A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully,

HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

IRISH HOME RULE.

The Marquis of Lorne's Scheme

The London correspondent of the New York World says:—

The Marquis of Lorne is treading in his father's footsteps as a sensational doctrinaire. He has come out as an advocate of Irish home rule, with a brand-new panacea for Irish discontent. He has elaborated it in a long article just published in the April number of the Contemporary Review. Ireland, he says, is clamoring for a parliament of her own, but at the same time the English statesmen deem it intolerable that the imperial sway of England should be removed from one of her fairest possessions, or that the vast interests of Englishmen should be left to the mercy of an independent and perhaps hostile legislature. He therefore proposes as a compromise what he calls "Provincial home rule in Ireland." He would have four Provincial Diets, that of Leinster, to sit at Dublin; of Munster, at Cork; of Ulster, at Belfast, and of Connaught, at Galway. These diets should each consist of an upper house or senate, and a popular branch or chamber of deputies. The term of service in the upper house he would establish at six years, one-third of the members being elected every two years, while all the members of the lower house should be elected biennially; all the members of both houses to be elected by popular ballot, subject to the same regulations and the same qualifications for electors as now prevail for parliament. The powers and duties of these diets the marquis would have confined strictly to local purposes, such as the imposition and collection of the poor rates, school taxes and assessments for local public improvements and the maintenance of public order within the provincial limits. He would leave undisturbed the administrative machinery of the island, comprising the lord lieutenancy, the county lieutenancies and all other crown officials, and would leave to the Imperial parliament the levying of the Queen's tax and the enactment of all general laws for the government of the island as at present. The marquis argues that the Irishmen's pride in their local assemblies would supplant their desire for a central parliament at Dublin; that their taste for electioneering and for enjoying the power of the ballot would be amply gratified by the frequent elections provided, and that those functions of government of which they see and feel the results most directly, being exercised by their own representatives, they would have the feeling of governing themselves; while in regard to all things vital to English or imperial interests, matters would remain as they are at present.

The World's correspondent asked Mr. A. M. Sullivan, the eminent Irish publicist, for his opinion of the Marquis's article:—

"Bosh!" exclaimed Mr. Sullivan. "His lordship doesn't know what he is writing about. His proposal shows that his ignorance of Irish affairs is simply deplorable. The marquis is fresh from Canada. The Canadians are peculiarly loyal and at the same time extremely jealous of their local rights. They possess local legislatures and are contented with the general domination of England. Lorne thinks it would be a solution of the Irish question to apply the Canadian system to Ireland. But the Irish situation is the very reverse of the Canadian. The people of Ireland are contented with their district governments and are at war against the general domination of England. The Canadians don't wish to be a nation; the Irish do. The Canadians protest against independence; the Irish are rebels against allegiance. The main source of trouble in securing desirable legislation for Ireland is that those who control British opinions and parliament are all at least as ignorant of Irish affairs as Lorne. His proposal to end Irish rebellion against English government by giving the Irish moral local rights and less nationality is like an attempt to quench a bread-stuffed beggar's thirst by giving him more dry bread. Perhaps, however, I should give Lorne credit for the intelligence of the malignity his article appears to contain. His idea seems to be to set the Irish people by the ears by reviving the four hostile kingdoms; in other words, to conquer the Irish by dividing them against one another. His scheme is so ridiculous that in the London clubs it is already dubbed 'Lorne's Irish Home Rule (Limited).'"

FROZEN FISH.—A St. John correspondent sends the following fish story to the Scientific American:—

We have several times caught, on the Kennebecasis River, smelt and codfish that have become frozen (wholly or partly) after leaving the water, and have come again to active life several hours later when thawed out in water.

I have not known or heard of trout coming to life under similar conditions. G. F. F.

