can Be Greatly Improved Upon—Some Remarkable Instances Given.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Charles Williams, formerly a medical officer at more than one asylum, has just issued a plea for more energetic treatment of the insane. He suggests that at present sufficient care is not shown in trying to bring about the recovery of the insane. He discusses, with approval, Dr. Harrington Sainsbury's proposal of the use of the bath, which is supported by Dr. Ernest Beyer. The author thinks it is a question whether the treatment by warm baths to the body, aided by cold applied to the head, and in some cases by wet packs, should not be tried in most cases to the method now employed in reaching the patient about the open air.

The Turkish bath, he says, is not much used in dealing with insane cases, and yet its utility in such cases as are obviously caused by a toxin in the blood, and especially such cases as are brought about through lead poisoning, gout, alcohol, and other poisons he considers must be plain.

Counter irritation is also mentioned as a means of drawing the irritation from the brain. An instance is noted of a woman who when mad smashed a window. A piece of dirty glass caused blood-poisoning in her hand. But the effect on the brain's conduct was magical. This nine months' maniacal, destructive, dirty, violent woman, became quite gentle and manageable as the inflammation progressed. Marked mental improvement has been noted when certain patients have contracted syphilis.

STRANGE DEATH

OF HILLSBORO MAN.

Died of Heart Disease While Climbing a Tree

Thirty-Five Feet in the Air, Death Found

Him—Wife and Children Saw Body Hang.

(Special to the Star.)

MONCTON, N. B., Oct. 14.—A fatal accident occurred at the plaster quarry at Hillsboro, Albert county, yesterday. Thomas Bastrach went out hunting beechnuts with his wife and two children. He climbed a tree thirty-five and commenced sawing off a limb when the suddenly fell forward. His feet caught in the limbs and he hung suspended for some time. When taken down he was dead and examination showed that death was due to heart failure, resulting from exertion in climbing the tree.

GIRL INVENTED ASSAULT

TO COVER THEFT.

Declared She Was Beaten and Gagged and Bound—Turned Out Like the Orange Street Fake.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—Helen is a knowing little maid of sixteen summers, but the law has proved too sharp for her, and she is now in jail as the result of her exploits. She runs the day on which she presented herself to the frightened gaze of her kind mistress lying on the floor of her apartment, apparently in a state of insensibility and with her face bound round with a thick linen bandage. When restored, as was believed, to consciousness, the girl related that two men having got into the place under false pretences had thrown her down, gagged her and dragged her about, after having beaten her cruelly for refusing to tell them where the money was kept. She gave them an elaborate description of these individuals and their dress. One was a little fair man in blue, the other a big dark man in a gray suit. After their attack she said, the thieves had ransacked the flat in search of treasure.

As, however, it was noticed that the girl was composed of materials belonging to the girl's mistress, that there was not even a bruise about her, and that she had been arrested on a charge of stealing a horse and carriage. The old lady tried one official and then another pleading that she be allowed to see her son and she was still there after 11 o'clock while the son was in cell in the police station where the prisoners were making merry in a dance to the music of an harmonica.

The old lady's son whom she wished to see is Jeremiah Murphy who was arrested on Saturday afternoon by Police men Rankine and Ross. At the time he was in possession of Sylvester Balaun's horse and carriage which had been taken from the front of Bart Duff's Brussels street store. Murphy was fined $5 for being drunk and has been remanded on the other charge.

SON CHARGED WITH THEFT;

AGED MOTHER WEEPS.

Old Mrs. Murphy appeared in the police court about 9:45 o'clock this morning. She was crying bitterly and was supported by a crutch. She asked Sgt. Ross if he could see her son who had been arrested on Saturday but she was too late as at an early session of the court the wayward son had been remanded to jail on the charge of stealing a horse and carriage. The old lady tried one official and then another pleading that she be allowed to see her son and she was still there after 11 o'clock while the son was in cell in the police station where the prisoners were making merry in a dance to the music of an harmonica.

INNOCENT PRISONER RELEASED

AND SENTENCED ON ANOTHER CHARGE.

FRANKFURT, Oct. 14.—Herr Kraus who some time ago was condemned to four years imprisonment has just been found to be innocent after serving four and one half months of his sentence. He was released and since regaining his freedom he has sent in a plea for compensation. He demands $175, which he states represents the wages which he has lost during his imprisonment. It was discovered, however, that he was out of work at the time of his arrest and a fresh charge of trying to obtain money by false pretences has been brought against him and he has accordingly been sent back to three months' imprisonment.

FIVE ARRESTED FOR SUNDAY GAMBLING.

Prisoners Allowed Out Today on Easy Bail.

Their Lawyer Declares They Were Illegal Arrested and Says They Should Have Resisted the Police.

The police court was crowded this morning with citizens to hear the case against five young men from the West side, who had been arrested on Sunday afternoon on the charge of gambling and of being inmates of a gaming or disorderly house. Jacob Campbell, James McConnell, Leonard Lord, Manfred Follick, George and Martin Wilcox are all charged with being inmates. The arrest was made on information given the sergeant of police by a woman, who told him that gambling was going on in the house.

J. B. M. Baxter is appearing for the prisoners, who are now out on bail. Sgt. Jacob Ross, sworn this morning, said that on Sunday afternoon, acting from information received from a woman between three and four o'clock he went to Jacob Campbell's house, on Prince street. Campbell lives in the basement of a three-story house. Witnesses went to the side door in an alley and couldn't get in. He rapped on the door and heard a sound like running feet. After a short time elapsed Campbell came and asked who was there, and was informed it was the police. After a short delay the door opened and he went in, and at the left of the door was a table surrounded by chairs. He found a half-dozen playing cards and some "chips" on the table. He also took more chips and cards off Campbell. Campbell was the only one in sight when he went in. He asked where the other men were and told Campbell to bring them out. Campbell said, "Boys come out," and witness went in a front room and met Martin Wilcox coming out of another room. He went to a smaller room like a pantry and found the door locked on the inside. The door opened and one of three men came out and the door was closed again. When witness did get in he found McConnell and Follick hiding in a corner. He told Campbell he was under arrest for keeping a gaming house and the others for being inmates and gambling as well. They were told if they tried to escape they would have another charge against them. Campbell's wife is away and he is living there alone.

To Mr. Baxter witness said that he never had reason to know that the Campbell house was used for gambling for money. He rapped on the side door three times with a baton. The door was opened quite promptly when the word "police" was mentioned. Witness did not see men playing or any other looking on. If a game was played he could not say what the game was. He only procured 44 cards from Campbell. He had no warrant or order, nor had he applied for such for searching the house.

Mr. Baxter said he thought it unfair to adjourn the court without allowing the boys their liberty. If he had been near the house where the raid was made, and knowing the case as it is, he would have advised the men to resist arrest, and he would also say that the prisoners were in court illegally. Mr. Baxter said there was no evidence enough given to convict. After some discussion on the law, Magistrate Ritchie adjourned the case until Wednesday morning, and Campbell was allowed out on bail of $100 and the others were allowed out on bail of $25 each. Mr. Baxter gives as their security.