A London despatch of March 23 says: James J. O'Kelly, Home Rule member of Parliament for Roscommon, Ireland, has been declared an out-law by several bodies of politicians, both Tory and Liberal. A movement is being organized to have him expelled from Parliament because of his alleged treasonable actions against the British Government in the Soudan. O'Kelly went to the Soudan in December as the correspondent of the London Daily News in the place of the late Edmond O'Donovan, who was killed with Hicks Pasha. On Jan. 5 a letter appeared in the London newspapers over his signature, dated Assioot, and containing a bitter attack upon the Government's policy in the Soudan and the most gloomy forebodings concerning its outcome. On March 19, O'Kelly was reported to be with El Mahdi as a counsellor in high favor with the False Prophet. It was claimed by his friends that his sole business at El Mahdi's headquarters was that of war correspondent. For some time, however, rumors have been in circulation that O'Kelly's office of correspondent has been assumed for the purpose of hiding his real mission, which is alleged to be nothing less than British adviser to El Mahdi and agent in his interest for the Irish revolutionists. It is claimed that it can be proven that O'Kelly has been of great assistance to the prophet in procuring him means and military help, and it is asserted that the recent movement among the Roscommon Home Rulers to raise a large subscription as a testimonial to O'Kelly was in reality a financial enterprise in the interest of El Mahdi's treasury. The majority of the Irish Home Rulers are said to sympathize with the Soudanese, and it would surprise no one if the anti-Parnellites should resort to extreme measures to secure a decree against O'Kelly as a means of fastening his alleged overt acts upon the Irish Nationalists.

KEELY NEARING THE END.—It is announced from Philadelphia on the 17th of March that the Keely motor was practically completed. All the workmen have been discharged, and Mr. Keely was immediately to begin "focalizing and adjusting the vibrators"—a delicate operation, but easy for him—and as soon as he had obtained "one perfect revolution though ever so slow," the great invention would be complete. The news called forth several funny paragraphs in the newspapers and quite a flutter among the stock holders and directors, who have been for several years investing money to back up this nineteenth century discoverer of "perpetual motion." It is difficult, indeed, to consider seriously this alleged invention, or justly characterize the inventor, who, in this age, not only assumes to get something out of nothing, but would hide all his methods and processes and affect more than the mystery of the alchemists of the early ages. Yet it is a serious matter to those who have been sinking their money therein. Now, however, we seem at last to have reached the "beginning of the end," and the attention of the investors can, at an early day, be "focalized" on their profit and loss accounts.—Scientific American.

TELEGRAPHIC.

WATERVILLE, Me., April 3.—Last night at about 11.30, the lock-up was partially burned and a prisoner named Peter Vigno suffocated in the smoke and flames.

LONDON, April 4.—The landing of the remains of the Duke of Albany at Portsmouth was attended with much pomp and ceremony. The Prince of Wales, Crown Prince Frederick William of Prussia, Prince Waldeck Pyrmont, the Duke of Cambridge and Marquis of Lorne escorted the body to Windsor, where it was received at the station by the Queen and Princesses Christian and Beatrice.

The Pall Mall Gazette says Egyptian affairs are fast drifting into anarchy, and through anarchy to annexation or war, possibly both. England must undertake the administration of Egypt; this will be a terrible burden but the country must shoulder it manfully. The Ministers may try to ignore the existence of the burden but the comedy of such course is being rapidly played out.

The Cabinet after thorough discussion have decided against formally establishing a protectorate over Egypt.

CAIRO, April 6.—Nubar Pacha has resigned the presidency of the Council of Ministers and other offices which he held. This resignation is due to discord with the English officials and also to the absence of a distinct declaration on the part of the English Government, during the debate on Thursday, in the House of Commons, of its future policy in regard to Egypt. The officials and heads of every department in Egypt threaten to resign. The discontent with European residents in Cairo and Alexandria is intense. The uncertainty of the English policy in regard to Egyptian financial affairs and the Soudan question is paralyzing commerce. The official bureau is in a state of anarchy; English and Egyptian officers are quarrelling, and the English are referring every despatch to London for settlement. It is doubtful whether a successor to Nubar Pacha can be found. Nubar Pacha has found it especially difficult and often impossible to co-operate with Clifford Lloyd, under-secretary of the interior.

The roads deyond Berber are blocked, being occupied by rebels. It is impossible to forward telegrams to Khartoum. The tribes between Shendy and Khartoum are in open rebellion and in constant communication with the Bicharickis, who are momentarily expected to revolt. It is feared that Berber and Dongola will be infested in a short time. Nothing has been heard from Gen. Gordon for a fortnight.

LONDON, April 6.—A battalion of Egyptian troops started for Suakin a day or two ago to form a garrison at that place. Before the battalion left Cairo, fifteen men had deserted and many more decamped at Suez.

It is believed that the retirement of Nubar Pacha will hasten English protection over Egypt.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Tribune's London despatch says the English public has been mainly dependent for news from Egypt during the week, upon the Times' telegrams from Khartoum and the Marquis of Hartington's statement in the House of Commons on Thursday. On account of the close personal relations existing between Gen. Gordon and Mr. Power, the latter's telegrams to the Times have been generally accepted. Gordon appeals from the British Government to the British people, who seem strongly disposed to insist that his wishes be respected. Everybody believes that Gen. Gordon wants help of some kind, if only to have his hands untied and to receive a promise of more support from the Government. The ministry will, apparently, do neither one thing nor the other. They finally decided against an expedition to Berber. Although Gen. Gordon, relying upon the approach of troops, had sent off 2,000 refugees, they avow themselves responsible for Gen. Gordon's safety, and hint that there is some plan in the background taking the chance of a catastrophe. In the meantime Gen. Gordon continues to insist that the establishment of some stable authority at Khartoum is the sole chance of success.

Saturday's despatches from Cairo, from another correspondent, represent Gen. Gordon's position as desperate. Reports from Berber are that partisans of El Mahdi hold the entire command of the Nile between Khartoum and Shendy. The Governor of Sennaar has sent to Gen. Gordon asking for help. The Sennaar garrison, he says, will not be able to hold out another month. Gen. Gordon advised him to try and arrange a capitulation, as help from Khartoum is impossible. Gen. Gordon, in a personal letter to Commander Maxwell says: "We exist day by day and though the excitement is nice, sometimes we can have too much of it, while the responsibility is heavy. I can only put trust in God's mercy, for there is nothing else."

PARIS, April 6.—Advices from Tonquin report that the expedition to Hung Hoa has started. Troops are massed at Sontag. It is reported that Lionvinloc will command the defence of Hung Hoa, where there are assembled 3,000 Black Flags and 1,200 Chinese troops. Serious resistance is expected there.

A parliamentary return has been issued at the request of Mr. Sexton, M. P. for Sligo, which shows the strong partisan character of the Irish magistracy. Out of 5,613 justices of the peace, only 1,014 are Roman Catholics. In the counties there are 4,223 Protestant to 869 Catholic magistrates. On this return was founded Justin McCarthy's motion, which was debated on Friday, and which the Tribune's correspondent states brought out the existence of what Mr. Trevelyan admitted to be grievances in the system of appointing Irish magistrates neither the Roman Catholics nor the Presbyterians having a fair share. Some reforms are promised.

The divergence in the policy between the Davitt and Parnellite members of Parliament in regard to the coming election campaign has increased. Davitt has written Mr. O'Brien, M. P., editor of United Ireland, complaining that efforts are being made to prejudice the Irish nationalists in England against those persons active in Irish politics who are trying to keep the national cause more before Irishmen than Parliamentary policies. He refers to certain Parliamentary candidates as "carpet baggers from England," and as "adventurers who have no claim upon the suffrages of Irish nationalist electors." Mr. O'Brien requests Mr. Davitt to state his objections to the Irish Parliamentary party and its policy, and blames him for distilling distrust into the public mind.

A circular letter has been sent out by the Catholic bishop of Armagh, to priests of County Longford, requesting them to inform their congregations that a dissolution of Parliament will shortly occur. The bishop furthermore invites the priests and people to a conference for the purpose of selecting suitable candidates.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 6th.—At an early hour on Saturday morning a savage prize fight came off at Hyndman, Pa., between a Hungarian named Nickuest, from St. Louis, and a man who calls himself Kilrain of Boston. Several rows occurred among the spectators during the progress of the fight, and at the conclusion a general melee ensued in which three men were killed, and three others fatally wounded, while a great number were seriously injured. Nickuest was defeated by Kilrain and was shot dead after the fight. Arthur Chambers acted as umpire for Nickuest, and after a quarrel between himself and the referee, named Montgomery, knocked out the latter in two rounds. Fifty-three rounds were fought by Nickuest and Kilrain, interspersed with shooting affrays in the crowd of spectators. It is believed the man calling himself Kilrain of Boston, is an impostor and that he is not John Kilrain.

The Works of Bishop Hay

have been honored with the approval of the following eminent prelates:

From the Most Eminent John, Archbishop of Tuam

I feel much pleasure in giving my cordial approval to the republication of the works of Bishop Hay. Those admirable books were my favorite study early in life.

†JOHN, ARCHBISHOP OF TUAM.

From the Right Rev. William Bernard, Bishop of Birmingham:

* * I have always recommended them as the most solid and complete course of Catholic teaching in the English language. They form what I have been in the habit of calling a layman's course of theology.
